THE JOURNAL.

H. S. SUNN, Editor.
NEW BERNE, N. C., SEPT. 30 1883.

SOME of our exchanges are publishing Butler's old New Orleans order. Now since the smoke of battle has cleared away and a better feeling is springing up between the two sections, and since, too, Butler has returned to his first love, the Democratic party, would it not be well for Southern papers that are now publishing that order to give Butler's side of the question by publishing the circumstances connected with the issuing of said order? It seems to us it would at least be doing an act of justice to Governor Butler. The fact that a distinguished Southern lady, one whose deceased husband holds a warm place in the hearts of all the Southern people, was recently the guest of Governor Butler leads us to believe that there has been a change in the sentiments of the people in regard to the man whom they once pronounced a beast.

THE Democracy of this section is an anti-tariff and no Protectionist could reasonably expect much support from it.—Pamlico Enterprise.
Do your rice farmers want the duty reduced on rice? Our position has always been that a tariff should be imposed upon imports for the purpose of raising revenue. Such a tariff will necessarily give industrial protection. But it is useless to deny the fact that there are many Democrats in this section who want protection square out. When a farmer sells a bushel of rice and obtains fifty cents more for it on account of the tariff on imported rice it comes directly home to him, and it will take a powerful strong argument to convince him that it ought to be reduced.
We are firmly impressed with the necessity of a change in the administration of the National Government. Twenty years is long enough for one party to remain successively in power. The Democrats should proceed cautiously. Would it not be better to leave the tariff question with the Congressional districts?

SOME STRAWS.
Under the above caption the News and Observer of the 26th of September shows that the negroes at the North are apparently withdrawing from their close union with the Republican party. Their recent actions in Massachusetts and Ohio are cited as proof of this tendency. A communication from a colored Republican in this county, who claims that he holds an office in the political organization of the Republican party, is also referred to as a straw. The writer of this communication says that the Republican leaders "are preparing to lead us against our interest as they did in 1870, when they advised the colored voters to vote against Hon. Z. B. Vance for Governor, who proved to be a better friend to the colored race than all of his predecessors—Republican Governors."
Cannot our esteemed contemporary see the cause of this apparent dissatisfaction of the negroes in the Republican party? Why, evidently it is because they are not getting their share of the spoils. They want office; they are not satisfied to do the voting unless they can get the lion's share from the public grant; and this disposition becomes stronger as they grow in intelligence. The white Republicans feel the pressure. Are the Democrats prepared to gratify this ambition? If not we just as well abandon the idea of any sudden rush of negro voters from the Republican to the Democratic party. But we believe the Democratic party is willing and ready to do just what the white Republicans are doing; that is, give the negroes a few of the minor offices in order to secure the vote of the masses and reserve the better paying positions for the leaders of the party. We have evidence of this; the few crumbs tossed to the negro by the Democratic Legislature of 1876-77 in the appointment of Justices of the Peace was undoubtedly for the purpose of securing negro votes in future elections and not because of their qualifications to fill the office. The negroes have had it in their power from the day they became voters to effectually destroy the color line in politics. Had they divided their vote the one party could not have pointed to the other as the negro party.

There is already a respectable number of white people in North Carolina who vote with the Republicans, and a division in the negro vote would drive many more to that party, and the negro becoming then a more important factor to both parties, would stand a better chance to fill more of the small offices. But do the Democrats desire this?
A Monument to Gen. Pender.
We notice that the Edgewood Guards propose taking the initiative steps in a movement to erect a suitable monument to Gen. Pender—and that we may be asked to act as treasurer of the fund. Even in advance of any definite action in the premises, we are free to say that it would give us sincere pleasure to co-operate in the movement. In the spring of 1862 we were on duty at Charleston by assignment of Gen. Lee. We had never met Col. Pender, who, on his promotion to be brigadier general, asked us to become his adjutant general, and in that capacity we joined him in Virginia and was at once admitted to an intimate companionship. He was the soul of honor. To a kind and gentle disposition he united the highest qualities of earnest manhood. He was pure in conversation, in thought and in deed—always a courtly gentleman—and he knelt each day before the Deity, invoking His continual presence. His blessing and His approval of all his actions. His apprehension was quick and his conclusions rapid.

As far as we could perceive, his judgment in military matters was unerring. He was a born general. The youngest general in Jackson's corps in age, his commission, his elders at times asked his directions and followed them. We once reported to A. P. Hill, "Gen. Pender says there are three brigades of the enemy at the front, and asks for orders." The reply was "There are his brigade and two others there, tell him my only orders are to keep the enemy in his front." In less than twenty minutes the enemy was routed and in flight—and Pender in pursuit. His coolness and calmness were proverbial; but he would expose himself. Even when waiting to go in, when the men were lying down, and the air was thick with bullets and shells, he would not stand behind his horse. He had a reliance and confidence in him that could be measured only by the reliance felt in Lee and Jackson. It was sufficient for them to know that Pender said so. And yet as a disciplinarian he was exacting. That "ground mounting" had to be done under all circumstances, no matter where we were or when we rested. It was attention to the minutest details that made him thorough as a commander. Of his bravery, heroism, devotion, of his excellence as a general officer it is not necessary for us to speak. His fame is one of Carolina's chief glories. To his memory a grateful State should erect a splendid monument; and certainly it would be peculiarly agreeable to us to be of service in the matter.—News-Observer.

Mr. J. H. Pender, Smith Grove, N. C., says: "I could find no relief from indigestion until I used Brown's Iron Bitters."

GENERAL NEWS.

The extra measures adopted by the Russian Government for securing public safety have been prolonged for a year throughout the principal provinces.

A severe storm passed over Limerick, Ireland, Wednesday. The Town Hall was blown down, and one of the bridges over the river Shannon was badly injured.

ROME, Sept. 26.—The official report of the fatalities consequent upon the late earthquake on the island of Ischia states that 1,900 persons were killed and 574 injured.

A light frost in Lincoln, Neb., on Tuesday night the first of the season. As far as can be learned it was general throughout the State. The damage to corn is believed to be light.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Sept. 26.—The tenth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the State assembled in the Washington street M. E. Church in this city to-day.

The Grand Jury at Philadelphia Wednesday found a true bill of indictment against Stephen S. Price, charging him with the embezzlement of $87,000 as executor of the estate of Thomas Richardson.

George E. Camm's jewelry store, at Johnston, Fulton county, N. Y., was entered by burglars on Tuesday night. The safe was broken open and $1,000 in money and fifty watches were stolen.

The Croatian members of the Austrian Reichsrath declare that they will not take their seats in that body until the constitutional administration of the Government is reinstated in Croatia.

Homer Pennock, of New York, and his associates have quietly bought tracts of about 1,000 acres of prairie land adjoining the city of Chicago on the northwest, at an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000.

HOMBURG-VON-DEL-HOME, Sept. 26.—The military manoeuvres have been concluded. To-day the Emperor William bade farewell to the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, and the foreign officers who have witnessed the display.

Dennis Dwyer, of Thomaston, Conn., while hunting on Tuesday was accidentally shot by a companion named McJanet. The charge went through the right arm and lodged in his lungs. He nearly died to death from the arm wound alone, and is not expected to live.

The recent earthquake in Java caused a sudden subsidence of the sea at Colombo of fifteen feet. On Aug. 27 the water rose and fell violently for half an hour, when it resumed its normal condition. Several vessels broke from their moorings, but no other damage was reported.

LUMBERTON, N. C., Sept. 26.—Yesterday evening a duel was fought with fatal results in Whitehouse township between Henry Horne and David Butler. The latter was shot through the collar bone and died in twelve minutes. He had for a long time existed between the two men, and they had had repeated quarrels.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The ceremony of receiving Sitting Bull into the Catholic Church, which it was expected would take place this week at Fort Yates, has been indefinitely postponed, because Sitting Bull cannot make up his mind which of his two wives he will let go. Bishop Marty has had him under his care for several months, and his instructions were being rapidly absorbed by the chief, but separation from his wives proved too much, and he will probably return to heathenism.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 26.—The immense fires, raging in the forests and ranches above here have already done terrible damage. A despatch from Davenport's Landing saying that the entire country is in flames. One hundred and forty men have gone from here to aid in the endeavor to arrest the progress of the fire. The Santa Cruz Water Company have fifty men fighting the fire. The latest accounts report the fire within five miles of here, owing to the rapidity with which it has spread, fears are entertained for the safety of this city.

Two weeks ago Gen. W. S. Hancock went to Sandy Hook to witness some experiments in gunnery. The weather was very rough, and the small Government vessel was rudely thrown about by the waves. In one of the lurches of the boat Gen. Hancock fell and bruised his right knee. He remained three days at Sandy Hook in bad weather. He returned to Governor's Island in bad health and has been suffering ever since. There are some signs of a gathering in the injured knee, and Dr. Janeway, the post surgeon, is endeavoring to dissipate it. The General was so exhausted by his reception of the Koreans yesterday that he went in bed.

Mrs. E. Solomon, aged 83, Oxford, N. C., says Brown's Iron Bitters gives her a good appetite and makes her food digest well.

STATE NEWS.

Durham Recorder. The citizens living in the Northeastern part of Chatham, will petition to the next Legislature to be annexed to Durham county. They are enthusiastic on the subject and say every man in the proposed cut off will sign a petition. Prof. Price Thomas is a man whom our Durham people learned to love and respect for his true merit and in whose prosperity we have a deep interest.

Oxford Orphan's Friend. Capt. T. C. Williams, secretary of the State Agricultural Society, publishes a call for a meeting of the farmers of the State at Raleigh, during the State Fair, to effect an agricultural organization. The attention which the North Carolina exhibit at Boston has attracted has resulted in the receipt by the Agricultural department of numbers of letters from Massachusetts people asking for information about the State.

Goldboro Bulletin. Capt. J. J. Roberson, the efficient Road Master of the A. & N. C. Railroad is in the city locating his line for straightening the track on East Centre street. This move has been talked of often, nothing comes of it. But uncle Joe assures us now that he means business, and knowing the energy he displays in everything he takes hold of, we are inclined to believe the work will be done. Mr. M. F. Jereys, the bridge builder, is engaged in building another bridge across Neuse river, at Pine Bush in Lenoir county. Jeff is one of the best bridge builders in this section and they keep him busy at it.

Chatham Recorder. On last Saturday the dwelling and kitchen of deputy marshal Ira Phillips, of Bear creek township, were burned together with nearly all the contents. The fire is supposed to have originated from the kitchen chimney. There was no insurance.

Our venerable townsman, Mr. David Turner, adopted a novel but very effective method of collecting his bill out of one of his boarders at our late court. The boarder was about to leave without paying his bill, when Mr. Turner got him into his back cellar (where it was as dark and secure as a dungeon) and quietly locked him up! The fellow begged lustily to be let out, but the old man was inexorable, and kept him locked up until some friend came and paid his bill. We have heard of a boarder's baggage being seized, but this is the first time we have known his body to be levied on.
