LOCAL NEWS.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 5:18 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 8:43 | 12 hours, 20 minutes.
Moon rises at 9:47 a. m.

The Graded School has now enrolled 813 pupils.
Considerable rain and hail on yesterday, but not enough to seriously damage track.

We have received the schedule of the truck train, which will appear corrected in to-morrow's issue.

Mr. J. C. Whitey received on yesterday a fifteen-horse Oneida engine and boiler, which is to be shipped to R. B. Cox at Beaufort.

Mr. T. R. Jarvis, of Hyde county, is in the city and reports the farmers of his section badly behind in their work on account of wet weather.

Complaint is made about some one taking and carrying away a beautiful geranium from the grave of the late Jas. G. Harget, in Cedar Grove Cemetery. We presume it must have been blown away by the wind, as it is hardly probable there is any one in the city of New Berne mean enough to rob a grave yard.

Nearly four hundred boxes of peas were shipped by steamer Shenandoah on Tuesday, and a large number of packages of turnips and cabbages. Mr. Rhem shipped one hundred and forty barrels of cabbages, thirty-five of turnips and thirteen boxes of peas. We would be glad to report the shipment of other truckers if they would only take the trouble, which is very little, to hand them in. Peas sold on the wharf at $8.25 to $8.40 per box.

May Day Celebration.
The eloquent and gifted Col. McRae, of Wilmington will deliver the oration at the planting of the tree in honor of Judge Gaston, at the Graded School celebration on the first day of May. Other well known orators will be present and speak on the same occasion.

A terrible cyclone passed over Wesson and Beaufort, two small towns in Mississippi, on Sunday last. In Wesson twelve people are reported killed and several missing, and one hundred and fifty or two hundred dwellings were blown down. The number of persons with broken limbs is estimated by the physicians to be seventy-five. Beaufort was literally swept away, scattering the timbers for miles around and killing and wounding many persons.

Cotton Market.
New York futures steady, spots quiet. New Berne market steady, sales of fourteen bales, the best bringing 9 7-16.

NEW YORK MARKET, SPOT:

Attending Court.
It is Willis Bagly, of Northampton, and not W. H. Bagly, of Raleigh, who is assistant district attorney. Thanks to district attorney Robinson for the information.

F. A. Daniels, Esq., of the firm of Aycock & Daniels of Goldsboro, Rodolph Duffy, Esq., of Onslow, W. P. Williams, Esq., of Tarboro, Col. H. C. Bourne of Edgecombe, A. H. A. Williams, President of the Oxford & Henderson Railroad, and Hon. Jas. E. O'Hara, are attending the district court.

A Belle.
Rev. W. H. Call has the parole given him at Appomattox Court House, on the occasion of Gen. Lee's surrender. It is signed by E. J. Hall, First Lieut, commanding Roberts' Brigade. Holt was a Lieutenant in the 16th battalion N. C. Cavalry, and the fact that he was in command of the brigade at the surrender, shows that there must have been terrible havoc among the general officers. Mr. Call will have it framed and preserve it as a relic of a sad event in the history of as noble a band of soldiers as ever marched to the sound of a drum.

Graded School Notes.
The Advanced First, the Second, and the Third grades have finished their old readers and have joined them to the Graded School Library. Other pupils will read them and they will be returned to the owners when asked for. The Library is gradually growing and will finally become a great power for good. The proceeds of the exhibition soon to be given in the Theatre building will be devoted to the Library.

Rev. F. W. Smith made the presentation of the Bell medal to the Fourth grade for the highest per cent of attendance during the past month.

The Pea Crop.
Mr. N. J. W. LeCato, representing the commission house of L. L. Chadwick, of New York, arrived on the Shenandoah yesterday morning and says he has visited the truck farms at Norfolk and other places north of here and is satisfied that New Berne will have ample time to unload her pea crop before Norfolk comes in. He is very hopeful that our truckers will get good prices for all their truck.

Fifty Dollars Per Day.
We hear that the experts to examine and report upon the old broken down mullet road have put in the modest little charge of fifty dollars per day for their work. Seven hundred dollars each for fourteen days work! Three times the amount paid a U. S. Senator six times the amount paid the Judge who sat for days listening to long speeches to show him the cripple and ruinous condition of the road. Five times the amount paid Governor Jarvis, Senator Vance and Treasurer Worth to go over and inspect the W. N. C. R. R.

We don't know who is to pass upon this modest (?) claim but in the name of common sense have the stockholders of this old bone no rights in the premises which are to be respected? We think they should at least have the privilege of knowing what has become of a portion of the meat.

Campaign Service.
The Hahn and Stimson campaign that raged so furiously last summer and got into the courts. On Tuesday, W. H. Dewey, claiming to be a "tonsonian artist" brought an action before Esq. Brinson against Daniel Stimson for the recovery of about $189 for services rendered in the campaign of 1882, in endeavoring to secure the nomination and election of Mr. Stimson to the office of Sheriff of Craven county.

A jury was drawn and impaneled to try the case. Clark Clark appearing for the plaintiff and M. D. W. Stevenson for the defendant. Counsel fought the case almost as earnestly as did the Hahn and Stimson factions fight each other during that heated campaign. After concluding the testimony, which was quite voluminous, Mr. Stevenson addressed the jury in behalf of the defendant, making a good, sound, sensible speech. Mr. Clark made a very able speech for the plaintiff, but we think rather overdone the thing in alluding to the acts of Falstaff, a character in Shakespeare, before a jury five sixths of whom never heard of the character before.

Mr. Stimson thinks it a little singular that eight out of ten jurors summoned should be men who were his bitterest enemies and voted against him, when he carried the city by a large majority. The jury gave a verdict of $40. in favor of plaintiff.

United States District Court.
On Monday evening the case of U. S. against J. M. Johnson, failure to destroy stamps, was taken up, jury empaneled and a verdict of guilty entered. Judgment suspended on payment of cost.

On Tuesday the entire day was consumed in the trial of John W. Smith, of Fremont, indicted for detaining a letter with intent to pry into secrets of another. The defendant is the son of the postmaster at Fremont, and it appeared from the testimony that he attended to distributing mail. A letter was written on the 6th of February last by F. A. Daniels, of the firm of Aycock & Daniels of Goldsboro, to the firm of F. M. Aycock & Bro. of Fremont, concerning the sale, under execution, of some property in Goldsboro belonging to the defendant and his father. Said letter was called for several times during the day, but was not delivered until after the arrival of the northern mail train on the same evening and then had the appearance of having been opened. The defendant undertook to show that the letter had simply miscarried, or rather the mail agent failed to put it into the Fremont pouch on the Northern trip and was sent back the same evening on the Southern trip. He was defended by L. J. Moore, Esq., ex-Judge Clarke and W. E. Clarke, and although his case was considerably brightened up by the speeches of these gentlemen, the evidence as carefully summed up by the district attorney was overwhelming. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

The Isaac Trap.
"John Ince and his merry party certainly captured last night as we predicted. Prof. Gimcrack is a great character creation which gives full scope to comedian abilities of the first rank, and Mr. Ince is certainly in full possession of the part. No detail is faulty, the humor is pleasant, the mischief genuine, and the enjoyment complete. His "Come Again" is irresistibly comical in effect, and his recitation of the famous Sergeant Buntar's finest eulogistic effort lasted for many a day, either here or elsewhere. Miss Lisetta Ellani is petite, graceful, pretty and of very engaging manners. There is nothing forced in her assumption of the juvenile part assumed, that of Jessie Fairlove, in which respect she is a great improvement on Minnie Palmer, the original of the character, who made this character "star" part. Her voice is sweet and powerful, and the musical features were received with great applause, especially the bits from "Mascotte." Miss Emma Jones, as the old maid assistant teacher, was very happy in her part, and acted, sang and looked the character remarkably. Miss Newcomb, as Mrs. Fairlove, was also really good impersonation, and the very utmost possible was made of the part. Mr. Henry Mack in his triple impersonations shows good abilities as a character artist. The others were all very acceptable, and the fine audience of last night will doubtless be much increased to-night on the occasion of her last appearance. The local hits took immensely and will be quoted on the streets to-day."—Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier.

Swansboro Items.
Farmers are planting cotton briskly, but I notice they are generally planting less and maturing more heavily, which is better I think.

Mr. D. J. Sanders is the only one that has made much money catching trout this spring in our waters. He has caught and sold about $100 worth; he says Burns Smith helped him to catch them.

A big banks party and fish fry, a regular everybody's picnic on Brown's banks, the second Saturday in May next. Everybody is invited, and a nice time is anticipated if the weather permits. Come and see.

Another cold snap with us; frost and ice were plainly visible on the morning of April 24th, but weather has turned warmer, and all looks springy again. The peaches are all killed or nearly so, but will have plenty of apples, I suppose.

A. T. Farnell, Jr., has the finest field of corn up and growing that I have seen in the county, and a good lot of it; he had corn three blades high on the 18th of April. I hear that Dr. Ward can beat him a little but have not seen the Doctor's crop.

Schooner Stonewall Hill, with 15000 ft. of lumber from Hancock's saw mill, arrived in Swansboro this week; Capt. E. Hill is the chief purchaser; he is building a dwelling and other houses. Schooner Ray, Dennis, arrived from Wilmington also, with goods and lumber.

Dr. A. E. Smith from Wake county, has a pair of steel yards 125 years old. Dr. Smith is a nephew of Mr. John Smith, father in law of A. T. Farnell, Sr., down here. The steel yards were owned by Samuel Smith, Grand Father of John Smith, who is now over 61 years old and in good health. The steel yards only weigh ten pounds.

Onslow court convened on the 16th, Judge McCoy presiding. No criminal cases. There was one for house burning and one for larceny. John Henry, the prisoner who escaped from jail some time ago, was captured on Monday, the 16th, by Henry Jarman, deputy sheriff, in the upper part of the county. He says he was assisted in his escape by a white prisoner in jail.

Mr. J. T. Canada, commonly called Tom, has just arrived from a trip out West. He reports wild scenes and sights among the Indians, visited Texas, Arkansas and the Indian Territory. He did not get married, but says he saw some of the prettiest girls in the world, and liked to have lost his heart with a second Pocahontas of old, a pretty Indian squaw; saw a duel fought with swords between an American and an Englishman, about a young lady; the former was killed. Tom said he thought it best to come back before he lost his scalp, and is looking as though he had fared well in his travels, but thinks there is no place like home.

Friend Jack Murrill says he will perhaps plant cotton first; he had planted no corn upon the 16th of April, but thinks he will be as soon as the most of them now, and so do we if the frost continues. Friend Jack is in the turkey business, or rather his wife is. She has a good breed of turkeys, and of 28 eggs set Mrs. Murrill has 36 of as fine turkeys as you wish to see, and although they are a No. 1 breed of Turkeys, they cannot compare with the Chinguepin man's turkeys. Mrs. Murrill says her turkeys only lay turkey eggs, and would like to have a few pair of those from the gentlemen from Chinguepin; that is if they have not laid themselves all away.

Core Creek Items.
Everybody getting ready for shipping truck this week.

Mr. W. C. Davis and Miss Frances Civils were married on the 18th.

E. Z. E. Davis is trucking on a small scale this spring. His Irish potatoes are in bloom and they are looking well.

Mr. T. Arnold has been playing havoc with the foxes and rabbits for the last month: He has killed five foxes and seven rabbits.

Mr. J. W. Stewart has bought a fast mare. He says he has one hundred dollars that tells him she can trot faster than anything in the county.

Mr. Nat. Conaway says he has got a hen that has been sitting on some eggs five weeks, and he hears the chickens yelling in the shells yet. He says they will be hatched by the first of June.

Mr. Beise Ispock bought a new boiler for his engine to make preparations for sawing lumber for the people, and he expects to start a planing machine to it to dress the lumber. A right smart improvement to Core Creek.

Kinston Items.
Our market remains substantially the same as last week.

Every true Kinstonian believes he is the finest person and lives in the finest town in the State.

The New Berne girls understand the "eternal fitness" of things. They call their sweethearts, mashers.

Our jail birds, last Saturday night, amused themselves by carrying long pieces of lighted paper through the jail and crying "fire." However, they had all the fun to themselves, outsiders concluding that they ought to get the benefit of their own warning, if they had one.

Married by Jas. S. Becton, J. P., at the residence of Thomas Wilcox, in Jones county, on the 19th inst., Mr. Frank McDaniel, of Jones county, to Miss Charity Davis, of Lenoir; and thereupon a young Kinston Tuckahoe clerk sadly sings:
"Oh ever thus from childhood's hour, I've seen my fondest hopes decay."

Farmers are at hard work getting their crops and fertilizers in the ground. It is said they are planting more cotton than ever before, but they are also putting in good grain crops. Nature, when she wishes to accomplish any result, overloads the tendency, and our farmers, like nature, are simply overloading. "The little piney woods boy" put three acres of his "expectancy" near Kinston in cotton last week, hoping to realize three bales of cotton next fall, one each for his tripartite legal team.

The last Legislature, by special tax act, authorized Lenoir county to levy a county tax of twenty-five cents on every $100 value of property, collectible in one or two years, at the option of the county commissioners, to build an iron bridge over Neuse river at Kinston. The commissioners propose to levy one-half of the tax this year and the balance the next year, putting in an iron draw when the present one gets out of working order, and building an iron bridge to it as the present bridge gives way. They thus get the full benefit of the existing bridge and in the end will have an iron bridge, the cost of which will have been so divided up in different years, that the tax payers will hardly feel the collection of the tax.

Mr. J. W. Grainger, the enterprising dealer in engines, mills, separators, gins, cotton presses and all kinds of machinery, in connection with Mr. B. F. Suggs, who has been in his employ about two years at Kinston, will open a branch house very soon at Greenville. The branch house will be in the charge of Mr. Suggs, who will handle the same line of machinery the Kinston house has been dealing in, including the popular "Eclipse" and "Watertown Engines." Mr. Suggs is a thorough and attentive business man, and has made himself a necessity to his employer. His connection with the business will be in the nature of a partner, and we predict for him, as he richly deserves, complete success in his new enterprise.

Spring Term, 1883, Superior Court of Lenoir county, opened here last Monday at 10 o'clock a. m., sharp, Judge McCoy presiding, and Solicitor Galloway prosecuting. His Honor occupied the forenoon in a lengthy and instructive charge of the criminal law to the grand jury. The bar is ably represented, there being present Judge Strong of Raleigh, Judge Faircloth, H. F. Grainger, Esq., Frank A. Daniel, Esq., of Goldsboro, H. R. Bryan, F. M. Simmons and W. E. Clarke of New Berne, and the full array of the Kinston bar.

State vs R. P. Collins, libel; continued for costs.

State vs Charles H. Brown, obstructing highway; defendant pays costs two to this term, and removed to Duplin.

State vs Rufus Noble, conspiracy; continued, and alias capias.

State vs J. C. Kennedy, Croom Stroud, and James H. Stanly, injuring fence, defendants plead guilty; judgment not delivered.

State vs Mary Hooker, disorderly house; not guilty.

State vs Noah Fields, John Fields and James Collier, selling liquor to minors; called and failed, judgment nisi.

State vs R. H. Peebles, false pretence; alias capias.

State vs Croom Stroud and Mary S. Becton, F. and A.; alias capias.

State vs R. M. Cohen, assault with intent to commit rape; called and failed; judgment nisi.

State vs Henry Kennedy, murder; special venire of 100 for Wednesday.

State vs J. P. Stroud, assault and battery; defendant discharged.

State vs R. C. Hines, selling liquor on Sunday; pays costs and bonds for good behavior.

State vs Albert Speight, concealed weapons; pleads guilty; judgment not delivered.
