EDITOR JOURNAL:—By request of many of your readers I drop you the following lines:

This country is much healthier than I expected to find it. Emigrants must expect a hard time the first year unless provided with a good capital.

Farmers are done gathering corn in many instances. They say they have made enough for two years if the weevil would let it alone.

The government gives every actual settler the chance to homestead 160 acres of land by paying about $23, and residing on it five years. The country cross head for the Shenandoah's engine is being rapidly settled up, and the The Shenandoah will leave this evening great need is for a few enterprising men with steam saw mills. Loco Academy.

EDITOR JOURNAL, -Believing this to be the first communication that has appeared in the columns of the JOURNAL from this place, I deem it necessary to locate it.

Loco Academy is situated in Onslow county, on the south side of White Oak river and within a few miles of the source of that river. Its location is in Whitehead. "You are mistaken," said the midst of a thickly settled neighborhood, and possesses advantages for a He says cotton is cut off at least one- boarding school that are rarely to be found in a country place. If health and good morals are a prerequisite for the success of a school, then this place canot be surpassed in Eastern Carolina, for your correspondent has known the place for nearly a half century and he ventures the assertion without fear of cressful contradiction, that during all this long time but one case of indictment has found its way upon the criminal docket of our county. This of itself is a sufficient evidence for the moral status of the community.

It was at this Academy that a school closed on the 30th day of August, under the tutorship of Mr. L. A. Garner, a gentleman of rate attainments as a teacher. The students, some forty in number, certainly far surpassed the expectation of their parents and friends. The singing, declarations, reading, and in fact, all their studies would have een creditable to those more advanced. After the exercises were over, the birge andlence in attendance were invited to sartake of a sumptuous dinner, which had been prepared by the patrons of the chool and all were filled. A few minten after dinner was over Dr. Edward V. Ward, our worthy Superintendent of Public Instruction was escorted to the stand and held the audience spell bound for about an hour in a lecture to the pupils and pairons of the school,

The patrons of this school are fully rarmed up in the great cause of educafor the creation of a new school building. The communication a few days since show 05 children belonging to this school district. More Anon.

In North Carolina over twenty latter we understand in the interest of new cotton factories had been erected, a company to construct a Tram Way across the Quaker bridge road. We hope the gentlemen may 'succeed in their project. We consider it both praiseworthy and commendable and believe that much benefit might be derived from the consummation of the

There was a nice picnic at the school house, near Shady Grove church, on Friday the 31st of August. Some of the nicest of Jones county's fair daughters were present to add enjoyment and pleasure to the scene. Kinston and other portions of Lenoir were repreented. Several of Kinston's fair daughters graced the occasion with their presence which added no little to the enjoyment of the occasion. All passed away the time pleasently. Masic and dancing were among the amusements.

The "laying of the corner stone" of the jail, under the auspices of E. M. Foscue, was not attended by as much clat as was expected. The people don't seem to manifest much interest pon such occasions. They look upon iails more as the necessary evidences of a people's misfortunes and the erection of them as public necessities rather than as occasions of public rejoicing or de-monstrations. Surely this is a "new eparture," when necessary public svils come to be occasions for celebraions. Why a people should wish to clobrate an occasion of this kind we re at a loss to determine. Jails we have ever looked upon as evidences of a people's misfortune and semetimes de-generacy, and the people who commit crimes deserving of incarceration therein are generally the most depraved of our species, and we fain would reco-rather than rejoice at the misfortune and fall of erring humanity, and jails and prises houses and all reformatory stitutions should ever be looked upor rather as monuments of sorrow than of pride. Alasi they point with unerzing cortainty to moral decadence and ruin. Mr. F. G. Shermone came down on Londay to measure up the Quaker

Bridge road and according to his estimate, which he says is correct, it is 15 miles, within a fraction, from E. M. Murrill's to W. E. Ward's. He says the road will be completed by November 1st. Mr. Simmons says it is about four miles from the new road, near the head of White Oak river, to Isaac Brock's on Cypress creek. If so, there ought to be a road running from Cypress creek to Quaker Bridge road. It would certainly be a great convenience to the farmers living in that section-Let us then by all means have the Tram road if it will be beneficial to all this will. It is also three miles from the head of the river to Geo. W. Smith's on the Onslow side, therefore a road of together, whereas now the distance is richest sections of Jones and Onslow A great and good man of Kinston is counties. Boston, September 5.-The opening exercises of the American Exposition at the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Institute took place to-day. The exercises P. Benjamin have furnished briefs as of were held in the hall at the north end of the building in the presence of a large number of invited guests. It was 12:15 o'clock before the Governor entered upon the platform, followed by his staff and the guests of the occasion. Among the party were Secretary Chandler, Lieutenant-Governor Ames and representatives of foreign governments. The exercises began with prayer by Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D. John M. Little in a few words presented as presiding officer his Excellency Gov. Butler, who delivered the opening address. This was followed by speeches from Secretary Chandler, Judge Symmes, of Denver, Governor Jarvis, of North Carolina, Julia Ward The crops in Jones generally are Howe and others, and an oration by Gen.
