DUVAL & NORTON'S Celebrated HORSE TONIC
or improving the condition of horses, mules cattle and hogs, giving them an appetite, releving them of bots and worms, hidebound urfelt, distemper and all diseases to which a horse is subject internally. After an animal s improved by its use it may be left off without his falling back to his first poor condition. It is highly approved by all who have given it a fair trial. We have yet to hear of a single natance where the HORSE TONIC has falled o accomplish what we claim for it. From a arge number of testimonials we select the ollowing:

Mr. E. P. REEVE: Dear Sir-I have been using your Duval & Norton's Horse Tonic for the last eighteen months, and find it the REET mydicine I have ever used for improving the general HEALTH and APPETITE of horses in Dad condition. Respectfully, Manager stables Richmond City Railway.

An example of this was offered last season in a summering house on the Alleghany Mountains. A middle-aged, unmarried lady arrived one evening, who was reputed to be "Miss Blank, Home Missionary."
Unasked, she said grace in a loud tone at the public table, and the where some young people were arranging charactes, and talked loudly against their "criminal folly," proposing a prayer meeting instead.

followed.
The next day she lectured the fishermen on their "cruelty," and whenever she could she took every pretty-dressed woman to task for her "wicked vanity," even denounc-ing the crochet-work with which two or three old ladies amused them-selves, as a "sinful waste of time." Of course, Miss Blank became the bug-bear of the whole house, and much of the ridicule which her grim face, and limy, untily gown called forth, fell on the Bible which she professed to love, and the hymns which she sang unceasingly in a loud key.

"If that is religion, heaven forbid that I should ever accept it!" said a gay, pretty woman to whom she had tarked for two nours.

A day or two later, a gentle, gray-haired old man came to the house without any introduction. He was BILLIARD PARLOR,

When Sunday came, and the guests of the hotel repaired to the parlor to hear a sermon, what was their surprise to find that the quiet old man, whom they had already learned to love, was the famous Dr.—, from New York, whose cloquence has not won so many saule to his Master's service as has his pure and noble life.
