Ouick Trip. Capt. E. B. Keeler, keeper of Brant Island light house, came up on Friday evening, making the trip, a distance of sixty-five miles, in seven hours and ten minutes on the schooner Lively, Capt. R. H. Rountree, Esq., of Brooklyn, N. Y., is here on a visit of business and pleasure among his old friends and acquaintances.

June is a lovely month and if it were not for the college and school commencements, we could wish it might last till Christmas.

George Rountree, of Rountree & Blount, commission merchants, of New York, is treading once again his native heath, looking as transcendental as Emerson or any other Harvard fellow.

A crowd of Kinston fishermen, Dr. Hyatt, Frank Cox, the Register of Deeds and others, left this place, in the rain, last Thursday morning for Dr. Hyatt's plantation in Jones county. It is said they stirred up a two acre mudhole, caught a few roaches and some spring chickens and had a repast relished by all. Mr. I made several dives after mud-cats, but brought nothing from the "vasty deep,"

John I Coleman, in his 10th year, son of the late Blount Coleman, of this county, died at Kinston on the 31st inst. of lung disease. His life was wayward and ill-regulated; but his faith found expression in the song of the good poet

"I know not what the future hath Of marvel or surprise, Assured alone that life and death His mercy underlies.

No offering of my own I have Nor work by faith to prove; I can but give the gifts He gave, Ho And plead His love for love. And so beside the silent sea

I wait the muffled oar; No harm from Him can come to me On ocean or on shore.

I know not where His islands lift Their frouded palms in air; I only know I cannot drift Beyond His love and care."

The Graded School exercises closed last Wednesday night with a surpassing 'Musical Entertainment" under the direction of Miss Blanch Robey. The chapel was crowded with an intelligent and critical audience, who pronounced everything good and pleasing. The following was the programme of the evening:

It has been a success in every educational point of view. It is hoped that with the aid which public taxation and private means will bring, this school will continue to grow and flourish. The residence of Mr. Thomas Gaskill at Portsmouth was struck by lightning one day last week, and some little damage done, though fortunately no one was injured.

The Revenue Steamer Colfax paid us a visit last Saturday and remained in the harbor until Monday morning,

A portion of the elevated bridge that has for a number of years connected the Ocean House with the large store of Davis & Co., on Front Street suddenly fell with a crash on Sunday morning last, much to the surprise of every one. No damage was done to anybody, except the crushing of a skiff which had been fastened under the bridge by Capt. Jack Davis, of the schooner flat, James Rumley, only a few minutes before the collaps took place.

We are informed that a gentleman at Portsmouth has a wild goose which he captured during the war, and which has reached the advanced age of about twenty-five years. She was considered a veteran, and had quit laying about ten years ago. A short time since some one administered to her a dose of brandy peaches, which made her drunk, and she was possessed of queer antics and made a foolish exhibit of herself; but to the astonishment of every one when she recovered from the effects of her dissipation, she began to lay and has become profitable member to the yard.

News from Florida. Baptist Review.

Mr. R. B. Kinsey and W. N. Hadley of La Grange, who left here on the 28d on the Florida Excursion, returned today. In a private interview with Mr. Kinsey we gathered the following items: He says corn is in a roasting-ear state, and the fields are covered with thousands of ripe watermelons, as proof of which he showed us a fine one which he is taking to his home. He went direct to Jacksonville, and there took the boat on the St. Johns river to a point near Altoons, then went direct to Altoons, and from thence to Sumterville, and spent some time with the families of Mr. L. J. Edwards and Luther Koonce. his former neighbors in La Grange. He says as far as he could learn all the Excursionists were well pleased with what they saw; and thinks the most of them will invest in real estate before they return. He represents the speculation fever to be at a very high pulse.

Asheville Gun Club Wins at Knoxyille Messrs. Lusk and J. F. Jordan, of the Asheville Gun Club, have returned from the Knoxville festival with everything in the way of prizes that were shot for on the second day and the second prise on the first day. Jordan made the best individual score during the entire con test, The Knoxville papers, however, failed to give the full score, ashamed, we suppose, of being so badly beaten.
When Knoxwille or any other town ompates with the Asheville Gun Club they may expect to get left every time. The Asheville boys "cleaned up" every-thing as they went along as they gener-ally do. Three cheers and a whoop for our boys !- Asheville News.
