LOCAL NEWS.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 4:45; Length of day,
Sun sets, 7:19; 14 hours, 34 minutes.
Moon rises at 9:31 p. m.

Major John Gatlin was in the city yesterday.

Capt. J. M. White returned on the Shenandoah yesterday morning.

Dr. Charles Duffy, of Onslow, is in the city, looking hale and hearty for one of his age.

C. W. Burt opens to-day at the Hahn store on Middle street, and will exhibit Snow and Dennis.

The Kinston had a good crowd on the excursion last night. The Silver Cornet band will draw 'em.

Only one bale of cotton sold at the Exchange yesterday; being of low grade it went off at 9 cents.

The steamer Florence brought in from Vanceboro on yesterday a cargo of potatoes, shingles and cotton.

The schooner Marietta, Capt. Tom Payne, arrived from Smith's Creek yesterday with corn for J. A. Meadows.

Mr. W. F. Rountree speaks of the water-spout in Pamlico sound on Thursday as being a grand sight to behold.

Mr. H. S. Gracie called in to see us yesterday. He says crops are growing finely now but thinks they are a little behind last year.

The cotton factory is now running on full time. A visit there on Thursday evening revealed to us the fact that they were making plaids equal to any we have seen in this market.

A stockholder's train will be run from Goldsboro to Morehead City on Thursday morning next and return the same day. The schedule will be given in to-morrow's issue.

Ralph Gray favored us with his bottled spider yesterday. The little ones were hatching out, and there seemed to be "millions in it." We took the bottle in hand and viewed them for a few minutes, and we are certain we feel them crawling at this writing.

Pete Street's black mare, while grazing around at the foot of Craven street yesterday, tumbled head foremost into the dock. Some boy charged her with an attempt at suicide. But it was evidently for the want of sight, as she has been blind for some time. She was towed 'round to Howard's ship-yard where she came up out of the water.

Mr. McClure, the agent for the Southern Bell Telephone Company, has been in the city a few days endeavoring to get the citizens to continue the use of the telephone for another year. Having failed in his effort he proceeded to remove the instruments yesterday and so we no longer talk at long range. The wires will be left for the present and the Company is ready to re-establish the lines whenever they get a sufficient number of subscribers to justify it.

Cool Butter and Lard.
Dr. W. P. Ballance & Co. received per Shenandoah on yesterday a Baldwin's Dry Air Refrigerator for keeping butter, lard and cheese. It has four departments, one of which is used for keeping ice which keeps the other departments and their contents perfectly cool and in good order.

Fair Warning.
We have a few names on our books who are letting their subscriptions to the Daily Journal get behind. We are glad to say we have but few of these, and to explain, we will not have them after the 1st of July unless they pay up. We shall not allude to this matter again through our columns soon, but will quietly send the names of those who do not pay.

Paying Off.
Col. Carey, of the Pension Bureau, was in the city yesterday paying off claimants for services during the war, but of what nature we did not learn. One old colored man followed the Col. to the steamer to enquire if a claim of his as pump maker could be cashed, but as it did not come under the class of claims the Col. was liquidating, he was left in the predicament of Mark Twain's claimant, who had been in Washington since 1881 awaiting the payment of his "next morning."

Ohio's Candidates.
Judge Hendley, of Cincinnati, was nominated by the Democrats of Ohio for the next fall. Both the candidates are from the same city and both are said to be very popular with the Germans. Which one is successful will have made a long stride for the nomination for the Presidency.

The Shenandoah.
We call attention to the notice given elsewhere of the steamer Neuberne which takes the place of the Shenandoah next week, and leave here at two o'clock p. m. instead of the usual hours. Yesterday twelve months ago the Shenandoah made her first trip here and since that time she has never missed a trip, nor missed connection at Elizabeth City. The clever Captain and polite Purser, and attentive servants make a trip on this boat very pleasant and delightful. And the promptness with which the officers of the line at this place discharge their duties makes it a desirable line for shippers.

The Shenandoah is only hauled off for one week for the purpose of putting on her summer dress. She will then resume her trips and be in fine trim for the accommodation of passengers and for forwarding freights.

The New Syndicate.
We learn from the Messenger that the name of the new syndicate forming for the lease of the Atlantic & N. C. Railroad is to be called THE EASTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD COMPANY, and its principal place of business shall be the town of Goldsboro, in Wayne county.

We do not exactly understand what is meant by this latter clause, but attorneys connected with the syndicate tell us that it does not mean to remove the headquarters of the company from New Berne. Our business men, while they are laboring to have the A. & N. C. Railroad Company run on business principles should be careful not to run the business away from their own doors. Craven county subscribed largely to the building of this road, and she has not repudiated her debt. She already has the machine shops, and the headquarters of the company are here, and here they should remain.

Pantego Academy.
The closing exercises of Pantego Academy took place on Friday the 15th inst. The large audience that had assembled from all parts of Hyde and Beaufort counties on that occasion repaired to the Christian Church to hear the opening address. Prayer was offered by Mr. Washburn, and the speaker, Mr. Jno. S. Long, was introduced to the audience by Mr. James Clark, of New Berne, and then began one of the best addresses that it has ever been my good fortune to hear, and it will be long remembered at Pantego. At 3 o'clock the recitations commenced at the Academy. The students all knew their parts and acted them well. The proficiency of the small children was really astonishing. Prof. Wingate, the principal, deserves much credit for the rapid advancement of his students. He has given universal satisfaction and the Trustees are very anxious for him to teach the next term. There was also a very pleasant entertainment by the students Friday night.—Washington Gazette.

Literary Gossip.
The Popular Science Monthly for July is one of the best we have had for some time. It opens with a paper from Mr. George Iles on "The Railroad Problem in the United States," which he does not attempt to solve, but only to present in its length, depth and magnitude; he thinks the debate for and against leaving the problem to solve itself has not shown that the people who wish to invoke control by the Federal Government have either sound reasoning, numbers or influence on their side. Though the establishment of railroad commissions may be advisable, the Federal Government cannot, in the opinion of the writer, be safely entrusted with the control of our railroads. In his paper on "Unwritten History," Professor Huxley takes the same view of the "Eastern Question" as that mentioned in our last bit of gossip as being the opinion of Gen. Colston, that it is far from settled; indeed he goes further than the General, and says the grandsons of the boys of to-day are not likely to see the terrible war between Eastern and Western civilization settled, for it is a struggle for existence between incompatible forms of civilization, antagonisms of religion and antipathies of race.

The Woman Question is again under discussion, and Dr. Emily Blackwell gives an able but radical article on "The Industrial Position of Woman," which is well replied to by the editor, who laments the desertion of Dr. Dix, whom he thinks, by his scheme of female education for candidates for Columbia College, has gone over to the enemy. The Popular Science Monthly, while admitting that women have rights, has always, for hygienic and social reasons, opposed the theory that she has a right to be a man. For the greatest good of the greatest number, both of men and women, Professor Youmans holds that the prosperity of the home should be the common ambition of both sexes, and that the family is a union of interests as well as a union of sexes; in other words, that women are one half of the scissors and men the other, both being needed to make the pair perfect. He sustained Dr. Dix in his controversy with Mrs. Blake on the Woman Question, and now says that Dr. Dix has deserted him by preparing a scheme of study for women, ambition to graduate at Columbia College, which not only fails to recognize the home, but leaves no time, if carried out, for even the study of physiology, not to speak of other subjects which should be fundamental in any rational system of higher female education, but for which not a corner is provided. In our opinion Dr. Dix has not deserted the Popular Science Monthly, he has simply been pushed to the wall by the demand of the public for the admission of women to Columbia College, and drew up his curriculum for the higher education of woman, hoping and believing that no woman would ever undertake it, or, if she did, would ever pass an examination. We once heard a celebrated Woman's Rights lecturer in Chicago say that it was a great mistake to assert that men and women were equal, for woman was the superior, man the inferior, man should produce the means of living, woman dispense them. In other words man should make the money and woman spend it. We endorse this platform and stand squarely on that last plank—woman should spend the money. But then, as Mrs. Blake says in her Woman's Place To-Day, she should be good to man when she has to give him money and not require him to tell her how he spends it. Mrs. Susan Stanly has just received a number of Mrs. Blake's books and as they are only 20 cents, we advise all desirous of knowing what Woman's place is to-day to get a copy and then read this number of the Popular Science Monthly. La Grange Items.

The new hotel begins to look housey. The whistle of the thresher engine is now heard in the land.

Richard Fields is dangerously ill at his residence in this township.

Services at the M. E. Church last Sunday by Rev. J. D. Carpenter, P. C.

A small child of K. E. Bizzell, and a daughter of Shade Wooten are quite sick.

Mrs. John W. Isler is quite sick at the residence of her husband in Wayne county.

Sylvia Best, a colored woman, said to be 111 years old, died in this township on the 21st inst.

The corner store belonging to Dr. Hadley is being repaired and will be used as a bar-room.

Mrs. John F. Mewborn is visiting the families of Mr. Noah Rouse and S. I. Wooten near this place.

The farmers are getting their crops in better condition, and favorable reports are heard from nearly all sections.

"Doc" Hadley comes to our place quite often, probably to visit his brother, and probably it may be commencement No. 47.

Mr. Allen, of Raleigh is bidding for the contract to build the brick stores of Simeon Wooten in our burg. The work will commence in July.

Several Kinstonians were in our place on Monday. La Grange has attractions many for the young gens of that place. Probably another commencement.

The grand excursion of the season passed here on Wednesday. Fifteen excursionists and a number of empty cars was the make up. These things are becoming so numerous as to be disgusting at this season of the year.

C. P. Barrow, of this place is offering his stock of merchandise at cost, with a view to emigrating to Florida. There is considerable of a Florida fever among our people, and already some of the best citizens have gone to that place. The question is, will the advantages overbalance the disadvantages, and this time alone will prove.

The game of "checks" is the amusement of the place. McTaylor and Pulley are playing for the championship, with the advantages in Mc's favor. Jim Dawson and Roland Hardy flat themselves on the side-walk and have a regular set to, while nearly every shade is occupied by one or more "boards" and players, and a number of lookers on. Dull times is the cause.

The religiously disposed colored people of the M. E. persuasion, are erecting a new house of worship in town. Our people, male and female, white and colored, are religiously disposed. We have four white worshipping congregations; Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant, Presbyterian and Baptist, and three colored congregations. The Presbyterians, but recently organized, will soon begin to build a house for worship.

Benajah Sutton was married to Miss Herring, daughter of J. I. Herring of Wayne county, on the 21st inst.

"Woman invites man with bliss in her smile
To cease from toil and be happy awhile,
Whispering woefully, come to my bower,
Go not in search of the phantom of power.
Honor and wealth are illusory; come,
Happiness dwells in the temple of home."

Palo Alto Items.

Not many snakes in this community, but a few alligators mourn the loss of so many snakes being put to death at Catherine Lake.

Mr. A. is now very fat and almost as cunning as a very old rat. He drinks the milk from four fine cows. The milk being so very rich with cream, he shaved the beard from off his chin, to give the butter a good way in.

There was a party of five men went out rabbit hunting on the marsh a few weeks ago and succeeded in killing thirty seven rabbits. One man killed eleven of that number. So you see there is meat in Palo Alto; if hog meat and mutton fails there are plenty of rabbits yet.

Crops are good considering such a cold, rainy spring. Good stand of cotton; corn stand is a little inferior and the great massive waving the tassel of science over the Ketcham farm where the corn, cotton and peanuts are in their bloom, and where some fair young lady could be made happy in love, if they could but him consume. On the other side of the creek there is a man by the name of Peet destroying the grass as same as a sleet, raised the price to fifty cents per day, cutting the grass most every way.

Mr. C. D. Morton, of White Oak, Onslow county, died June the 14th. His funeral was preached by Rev. Joseph Dixon and was buried Saturday the 16th, leaving a wife and six children, all grown but one, to mourn the loss of a generous hearted husband and father. His age was 84 years, being afflicted for several years with cancer warts, but don't think they were the cause of his death. PALO ALTO.

Brady Required to Give Bail Again.
WASHINGTON, June 19.—Brady came into court this morning to give bail for his appearance to answer the charges contained in the latest indictments against him. Judge Wylie said the verdict in the trial just ended would probably be a sufficient reason for vacating the bond given by Brady in that case. The original indictment remained, but as he understood that it was nearly identical with that recently disposed of, he thought that it should be abandoned.

Mr. Ker said the government did not purpose trying that indictment, and if the Court thought that it should be dismissed, he would not object. As Mr. Merrick was not present, however, he asked that any action in that matter be postponed until Saturday next. The Court fixed the bail in the two additional indictments at $10,000 in each case. Brady will give the required bail on Saturday.

A contemporary says that "summer has set in." Unfortunately, the editor don't tell what into, whether a chair, hip-bath, or the middle of next week. Folks with pens in their hands should be more particular.
