Sun rises, 5:19; Length of day, 13h 40m; 6:39; 18 minutes; Moon sets at 4:11 a. m.

Railroad matters are quiet. No Raleigh papers yesterday.

Mr. J. L. Rhem is shipping cabbage, onions and turnips.

Our market is now well supplied with sturgeon meat, herrings and trout.

Mr. Geo. N. Ives received a rock fish yesterday, weighing thirty-seven pounds.

Mr. Geo. Bishop has started his mill again and is now slashing the logs to pieces for truck boxes.

The steamer Stout will take out today over twelve hundred cases of canned oysters for Messrs. Moore & Brady.

The internal revenue department received on yesterday 200,000 more labels for rebates. They will send out fifty to each dealer instead of ten.

Our milliners were fortunate in the selection of a day for the grand opening. Yesterday was the most beautiful and lovely day of the season.

The sloop Nellie May, Capt. Sam. Howland, arrived from Croatan Sound yesterday morning with shad for Mr. Geo. N. Ives. She made the trip in nine hours.

The first box of peas was shipped by express over the A. & N. C. Railroad yesterday by U. S. Mace. We notice our truckers below have been shipping apparatus over the road for several weeks.

We see some of our neighboring counties are advertising the delinquent tax list in their county papers. The commissioners and sheriff of Craven county are undoubtedly ashamed to advertise theirs.

Big Stock.
Mr. A. M. Baker, and his polite clerk, Joe Holland, returned from the North on Thursday morning and reports the largest and cheapest stock of goods he has ever brought to this market.

Your Name in Print.
Mayor John W. Bryan, of Goldsboro, passed through the city yesterday on his return from Pamlico.

Mr. S. A. Taylor, of Jones county, was in the city yesterday and reports the Quaker Bridge road to be the finest he ever saw.

Anthony Davis, Esq., of Pink Hill, Lenoir county, was in the city yesterday looking after the estate of the late R. W. King.

Cotton Market.
Futures made a sharp advance in New York on yesterday, closing steady, sales 105,000 bales. Spots advanced one sixteenth, closing firm, holders asking a higher price. New Berne market steady, sales of fifty bales, the best $3.8.

NEW YORK MARKET, SPOT:
Middling 10-14, 10-16
Strict low middling 10-14, 10-16
Low middling 9-12-16

NEW YORK FUTURES:
Morning, Noon, Evening.
April, 10.10, 10.24, 10.20
May, 10.18, 10.25, 10.25

July, 10.48, 10.54, 10.55

Graded School Celebration.

The committee of ladies on the Graded School May Day Celebration had a meeting yesterday afternoon, as per notice in the JOURNAL.

Mrs. L. C. Vass was elected President and Mrs. Frank W. Hancock Secretary and Treasurer.

The following sub-committees were appointed to canvass the various wards of the city to ascertain the number of baskets that would be contributed.

First Ward—Misses Oliver, Miss Minnie Ransom, Miss Sallie Mitchell, Miss Olivia Metts, Miss Margaret Holland.

Second Ward—Mrs. D. T. Carraway, Mrs. C. E. Slover, Mrs. T. A. Green, Mrs. Frank W. Hancock, Mrs. J. P. Dillingham, Mrs. Dr. House.

Third Ward—Mrs. C. H. Blank, Mrs. A. R. Dennison, Miss Hannah Osgood, Mrs. Jos. Schwerin, Mrs. O. Marks, Mrs. Nelson Whitford.

Fourth Ward—Mrs. L. H. Cutler, Mrs. T. J. May, Miss Fannie Holland, Mrs. R. C. Kehos, Mrs. Silas Fulcher, Mrs. H. Spering.

Fifth Ward—Mrs. E. K. Bryan, Mrs. M. F. Seltley, Miss Sarah Hahn, Mrs. L. Weinstein, Mrs. H. S. Nunn.

Sixth Ward—Mrs. J. V. Jordan, Mrs. D. G. Snav, Mrs. B. Swart, Miss Mary Manly, Mrs. Henry B. Bryan.

Each committee will meet at the house of the lady whose name appears first on that committee this afternoon at 5 o'clock in order to subdivide the wards.

The ladies request that the committee of gentlemen meet with them at the Academy building next Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

A Suggestion.
Some of our good citizens request us to suggest to the City Fathers to put on extra team and haul what shell they are going to put on the streets at once. We think the suggestion a good one as the immense pile of shell at Moore & Brady's factory is sending out a stench not at all conducive to the health of the city. Spread them on the streets; they will be improved and the offensive smell abated.

The Grand Opening.

Of all the beautiful displays ever before made by our milliners, the one of this season far surpasses them all. Such lovely hats, such beautiful flowers, such artistic and showy fancy work as is exhibited by Miss Harriet Lane, Miss Kate Carraway, Mrs. S. H. Lane, Mrs. A. J. Hart, and Mrs. S. N. Dewey is rarely equalled, perhaps never excelled in this State. One almost becomes bewildered on examining the beautiful goods these ladies are exhibiting. They have each selected with greatest care, and most exquisite taste, large stocks of goods.

Their opening yesterday was a grand display, and would reflect credit on any city.

Where everything is in such rich profusion it is utterly impossible to discriminate, and all that is necessary is to visit one or all of these establishments to convince you that the taste of the most fastidious can be gratified.

The Fish Trade of New Berne.

We have endeavored, since we have been in New Berne to get up some facts and figures to show our readers the extent of this business, but we have so far failed in getting anything like reliable statistics, because the dealers are reticent about giving information in regard to their business, fearing, as we suppose, that it would invite further competition which is already too sharp for big profits. So we have to pick up our information as best we can by actual observation and casual remarks made by the dealers.

On Wednesday we dropped in at the fish house of Mr. Geo. N. Ives, and while viewing a great variety of fish which he was busily engaged in packing, among which was a 37 pound rock, we drew from him the following information which we hope will not injure his business to the extent of a single penny by being given to the public:

He has engaged in the business fourteen boats varying in size from a twenty-six ton sloop down to a canoe. He has about fifteen hands steadily engaged in packing at this place and Beaufort, besides the innumerable host that man the nets. He shipped by express on Thursday, from this place and Beaufort, forty-one boxes, aggregating two and one-half tons of fish, packed in one and a half tons of ice. He paid on this one shipment freights amounting to $80.25. Among the fish shipped were shad, herring, speckle trout, gray trout, drum, sea mullets, blue fish, rock, sturgeon, etc. Now when it is remembered that Mr. Ives is only one dealer among nearly a dozen, some idea can be given of the extent of the business.

We think we would be safe in asserting that New Berne, in connection with Beaufort, is the greatest fish shipping point anywhere on the coast. The freights on the finny tribe are worth more to the A. & N. C. R. R. than the corn trade. Take the one shipment of Mr. Ives on yesterday and the freights on it will carry at least four or five car loads of corn to Goldsboro.

If our dealers would give us all the facts we think we could make a showing that would startle even the natives. But one need not suppose there are fortunes to be made in this business in a flirt. Our dealers tell us that it has not been very lucrative this season, owing to the demand being greater than the supply. It would seem that this ought to make the business more profitable, but the fact is the dealers are so anxious to supply their customers that they run the price up on one another until there is not much room for profit.

We have already claimed the King trucker, now we lay claim to the best fish market in the South, and if no body contradicts these two claims we shall go about looking for something else to boast of.

(Kinston Free Press.)

Dr. and Mrs. Walsh's silver wedding, last Friday night was a very pleasant affair and a good many of the presents were both beautiful and costly.

Rev. W. C. Gannon, who has just returned from New Berne, says that the oyster canning establishment in that city, sells 7,500 cans of the delicious bivalves daily. The cottonseed oil mill, he says, presses six hundred gallons of oil daily. While the truck farms are in a fine condition and the prospects are very good.

New Steamer.
Maj. W. A. Hearn writes us from Norfolk that the new steamer, designed we suppose, for the waters of the lower Neuse, has been named, by him, the Cumberland. He says she was first designed for Ocracoke and New York and has splendid sea-going qualities. Capacity, seven thousand bushels, light draft, 130 feet keel.

Injustice.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The last issue of the New Berne Banner says that it has reliable information that the call for a meeting of the Republicans of the Fifth Ward on the 27th instant was unauthorized by me, and that I had nothing to do with it. Its informant (if any he had) makes a false statement and does Mr. Abbott an injustice. The call was made by me after due consultation with the rest of the Republican Committee for the city of New Berne.

J. W. HARRELL,
Chairman Rep. Com. 5th Ward.

The rain and wind storm last Monday night was terrible. It continued to rain all the next day.

Neither our municipal nor the graded school election as yet arouses much interest, there being, so far, no one to register or to offer to register for either election.

Membership in a Christian-co-operative assessment-pass-the-hat-round insurance company, which does not require medical examinations, may be some evidence of personal regeneration; but it also establishes the old saying that "a fool and his money soon part company."

The grand opening, last Wednesday, of Mrs. A. R. Miller's spring stock of ladies' hats and other "ladies' toggery" was a complete success. The ladies crowded the spacious apartments all day long. Many of them there found the "dear darling of a hat," exactly suiting their exquisite taste as well as the condition of their purse.

The public pump on Tuckahoe, as well as the one on the court house square, respectfully call on our "city fathers," if we have any, for renovation and improvement. Good water, and a plenty of it, is essential to man and beast, while "cleanliness is regarded as next to godliness," the means to which should not be denied, impaired or obstructed even for a moment of time.

Tomorrow is loaded down with the things we intend to do and to have. There is no faculty of the soul so overworked as this faculty of expectation. If all shall come of the future which we are pouring into it, we shall have a marvellous world before long. The same sad facts of these days will soon give place to islands of milk and honey and to palaces of Aladdin. When a young man lives in expectation of a fortune to come to him in middle age, how, for the most part, it utterly ruins his youth.

When a man in middle life dreams of good deeds to be done some time, loading often his rosy future culminated in darkness and storms, and nothing remains but the dusty shadows of which dreams are made. "By the street called By-and-by you reach a house called Never."

It is claimed that a model preacher has at last been found. He teaches school during the week, clerks in a store on Saturday and administers the divine word to his flock on the remaining day. This must supply a long recognized want. His congregation can promise him $800 and if they do not pay but $150 he need not necessarily go to the poor house.

Married, on the 15th, inst., at the residence of Mr. George Guilford, the bride's father, near Aurora, Mr. Henry Bonner, to Miss Florence Guilford, Rev. G. D. Langston officiating. Mr. Henry Bonner is well known throughout this county and is at present a member of the Board of County Commissioners. The many friends of the couple wish them a safe and pleasant journey.

The Tobacco Rebate.

The following from Mr. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, largely interested in the tobacco business, sets up right on an important matter alluded to in Sunday's Star, in which he states we were led into error:

Please pardon me, but your issue of the 15th contains a statement that I beg to correct. Under the caption, "The Rebate-Queries Answered," you state upon the authority of your resident U. S. Commissioner that merchants will be paid rebate for stamped stock on hand, May 1st, in either currency or tobacco stamps.

and must not be clerks or employes of any claimant under said act."

The interest that I feel in my brethren in the tobacco trade has prompted me to make the above correction, thinking that it might prove of service to parties interested in the matter.

Yours, truly,
JULIAN S. CARR.

STATE NEWS
Gleaned from our Exchanges.

E. City Economist: Sweet potatoes is a paying crop. Bill Snell, in Tyrrell, made nearly $500 to an acre of them a few years ago in Tyrrell. Our lands and climate are admirably suited to them. Yellow barks sell best but the old fashion yam beats the world. A good yam potato is better than a hot cake. —There's no mistake about it. Old Betsy's all right. We've rode around the town this morning, thanks to the courtesy of Mayor Commander, and she is all right. New buildings going up in every direction. New streets, new improvements. Boys stay home. We are satisfied the old town is worth living in. In 10 years 10,000 inhabitants. Mark what we say. —We have received a sample of new potatoes from Thos. Baxter, of Currituck, that were as large as walnuts. —Capt. Harry Roberts distanced his competitors in the vote for the most popular steamboat agent, and gets the ebony cabinet. —Fish are coming in pretty well this week. The seines are not doing well but the nets of every name are doing well. Old time fishing is passing away. All things are becoming new.

Wil. Star: A white tramp from Harnett county who is apparently somewhat idiotic and who gives his name as John Ivey, was picked up on the streets a day or two ago by the police, and has since been taken care of at the station house. He was sent on the steamer A. P. Hurt yesterday, with the hope that he will eventually reach his home and friends, or among those who know him and will look after his welfare. Father Ryan had not left up to late yesterday evening, and we learn that he has been so well contented here, to say nothing of his desire to take a little needful rest, that he has not been in a hurry to resume his journey. Besides his friends have been anxious for him to remain as long as possible and have plied their tactics to that end. We hear that the reverend gentleman is much delighted with the elegant floral present made him by the ladies, and talks of taking it home with him to Mississippi. By the way, Father Ryan and Jefferson Davis are close neighbors as well as intimate friends, and the poet priest has great reverence and love for the distinguished ex-Confederate.

There were many callers upon Father Ryan yesterday, and we learn that he was up until a very late hour Monday night, at the residence of Mr. O'Connor, receiving and entertaining numerous visitors. We understand from a member of the committee of arrangements that the net proceeds of the lecture amounted to about $200.

Lord Salisbury's Youth.

The sons of noble families of England are not always brought up in luxury, and many of them have known the harsh discipline poverty in their youth. The present leader of the Conservative party in the House of Lords is the Marquis of Salisbury, who until he inherited his estates, struggled with the pen for a living.

As a boy he was "brought up by hand," as it was called without luxuries or indulgence of any kind. Well gifted intellectually, he worked at reviewing other literary work, actually for hard money. Poor Robert Cecil (his family name), happening to know modern languages, reviewed the foreign literature, and was allowed by the publishers to have the books on condition that he did not out the leaves, and thus spoil the sale of the copy.

It is not likely that he regrets these experiences, for no manhood is perfect which has not been reached through some struggle and disciplined by self-denial.

Let Us Speak English.

It is painful to be told you are having bouillon, d'aitre, Roti and cafe noir, when you know you are only eating weak broth-stale oysters tough roast beef, washed down with a miserly cup of coffee without any milk. It is unbearable to have your wife tell you she has bought a robe de soie and a Henri Quatre chapeau, and find out she has only a silk dress and a bonnet somewhat the shape of your great-grandmother's, for which you have to stand a heavy bill.
