A Good Neighborhood. Mr. Lemuel E. Hardy, of Greene county, is in the city and when pressed by a JOURNAL reporter on yesterday for some news from his section he replied that the best news he could give was that not a man in his neighborhood had been indicted for any crime since the war.

"Well, Mr. Hardy how do you account for the fact that the people in your neighborhood are more peaceable and quiet than elsewhere?"

"Well, I don't know; the Sheriff never comes to see us only for taxes or a juror. I can say another thing—we haven't got a drunkard in the neighbor- hood."

"It's a prohibition neighborhood, then, is it?"

"No. There is hardly a man up there but what takes his dram occasionally, but they don't get drunk."

"Have you any schools and churches?"

"Oh yes; that is we have two as good schools at La Grange as you can find anywhere—I live in the southwestern part of Greene, which is not far from La Grange. Our neighborhood school is nothing more than the common piny woods schools."

Fraternizing. It is good to see an old Henry Clay Whig and a good old Jeffersonian-Calhoun-Jeff Davis, Democrat get to- gether and discuss the issues of the day and tell what ought to be done and what ought not to be done; we say it is good to hear them, and it is so long as they agree, but the moment one tells the other what brought on the greatest trouble this country ever had, one that completely revolutionized many cus- toms and habits in the South, there is a damper thrown on the meeting that spoils the pleasure on one side of the house.

On Monday last two of these charac- ters met at the Cotton Exchange. Each had been in a power in his party in the ante-bellum days but were nevertheless friends. After a warm hand shaking the old Dem. began.

"I tell you," speaking with emphasis, "the farmer who fools with politics now is worse than throwing away his time. The question that I shall propound to myself in the future when these politi- cians come around wanting office will be this: "Which one of you will repre- sent my interest?"

Old Whig—"Ah, now you are talking sense; you go North and you will see that men vote the ticket that protects their pockets."

Old Dem—"I tell you the farmers in this country have got to come to this; we must look out for our interest."

By-Stander—"Why, I thought you done well out your way, you elected farmers to the Legislature, but here in this great commercial centre they did wrong; instead of sending representa- tive men of their business, they sent a lawyer and a farmer."

Old Dem—"Yes, and I tell you this great commercial centre as you call it and the whole financial policy of this Government are working to pull down the farmer; and when you strike at the farmer you are striking at the root of everything else."

Old Whig—"Now just hold on and let me tell you where you struck at the root of the farmer; when you voted for secession; you were one of those men who were going to wipe up the blood spilt by secession with a pocket hand- kerchief."

Old Dem—"Well, I thought I was brave until the first skirmish I got into; I found then that I was a coward."

The scene closed with the laugh on the Whig's side.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Biblical Recorder: A large manu- facturer recently paid off his hands $7,000 in new money. He marked the bills. On Monday $450 of these same bills were found in the pos- session of saloon-keepers. Why then call prohibition fanaticism.

Wil. Star: Rev. R. O. Burton, P. E. of this Methodist E. Church District, failed to attend the quar- terly meetings of the Methodist churches here on Saturday and Sun- day last, and we understand that he states in a letter received from him that he has not taken a meal out side of his own private room since he reached home from this city some three weeks since. In other words he is and has been quite indisposed.

News Observer: Yesterday's Battimore Sun says: Gen. Cox, mem- ber of Congress of North Carolina, and bride, daughter of Bishop Lyman of North Carolina, visited on Sun- day Mr. Augustus Albert, at his country place, Cedar Lawn, Govans- town, also the Rev. D. E. Lyman, both uncles of the bride. They sail for Europe this week.—This af- ternoon thirty of the inmates of the insane asylum here will be taken to the Western asylum, at Morgan- ton. Rooms for that number are now ready. As soon as more rooms are prepared, other patients will be removed there from the asylum here.

Daily Siftings: About a week ago Jim Artis and Oscar Harper, both colored, had a difficulty and Harper threatened to kill Artis. Saturday they made up, Harper saying he was satisfied. He then bought some spirits and asked Ar- tis to take a drink, he accepted but 'twas a short while before he wish- ed he hadn't as he discovered that he was poisoned. He fell exhaust- ed and was carried to Drs. Peacock & Anderson who administered an emetic which soon brought him to his senses. Artis, we understand claims that Harper put strychnine in the whiskey. Of the truth of this we cannot say.—A negro church was burned up at Black creek last week.—Mr. John Bryan, son of W. R. Bryan died suddenly one day last week.

Greensboro Patriot: A. S. Lew- ter, depot agent at Salisbury, got his arm broken yesterday, while sup- pling a car.—Mr. Tom Sher- of J. W. Scott & Co., was Alamance county last week, charged with selling goods without license. In changing his coat he left his license at home, but this excuse did not avail. He was arrested by the sheriff some ten miles from Graham and taken to the latter place under very ex- asperating circumstances. The ar- rest was made without any warrant and while in custody he was treat- ed very rudely. Arriving at Gra- ham he at once telegraphed for his license; they were forwarded to him. When arranged before the magis- trate next day the license were produced and the case was dis- missed upon the payment of cost, from which judgment he appealed. It is an outrage which his firm will not submit to. The arrest was il- legal, and was aggravated by the insolence and rudeness of the of- ficer.—A letter from Chatham says all the water courses are up and great damage is apprehended.—Farmers are looking blue over the late spring, and are making allsorts of direful predictions about this year's crops.—A thriving mer- chant in town remarked that to day's sunshine was worth $50.00 per hour to his business.

Charlotte Journal Observer: Miss Sarah I. Reed died at the residence of her brother, Mr. H. K. Reed, in Pineville, at 12 o'clock last Sunday. Miss Reed was an assistant teach- er in the large school at Pineville, of which her brother was principal and was a lady who was well-known and greatly admired throughout the country. She was about 46 years of age. Her remains were interred yesterday at 3 o'clock, in the Sha- ron churchyard.—Eva, a little four-year old daughter of Mr. John Crowell, fell into the fire yesterday morning and had her face quite severely burned.—Mr. M. D. L. Biggers, formerly surveyor in this county, had a rough experience in the city Sunday night. While pass- ing by the Richmond & Danville freight depot he was met in the darkness by some unknown indi- vidual who knocked him down and robbed him of his money, amount- ing to five or six dollars. The blow that felled him was struck over the left eye, and must have been made with a club or piece of iron, from the appearance of the wound. The skin was laid open to the scalp from the eye straight across to the ear, and all around the eye was a big splotch of black. The ex-courner had no idea who his assailant was, and it was so dark he could not see whether he was white or black. Assaults and high- way robberies are getting to be about as common in the future Lon- don as they are in Chicago.

The Democratic roosters need an air- ing. They are entitled to have a good lusty crow this morning. The un- derfired Democracy carried Dubuque by 1,000 majority. That is rather more than a straw—it indicates a whirlwind. When Iowa gives such a vote, the Republicans may well disband. In Cincinnati, too, the Democrats elect nearly all the officers by majorities ranging from 4,000 downwards, and thus assures us that Ohio remains true to the colors. The news from Michigan is meagre, but as far as heard from the Democrats are successful. The march of the Democratic cohorts is onward. They have victory in their grasp. The people have fallen into lines beneath our colors and the Republican army of spoliators and plunderers has no hope in the contest of '84. The robber-barons are overthrown and are repudiated by the voters.—Raleigh News and Obser- ver.
