NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. L. GRAY-Excursion. P. Burrus & Co.-Timothy. -Wanted to know.

Journal Ministure Almanac Sun rises, 4:56 | Length of day, Sun sets, 7:15 | 14 hours, 19 minutes. Moon sets at 1:94 a. m.

Heavy rain and wind yesterday even-Cantelopes have appeared in the mar-Mr. Geo. Henderson's family left for High Point yesterday, where they are for club rates. to spend the summer. Our market is now well supplied by almost all kinds of meats, vegetables and fruits. One marriage license issued during the past week by the Register of Deeds to a colored couple. Fish are unusually scarce this summer in the market, and consequently command higher prices. The paint brush has improved the ap pearance of Mr. P. Trenwith's place of business on Middle street. Sheriff Hahn is making it lively for some of the non-tax payers by garnisheeing their employers for the wages due. New Hampshire continues to bailot for a U. S. Senator. Rollins, one of the formidable candidates, has withdrawn, but still the balloting goes on. We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the closing exercises of Polloksville Academy on next Wednesday. We will endeavor to be on hand. Any one having a fireman's hat be longing to the Atlantic Fire Company is requested to return the same to the office of the company immediately. The schooners Melvin, Capt. Sabiston and J. J. Little, Capt. Gandy, sailed yesterday for Philadelphia, taking in lumber at Pungo and Broad creeks. Parties from Morehead report a large crowd at the Atlantic Hotel, and more coming in every day. The Gate City Guards are expected down to-night.

P. H. Pelletier, Esq., of Carteret county, pessed through the city yester- Charles Duffy, at Catharine Lake, Onsday enroute for Polloksville where he low county, Palmetto Duffy, in the locates for the practice of his profession twenty-third year of her age. in the future.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah W. Walinstead of 8 o'clock as was announced in yesterday's issue.

Mr. B. H. Thompson, from South Creek, was in the city yesterday and reports cotton crops in his section very good, but the corn crop is very materi ally damaged by the curlew bug.

Mr. J. H. Becton, recently of this city, has connected himself with the Pamlico Enterprise as senior editor. The editorial staff possess the qualifications to make a good local newspaper.

Our neighbor the Telephone comes at us again about the county line. We believe we will submit if the Telephone will convince us that the line has been established according to the act of the General Assembly.

Church Services.

BAPTIST CHURCH-Rev. F. W. Eason Pastor; services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Seats free and the public cordially invited to attend.

Schooner Arrivals.

The Varina, Capt. Bell, from Sladesville with corn and cattle. The M. Carrie, Capt. Payne, from have the same exchanged at the Nation- have potatoes and cabbage to ship at al Bank in this city and they will be this late day in the season their profits forwarded to the department for redemption. They must be presented by the 31st of July or they will not be received for cancellation.

Dumb" Harrist, a colored woman of James City, in attempting to walk across the railroad bridge yesterday when between the city and the draw, made a minstep and fell through to the water below. She received a severe out on the head from a cross tie in the fall and would probably have been drowned but for the timely arrival of ie bostmen who rescued her.

Mr. B. F. Stilly has just returned a a trip to Trenton where he has a te make arrangements for building Junker bridge. He has given the contrue for the lumber to Mr. H. C. Par-ent at Voccas's landing who is said to be cattling some of the finest lumber in tern Carolina. Mr. Stilly has been afflicted will, a very sore hand but says it is froproving and he will have the bridge ready by Cutsbor.

At Portsmouth, N. C., on Tuesday, July 10th, by the Rev. Jas. M. Rumley, Mr. James T. Parsons of this city, to Miss Helen Dixon of Portsmouth.

May their pleasures in life be numerous-their sorrows few.

The Elm City makes an excursion to Gray-Lee Beach on Tuesday, which will be a delightful trip with the Silver Cornet Band to make music and Potter to furnish refreshments. The Beach is said to be a pleasant place to spend a day, and the low rates charged will enable many to get out of the city and snuff the salt air a day. See advertisement

His Occupation.

That was a hard question put to a Hyde county Major by an insurance agent a few days ago when the Major was having a policy written. "What is your occupation?" asked the agent. The Major, after looking seriously for a minute or two, replied:

"Well, that's a hard question. I believe loafing is about as near as I can come at it, but you may put me down as a housekeeper."

He was so entered on the policy, but we learn the company rejected him upon that ground.

The Curlew Bug.

Two farmers at K. R. Jones' Friday discussing the crop prospects of this year, one of them said that he did not expect to make much of a crop this year, but crop next year.

"How so?" asked Turner May.

"The curlew bugs have almost devoured my entire crop, and I am waiting until they finish, and are fat enough, then I will turn them under with the plow, which will give my land a better coating of manure than it has ever had."

Farmer number two verified the statement by saying that the above named bug had destroyed his corn and about half his rice, and had commenced on his legs, and thought he would soon be gone where no curlew bugs would trouble him.

Beath of Miss Palmetto Buffy.

Died, on the morning of the 12th of July, 1888, at the home ofher father, Dr.

We are to-day the chronicler of this death notice. Sad and sorrowing hearts lace will be held this morning at 9 bow with submission over her still, cold out to bury him the next day. On the o'clock this morning at Christ Church, form, lying in death. Silent tears have next day, however, John was in town fallen over the grave that holds the earthly remains of this handsome and accomplished young woman. Not alone those whom nature had made most dear, but many who had the honor of her acquaintance, who felt the charm of her quiet loveliness now render to Affection and Love the forced tribute of Great Nature.

There where family love and devotion had garnered up all its rich harvest, for years of future happiness, thus is swept away. Like a beautiful flower now planted in the management of the Elm City with neglect in not officially notifying the agents along the line of the steamer's route on Wednesday that there would be no trip on that day. It is true I did not send a written notice from this office, but gave orders to Captain Gibbs to inform them which he says he did.

The boat Monday brought up from all points on its route four barrels of pota-Holders of stamped bank checks can toes, and if the farmers at Vandemere will be small and they will have cause to complain of Trucking as a business which no one would regret more than myself. If Captain Walker and Captain Payne did not know that the Elm City was not to return and ordered their rope and anchor, neither rope nor chor came to this office for shipment. The entire freight to Vandemere this day is $2.65 for the week. I state this to show "Vandemere" that at this seaon of the year the trade is very light and that the manager has to take advantage of every chance, without great lisadvantage to the regular route, to ncrease the revenue of the Company.

As to rates, both for passengers and freight, I think no one should have cause to complain; as to agreement, none has been made. I have made rates as I thought to the best interest of all, and if the farmers think it to their interest to ship by sail, I cannot complain; but if "Vandamera" wishes to sustain a Bream line to Bay River lot him try and assist the manager instead of complain. and in time it may be all he or his ada may desire.

France and England-A Dangerous State of Affairs.

The gravity of Mr. Gladstone's language in the House of Commons yesterday will give the French some idea of the complications that are likely to grow out of the foreign adventures upon which their Government is now bent. The Prime Minister announced that upon the occupation of Tamatave, a seaport town of Madagascar, the French Admiral peremptorily ordered off the British Consul, who was so ill that he died a few hours afterward, arrested his secretary in his presence, and stop-The Florida fever occasionally breaks ped the communications of a British man-of-war, the Captain of which made a protest against the proceeding. "In announcing these grave and painful occurrences," Mr. Gladstone said, day to visit his parents in Pender "I can only now say that we must await county. He will be absent for several the receipt of further details. We must also await those communications from the French Government which the case may require, which we have intimated we expect, and which it would be our duty to make under similar circumstances."

It is hard to believe, after this announcement and warning, that the French Government will hesitate in making proper explanation and reparation to Great Britain. It is not often that a British Minister has to make such a statement or to use such language as was heard yesterday in the House of Commons; and there is no doubt that if sent by France the passions of the British people will be dangerously inflamed.

But who can tell what to expect from the men who at this time are directing in such a short-sighted way the foreign relations of the French Government? Before France has fairly got out of her troubles in Tunis, she is plunged into difficulties with Madagascar and Ton-

It is well that the commander of the British war ship at Tamatave was a man of cool head; for England has had naval commanders not a few who would have replied to Admiral Pierre with something else than a verbal protest, and if such a commander had been on deck when the Dryad was forbidden to communicate with the shore. hostilities between the two countries might have been precipitated at a moment's notice.

France is sailing through dangerous waters in several seas just now .- N. Y.

Mad Dog.

There was considerable excitement resterday evening in the vicinity of Dock and Seventh streets, caused by the strange actions of a dog which it was thought had run mad. He ran about through gardens and into one store in a wild manner, but did no other damage than to frighten the citizens and eventually cleared out of the neighborhood, since which time nothing has been seen or heard of him. He proved himself a "dog-gone" nuisance, and we think it would have been a matter of prudence to have administered a dose of lead out of a pistol.-Wil. Star.
