

THE DAILY JOURNAL.

VOL. II. NEW BERNE, N. C., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1883. NO. 199.

LOCAL NEWS.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 6:43 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 4:30 | 10 hours, 8 minutes.
Moon rises at 11:15 p. m.

Rain is beginning to be needed.
J. F. Parrott, of Kinston, was in the city on a short visit Monday.

We call attention to the change in the schedule of the A. & N. C. Railroad.

Mr. J. Frontis Ives has moved into his new and elegant mansion on Middle street.

Pamlico court adjourned yesterday until Wednesday morning on account of the election to-day.

Mr. Silas Venters and G. R. Venters, of Onslow, are in the city and will be at the cotton exchange to-day.

The city authorities are having the old and standing mud hole on South Front street, near Long's wharf, filled with shell.

The time of the burning of the old court house has at last been decided upon—3 o'clock on the morning of January 15th, 1861.

The Panama canal now under construction has near 10,000 laborers employed and will be at least 5 years yet before its completion.

The congressional election is held in the first district to-day. We have made arrangements to give our readers the news concerning the same at an early day.

State vs George Washington will come up at Pamlico court Wednesday morning a special venire of one hundred has been summoned for that purpose.

We invite attention to the article, "Normal and Normal Training," in this paper. It is from the pen of a writer who understands whereof he writes and will fully reward a careful perusal.

We regret to learn that Mr. Shade Wooten, Sr., of La Grange had his hand so badly lacerated in a gin that amputation was necessary. Another sad warning to those who are careless around machinery.

General M. W. Ransom addressed a large assembly of people at Bayboro yesterday. The speech was a good one, Skinner stock was high, and the county will give a good account of herself to-day, says our informant.

Superior Court of Pamlico county convened yesterday, Judge Avery presiding. In the absence of Solicitor Blount, Mr. F. M. Simmons, of this city, has charge of the States interest and offenders may look out.

M. DeW. Stevenson, P. Holland, jr., O. H. Guion, F. M. Simmons, Clement Manly, W. E. Clarke, L. J. Moore. The above are names of members of the New Berne bar at Pamlico court. W. W. Clark, of Raleigh, is also in attendance.

The new standard railroad time went into effect yesterday at one o'clock p. m. The new time is 8 minutes and 9 seconds faster than the time at present. All clocks on the railroad will be moved up 8 minutes and 9 seconds and trains run accordingly.

We had a call yesterday from Mr. J. F. Satterlee, of Momorton, Pa., D. O. Holton, of Bradford county, Pa., Jas. Foster, of Towandee, Pa., and H. M. Squire, of Elmira, N. Y., who are visiting the city on a prospecting tour. We are glad to learn that these gentlemen are pleased with the appearance of things and thinks of coming here for the winter next year.

The young gentleman who has recently made New Berne his place of business on hearing the alarm of fire given last Friday night started down the street at a rapid gait, but from some unknown cause (probably a banana peel) changed the standard style of locomotion into tumbling, scuffling and the like. He now has sufficient cause to lament the condition of his $7.50 pants.

At her residence, in Baltimore, on the 16th inst., of apoplexy, Mrs. Moses W. Jarvis, aged 77 years and 34 days.

Go Down for Trial.
George Washington was taken to Pamlico county on Sunday, where he is to stand trial for the murder of a sea faring man in this city last spring.

This will be remembered as the case in which the trouble of selecting a jury at the last term of our court was such as to cause removal at the instance of the counsel for the State.

Photography.
Horace Davis has a handsome photograph of the car of liberty which was so much admired in the late Fremont's parade, now in process of completion at his gallery over Hand's store, on Middle street. The picture is a fine one and will be an excellent souvenir of the occasion of the grand celebration.

Not Yet.
The Nut Shell gives us one editor more than we have, when it calls Maj. Carraway the local editor of the JOURNAL. The Major often furnishes us items of news and otherwise renders valuable aid in the office, but has never assumed the role of local editor yet.

Personal.
Senator M. W. Ransom arrived in the city Saturday night and stopped with his brother, Gen. Robert Ransom. The Senator went to Bayboro yesterday to address the citizens of Pamlico county in the interest of T. G. Skinner, Esq., Democratic candidate for Congress from that district.

Correction.
In Sunday morning's paper in our statement, we stated that H. C. Whitehurst wrote an article to a newspaper signing himself "Trustee."

A gentleman has since informed us that he was the author and not Whitehurst, and the signature of "Trustee" was used in reference to property he held in trust, and with no design to connect it in any way with the Board of Trustees of the Academy. He also says it was after the election by the people, but in reference to the decision of the council upon the subject.

One of The Advantages.
The Northern visitors called at the JOURNAL office yesterday morning and expressed themselves as being well pleased with New Berne. Indeed, one of them said that he liked it better than any place he had seen, and gave as one of his reasons an instance at the market dock during the morning. Seeing a boy with a string of fish he asked him what he expected to get for them. He was astonished to hear the reply "two shillings," knowing that the same would bring something like $5.00 in his settlement. He regarded this as a great advantage, and it is, but it is not used by the masses of our people like the thrifty Northerner would use it. Cheap living would help them to accumulate property, while we are inclined to think it encourages laziness among our laboring classes.

Mr. Whitehurst's Card.
Mr. H. C. Whitehurst, in a card published in the Nut Shell on Saturday evening last, substantially admits all that we charged against him in our article of Saturday last which raised the ire of his giant brother and caused him to make a brutal assault upon us. And since this admission of Mr. H. C. Whitehurst, can any fair minded man see the least cause or provocation for such an assault as that made upon us by Moses E. Whitehurst?

We offered no resistance to the cowardly assault of Moses E. Whitehurst—it was certainly cowardly for he knew that he had nothing like the physical strength possessed by himself. The law forbade us to carry a concealed weapon, in fact we own nothing of the sort, and did not think it necessary to provide ourselves with a weapon simply because we had written some truths about a man who held a public trust, however damaging they may have been.

We hope to be at our post again in a few days and will continue to endeavor to discharge our duty to our readers and to the public generally.

The Ballance Murder Case.
The trial of W. D. Credle and Geo. H. Harris, both white men, for the murder of W. T. Ballance, also white, referred to in our Sunday's issue, after occupying all of two days and part of two nights, was concluded late in the night of Thursday. The jury stood "six to six" until near noon of Friday, when they came into court and asked for additional instructions. They then retired a second time and soon thereafter returned with a verdict of "not guilty." The defendants were largely and very respectably connected in Hyde county and one of them in this city. The trial created much excitement and interest in the county, the court house being crowded from the commencement to the end. The prisoners were defended by Maj. Louis Latham and Geo. H. Brown, Esqs., while the State was represented by Solicitor Blount, assisted by Judge Albertson and our townsman F. M. Simmons, of the firm of Nixon, Simmons & Manly.

This was the first appearance of Mr. Simmons in the courts of Hyde and we are pleased to learn from him that he was employed in several important cases and was particularly pleased with the county and its excellent people. He expects to attend that court regularly hereafter.

Haw Branch Items.
W. Wiley has a potato that weighs eight pounds and a quarter.
Died, on the 22nd of January, 1883, near Haw Branch, Onslow county, N. C., E. S. Williams, son of Jones and E. Williams, in the 12th year of his age. He leaves three brothers and one sister to mourn their loss, but their loss is his eternal gain.

STATE NEWS

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Wilmington Review: Messrs. Munds Bros. & DeRosset presented, through the Secretary of the Synod, Rev. Mr. Lacy, each member of that body a printed invitation tendering the free use of their soda and mineral water fountain during the Synodical session.

Western Sentinel: There is a movement on foot by a gentleman in Salem to form a furniture manufacturing company. The Sentinel is always alive to the interests of our towns and section and will have something at length to say upon the above enterprise in a near future.

Snow Hill Telegraph: Mr. J. B. Faircloth had no insurance on his large brick gin house that was destroyed by fire on the 7th inst. Twenty-seven bales of cotton and three new gins were burned. He estimates his loss at five thousand dollars. We tender our sympathy.

—There was a dance given here Tuesday night at the residence of Mr. Ed. Adams, and during the dance two intoxicated young men engaged in a fight, one getting very badly cut while the other received severe strokes both on the head and in the face.

Wilson Advance: Two young men, Ben. Roberson and Charles Bunn, stole two oxen from an old negro named Reuben Williamson near Earpsboro Monday and carried them to Raleigh and sold them. Reuben tracked the oxen and followed to Raleigh where he recovered one of the oxen and had both the men put in jail.—Roundtree, Barnes & Co's cotton buyer bought one bale of cotton from a negro yesterday and gave him a check, but before presenting it the negro changed it to three bales. Mr. Strong noticed the attempted forgery and upon inquiring of Mr. Davis, the cotton buyer, ascertained that the negro had changed 1 into 3. The negro will probably be required to pay the full penalty of the law.

Wilmington Star: We hear that one of the Malloys, who are accused of murdering Charles Warren, colored, at Laurinburg on Tuesday night last, was pointed out to an officer on the streets of Wilmington, on Thursday, by a colored man who said he lived in Laurinburg and knew the parties well; but the officer had heard nothing of the murder, and murders are such an unusual occurrence in this section of the State, that he paid no attention to the man's assertion. When he subsequently saw the announcement of the murder in the Star he was sorry he didn't listen to the Laurinburg man. Malloy was watching the process of lowering the monster Carolina Central safe from the Murchison building at the time he was "spotted." He may still be here.

Chatham Record: Probably the oldest marked grave in this county is on the farm of Col. Isaac T. Brooks, in Hickory Mountain township. The grave is covered with a slab of soap-stone one foot thick and six feet long, the surface of which is entirely covered with letters of various forms and sizes rudely cut, which have been deciphered by our young friend, W. E. Brooks, and read as follows: "Here lies interred the body of Dr. James McCarroll. He was born in the County of Ardmagh, in the Kingdom of Ireland, in the year 1734, and departed this life on the 25th day of Oct., 1777, in the 43rd year of his age; he was remarkable for his general knowledge of the arts and sciences. This monument was erected by Elizabeth McCarroll, his widow, the 16th of July, 1778."

Stonewall Items.
Judge Avery is on schedule time. Court convenes Wednesday.
The Mayor's docket of this place has several cases added to its pages and more ahead. So you see we are becoming civilized.
Mr. Lewis Midyett, who was so painfully hurt week before last, has so improved that he was able to be carried home Sunday, and on his arrival at home there was a joyful time with both his family and friends.
The past week has been one of law in Stonewall. Your city has been represented by Messrs. Owen H. Guion, Wm. E. Clarke, Mark Stevenson and Clem. Manly, of legal profession, and their work is to be finished up this week.
On Friday evening last, Mrs. Amanda Miller died at her father's residence in Bayboro after suffering for nearly three weeks. She leaves an infant about three weeks old, her husband and many friends and relatives to mourn her loss.
Mr. Elijah Langly, of Smith's creek, had his horse hobbled to keep him from jumping in his corn field, but he undertook the job, got over the fence into the ditch, and so injured himself that there is but little doubt but that he will die. A severe loss.

—On last Thursday evening, on Jumping Run, at the residence of Sutton Jones, the bride's father, Needham Saunders and Holton Jones were united in marriage. At the same time and place David Fisher and Phebe Jones were married, Rev. F. G. Mattocks officiating. All colored.

Contentnea Neck Items.
Very cold and windy—bad on "stock law" cows.
Corn is all gathered, and the farmers are rejoicing over a splendid crop.
The cotton crop is nearly housed and is a better crop than some expected.
Everybody seems to be satisfied with the sentence of the rape fiend, Guilford Soon.

Messrs. Coward & Spivey have bought them an Eagle gin and are making a good turnout and splendid sample.

Robert Nelson has the finest lot of fattening hogs we have seen in a long time. He has three he says will make five hundred pounds apiece by Christmas.

R. M. Abbott, J. L. Ives and several other farmers of this section, say that chufas will not do to fatten hogs on. They will plant potatoes in place of chufas next year.

The gray widower and laudanum drinker, W. S. Sumrell, will soon marry (report says) a handsome widow of Kinston. We hope he will not drink any sweetened water on this occasion.

Tom Abbott has declined going with King to examine Noah's ark. King and Williams will start after Christmas, provided they can charter the Shenandoah and employ Capt. Dixon, of the Kinston, to command the expedition.

Notice.
To the officers and members of P. L. A.: You are hereby notified that there will be a regular meeting at your hall, on West street, Tuesday evening, Nov 19th, 1883, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing term; also hearing the report of Committee on Encyclopedias. Herein fail not to attend. By order of
