NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

W. M. WATSON—Special meeting.
S. W. LATHAM—Notice.
Journal Minister Almanac.

Sun sets, 6:41 | 13 hours, 17 minutes.
Moon rises at 8:38 p. m.

Yesterday was warm enough to drive pleasure seekers back to the summer resorts.

The steamer Goldboro sailed yesterday with a cargo of general freight for Baltimore.

A new insurance company—a branch of the Home Guardian—has been incorporated in this city.

The steamer Blanche sailed for Trenton yesterday, Commodore George Credle in charge. He is destined to become a famous navigator.

A military company from Reidsville passed down for Morehead City last night. Gen. R. D. Hancock met them at the depot. The company is a part of his command.

Mr. Enoch Wadsworth carried out a twenty horse engine and twenty-five horse power boiler—Kriebel's vibrating valve—on yesterday, having purchased the same from J. C. Whitty. Mr. H. L. Beck and Wil. Robins, of the West Point Engine and Machine Company, have just put down one of these engines and boilers, which was also purchased of J. C. Whitty, for E. M. Foscoe, Esq., of Jones county.

Died.
In New York, on August 13th, after a long and painful illness, Mrs. Willie E. Cuthbert, wife of Emmet Cuthbert. Mrs. Cuthbert was a native of Petersburg, Va., and was a resident of New Berne for about fifteen years previous to 1862.

Personal.
Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and daughter, Miss Julia, accompanied by Mrs. Governor Jarvis, passed up from Morehead City yesterday on their way to Warm Springs.

Miss Carrie Dail, of Snow Hill, is in the city.

Movements of New Bernians.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bryan left yesterday morning for Haywood, White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Mary Oliver left yesterday for Dyersburg, Tennessee, on a visit to relatives.

R. W. Nixon, Esq., delivers a speech on the laying of the corner stone of the new jail at Trenton to-day.

A Turpentine Maker.

Mr. Canon Smith, of Jones county, brought down and sold yesterday seventy-four barrels of turpentine, by weight, to Mr. E. Ellis. Mr. Canon says he made this turpentine entirely at one dipping, and with one round shave, from boxes that had been run from seven to eighteen feet high.

Fifty barrels, we think, would be considered very good for one hand to get at a dipping from high boxes. Mr. Smith knows what he is at when he gets to bleeding pines.

Religious News.

Mr. Daniel Davis, of the Core creek section, tells us that Rev. A. McCullen is conducting an interesting revival at Asbury church in that neighborhood. Up to Sunday night fourteen had been converted, and there were many other penitents. Our townsman W. G. Bryan was in attendance on Sunday.

The new Presbyterian church at Croatan was dedicated on Sunday last, Rev. S. H. Isler, of Goldboro, preaching the sermon. A large crowd was in attendance, among whom were Messrs. J. C. Whitty and C. E. Foy of this city, who pronounced the sermon good, the audience large and intelligent, Mr. Thos. Mallison's dinner first class and Mr. Simpson's watermelon elegant. They are inclined to want to go again.

Mr. Marshall's Statement.

We give to-day on our editorial page a statement from Mr. W. H. Marshall in regard to running the county line. This settles the matter, very conclusively, that there is doubt about the line's being established according to the act of the Legislature, Mr. Gullis to the contrary notwithstanding. Now we do hope that the commissioners of Carteret county will not adopt the bull-dozing idea advanced by John L. Guthrie, "Surveyor of that line," but will confer with the commissioners of Craven and have the matter settled like sensible men. The statement made by Mr. Marshall fully vindicates the course of our chairman of the board of commissioners. Being anxious to have the county line definitely settled, and being assured by men of high character that the proposed line would not take more than four or five families from Craven, he did not object to the passage of the bill by the General Assembly.

The Carolina.

The new boat built by the Farmers and Merchants Steamboat Company was launched last Saturday at Snow Hill and christened Carolina by Miss Carrie Dail. She was brought down by the Snow Hill yesterday to have her machinery put in.

The Carolina is 88 feet long, over all, and 20 feet breadth of beam; is built for passengers and freight; has three saloons and will carry about one hundred bales of cotton. She was built for the purpose of navigating the Contentnea creek.

The Old Maid's Club.

The "Old Maid's Club" set sail at Morehead City yesterday for Swansboro. Our correspondent at that place has not labored altogether in vain to bring the old village into notice as a summer resort.

We had the pleasure of "dropping in" while at Morehead on Sunday at taking a peep at the "old ones" and found by examining the register that many visitors had called from several States; but one of New Berne's young attorney's name appeared on nearly every page. Perhaps he acted as counsel for the other visitors.

Messrs. Ashe and Kingsbury.

Mr. Ashe and Mr. Kingsbury have at length reaped the reward of fierce and angry controversy—the one in giving and the other in receiving an insult in an editorial in the News-Observer. Mr. Ashe has called his adversary a liar and a scoundrel. That gentlemen of their character and occupying their positions before the public should come to this is greatly to be regretted. But what is Mr. Kingsbury going to do about it. A false public sentiment may require him to engage in a caning or fistful encounter with his enemy, or to invite him across the Virginia line. If he do either he will endanger his own life and may do what, to a man of high moral sense, is a calamity next to his own destruction—take the life of his fellow. And yet it is a severe trial, even for a man of courage, to endure patiently, such an insult.

Is there no better method for honorable men to adjust their personal difficulties than that resorted to by the ruffian and sanctioned by the code? We think there is; we commend to Messrs. Ashe and Kingsbury the wise suggestion of the Church Messenger. Let them arbitrate their difference. Nobody believes Mr. Kingsbury is either a liar or a scoundrel, but it is by no means so certain that he has not given Mr. Ashe just cause for resentment. However this may be, it referred to mutual friends such apologies and reparation as they decide to be due can be made and the character of the parties for honor and courage remain unimpaired.

Meeting of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees of New Berne Academy meet this afternoon for the purpose of filling vacancies in the corps of teachers for the following year. We do not know that it is intended to transact other business, but would it not be well for them to take some earnest steps in the direction of building a new school house. The old Academy is well enough as far as it goes. But there are only four rooms. These rooms are very excellently adapted for school purposes. But instead of four we need at least ten school rooms, and a hall for calisthenics, and other necessary congregations of pupils. The old Roberts building now being used to supply the deficiency in room is very ill fitted for the purpose. The rooms are low and crowded and not of the proper size or shape.

New school buildings are being built all over the State. Raleigh expends $25,000 for a new school. The new school building in Winston will cost $10,000 for construction alone, and Winston never had a school before. The school in New Berne has been a success. It will be a success. No one calculates on anything but a success. It is an institution of which we have a right to be proud, and of which we are proud—an institution which, next to Christianity, will do more toward purifying, enlightening, civilizing, ennobling, and building up our city, and enriching our citizens and our children, physically, intellectually and penurially, than any other institution of our land. It is an institution which is taking the hearts of our people all over the State, and which is loved and praised and honored by all. Shall New Berne be behind hand in this matter of Graded Schools—of education? New Berne, which has had the reputation of being first in learning and refinement? We can not think so. Let our Trustees take some decided action in this matter and they will find the people ready to aid them. They deserve much praise for what has been done during the past few months. The people honor them and thank them for it. But more can be done, and will be done. Let us not wait. Let it be done now.

Maysville Items.

Crops are looking very well, considering.

Farmers of this vicinity have begun to strip fodder.

Mr. Hearne, the steamboat man, visited us this week.

Hunting, I believe, is the topic of the day. Mr. D. S. Barrus, of Pollockville, thinks of joining the hunting corps of Maysville.

Mr. Smith has been successful in his protracted meeting at Tabernacle; had 35 accessions to that church, so I have been informed.

We were shown last week by Mr. C. Hay, a piece of an oyster shell—we judge about a quarter of the whole—which weighed 10 lbs.; no story.

Mr. Rigs, of Onslow county, killed a rattlesnake last week which had 34 rattles and a button. Don't know his length. How about that of yours, Mr. G. W. W.?

A trip to Hollywood gave us the pleasure of eyeing one of the most dangerous looking animals we ever saw. It was a wild cat or catamount. The dogs treed it while the hunters were hunting deer and was killed by Mr. E. H. Waters. Mr. Gillett has been accusing the dogs of killing his sheep, but says now he thinks this cat did most of the damage; says he has killed a hundred lambs for him since last fall.

Contentnea Neck Items.

A few cases of sickness, but no deaths to report.

The cattle and horses of this section continue dying.

Justice C. L. Rountree has been very sick, but is improving.

Mr. B. F. Rountree was seen the other morning rolling one of his cows home in a wheel barrow.

Mr. Frank Braxton keeps his hogs shut up to keep them from rooting themselves to death.

The Methodists are holding a protracted meeting at Rose of Sharon. No accessions as I have heard of.

Rev. D. B. Clayton, of Columbia, S. C., preached a very able sermon to a large congregation at Bethel last Saturday night.

It is reported that all the magistrates of Contentnea Neck, except Justice Pope, are opposed to the county commissioners levying a tax to build a road from Kinston to Neuse river bridge; and also to the building of an iron bridge across Neuse river at Kinston. If it is necessary we think they ought to be built, but would not the old road and wooden bridge, with a few repairs, be sufficient until the county becomes able to pay the tax that would have to be levied? A petition was gotten up and signed by the best citizens of the Neck, to build a bridge across the river near Beeton's Old Field, and presented to the commissioners; Commissioner Mat. Wooten moved to lay it on the table and it has not been noticed since. Do us fair, gentlemen, we pay a little tax down this way.

Richlands Items.

We are having refreshing showers now after a protracted drouth, but they come too late to repair the damage done to the crops. Cotton and corn are both seriously injured; prospects are gloomy, especially for those who are so unfortunate as to have heavy encumbrances upon their crops, and the man that holds those encumbrances is but a little more fortunate if any.

Capt. McIver thinks he has something less than four miles now to cut through the Quaker Bridge Road. We are very hopeful that he will get done the work early enough for the people to move the principal part of their crops over the road to market this fall. The action of our Jones county friends in passing resolutions in reference to this work may have been a little premature, still we must extol the spirit that prompted their utterances. The people of this section indulge the hope that they will never find cause to thunder forth their condemnation to the world through a mass meeting for a violation of plighted faith in regard to this work; yet should justice to ourselves require it, we will promptly do our duty; we simply ask that Capt. McIver be let alone and neither the State Penitentiary authorities nor the public need give themselves any apprehensions about the work on the Quaker Bridge Road. His acknowledged ability will be equal to any emergency and his honor is a pledge of justice to all parties concerned.

We had the pleasure of attending a basket picnic at the home of Mr. E. L. Franks, Jr., on Wednesday last, and although hurriedly gotten up, it turned out to be a very enjoyable affair. The place at which it was held is one of the prettiest places for a picnic that I know of in the county; there is a very long yard, covered with grass that stretches out like a green carpet, shaded over by giant oaks, that look like they had stood the storms of a century, spread their luxuriant boughs out like a verdant canopy, under whose inviting shades rested the picnickers. Well, dinner time came as usual but the preparations for dinner were rather unusually tempting; viands found fair hands to arrange them until the feast was ready and such a feast of such quantity and quality as would satisfy the most fastidious epicure. Well, after dinner, there was croquet playing, dancing and courting until the shadows lengthened out as the goal of day rolled down behind the western hills, shooting his fiery lances through the tree tops, telling us it was time to go home. It seems a pity that Mr. Franks should occupy this beautiful home alone with his flowers to waste their sweetness upon the desert air. We simply say to our friend Franks don't be a victim; labor to be a victor; never give up. Omnia vincit amor.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The railroad passenger rate war between this city and St. Louis ended to-day, and the three roads competing for the business—the Illinois Central, Wabash, and Chicago and Alton—decided to form a passenger pool, the details of which have not yet been made public. The rate agreed upon between the two cities is $8.70. The rate between St. Louis and Kansas City will be $8.50.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A gentleman who wished to transact some business with the Treasury Department arrived here yesterday morning from the west, intending to stop over a train or two for the journey eastward. Owing to the absence of those officials whom it was necessary to consult, he found to his surprise that nothing could be accomplished, and he had the choice to await their return or make another trip to the capital. For business and economic reasons he had to choose the latter alternative, but he cannot tell whether his next visit will be any more satisfactory than this one.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Official advisers from Mr. Foote, the newly appointed United States Minister to Corea, say that he has taken up his residence in the capital of that little known country, but that life there is attended with many discomforts and privations. The only house he has been able to obtain is a rude one of wood and paper with paper windows, and is situated in an undesirable location in the midst of hovels and filth. The climate is one marked by great extremes of heat and cold. The only fuel obtainable consists of boughs of pine trees, and everything in the shape of food, except the simplest necessities of life, has to be brought from abroad.

RALEIGH, August 18, 1883.

I adopt this method of stating that I am no longer a member of the Republican party; neither do I belong to the Liberal Republican party. I may give my reasons hereafter for this course.

No one is leaving the city from fear of the disease.

PITTSBURG, August 18.—Secretary Hughes says he has notified all the assemblies to return to work in accordance with the telegram from John Campbell. In regard to the sudden collapse of the strike he was very reticent, but said he was satisfied the strike was a failure after the third day. The members of the Brotherhood attribute their defeat to the Knights of Labor, who they say failed to give them the support they had promised.
