Reports were heard from Craven. Wayne, Snow Hill, La Grange and Mount Olive circuits, and New Berne and Goldsboro stations. These reports show that much earnest work is being done and that grand rigults are being achieved in these various fields of labor.
Many souls have been converted during the year, and the ministers and laymen are laboring for, and expecting still greater things. Under the preaching of the gospel they expect to see men and women pungently convicted and powerfully converted—expect men and women to see their sins and exposure and to lies from the wrath to come—to embrace the gospel which is the "power of God unto salvation to every one that

The Gullett Magnolia Cotton Gin.

In our paper to-day will be found the advertisement of that justly celebrated cotton gin—the "Gullett Magnolia." We have traversed within the past six months the entire cotton belt from "fexas to Virginia, and throughout the States c. mbined in that district the reputation of this noted gin is beyond cavil or question. It stands first and foremost with all, in mechanism, durability and perfection. And, indeed, no enterprise could fail of success, conducted as is the business of this company. Originally under the control of Berjamin D. Gullett, a man familiar throughout the South, at his death its management devolved upon one whose name is itself a tower volved upon one whose name is itself a tower of strength—Albert Baldwin, Esq. To his side o strength—Albert Baldwin, Esq. To his side this gentieman has called, as a general manager, Mr. Geo. A Peete, than whom, in executive ability, noue abler can be found. Truly is this establishment a home institution, everything used in the construction of the machines, even to the castings and saws, being made at their own factory; while the majestic magnolia and lorgi-eaf yellow pine, of which their gins are manufactured grow thick on their own immediately adjacent lands. In finc, the "Gullett Magnolia," as a gin, cannot be excelled, and all who use it sound its praises ever afterward.
