The steamer Goldboro arrived from Baltimore yesterday.

Three marriage licenses issued during the past week. All whites.

Mr. J. L. Rhem says it will not pay to let sheep eat turnips as long as they are bringing $6 per barrel.

Mr. Geo. E. Tinker has been appointed and has qualified as Commissioner of Deeds for the State of New Jersey.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Charles B. Shepard will take place from Christ Church, to-day, April 23d, at 4 o'clock, p. m.

Mr. E. B. Cox thinks the pea crop this Spring deceptive. He says there is a fine growth of vines but don't think they are fruiting well.

Services at St. Cyprian Church to-day by Rev. P. W. Cassey at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 1/2 p. m. Services every Friday evening at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Among the many nice things brought on by Mr. A. M. Baker with his spring stock is an elegant spool silk case, which is an ornament in his store.

We received yesterday explanatory notes on the International Sunday School lesson, for to-day, but the poem, "My Native Town," panned out so they were crowded out.

Mr. A. H. Potter has recently received and placed into position a soda water generator weighing two thousand pounds, with a capacity to charge two hundred and fifty gallons of soda water per hour.

The following query was on the rounds yesterday and received no less than five different answers: A man buys a horse for $90 and sells it for $75; he again buys the horse for $85. Require the losses.

We received an agreeable visit on Thursday from Mr. Frank McCullen, of the New Berne Journal-Goldboro Bulletin.

Mr. McCullen is no longer agent for the JOURNAL. C. C. Taylor is the only regular authorized traveling agent. When we send out a special agent we will give notice through the columns of our paper.

Ed. L. Franks, Esq., of Onslow, arrived on the L. H. Cutler yesterday evening. He is a juror in the U. S. District court which convenes to-morrow. He says it is mighty hard on a man who has no one to leave at home to be dragged off in this manner. He is determined to altar this thing and will begin the work by painting his house; says if he can't blame himself he will make the old premises shine.

Our market was flooded with oysters this morning. There were so many in market that the owner of one cargo of 700 bushels fine Portsmouth oysters, finding it impossible to effect a sale at any price, left with his cargo, intending to replant them in the river below New Berne.—Nut Shell.

We are surprised at the above statement when it is well known that Messrs. Moore & Brady, of the canning factory, will take all the marketable oysters that may be brought here; in fact their machinery is idle a good portion of the time for want of material to work on. The cargo of oysters spoken of—200 instead of 700 bushels—were entirely too small for canning, or any other purpose, and the man who brought them ought to have had better sense than to bring such oysters to market. They were indeed fine. Our neighbor, without intending it, has published an item that is calculated to injure an industry that is distributing a considerable amount of money around New Berne that finds its way to our retail merchants. Oyster-men will hardly bring oysters here for sale if the report is circulated that a sale cannot be made at any price. We assure them that a fair price can be obtained for all oysters brought in good condition.

Hyde County Knock.
Lake Comfort has been aroused by a battle between Robert Jennett and C. D. Caffee. A pocket handkerchief would have wiped up the blood. They appeared before Reaquiré C. F. Benson and paid $3.00 each for the privilege of a pugilistic contest.

Schooner Arrivals.

The Long, Capt. Joe Ross, from Fair field, with corn consigned to W. P. Burrus & Co.

J. H. Potter, Capt. Adams, from Wysocking, with corn for W. P. Burrus & Co.

Elmyra, Capt. N. B. O'Neal, from Wysocking, with corn for Burrus & Co. and W. H. C. Caffee.

Bentley Benton, Capt. F. F. Spencer, from Fairfield with cargo of corn.

Sarah Midgette, Capt. Daly Stowe, from Fairfield with cargo of corn.

Church Services.
BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. F. W. Eason, Pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7 1/2 p. m. Seats free and the public cordially invited to attend. Sabbath School at 9 o'clock, p. m., C. C. Clark, Supt.

METHODIST CHURCH—Services at 11 a. m. and 7 1/2 p. m. by the Pastor, Rev. Dr. Burkhead. Sabbath School at 9 p. m., J. H. Bell, Supt. Seats free. All are cordially invited.

Election of Delegates.

At a meeting of the vestry of Christ Church, New Berne, held on the 28th instant, the following gentlemen were elected delegates and Alternates to the Sixty-seventh Annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of North Carolina, to be held in St. Peter's Church, Charlotte, on the 23d day of May, 1883.

DELEGATES. ALTERNATES:
John Hughes, Geo. B. Guion,
H. B. Bryan, Jno. S. Long,
G. H. Roberts, R. Ransom,
M. D. W. Stevenson W. H. Oliver.

Your Name in Print.

Mr. A. L. Rountree, of the firm of Rountree & Co., of New York, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. F. M. Simmons, of the firm of Nixon, Simmons & Manly and Philmon Holland, Esq., of the firm of Holland & Guion, visited Pollockville yesterday on professional business.

Messrs. Ang. C. Thompson, keeper of Hatteras light house, and L. C. Angell, of Oliver Shoals light house in the city on a visit.

Rev. F. W. Eason returned from Durham yesterday morning and will occupy his pulpit this morning and evening.

Convicts off to Onslow.

Mr. F. G. Simmons returned from Trenton yesterday evening, whither he had been to see the convicts on the Quaker Bridge road off to the Onslow side. They were taken over in seven wagons; two of these furnished by Capt. E. R. Page, and one each by Messrs. E. L. Francks, C. Stevens, John W. Mills, W. F. Cox and D. E. Sanderlin. These gentlemen furnished this transportation without any charge against the State, which is evidence that they appreciate the aid offered to their section by the State authorities. Mr. Simmons speaks in very complimentary terms of Mr. Melver, who has charge of the convicts.

Kinston Items.

Every man desires to live long, but no man would be old.

Equality means a desire to be equal to your superiors and superior to your equals.

It needs a bold, resolute man at any time to grapple with the subject of women.

Wm. C. Munroe, Esq., the distinguished attorney of Snow Hill, was in Kinston last Friday, assisting its owners to carry the "steamer Snow Hill" safely over the Kinston bar.

Such is life on Tuckahoe at this season. "Old Chow Chow" setting in the sun and occasionally slapping his paw on his head, exclaiming, "I've got a bite," and draws him forth, wiggling.

Teet's great United States show pitched its tent here last Thursday. The monkey got loose and stirred up the town. This feat, however, does not afford very satisfactory milk for the public stomach.

Some of our magistrates appointed recently by the Legislature, are itching to get into harness. It is hoped the Secretary of State will hurry forward the commissions and secure, at once, the valuable legal talent of many a Cincinnatus, now languishing at the plow handle or spreading the sweetly scented guano on the hungry earth.

Mrs. Stephen F. Quinberry, in her 36th year, died at the residence of her husband in Kinston on the night of the 18th instant, of consumption. Her remains were taken to the family burial ground in Pitt county last Friday. She was a daughter of the late Calvin Tucker, who was at one time a citizen of this county, but afterwards moved into Pitt county and died there.

Rev. D. B. Clayton, of South Carolina, Universalist, preached last Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Court House in Kinston. The preacher puts his case with force and sincerity and universalists, after all, may be "some of God's people." We are ourselves somewhat of that faith, but after the orthodoxy of the universalist, who continued to beat the skunk after it was dead. "You," said a bystander to him "beating the dead skunk," "are a universalist; you do not believe in a state of future rewards and punishments; you ought not, therefore, to beat the skunk after he is dead." "Well," said the universalist, "that is my faith in general, but in reference to this particular skunk, I think it deserves punishment after death." And so we fear there will be many particular sinners who will deserve and receive punishment after death.

Washington and Elsewhere.

Chockowinity has a new, roomy Academy.

Farmers are busy everywhere putting out manure.

The Watch-Tower and Dr. Snell will soon take charge of the upper story of the Washington Bank.

Dr. D. T. Taylor, of Washington, an old and prominent physician, has been indisposed for several weeks, being confined to his room the larger portion of the time.

Mr. Allen, at Johnson's Mills, has a good school. The people support it for ten months, and believe in having a thorough graduate to teach even the smallest pupils.

The friends of the Graded School propose to adopt the special bill for Washington on the day of election without previous wrangles through the press or on the street corners.

Prof. Chas. Wilson has a class of thirty-six in vocal music in Washington. The young people are having a good time, and also learning to sing. "Ginger Blue" is Prof. Bagley's favorite.

Judge Rodman, of the Inferior Court of Beaufort county, is confined to his room by sickness, and has not been at his office in several weeks. It is feared that he will not be able to preside at the Inferior Court next month.

Dr. Bryan, the "Dutch-net" man, says that Dr. Barker is the third smartest man he ever heard. The former is constantly asking where the latter obtained so much information. Guess he has given Dr. Bryan a complimentary chart.

The Disciples of Beaufort county are taking active steps to build a church in Washington. Sheriff Hodges, Seth Bridgman, Dr. Latham and others are on the building committee. The reputation they have for business capacity is a strong guaranty of the house being completed at an early day.

The no-fence law changes the appearance of things in Lenoir and Greene. We could scarcely keep on the road often travelled before. Some of the farmers still keep up their fences; supposed they are opposed to the law, or think the creeks and rivers may dry up and let the stock cross.

The Rev. Mr. Augustus Latham has wonderful mechanical talent, as stated by Dr. Barker of your city, who has been making times lively around Washington by exposing the "hills and holes" on people's heads. We would not be surprised if he is about right, from Mr. Latham's persistent inquisitiveness around steam engines.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Durham Tobacco Journal: Mr. Otey Blacknall has in successful operation an incubator for hatching out chickens. He is now trying his hand on 250 eggs and if he succeeds in hatching them out we presume he will have a lively time as the cries of that number, without mothers will be quite musical to his fatherly ears.—The Tobacco exposition is fixed fact. All necessary arrangements will be speedily pushed to completion. There is no time to be lost, and those who have the matter in charge will complete the necessary arrangements as soon as possible.

Chatham Records: We hear conflicting statements as to the prospects of the fruit crop. Some persons assert there will be plenty of peaches and apples, while others say that most of the peaches are already killed. While the crop of apples may be abundant, yet we fear that there will not be many peaches in this section. It rarely happens that we have two good peach crops in successive years and as we had an abundance of peaches last year, we cannot expect to have many this year.—We regret to hear that a young man of this township, named Hubbard, Man-field, has become insane. No cause can be assigned for it, as he was a hale, hearty youth.—A few mornings ago, Mr. Thomas Y. Mims, of Cape Fear township, wanted some fresh meat for breakfast and going out a short distance soon returned with three wild turkeys, which he had killed at one shot.

Revisiting His Native State.

Col. Henry L. Scott, former chief of staff to Gen. Winfield Scott, who has been spending the winter in Aiken, S. C., for the benefit of his health, arrived at the Buford House yesterday, accompanied by his wife, who is a daughter of Gen. Scott. Col. Scott is a native of New Berne, N. C., and a graduate of West Point. He was chief of staff to his father-in-law during the Mexican war; went on the retired list just before the late "rebellion," and then being unwilling to fight against his own countrymen, resigned and went to Europe. He resides in New York. His father was the most accomplished physician of his day in North Carolina and resided first in Wilmington, then in New Berne, (where he married Miss Guion, an aunt of the late Haywood Guion, of this city, [The remaining members of the family reside now in this city.—Ed. JOURNAL]) and finally in Fayetteville, where he died in 1824. The editor of the Journal-Observer was pleased to meet Col. Scott again and talk over those old-time North Carolina folks whose blood courses through the veins of each. Col. Scott will probably leave Charlotte today.

Keep the Cellar Clean.

A great deal of sickness families suffer could be easily traced to the cellar. The cellar not unusually opens into the kitchen; the kitchen is heated, and the cellar is not. Following natural laws, the cold air of the cellar will rush to take the place of the warmer and, therefore, lighter air of the kitchen. This would be well enough if the air of the cellar was pure, but often it is not; partly decayed vegetables may be there, or rotten wood, etc. The present time is opportune for a thorough cleansing of the cellar. A day should be taken to throw out and carry away all dirt, rotten wood, decayed vegetables, and other accumulations that have gathered there. Brush down the cobwebs and with a bucket of lime give the walls and ceiling a good coat of white-wash. If a white-wash brush is not at hand, take an old broom that has been worn out, and spread the white-wash on thick and strong. It will sweeten up the air in the cellar, the parlor, and the bedrooms, and it may save the family from afflictions of fevers, diphtheria and doctors.

A $20.00 Bible Reward.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly offer twelve valuable rewards in their Monthly for May, among which is the following:

We will give $20.00 in gold to the person telling us which is the shortest chapter in the New Testament Scriptures (not the New Revision) by May 10th, 1883. Should two or more correct answers be received, the reward will be divided. The money will be forwarded to the winner May 15th, 1883. Persons trying for the reward must send 20 cents in silver (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the June Monthly, in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more valuable rewards will be offered. Address, RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Eaton, Penna.
