Maj. W. L. Palmer has put in an elegant, new soda fountain.

Considerable cotton on the platform waiting for a higher price.

The city authorities are putting in a new aqueduct at the foot of Craven street.

The schooner Jas. M. Hall, Capt. Daisey from Philadelphia is at the railroad wharf with a cargo of coal.

Dr. Dufflow and wife who have been spending the winter south and for a few days in New Berne left for their home in N. Y. yesterday.

The passenger coach on the Midland road went up yesterday with the following inscription on the side: "Laid out according to law. M. Mason, Constable."

L. J. Moore, Esq., procured judgments against the Midland Co. yesterday for the employees, and Moses Mason, the constable was writing his sign on all the cars of the Co. he can find.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the New Berne Academy held yesterday evening, Mr. J. A. Meadows was elected a Trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. W. Harper. This is a good selection.

Dr. J. M. Hodges, of Lenoir county, who has just completed his medical course at Bellevue College, New York, has located in Mount Olive. Mr. Hodges is a worthy young man, and we bespeak for him a lucrative practice in the field of labor that he has just entered.

Insurance Paid.

John S. Long, Esq., paid to Mills & Walker, on yesterday, $900, the insurance of the Fire Association on the machinery of their tobacco factory.

Passengers on the Shenandoah.

Messrs. A. M. Baker and Jos. Holland, for Philadelphia and New York; Miss Mamie Ellis, for Norfolk; Misses Jennie and Nannie Hughes, for Baltimore; Maj. John Hughes for New York.

Will Be Paid.

"Col. Andrews, is there any danger of the employees of the Midland Co. having to lose their wages due when the Receiver took charge?"

"None whatever. I am trying to sell the Presidents car and the boat which will bring money enough to pay every cent of the Co. legitimately owes—that is if they let me sell them; if they attack them, I can't sell them."

Infanticide.

On yesterday morning an infant male white child was found in the water at the Long Wharf which had evidently been thrown there the night before. Coroner Bates summoned a jury of inquest who rendered the following verdict: "That the child was probably thrown into the water and drowned by some person or persons unknown."

Schooner Arrivals.

Schooner Theresa, Fisher, master, from Germantown, Hyde county, with corn consigned to Wahab & Credle.

Humpty Dumpty.

The press notices, taken from the Wil. Star and Charleston News and Courier, and advertisement published in the JOURNAL, had the effect to draw out a good house for the Humpty Dumpty troupe on Thursday night, but we regret to say the audience was very much disappointed. We have always regarded a criticism from the Star as worth considering, and we believe the people generally in this city usually place much confidence in what it has to say of the theatrical entertainments; but they feel that they have been rather sold this time. The company must have depreciated rapidly since leaving our sister city.

Mayor's Court.

Walter Smith was before the Mayor on yesterday for violating sec. 11, chapter 8, of city ordinances for which he was fined five dollars and cost. He was also adjudged guilty of resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty for which he was fined three dollars and cost.

Schooner Astoria.

Schooner T. M. Thomas, of Beaufort, N. C., Weeks for Wicks, before reported ashore on the south side of Hatteras Inlet, N. C., parted both cables night of March 25 and drove ashore. Captain and four men landed in their own boat. She is from Washington, N. C., for Penn's Grove, N. J., and is lumber laden.

The Oaksmith Suits.

Justice Brinson's court resembled yesterday morning for the trial of case No. 2 of Capt. Oaksmith vs the Midland Railway Company. In this case Capt. Oaksmith brings an action against the Company for the recovery of $800 due for services rendered in superintending the unloading of the cargo of steel rails brought in at Morehead by the barque Vick and Mebane.

When the court was called to order Col. J. W. Andrews, Superintendent and Agent for the Midland Company, filed an affidavit, through his counsel, Nixon, Simmons & Marly, that the Company could not get justice in that court. The Justice ruled that Col. Andrews was not the proper party to file the affidavit as he had no authority to represent the Company; whereupon Col. Andrews drew a paper from his pocket containing his appointment as Superintendent, etc. Just then a lively scene ensued. The paper was handed to Mr. W. W. Clark, Capt. Oaksmith's Attorney, he handed it to Capt. Oaksmith; Col. Andrews took it from the Captain and handed it back to the court; Mr. Clark again handed it back to Capt. Oaksmith. Col. Andrews reaching out his hand for it at the same time. At the close of this little episode the trial proceeded, Capt. Oaksmith being the only witness. His testimony in regard to services rendered the Company in unloading the barque Vick and Mebane was pretty much the same as that given in the case of the barque Regulus, throwing in a remark in the mean time that Mr. Best was a crank. At the conclusion of the testimony, Mr. Simmons of counsel for defendant arose and submitted a motion to dismiss the case for want of jurisdiction, and upon this motion, he made a very able argument, showing that the contract under which Capt. Oaksmith superintended the landing of the several cargoes of steel brought into Morehead City for the Co. was a continuous one, and that the plaintiff had no right to divide up his claim so as to bring it within the jurisdiction of a Magistrate.

At the close of Mr. Simmons' argument the court took a recess until 2:30 o'clock.

Upon the reassembling of the court Mr. Clark replied to the argument of Mr. Simmons after which the Justice denied the motion to dismiss. (We did not hear Mr. Clark's speech, hence, don't know how he met the arguments offered by the other side.) The case was then put to the jury by the counsel, and a verdict was given in favor of plaintiff for fifty dollars. Case No. 3 is to be taken up to-day.

We can say this much for Capt. Oaksmith; he is a hard witness to handle by an opposing attorney, and of valuable aid to the attorney on his side. The Best Syndicate lost one of its shrewdest factors; when he turned against it.

Notice to Mariners.

Notice is hereby given that on and after April 20, 1883, two fixed red reflector lights will be exhibited near the southern end of Daufuskie Island, S. C., as a range to guide into the Savannah river, Ga. This range is secondary to the Tybee range, and can be followed, going in, 14 nautical miles, or until Tybee tower bears W. 1/2 S. The front light will be shown at a height of 28 feet above mean sea level, from a window in a keeper's dwelling painted white. The rear light will be shown at a height of 85 feet above mean sea level, from a skelton tower in the form of a triangular pyramid, painted white to a height of 50 feet from its base and red above to its top.

The distance between the beacons is three-fourths mile, and the line connecting them bears N. W. 1/2 N. The approximate positions of the lights are:

Front beacon, latitude 32° 05' (18') north, longitude 80° 51' (55') west.
Rear beacon, latitude 32° 05' (50') north, longitude 80° 52' (20') west.

The magnetic bearings and distances of prominent objects are:
Tybee tower bears from front beacon S. by E. 1/2 E., 4 1/2 nautical miles.
Tybee knoll cut rear beacon bears from front beacon S. W. by S., 4 1/2 nautical miles.

Tybee tower bears from rear beacon S. S. E. 1/2 S., 4 1/2 nautical miles.
Tybee knoll cut rear beacon bears from rear beacon S. S. W. 1/2 W., 4 1/2 nautical miles.

Pamlico Items.

Mr. Cherry's new invention, his rice planter, is attracting considerable attention. Already the owner is receiving orders for them, in some instances at any price.

Fish of all kinds are very scarce hereabouts. From accounts it appears that the festive herring has about abandoned the waters of Neuse, Pamlico and Bay rivers, if their scarcity this spring is a criterion. Any kind of fish would readily bring a good price here now.

Among other improvements going on and projected in Stonewall is a drug store. Dr. W. T. Kennedy is the projector and work has already been commenced.

We understand that efforts are being made to establish at Bayboro a lodge of Knights of Honor, and that up to yesterday only two more names were needed to complete the number necessary to receive a charter. This is a good thing.

Roller Skates.

The roller skate is a wayward quadruped. It is as frolicsome and more innocent-looking than a lamb, but for interfering with one's upright attitude in a community it is, perhaps, the best machine that has appeared.

One's first feeling on standing up on a pair of roller skates is an uncontrollable tendency to come from together. One foot may start out towards Idaho, while the other promptly strikes out for Arizona. The legs do not stand by each other as legs related by blood should do, but each shows a disposition to set up in business alone and leave you to take care of yourself as best you may. The awkwardness of this arrangement is apparent. While they are setting up independently there is nothing for you to do but to sit down and await future developments. And you have to sit down, too, without having made any previous preparation for it and without having devoted as much thought to it as you might have done had you been consulted in the matter.

One of the noticeable things at a skating rink is the strong attraction between the human body and the floor of the rink. If the human body had been coming through space for days and days at the rate of a million miles a second, without stopping at landing stations and not excepting Sundays, when it strikes the floor we can understand why it struck the floor with so much violence. As it is, however, the thing is inexplicable.

There are different kinds of falls in vogue at the rink. There are the rear falls, the front falls, the Cardinal Worsley fall, the fall and herbes the other, three in a pile and so on. There are some of the falls that I would like to be excused from describing. The rear fall is the favorite. It is more frequently utilized than any other. There are two positions in skating, the perpendicular and the horizontal. Advanced skaters prefer the perpendicular, while others affect the horizontal.

Skates are no respecters of persons. They will lay out a minister of the gospel or the mayor of the city as readily as they will a short-coated, one-suspender boy or a giddy girl.

When one of a man's feet starts for Nevada and the other for Colorado, that does not separate him from the floor or break up his fun. Other portions of his body will take the place his feet have just vacated with a promptness that is surprising, and he will find that the fun has just begun—for the people looking on.

The equipments for the rink are a pair of skates, a cushion and a bottle of liniment.

A Bold Burglary.

Charlotte Journal.
Night before last some unknown party entered the Swinson House, over Wadsworth's stables, and going into a room where four lodgers, W. M. Woodside, R. W. Woodside, Pat. O'Donnell and Dan. Campbell, were sleeping, gathered up their pants, went through the pockets, got what money they contained, and then threw the pants in the middle of the floor and left. The first two named are compositors in the Journal-Observer office, and the latter Irish peddlers. The burglars got $9 out of R. W. Woodside's pockets, $25 out of the peddlers', and none from W. M. Woodside, who is prudent enough to put his money under his pillow every night on retiring. The burglary must have been committed after two o'clock in the morning, as the printers did not go to their room until that hour. The whole affair is wrapped in mystery as deep as the desolation and despair which fell upon the owners of the burglarized pants. The money was hard earned, and the men could ill afford to lose it.

Sensible Farmers.

Charlotte Journal.
Steel Creek township, this county, is coming to the front as the model township, not only of the county, but of the State. Yesterday two of her citizens placed an order with one of our leading hardware firms for two cord binding reaping machines, at a cost of $300 each, and about one dozen more of the same sort will be bought this season by the farmers of that township. Besides this, they are buying the improved sulky plows. The Steel Creek farmers are turning their whole attention to raising small grain, and are touching cotton extremely lightly.

Among other improvements going on and projected in Stonewall is a drug store. Dr. W. T. Kennedy is the projector and work has already been commenced.
