Cotton advanced one sixteenth in New York yesterday.

The market dock was almost bare of boats yestarday evening.

Collector Hancock gives notice that Monday is the last day that city vouchers will be taken in payment of taxes.

Mr. Bryce lpock was the lucky man at the drawing at Duffy & Ives' store on Christmas day, carrying off a handsome Domestic stwing machine.-

The Shenandoah has made her regular trips during the week, but wore her Christmas dress, being handsomely decorated with flowers and evergreens.

A framway has been built by the city authorities on South Front street from Smallwood's corner to Mr. W. G. Bryan's office. Pedestrians can pass over dry shod without charge. The enterprise was started by Dr. Bates, and His Honor, Mayor Howard, seeing it was a good thing came to the rescue. When trains are placed upon this road it is hinted that the conductor's place will be profitable, as it will be a good place for "knocking down."

More Assignments.

The short crop in this section is beginning to tell the tale. Two more assignments were made yesterday. H. W. Cohen, on the corner of South Front and Middle streets, and F. M. Bowden, near the corner of Broad and Middle ts, have assigned to W. G. Brinson, ALL THE PARTY OF Esq.

Personal.

The Misses Southerland, of Henderson, are in the city visiting the Misses Mitchell.

Col. L. W. Humphrey, of Goldsboro, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Carrie Goelett, of Plymouth, who h is been visiting Miss Gertrude Carraway, of this city, returned on Thursday morning accompanied as far as Kinston by Miss Gertrude and Miss Irene Radcliff.

Miss Gaskins, of Pitt county is visiting Mrs. A. H. Holton, of this city.

Stay Home Boys.

We have received a letter from Mr. D. N. Farnell, an Onslow boy, now in Taxable Property in North Carolina. We give in this issue the amount of real and personal property listed in each county in this State for the years 1882 and 1883. We are indebted to the Raleigh News-Observer for the figures for 1883. It will be seen that the increase of 1883 over 1882 is about $50,000,-000. If the General Assembly, in making the levy for this year, did not make considerable allowance for this increase, it would seem that there ought to be a surplus in the treasury at the end of the present fiscal year, unless a large amount has been appropriated out of the funds "not otherwise appropriated."

A Bone of Contention.

The Statesville Landmark, in speaking of the action of the stockholders of the A. & N. C. Railroad, in leasing the road to the Eastern N. C. Railroad Co., expresses the hope that it will be approved by the directors and remarks:

The Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad has been a bone of contention and an apple of discord time out of mind. It will never be anything else, it will never be any account to the State nor much to the people who live on its line until its management passes out of the hands of the State and into the hands of business men. Its history has been al-most exactly that of the Western North Carolina Railroad which was never anything until it passed under the control of those who now operate it and who have practically re-built it, re-equipped it and made it a magnificent highway of travel and commerce, a blessing to the own it. A State can no more run a railroad than it can a theological seminary. We should like to see North Carolina divested of all of her railroad encumbrances, and never see her assume any more.

A Filling Frame.

A wagon passed through Statesville last week with a "filling frame" for a cotton mill near Taylorsville, in Alexander county, which caused Bro. Latham Dr. H. G. Bates, Medical Examiner. to yent himself thusly:

"This 'filling frame' was of the latest and most improved pattern. The sight of just this one piece of machinery put us in a good humor with ourself the reus in a good humor with ourself the re-mainder of, the day; at night busy dreams came trooping and in them we saw the realization of our fondest hopes; we saw factories, foundries and num-berless other manufacturing industries springing up broadcast all over the land, while on our streets passed joyful pro-cessions of operatives and skilled arti-sans; a smiling plenty had possessed the land and a sunshine of content had crowned its people; over all proudly floated the Stars-and-stripes, and in each stripe, and on every star was writ-ten Protection."

of the Holy Innocents, which commemorates the death of the little innocent children of Bethlehem by the command of Herod.

The poor of the city have been well taken care of this Christmas and we believe are generally a subject of deep colicitude on the part of our benevolently inclined citizens, but we are decidedly of the opinion that some remunerative mployment furnished to the poorer classes, by which they might become more self-dependent and self-sustaining extremely desirable. It is right and proper that we pay the tithes of mint and cummin, but abould not forget the weightier matters of the law, and every community with an actively employed populate neurily have but few recipients of actual charity and no great amount of absect powerty.
