Mr. J. K. Willis has another one of those handsome monuments ready for Cedar Grove Cemetery.

The steamer Snow Hill, Capt. Ben Webb, arrived yesterday morning with cotton, and left on her return trip with a good cargo of freight.

The steamer Shenandoah will sail tomorrow a. m. to connect Monday at Norfolk with ships for New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The parties engaged in the shooting affray two weeks ago were before Esq. Brinson on yesterday and were all recognized to appear at the next term of the Superior court.

The cotton platform was almost clear of cotton at one time yesterday evening and was likely to be left bare, but the timely arrival of the Culler from Jolly Old Field with 77 bales for J. L. Tucker, will keep up the appearance of things for a day or two longer, at least.

From gentlemen arriving from the neighborhood of Goose Creek Island we learn that a terrific hailstorm prevailed in that section on Tuesday, the hailstones in many instances being as large as hen eggs. Trees were stripped of their foliage and some damage done, the extent of which we did not learn.—Pamlico Enterprise.

Raise stock peas. They'll bring as much as corn, bushel for bushel, and sell for twice as much, and can be raised at much less expense, and can be gathered easier if planted to themselves and saved with a grass hook. A hand can gather twenty-five bushels a day. They are always in demand. Clay peas are the best.—Elizabeth City Economist.

Shipment of Truck.
The Shenandoah carried out on yesterday 2309 boxes of peas, 195 barrels of cabbage, 16 barrels of turnips, 17 boxes of eggs, 5 boxes of fish, 6 barrels of clams, 101 bales of cotton and 19 sheep.

House Burned.
A party arriving from Pamlico last night informs us that the dwelling house of Mrs. Smith, a widow lady living on Trent creek, was burned on Thursday night. Mrs. Smith, with four little children are left in very destitute circumstances.

Your Name in Print.
Rev. Dr. Nelson, of the N. C. Conference, P. E., of the Washington District is in the city.

Phileman Holland, Jr., of the firm of Holland & Guion, left for Kingston yesterday evening on professional business. Mr. Guion, the other member of the firm left on the morning train for Morehead City.

Probable Homicide.
On Thursday night at about 11 o'clock a sailor, who came in on a schooner a few days ago, name Augustus Rore, a Swede, had his throat cut at Five Points. George Washington, col., is charged with doing the cutting and is in jail awaiting a preliminary hearing. The cutting was done with an ordinary pocket knife, and will probably prove fatal.

Fun in a Boarding School.
In addition to the numerous press notices we have of John E. Ince's comedy, "Fun in a Boarding School," we have the testimony of Capt. W. W. Carraway, who heard them at Goldsboro, that no one will regret going to hear them. He speaks very complimentary of the singing of Miss Eliani, and regards the whole as the best thing he has heard in a long time. The performers carried the audience with them and were frequently encored.

Cotton Market.
New York futures advanced ten points on yesterday, closing firm; sales 181,000 bales; spots firm. New Berne market quiet; not much in. Sales of forty-six bales; some of it bringing 9.50.

A Card.
Honest man to do honest dealing let it be cash or on time. I have proven my contract and want more. And I would like to state that W. H. Dewey has not taken the $40, but wants all of his or none. Some say we could not get fair play, but I want it so fair that not one human being shall have the least doubt as to his guilt, or propriety of his promise houses.

W. H. Dewey.

Politics and Farming.

Among the shipments of peas on the Shenandoah on Friday was a lot of one hundred and seventy-two boxes shipped by Jesse Brooks, one of the well to do colored farmers of this county. Jesse bought a plantation about nine years ago and promised to pay $7,000. For a few years after making his purchase he was a county commissioner, and of course had to deal more or less with politics, and says during that time he had trouble in making his payments, but since he has quit politics he does not find much trouble in coming to time, and owes only about $1,800 on his plantation. He says farming and politics won't work well together.

Business Notices.

Mr. J. C. Whitty has received a couple of Buckeye Cultivators. He has promised to show us how they work as soon as Bro. Potter of the Telephone puts in his appearance.

Mr. James Redmond has received his annual supply of Bock beer. This kind, he says, is only sent out once a year, and that time is about the first of May.

Mr. J. R. Dillon is ready to fill orders for May picnic, or wedding cakes.

Mr. John Suter was getting in new furniture yesterday.

Mr. John Dunn was rolling in a large lot of sugar yesterday to be made up into fresh candy.

The crowds continue to rush to Baker's to see his new goods.

Mr. Geo. Allen & Co. make as big an array of farm implements as ever.

W. P. Ballance & Co. are adding improvements to their store.

Hanging in Hyde.

A story reached the city last night that a colored man had been hung by his wife and another negro man in Hyde county under the following circumstances: The wife entered into a conspiracy with this man to get rid of her husband, and fixed a rope through the upper floor of the house while the husband was absent, and when he returned home the wife met him at the door and greeted him with kisses and decoyed him under the hole while the man on the upper floor dropped the noose over his head; then the wife held her husband's hands and he pulled the rope. When they thought he was dead they took him down and dragged him off, covered him up for dead. When they had left the old fellow, like Sindbad the sailor, scratched out. The guilty parties hearing of his resurrection fled to Pamlico county where they were arrested and put in jail. This is the rumor as told by a Pamlico man last night.

The Truck Trade.

The Old Dominion wharf was a live place on yesterday. A continual stream of carts were pouring in up to the hour of the Shenandoah's leaving, loaded with peas. There were several buyers on the wharf and the bidding was quite spirited. Prices ranged from $2.00 to $3.50 per box. The heaviest shipment of peas, turnips and cabbage will be made during the next ten days if the weather will permit the gathering. Already twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars worth have gone forward and if prices will hold up for a few days longer, the bulk of the peas will be sold at a handsome profit. These exhausted, then will come the beans and potatoes which are promising to present both in the appearance of the crop and prices. The Old Dominion Steamship Co. and the A. & N. C. R. R. Co. are both offering every facility possible for moving the crop. The Railroad Co. is running a daily freight, leaving here at 4 p. m. and making close connection at Goldsboro, while the steamer Shenandoah will make an extra trip every week, arriving here on Saturday night and leaving Sunday morning.

Core Creek Items.

The farmers are busy planting cotton and other produce.

Mr. Daniel Davis has got a cow that has two well formed calves about five days old and are doing well.

We have had some heavy rains in this section this week. A big rain on the 24th, inst., was accompanied with hail, which damaged truck a little.

Your correspondent saw Mr. H. Davis the other day and talked with him. He is well pleased with his new machinery; he is sawing wood for cabbage and pea boxes.

Elder Slorter's school will close the 18th of May at the Depot, when they expect to have a grand time. Superintendent Long will deliver an address on the subject of education. We hope the people will all turn out on that day.

It is rumored that Mr. E. R. Page, who has purchased land at Core Creek Depot, has sold thirty-six lots for the purpose of locations. Quite a boom for Core Creek. I think Mr. E. R. Page is the right man in the right place for an improvement.

PAMLIKO, N. C., April 22d, 1883.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—A few days ago the ladies of Pamlico and vicinity made arrangements to have a Festival, the proceeds of which should be applied to the erection of a Methodist Church at this place. The committee of arrangements were as follows:

Executive committee: Mrs. R. S. Daniels, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Lindsay, Mrs. C. Chapman, Mrs. W. H. Bucklin, Miss Tama Jones, Mrs. M. Carpenter, Mrs. J. M. Caroon, Mrs. S. B. Lane, Miss Pauline Whitehurst and Mrs. Annie Delamar.

Friday and Saturday nights were decided upon as the times, and the store formerly occupied by Messrs. Dail Bros. as the place for holding the Festival.

The building was beautifully festooned and otherwise decorated by the committee on floral decoration, Master F. W. Caroon and Mr. Willy McCotter furnishing the evergreens.

Mrs. Walter Lane furnished moss and other nice things for the wall, and on Friday evening just as the beautiful twilight began to settle upon the quiet little village, and the silvery moon began to shed abroad her effulgent rays, crowds of the young and old could be seen coming from almost every direction. Soon the charming strains of martial music broke upon our ears, the Pamlico brass band having kindly tendered their services to play during the evening.

On entering the building we found everything tastefully arranged, so much so that we cannot refrain from expressing ourself as follows: The ladies of Pamlico are second to none in refined taste and elegance which is plainly visible in this case. On enquiry we learned that a large, beautiful cake was to be disposed of in a very novel manner. An election was to be held and the cake presented to the most popular young lady in the house. Soon the voting commenced.

Miss Alice Woodard and Miss Tama Jones being the only fair candidates named, it was a very interesting scene, the champions of each fair contestant fighting gallantly for his choice. The old political election was thrown completely in the shade, yet all was done in the most delicate and friendly way. At the given time the polls were closed. The vote in Congress on the river and harbor bill was no where to this exciting contest. At length the gentleman who was the poll holder announced the result—Miss Alice Woodard receiving a majority of the votes cast. This young lady is the daughter of Mrs. Aliph Woodard, a most estimable widow lady who lives near Pamlico. Miss Alice then in a neat little speech presented the cake to the Pamlico band, and Dr. W. A. Lindsay made a nice little speech, congratulating Miss Alice, and earnestly thanked her for the cake; then the band played a beautiful piece for Miss Alice's benefit. All were highly pleased at the result of the election. The ladies were highly pleased at the financial success of the festival which was a nice little sum.

Saturday night, April 21st, was as beautiful and all nature seemed to conspire together to enhance the success of the festival; the brass band was present and did itself great credit. The band was ably assisted by a string band of the very best fellows in this section whose music added greatly to the interest of the occasion. A large and beautiful cake was to be given to the most popular young lady, in the same manner as on the night previous; also a nice cake was to be presented to the most homely gentleman in the house. I find it impossible to pen the interesting scenes that now took place. The voting was done with a rush.

Miss Fanny Gooding, Miss Mollie Woodard and Miss Tama Jones were the candidates for the ladies cake.

At about 11 o'clock the polls closed for the ugly man's cake, Nelson Jensen, R. S. Daniels and John Lane being the candidates for this trophy of hard favor. However, Mr. John Lane, in the best of humor and with that quiet resignation to his fate bore off the cake in triumph amid the shouts and merriment of the very large crowd present, the band playing at the same time. It is not to be supposed that Mr. Lane is very homely, but it was the result of a whim that crowds sometime takes that cannot be accounted for in any other way than that the parties are less liable to become offended than others. Mr. Lane's popularity among the ladies is sufficient proof that he is by no means as homely as this little funny transaction would indicate.

At 20 minutes past 11 o'clock the result was made known as to who was the successful candidate for the ladies' cake. Miss Tama Jones received a very large and flattering majority. Dr. W. A. Lindsay, in that earnest and impressive style which characterizes that gentleman, delivered the presentation speech. Miss Tama, who is quiet and dignified, yet genial and clever, responded in a manner that all were pleased with. Then Miss Tama, who felt deeply grateful to the band, addressed the gentlemen belonging thereto in a few well chosen words, and presented them with the cake. At this moment the excitement ran high; three cheers were heartily given to the heroine of the occasion, the band played a stirring march, and the festival closed entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

There are many who we desire to thank for the deep interest they have taken in this affair. Among the many are Captain Bucklin, Willie Lane, J. M. Caroon, Dr. Lindsay, S. B. Lane and Mrs. Annie Delamar, and a host of others too numerous to mention.

Respectfully,
R. S. D.

ALL OVER THE SOUTH.

There are now $700,000 in silver in the Texas State Treasury.

Roanoke, Va., is only about two years old, and has a population of 4,500.

A man in Georgia has four acres in collards, from which he expects to realize $2,000.

One mile from Monroe, Ga., stands a log cabin that was once the home of Gov. Lumpkin.

Texas has this year furnished to the world, outside her own limits, $120,000,000 of products.

A large mine of plumbago has been discovered on the farm of James Stone, in Stafford county, Va.

An artesian well, four hundred feet deep, at Parnassus, Va., has been finished and affords excellent water.

Mrs. F. J. Parker, of South Nashville, has been working on a quilt for three years. It is just finished. The quilt contains 14,888 pieces.

The buffalo knats are at work in the overwooded country along the Mississippi. Over fifty head of cattle have been stung to death.

Gen. J. R. Jefferson's possessions in Tom Green county, Texas, are valued at $250,000, the largest portion of which has been made in two years.

A veteran of the war of 1812 died near Luina, Ga., the 11th inst., aged 100 years, leaving 265 children and grandchildren. His name was William Knight.

A pair of shoes made in Switzerland and worn by Dr. Livingston, the great African explorer, are now in the possession of a prominent lawyer of Forsyth, Ga.

McKinney, Texas, has a ten-pin alley, notwithstanding the fact that it has to pay a license tax of $1,000 to the State, $500 to the county and $500 to the municipality.

A party of New Jersey capitalists will commence at an early day to erect a cotton seed oil mill at Marshall, Texas. They will build one of the largest mills in the South.

Many of the Northern tourists on their way home from Florida carry their pet alligators. At the Charleston Hotel a waiter is detailed especially to feed and water the alligators.

An English company has purchased 90,000 acres iron lands in East Tennessee. They supply a capital of $1,000,000, and will erect furnaces at once, giving employment to 500 men.

There is a determined effort on the part of some of the people of Florida to divide the State into two parts, to be known as North and South Florida. It is said the interests of the different parts are not identical.

A small boy in South Carolina raises canary birds and gives the proceeds of their sale to the board of foreign mission. In three years this enterprising and benevolent young person has thus gathered and given about $100.

Boston Herald.

It is evening, and the landscape stretches out before one in virgin loveliness. The sun god, ere he bids adieu to this scene, kisses the sinuous bayous and streaks their mirrored tops with silver, brightens up the moss that streams from the heads and limbs of trees, and throws one blood red gleam through vistas of ever green dying away into blue dreaminess. Then the twilight comes on, and soon the pale crescent flings its mystic beams upon the earth. The giant oaks, bedecked with moss, seem to assume fantastic shapes. They create suggestions of gibbets and of corpses, of rotten rigging and of the tattered sails of ships drifting to the unknown shore. How Dora could have painted every form of gobliny, every fancy of ghostliness, every grimness of witchcraft, every horror of death suggested by them! A weird spell takes hold of you. You imagine a deep morning drooping over the plains. The woods and groves, the reeds and bayous appear to lament some great bereavement, some terrible death. It seems as though this land were yet weeping for Pan. And these or recollections of the sylvan gods and nymph of the antique world crowd thick and fast upon you, the great dreaminess of the land mesmerizes you with unutterable sweetness. Afterwards, when you have returned to New Orleans and its gay frivolities; its west ends and its Spanish forts, its glittering saloons and its fascination masquerade balls, its brilliant halls and its luxuriously appointed gambling rooms. Its Creole and Spanish American beauties, and its fetes and parties and thousand and one other attractions, that mesmerism will not have passed away, nor the wondrous witchery of the enchanted scenery wholly blotted from the mind.
