Corn is declining in price.
Roe shad $2.50 per pair; bucks $1.00 to $1.10.

Five new pupils were enrolled at the Graded School yesterday. The whole number enrolled up to this time is 480 and they continue to come.

Our townsman, Clement Manly, Esq., has accepted an invitation to deliver the address at the Tournament at Stone-wall on the 23d inst. The boys may expect something good.

The steamer Goldsboro arrived on Saturday night with a cargo of general merchandise and sailed for Baltimore yesterday evening with a full cargo of cotton, rice and naval stores.

Garden Peas.
The JOURNAL office bows to Mr. J. L. Rhen for a treat to fresh garden peas. They were well grown, right from the field in Florida.

Unlucky Night.
John Curraway says Sunday night is the unlucky one for fires during the year 1883. In 1882 it was Friday night, and in 1881, Thursday night. Saturday night is skipped for the purpose of letting the weary firemen rest. Young men had better do their courting on Saturday night.

Examination of the A. & N. C. R. R.
Mr. B. R. Harding, master machinist of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, and Col. Yates, former Gen. manager of the Midland, made an examination of the A. & N. C. Railroad on Friday and Saturday last and reappraised the property of the Company from one end of the line to the other with a view to determine the present condition of the road and to what extent it had improved or depreciated since the lease. We also learn that Gen. W. J. McAlpine, a prominent civil engineer, made a critical examination of the road and will report the condition of the road. We hope to be able to give their report to the public through the columns of the JOURNAL soon.

Fire in New Berne.

On Monday morning at 2 o'clock fire was discovered in the tobacco factory of Mills & Walker, on Craven street, near the JOURNAL office, and was in full blaze before the alarm was given. The building was a wooden frame and a stiff breeze from the south-west blew the sparks in such a volume as to endanger several houses on Pollock street. The elegant dwelling of Mr. Elijah Ellis, the machine shops of Maxwell & Crabtree and the store and dwelling of Mr. R. O. E. Lodge were at one time in imminent danger and would have been consumed but for the favorable winds and the good work of the Fire companies. The Atlantic got on the first steam which was quickly followed by the New Berne and soon the fire was under control.

The loss, not including the stock, is about $5,500. Insurance, on building, $1,000; on machinery, $1,000, and on stock, including a lot in another building which was not burned, $3,500.

Card of Thanks.

I respectfully tender sincere thanks to the Fire Department, and citizens that generously assisted, for their efforts in protecting my premises from yesterday morning's fire.

R. O. E. LODGE.

Thanks.

Members of the Fire Department, officers and men of the Revenue Cutter Stevens, and friends who so kindly rendered assistance in saving my dwelling from the flames on yesterday morning, will please accept my sincere thanks for their timely aid.

Land Lubbers.

The members of the General Assembly that visited Beaufort last Saturday were regular "land lubbers." They were taken out for a sail, and when the boat got among the breakers one member prayed to be put out of the boat and be permitted to walk ashore. (He had more faith than Peter.) Representative Fulton, of Surry, offered the Captain his per diem for the remainder of the present session and a lien for the next four years if he would land him safely. Wilcox, of Ashe, on awaking Sunday morning and finding the tide about two feet higher than the evening before thought there had been a d-1 of a big rain. The train did not remain at the depot long enough for us to note the eloquent petition offered by Senator Scott, of Rockingham, for deliverance from a watery grave. Of course they all had a very pleasant trip; though it is well known in this section that summer is the time to enjoy the sea breeze at Beaufort.

Your Name in Print.

Rev. S. H. Isler, of Goldsboro, passed through the city yesterday on his return home. He preached at Pollockville on Sunday.

Messrs. L. J. Moore and J. W. Grainger, of Kinston, were in the city yesterday on a business trip.

Mr. Geo. B. Guion left for Kinston yesterday evening on a business trip.

L. J. Moore, Esq., is attending Greene Inferior court.

Mr. J. W. Moore and Grand Chancellor, J. L. H. Misallier left on Sunday evening to attend the meeting of the Gaard Lodge, K. O. P., which convened at Wilmington yesterday.

Clement Manly, Esq., of the firm of Nixon, Simmons & Manly left for Raleigh yesterday evening. He goes to argue the case of John Gatling vs. the Commissioners of Carteret county which is to be heard before Judge Phillips this week.

Hon. C. C. Clark and W. W. Clark, Esq., left for Raleigh yesterday evening to argue the case of the Directors of the A. & N. C. R. R. against the Midland Railway Co., asking for a receiver, which will be heard before Judge Phillips to-day.

M. D. W. Stevenson, Esq., is attending the Supreme court at Raleigh.

Rather Sensitive.

Our Trenton friends who remained in the town after it was known that the small-pox had broken out there, really seem to us to be a little too sensitive in regard to precautionary measures taken by neighboring towns to prevent being afflicted with the same scourge. Kinston received a severe rebuke through our columns for taking precautionary measures several weeks ago, but New Berne, giving credit to rumours that the people of Trenton were taking good care of the disease, did not quarantine against until the rumours began to come the other way. Now how can they blame us when the first intimation we have of the town authorities taking official notice of the presence of the disease appears in to-day's JOURNAL. The writer of the card below says they have had sad and heart-rending evidence of the appearance of the disease, and a writer at the same place a few days ago gave a graphic description of the "loneliness and desolation that reigned around." What town wants to be in a similar condition.

But now we have good news from the dear old town and we take pleasure in publishing the card below as well as the town ordinance in another column:

TRENTON, N. C., Feb. 12, 1883.

MR. EDITOR:—Please hereafter, when giving information as to the small-pox in Trenton, give the author of the information. Give us no more rumours, and all editors are respectfully requested to do the same. No new case for fifteen days.

THOS. J. WHITAKER.

We have never published but one rumour in regard to the matter and that was given us by E. M. Foscoe, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. He gave it as a rumour; we published it as a rumour, and stated at the same time that it lacked confirmation. Our friend has had the small-pox and is not afraid of it; some other people have not had it and are afraid of it. In this respect many of us will confess to a little cowardice.

Card of Thanks.

Resolved, That we, the undersigned members of the General Assembly of North Carolina, having had extended to us as such, courtesies by the Midland North Carolina Railway Company, do duly appreciate and return our thanks to the said Company for the same.

La Grange Items.

Mrs. Laura Emory died at her home in Lenoir Institute, on last Saturday.

W. W. Dunn, C. S. C., was in town a short time Friday evening, on official business.

The first pair of shad of this season in this market was sold last Saturday by J. K. Driver to C. W. Joyner for $1.40.

Senator Loftin of this district, Representative Wood of this county, together with a number of Senators, passed here on Sunday on their way to Raleigh.

A countryman left town one evening last week well laden with "fire-water." It is a useless waste of time to wait for a drunken man to fall from his horse.

Two farmers were in town Saturday, one lending, the other borrowing money. The difference may be that the lender raises his supplies, while the other fails to do so.

John Kennedy, one of the parties implicated in the late Falling Creek murder, has returned and surrendered to the authorities. So I learn from parties from that section.

Services at the M. E. Church, in this place, last Sunday, by Rev. John Paris, D. D. Morning lesson, Matthew, 7th chapter. Text, 8th Psalm and 4th verse. To me the sermon was entertaining and instructive.

The no-fence meeting on Friday brought together two veterans (Reid and Mewbern) of the brave "Home Guards" of the late unpleasantness, who "fought, bled and died" (all but the fought, bled and died) in defence, etc. It was amusing to hear these comrades give an account of their war experience.

The Midland Syndicate, and a representative of the A. & N. C. R. R., took an inventory of the warehouse property here on Saturday. Of course everybody "smelt a mice," but no one seemed to know exactly where. A number of people understand railroad matters, and when anything now turns up one only has to enquire and be enlightened.

A clock was brought to town last week, about which a remarkable story is told. The clock worked all right until the death of the head of the family. On that night it stopped, and for some time it would not work. A workman removed this trouble, when it was found that though the pendulum swung, and the clock ticked, yet the hands refused to move. Did the death in the family cause the trouble?

B. W. Cannady, of Kinston, B. F. Parrott and Levi Mewbern, of Vance township, Lovit Hines, of Institute, and James J. Moore, of Greene county, met J. M. Hadley, S. I. Wooten and J. W. Sutton in this place on last Friday to take action on the "no-fence" matter. It was agreed to commence work at once, and the people, be they opposed or otherwise, had best proceed to adapt themselves to the situation.

Stonewall Items.

Mr. Alonzo Daniels, the person stabbed on Goose Creek Island, is all O. K.

Mumps is still on the rampage and whooping cough is playing an aggravating part among the children.

Dr. John P. Redding's horse tilted from before his buggy on the same day doing no serious personal damage. Bugger amounts to the most feeling part.

Mr. Jas. Best is here, the guest of Mr. C. H. Fowler, representing a clothing house in Baltimore; I can safely say of all who deal with Mr. Best that he will not deceive them. I know whereof I speak.

A colored gentleman was up from towards Vandemere on Saturday and practiced on John Barley Corn a little too frequent and the consequence was he had to stop all night with a colored ber and on Sunday morning he was minus thirteen dollars and fifty cents. I will not mention any names as it will probably have to pass through the courts.

There has been some sporting in this place for a few days past in the way of horse racing, and on last Saturday while riding a race Mr. S. W. Ferebee's horse shied the track, jumping over the judges stand, a distance of 20 feet or upwards, unhorsing the rider. Strange to say there was no serious damage done. The rider received some painful bruises and torn clothes but is to all appearances all right again.

Mr. Gordon is here looking after the horse trade which is getting to be quite an item in our place. To give you an idea, Messrs. Potter & Fowler have on hand at their sales stable a fine lot of stock. Messrs. Hooker & Lewis also keep their stables well supplied with stock suitable for the market, and Mr. W. A. Harvey, of Idalia, pays us a trading visit once in a while. There is also a Tennessee drover at Bayboro, only a mile away, with a lot of stock. How much better it would be if we raised our own stock.

Pantego Items.

MR. EDITOR:—I thought I would let the readers of the JOURNAL know something about what we are doing for a new year.

Some of our merchants are doing well, I believe. Mr. W. H. Windley has sold out to Tapping Bros. He don't know what he will do yet.

Mr. E. B. Cath, the boss-workman on the Baptist church, left here on the steamer Washington las. Thursday for Greenville. He will return next week.

The Missionary Baptists are few here, yet they will have the finest church in our town when it is completed.

We have a new store in town. The name of the firm is Carter & Johnson. Their store is near the corner of Academy and Main streets.

I will have something more to tell you next time, and will come to a close by saying it is warm and rainy.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Wilmington Star: Adam Brown, the Second street colored luckster, had yesterday morning a very decided curiosity in the shape of a collar. It is of an elongated shape, with a link of brownish buds running zigzag through it, something in the shape of a coral. It would be difficult to describe it accurately, and to be appreciated it must be seen.—Two very small colored children were found astray at the foot of Mulberry street Wednesday night, and were taken to the station house by the police. Soon afterwards the mother of one of the little ones, who had been searching for her lost child all through the streets, and had almost despaired of ever seeing it again alive, came to the station house and was happy. As the mother of the other lost child was a sister to the one who was so fortunate, she took that one too, with the understanding that she would deliver it to its anxious parents.

Town Ordinance.

A special meeting of the Board of Town Commissioners of the Town of Trenton was held this evening, Feb. 10, 1883. J. L. Kinsey, Mayor, presiding.

WHEREAS, We feel it our duty to devise such means as we think best to prevent the spread of the disease (small-pox) in our midst. Therefore

1st. Be it ordained, That the houses that are infected with the small-pox in our town shall still be as heretofore strictly guarded, and that no one be allowed to pass in or out without first having obtained a certificate from the Town Physician; and any person violating this ordinance shall be subjected to a fine of not less than $10.00, nor more than $25.00.

2d. That Dr. J. H. Scarborough be and is hereby appointed as the regular physician for the town.

3d. Be it further ordained, That all nurses or other persons whatsoever employed, and all occupants of said infected houses, shall, before leaving the same, obtain from said Town Physician a certificate before they will be allowed to come up the streets.

4th. Be it further ordained, That Dr. J. H. Scarborough and Thos. J. Whitaker be and are hereby appointed as a committee, and their duty shall be to see that each and every house so infected with small-pox shall be thoroughly renovated, and that any clothing or bedding of any description shall be destroyed. And said committee are requested to report daily to the city authorities of New Berne the facts as they might occur.
