NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WATSON & STREET—Auction sale. ATHLETIC CLUB—Skating Rink. W. L. PALMER—Tansill's cigar.

Journal Miniature Almanac.

Sun rises, 6:47 | Length of day, Sun sets, 5:41 | 10 hours, 54 minutes. Moon sets at 1:30 a. m.

Yesterday was a lovely spring day. Winter cabbage are plentiful in our market at present.

One "drunk and down" was taken to the police station yesterday.

Maj. Dennison raised his huge smoke stack yesterday and put a smoke in it.

Mr. J. K. Willis has another neat monument ready for Cedar Grove Cemetery.

The up mail train was delayed several hours yesterday evening, caused from a leaky boiler.

The steamer Scam has been raised and has resumed work drawing rafts of logs up to Stinson's mill.

The boys were busily engaged yesterday in slipping valentines under doors and then heeled it down the street.

Our town authorities have graded the side walk around the cemetery and planted a beautiful row of trees.

The Athletic Club has fitted up Lowthrop Hall and will open a Skating Rink this evening at 7 o'clock. Smooth floor and fair sailing.

The police had four or five boys in custody yesterday for violating city ordinances. Mayor Howard was unable to hold court so they were recognized to appear to-day.

Sixty copies of that most excellent Juvenile Magazine, "Our Little Ones," and seven copies of "Our Little Men and Women" were received and distributed at the Graded School yesterday. The children seem wonderfully pleased with their magazines and will talk about what they have read with intelligence and with fluency.

A visit out to Mr. Rhom's truck farm yesterday evening revealed the fact that notwithstanding the disagreeable weather the truck has been growing. Turnips and radishes are getting off nicely, but his field of cabbage is the finest we have ever seen for the season. He has some that will measure over twelve inches across. Two or three weeks moderate weather and radishes will be ready to ship.

Trucking Gas.

Our correspondent de Granville which we give on our fourth page, is evidently a trucker and has been beaten at the business, or at least he has been beaten in telling truck stories. We think amidst all the wear and tear on a trucker's brain and muscle in preparing and planting a truck farm he ought to be allowed the privilege of "blowing" a little if it is any consolation to this weary mind. We know the ladies should be allowed to brag on their crops and surely no man will be so ungallant as to dispute with them. We intend, however, to visit the truck farms near the city and give the true condition of each, de Granville included.

River Steamers.

The Contentina returned from Snow Hill yesterday evening with corn and cotton and Commodore Griffin, of Bell's Ferry as a passenger. She was the pioneer boat on the Contentina river, from which she got her name, but had not been to Snow Hill before in some time.

The Trent arrived from Pollockville yesterday evening with fifty bales of cotton and one hundred and twenty-five sacks of rice.

The Neuse carried up a good cargo of general merchandise yesterday to Plank landing and other points on Neuse river.

The Cutler went up Trent river to Banks landing yesterday.

Demorest's Ladies Magazine.

In Demorest's Monthly Magazine for March we find a great variety of interesting articles. Among these are "Life in the Black Forest," "Henri Regnault," "Gastronomic Gossip," "Antique Gems," "Traveling and Other Matters," and "The Grodner Valley." Jenny June continues her pleasant articles, "How We Live in New York," and Carlotta Perry furnishes an excellent story, "How I Found My Freedom." Mrs. Alexander's serial, "The Admiral's Ward," keeps up its interest; and "Current Topics" is both entertaining and instructive. Every department is replete with useful and entertaining reading, and the illustrations are remarkably good, the frontispiece being a fine steel engraving after the much-admired painting "Willing," by the artist Metz-macher. As a family magazine, Demorest's fulfills every requirement.

Your Name in Print, Mr. D. M. Stanton of La Grange was in the city yesterday.

J. B. Pillock of Kinston was in the city yesterday, returning on the evening train.

W. H. West, Esq., of Lenoir was in the city yesterday with cotton.

Manure Distributors.

We noticed on Mr. Rhem's farm on Wednesday evening a double manure distributor which was drawn by two mules and distributed the manure in two rows at a time nicely and equally, and can be arranged to distribute broadcast. It does pretty work and is a great labor saving machine. It cost $125.00.

In this connection we take pleasure in calling attention to a distributor kept for sale by Mr. J. C. Whitty of this city. It can be used with any ordinary farm wagon or cart, and it is said from eight to ten acres per day can be manured with it. It cost only $13, and is so constructed that any farmer can do his own repairing. The scarcity of labor will be bound to bring these distributors into requisition.

Cotton Market.

New York futures dull but firmer, spots off one-sixteenth but quiet and steady. Liverpool futures flat, spots quiet and steady. Notwithstanding the decline in New York the market here held its own. Forty-eight bales were sold at the Exchange, the best bringing 9.50.

The Musicals.

The entertainment given at the Presbyterian lecture room last night was attended by a respectable and appreciative audience. The pieces were all well rendered but we think it will do no harm to make special mention of Miss Rosa Schwerin who sang "Come in and shut the door" so sweetly, and of Misses Mamie Allen and Mamie Stinson in the instrumental duet "Waves of the Ocean." The "Three Old Maids of the Lea" by Miss Stinson was quite amusing and "Beware" by Prof. Johnson, Messrs. Ed. and Ben Bryan and C. E. Slover was very good.

New Bern possesses rare talent for getting up entertainments of a high order, and we wonder why they don't have them oftener. It is certainly a pleasure to business men who go through the same old tread-mill day after day to attend an entertainment which for the time being, will relieve the mind of the pressure of business. The change is conducive to health as well as pleasure.

For the JOURNAL. The Connecticut Oyster Trade.

One of the most interesting reports presented to the General Assembly this year is that of the Shellfish Commissioners. The figures afford a foundation for the assumption that by the time of the opening of work next spring 45,000 acres of ground will have been deeded to applicants by the Commissioners. These, with the 45,000 acres deeded by the towns prior to May, 1881, will show an aggregate of 90,000 acres held by cultivators under State jurisdiction. Of this vast area a large portion has been cleared up and shelled. One firm has laid down 250,000 bushels of shells. Several large growers have laid down as many as 200,000 bushels each. A still larger number have scattered 100,000, 50,000 and 20,000 each. There are about thirty steamers engaged in this business, besides a very large number of sailing vessels. If no unusual accidents occur the crop the next two years will be enormous. One cultivator alone looks for no less than 1,000,000 bushels of marketable natives from his own grounds. As the oysters are worth from 75 cents to $1.25 a bushel, and will certainly average $1, here is a business of $1,000,000 for a year.—New Haven Register

The State of Connecticut with not one hundredth part of as much oyster ground as North Carolina to raise 1,000,000 bushels of oysters and North Carolina with all of her immense advantages not one hundredth part as many. Is it indolence, carelessness, or has it been that heretofore we have not had a demand sufficient to take them. Now that the canning establishment is in operation and that any quantity no matter how many are offered can be sold we do hope that our people will take hold of this most important industry and make money out of it.

We believe one acre planted in oysters will yield far more actual profit than five will in cotton or corn.

Who is Gen. McAlpine.

Of Gen. McAlpine, the engineer who has been examining the Atlantic Road and the Midland to Smithfield with a view of its extension by way of Fayetteville to Charlotte the Buffalo Express says:

"Gen. McAlpine is one of the three Commissioners to consider the change of route of the New York Lackawana and Western Railway; is expert for the Mayor and Common Council of New York for increasing the Croton water supply. From here he goes to Washington, called as an expert by the War Department to pass upon several different propositions of engineer officers of the United States Army for the improvement of eastern branch of the Potomac River. He was at one time the chief engineer of the Erie Railroad; constructed the Albany and the Chicago water works. The re-construction of the Erie Canal was accomplished by his engineering skill and under his supervision. He is one of the four oldest members of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and has been its President. For a long time he was the only American member of the Institution of Civil Engineer of Great Britain which is composed only of the most eminent engineers of the world. He has been for many years a member of several institutions of France, Austria and other European countries, and of almost all the scientific societies of the United States. Was Engineer-in-chief of the United States Navy, and as such constructed the United States stone graving dock at the Brooklyn Navy yard, one of the most difficult engineering work of the country. He has been State Engineer and Surveyor General of New York; and Chief Engineer of many railroads, and of water works too numerous to mention. Gen. McAlpine is the author of a well known work on "Modern Engineering" for which he received the great Telford Medal of England, being the only American Engineer who has acquired that distinction.

STATE NEWS

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Raleigh News-Observer: A German carp was caught in Crabtree on Monday, measuring 26 inches in length.—The Salvation Army bills were put up yesterday. The arrival of the "halelujah lasses" will create a general sensation. They will be here in a day or two.

There are now 1100 ponds in which carp are now being propagated. Within the last few months 900 people have been supplied with young fish. They are being raised in 80 counties, from the mountains to the sea.

Wilmington Daily Record: The Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of North Carolina, met in their 13th annual session at Castle Hall of Germania Lodge, No. 4, K. of P., at 10 o'clock this forenoon, Grand Chancellor, J. L. H. Missillier, of Henderson, presiding. There was quite a large attendance, every Lodge in the State being represented. After the organization of the Lodge, all the Past Chancellors were admitted and the reports of the various committees were submitted and appropriately referred. These reports show that the Order is in a healthy and flourishing condition. During the last year three new Lodges have been organized and 149 new members added to the Order. The Grand Lodge is now entirely out of debt and has a balance of $496.11 in the treasury. The work of the morning session consisted principally in securing reports and in the appointment of the necessary standing committees, after which the Lodge took a recess until 3 o'clock this afternoon.
