Yesterday was a lovely spring day.
Go to hear Willoughby Reade to-night.

Our Kinston itemizer comes to time to-day.

Washington is moving for a graded school.

Several visitors at the Graded School yesterday.

The Rink at Lowthrop hall will not be open this evening.

Mayor Howard is still unable to be out, though improving.

The Legislature is inclined to hold over for a few days.

The maple, elm and peach trees are putting forth the tender buds.

Mr. Nelson Whitford is having new steps put to the American House.

The steamer Florence brought in a cargo of shingles from Vanceboro yesterday.

The paint brush is hiding the damage done by the late fire to Mr. Elijah Ellis' dwelling.

The funeral of Mrs. S. R. Ball will take place to-day afternoon at 4 o'clock from the M. E. Church.

The Elm City arrived last night from Bayboro with a good line of freights and a good number of passengers.

David Davis has resigned the Presidency of the Senate, and will be married, it is said, near Fayetteville on the 8th inst.

The broken window lights at the Theatre building have been replaced with new ones, so the room will be comfortable to-night.

The market dock was filling up rapidly with boats yesterday evening. Oysters, potatoes, chickens, eggs, etc., constituted their cargoes.

Mr. J. T. Dawson, of Maple Cypress has moved, with his family, to New Berne for the purpose of sending his children to the graded school.

Ford's Opera Co. will appear at the Messenger Opera House in Goldsboro on Tuesday evening next in "Iolanthe."

Excursion rates will be given from New Berne and Kinston. Fare $1.50 and admittance to opera.

Fire at Snow Hill.

We learn from a private source that the work shop of McD. Pate & Co. at Snow Hill on Wednesday morning was consumed by fire. We were unable to ascertain the extent of the loss but learn that it is fully covered by insurance.

An Open Letter.

We have received a printed copy of an open letter from Dr. Jesse G. Bryant of Washington, N. C., to Commissioner Worth and our Representatives upon the subject of Dutch Nets. The doctor handles the question without gloves and uses but little "Dutch" and some pretty plain English in the letter.

A Thoroughbred Horse.

Gen. Ransom gives notice in this issue of his thoroughbred stallion, Vance, sired by Red Dick, dam Mary Long; Red Dick by Lexington, dam Alabama by Brown Dick; Mary Long by Imported War Minister, dam May Day by Tar River out of Imported Trustee.

Vance is a little under sixteen hands high; is a beautiful, compact bay, star in forehead, one hind foot white, and has a fine appearance.

Your Name in Print.

Mr. Cyrus Brown of Kinston spent a few hours in the city yesterday, returning on the evening train.

Messrs. F. M. Haskins, W. E. Sutton and Treasurer Benj. Sutton, all of Lenoir, were in the city on Thursday on a pork expedition. They were accommodated at T. A. Green's.

Benj. Brown, a very energetic farmer of Cypress Creek, Jones county, was at the Exchange yesterday with cotton.

A Good Day's Work.

On Wednesday morning after Mr. John C. Green had fired up his engine at the gas works the boiler began leaking so badly as to put out the fire. He had on hand about 2,500 feet of gas to supply a city that burns over 8,000 every night. In this predicament he went to work, disconnected the pipes from the old boiler, went to Maxwell & Crabtree's shop and got a new one, and with the aid of Mr. Chisholm, put it in, connected the pipes and was making gas by seven o'clock. Pretty good day's work, but it is told on him that he understands gauging anyhow, whether he's got a boiler or not.

Convicts Coming Again.

Mr. Melver, an overseer of the Penitentiary, has been down and examined the work on the Quaker Bridge road preparatory, he says, to bringing the convicts down to complete it. This is the third time within three or four months an expert has been sent down to prepare for their coming, but still they "cometh not." Mr. Melver says he finds the work in better condition than he expected, and is certain the convicts will be put on it this spring.

A New Map.

Mr. C. G. Barnes is canvassing the city for Tunison's New Distance of the United States and world. It has many excellent features, which can be soon upon examination. Prof. A. J. McAlpine says: "I have examined Tunison's New Distance Map, and cheerfully recommend it for clearness and correct delineation. It is the best map that I have seen, and will fully meet all requirements, either in the family circle or in the school room."

The low price of this map puts it in the reach of all who need one.

Cotton Market.

Slight advance in New York futures yesterday closing quiet with sales of 94,000 bales. Spots firm. New Berne market stronger. Sales of 99 bales the best bringing 9.25. The sales for February foot up 1642 bales against 1399 last February. The total sales to date are 16,827 bales as against 19,205 bales same date last year, showing a decrease in sales of 2,378 bales.

Kinston Items.

Capt. R. C. Keho, of New Berne, was in Kinston last Tuesday, looking as peaceful and happy as the "pious Æneas" of Virgil's heroic Epic.

Kinston has raised her quarantine against Trenton on account of small-pox, and that unfortunate town is once more in communication with all the world and Pollocksville.

John Rhem, Esq., of Sand Hill township, Lenoir county, last week bought and presented to his daughter, Mrs. Levi W. Dawson, the fine residence of B. W. Cannady, Esq., in Kinston, near the palatial mansion of J. Q. Jackson, Esq. The price paid was $1,500. This is the second investment of the same amount in town property in Kinston made by Mr. Rhem the present year.

The Atlanta Constitution tells of a boy 8 years old who raised 223 pounds of lint cotton last year on three acres of land, ploughing with a little goat of the Artemesia Ward description. Our Dr. R. Walker, however, beats this Georgia farmer clean out of sight. Some years ago he made a bale of cotton and cultivated a nice garden with a North Carolina sow of the gate-fitting and fence-jumping breed, raising at the same time short-tail buttermilk cows, and successfully carrying on a life and death civil law suit.

James T. Askew, Esq., the model farmer of Lenoir Swamp, believes in hog and hominy and raises it, too. It is said, however, he had a large barbecue on his premises one day last week, which was not put in the programme. He was engaged burning off an old field, when fire was communicated to the bed of a favorite sow that had just produced a litter of eleven pigs. The sow came out of the fire with a burnt leg and one pig in her mouth; the other pigs were roasted alive like victims of another Newhall House affair.

Your itemizer has been confined flat of his back nearly two weeks with rheumatism in the foot, not paid, however. He tried all the known and unknown remedies; but neither hot brine, nor St. Jacobs Oil, nor morphine and whiskey, nor practice of food from fried alive to get their jump brought us any relief. Faith then looked towards prayer, but we came forth casual of faith and not of rheumatism. Our condition seemed to us something like the position of a Republican member in a strongly pronounced Democratic Legislature, from which, "Good Lord, deliver us."

William Jordan, a colored "gentleman" from Bertie county, was arrested here last Saturday, and committed to jail by Justice King in default of bail of one thousand dollars. This fellow had been about here only a short while, but had forged the name of George R. Tull, Esq., to a note of about $800 and was detected by John Tull, Esq., in the act of realizing goods on it from one of our merchants. Mr. Tull at once arrested and turned him over to the authorities. He seems to be a bold and desperate character, living by desperate adventures, and when arrested by Mr. Tull was armed with a pistol and bowie knife swung around him in a belt.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.
NIGHT SESSION.

THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

Bill making appropriations to the insane asylums of the State came up as special order.

The first question was on the amendments.

Mr. Pemberton said he was willing to compromise on $25,000 for the asylum at Morganton instead of $35,000. It cost more to take care of the insane than any other people and it was only because of the extravagance of the officers of those institutions.

Mr. Boykin hoped this discussion would not be prolonged. He was glad to see the senator from Stanley consenting to a compromise in his own mind. About two o'clock to-day he was absolutely in favor of striking out the whole of the fifth section.

Mr. Pemberton—Didn't I say this morning that I offered an amendment hoping to get some sort of a compromise out of you asylum folks?

Mr. Boykin—Yes, sir, I believe you did say something of the kind but you mustn't call me "asylum folks." [Laughter.] Mr. Boykin then spoke to the bill, showing the demands that called for the appropriations, giving the statistics of the insane in the State, and saying that with two hundred additional patients on their hands, there was only two thousand dollars more appropriation asked for in all than was given in 1880-81. He said there were now 683 insane in the jails, poor houses and private families in the State. He said the asylum at Morganton would be over nine hundred feet long when completed, three stories high with a basement, and all of brick and stone.

Mr. Battle spoke in favor of the bill; he was not in favor of correcting the extravagances of the officers of the institutions, if such there were, at the expense of the comfort of the inmates.

Mr. Payne asked Mr. Boykin if the $70,000 additional appropriations would complete that asylum.

Mr. Boykin said it would.

Mr. Clarke spoke in favor of the appropriations.

The previous question was called.

Mr. Webb's amendment to strike out $35,000 and insert $25,000 was voted on. Mr. Pemberton asked the yeas and nays. Ordered. Yeas 7, nays 33, so the amendment was not adopted.

The question then came up on the amendment of Mr. Pemberton to strike out $58,000 to the asylum here and make it $50,000, and Mr. Dotson's amendment to that to make it $45,000. Amendments voted down.

The question then came up on the bill.

Mr. Hill said he was not in favor of voting for $210 a year for the support of each inmate, he voted no.

Mr. Ramsay said he had something to do with that asylum some years ago, and the cost was about then what it is now, $210 a year for each inmate. He voted aye.

Mr. Watson said there was too much the appearance of princely prodigality in the asylum here. He voted no.

Mr. Evans said as he could not tell how soon he might have to go there himself, he should vote for the appropriations.

The vote stood: Yeas 33, nays 8, so the bill passed second reading.

HOUSE.

NIGHT SESSION.

The special order, the Parker-Peebles election case, was taken up. The majority report of the committee on privileges and elections was submitted by Mr. McLoud.

On the resolution of the minority of the committee, that Mr. Peebles was entitled to the seat, the vote was: Yeas 16, nays 88.

On the resolution of the majority, that Parker was entitled to the seat, the vote was: Yeas 88, nays 14.

Mr. Parker came forward, qualified and took his seat.

HOUSE.

NIGHT SESSION.

Mr. King, of Pitt, from citizens asking for convict labor to drain swamp lands in Pitt county.

Mr. Caho, from citizens of Lenoir county, asking for a stock law.

Mr. Caho, making an alternative method of constructing and keeping in repair the public roads for Forsyth, applicable to the State at large.

Mr. Caho, supplemental to the act to prevent live stock from running at large in the counties of Greene and Lenoir, also bill to provide for the removal of causes in the inferior courts, and regulating the proceedings therein.

THE INSANE ASYLUMS.
Bill making appropriations to the insane asylums of the State came up as unfinished business of last night.

Mr. Boykin called the previous question.

Mr. Hill's amendment to strike out $58,000 and insert $50,000 was voted down.

The bill passed third reading.

Bill to authorize the establishment of graded schools in the State.

Mr. Pemberton explained the objects of this bill, saying it was intended to meet the wants of the cities and towns that had no graded schools. The bill provides that 100 tax-paying citizens, one-fourth of whom shall be freeholders, may petition the board of commissioners, who may order election. It provides for election of trustees of such schools, and limits special assessments to one-fourth of one per cent. and seventy-five cents on poll.

The bill passed its third reading. Yeas 28, nays none.

NINE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

The President announced that the hour of 11 a. m. for the special order had arrived, it being the bill to divide the State into nine Congressional districts. Passed its third reading.

W. N. C. R. R.

Bill for the sale of the State's interest in the Western North Carolina Railroad.

Mr. Morehead said he saw no chance for adjourning next Monday; that this was a very important bill, and moved it be printed, including the report of the committee. So ordered.

Bill to establish a graded school in the town of Kinston, in Lenoir county, passed second reading, yeas 32, nays none.

CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS.

Mr. Loftin's bill, entitling Confederate soldiers to the benefit of the act passed, giving those of them who had lost eyes, hands or feet, $5 a month from the date the act was ratified in 1879, passed third reading.

Bill supplemental to act at present session making February and August terms exclusively for trial of civil cases, allowing jail deliveries at these terms, passed third reading.

THE STATE GUARD.

Bill for the encouragement and support of the State Guard. [Mr. Dorch's bill.] Authorizes the Governor to pay $150 a year to each active company; not to exceed 25 companies in the State; the Adjutant General to be appointed by the Governor; and gives him a salary of six hundred dollars.

Mr. Dorch, at the request of the Senator from Burke, explained the objects of the bill. The money paid to the companies was to provide them an armory. Mr. Dorch said unless these gentlemen received something they would be bound to disband.

Mr. Clarke spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Watson said we used to have the old militia system that required much greater expenditure than this bill asked. He had seen the military company of his own town quell a great riot simply by turning out and without firing a gun.

Mr. Webb earnestly supported the bill and spoke of the necessity of the appropriation.

Previous question called.

Mr. Carter didn't want to fight; if there was trouble he wanted the Governor to call out somebody else than himself; he should support the bill.

Mr. Mebane said the colored people were a quiet people; he saw no necessity for the bill as far as his race was concerned; he should vote no.

Vote stood—yeas 19, nays 17; so the bill passed second reading and then passed third reading.

Bill to throw the State lands into the Board of Education, so that they could sell them, passed third reading.

HOUSE.

BILLS.

Mr. Newby, to enable the qualified voters of Pasquotank county to elect all county and township officers.

Mr. Page, of Jones, to empower the proper authorities of Jones county to assign hands to work on Trent river in said county.

Onslow County Items.

Heavy rains in Jones and Onslow counties.

Farmers are busy. All bids fair for large planting.

Work in turpentine is active. Many new boxes are being cut.

Mr. Henry Sandlin's and Mr. Ned, Irving's dwellings are going up rapidly.

Shackelford & Brooks take the place of the old firm, Hargett & Shackelford, at Richlands.

Miss Ada Fordham, from Tuckahoe, has been spending some time in Onslow at W. B. Cox's.

Catharine Lake has three merchants, two doctors, two preachers, a school, etc., but no public road.

Small-pox is playing out in Trenton, but mumps are spreading from Kinston. It is Trenton's time to retaliate—quarantine against Kinston and the mumps.

Dr. Lasame and Miss Kate Canady were married by Rev. Mr. McDonald at Mr. Huggins', Jacksonville, on Feb. 21. It was a grand time in every way. The bride in pure white, and the bridegroom in pure black, suited well the occasion. A dining was had at the Doctor's.
