LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
J. A. GUION—National Bank report.
J. C. WHITTY—Gilbert force pump.

Journal Winnture Almanac.
Sun rises, 7:10 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 5:38 | 9 hours, 53 minutes.
Moon rises at 6:38 p. m.

Cold again.
Dismal Swamp Lottery draws on 17th.
John C. Whitty gives some puffs in this issue for the Gilbert force pump. He says it never freezes.
Seven marriage licences were issued by the Register of Deeds during the past week, four to colored and three to white couples.

The plate factory, which has been suspended since the cold snap, on account of the steam pipes freezing and bursting, will resume work this week.

C. B. Keeler returns thanks to Capt. Simmons and officers of the revenue cutter for recent favors. Chickens for shooting match will be hatched about April the 1st.

We hear of three more broken rails on the A. & N. C. Railroad during the last week. If a lease of the road is not made soon we hope to announce the fact that Col. Whitford is putting down new rails and otherwise improving the road-bed.

The Lecture To-Morrow Night.

Dr. Milburn's subject for Monday night at the Theatre will be "What a blind man saw in England." From the press notices given him throughout this country and England we expect such a literary treat as is seldom enjoyed by the people of this city. The proceeds of these lectures are to be applied to the repairing and refitting of Neuse street M. E. Church, and we trust they will be liberally patronized by our citizens.

Backed Out.

A colored man appeared in the Register's office yesterday and wanted to return some marriage license which he procured sometime in November last, but had been unable to obtain a wife, his affianced having given him the slipper. The Register informed him that he could not take them back, but that they were good for one year and probably his sweetheart would change her mind again before the year was out. He scratched his head and retired.

Sudden Deaths.

Amos Starkey, colored, of James City, aged about 50, while crossing the railroad bridge yesterday morning, when near 3d pier from this side, fell dead across the ties. Coroner Bates summoned a jury of inquest who returned a verdict of "death from heart disease."
On Friday night Hannah Simmons, colored, aged about 70, residing near Bethel church in this city, was found dead in her bed. Coroner Bates summoned a jury who viewed the body and rendered a verdict of "death from some cause unknown to the jury."

Church Services.

Presbyterian Church.—Services by the Pastor, Rev. L. C. Vass. Sermon at 11 a. m. on the Home Work of the Church, Sustentation etc. Sabbath school at a quarter before 3 p. m., Superintendent, Wm. Hollister. No other service in this church to-day, as the congregation will join in the Union meeting of the Evangelical Alliance to be held in the M. E. Church to-night, and addressed by Rev. Dr. Milburn.
Christ's Church.—V. W. Shields, Rector. First Sunday after Epiphany. Holy Communion at 8 a. m. Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 8:30 p. m. The public are always invited to the services of this church.
Baptist Church.—Rev. C. A. Jenkins, Pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Seats free, and the public cordially invited to attend. The communion of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated after the morning service.

Furman's Formula.

We intended, in response to the request of a Maple Cypress farmer published in the JOURNAL several days ago, to republish Furman's formula for making manure, but when we came to examine it as published last spring, we found so many serious errors in it—having been published during our absence—that we concluded best not to publish until we got the correct copy. In the meantime a "piney woods farmer," one of our practical and progressive ones, comes forward with a formula which no doubt is quite as good and practicable as Furman's. We desire, and intend, to make the JOURNAL both interesting and profitable to farmers, and we know of no better way of doing this than by getting our best farmers to give through its columns their actual experience on the farm in such matters as crop raising, raising stock, etc. We thank "Piney Woods" for this contribution and trust that others may follow his example.

Canning Establishment.
Mr. Thos. H. Coakley, manager of the firm of Moore & Brady, oyster packers, arrived last night from Baltimore and proposes to open the canning establishment in about a week. Success to them.

Methodist Church.
Rev. Dr. Milburn, "The Blind Man Eloquent," will preach in the Methodist Church to-day at 11 o'clock a. m. and also at 7 p. m.

The National Bank of New Berne.
We publish to-day the statement of the National Bank of New Berne at the close of business, December 31st, 1883, and feel gratified at the very healthy condition shown to exist in this institution.

We have before spoken of the qualifications of the officers and managers of this corporation, but think the exhibit speaks more eloquently than anything we could say in praise of the excellent management of these gentlemen. The surplus fund and undivided profits exceed fifty per cent of the capital and at once establishes a high value on the shares, and proves that it is a safe place to deposit any surplus our citizens may have in hand and an excellent investment if they can find any of the stock for sale.

Formula for Manure.

Maple Cypress Farmer. In answer to "Maple Cypress Farmer," will say that I tried kainit, acid phosphate and cotton seed meal last year for corn and cotton, and it did well in comparison with other manures. It did well on swamp land under corn, and showed, as good or better under cotton on high land, than a more costly fertilizer. I think, from last year's experience, that a good preparation would be:

Acid Phosphate,	100 pounds,	$1.50
Kainit,	100 "	0.75
Cotton Seed Meal,	100 "	1.25
	300	$3.50

The above for one acre, either corn or cotton, and is the cheapest commercial fertilizer that I know of. Mix in a large box on rainy days and apply any time from now till cotton planting time. For upland corn it would be better to put another 100 pounds of cotton seed meal, apply one-half at planting time and one-half when corn is 18 inches high in deep side furrow. For swamp corn use just as for cotton at planting time.
Now a word to all farmers. Sow oats, "rust proof," on all your land that can be spared from "King Cotton," and do not be afraid to rob him a little; fence off so as to turn hogs on after the grain is cut; you will find it a cheaper way to get most than from Cincinnati. Oats need no hoe work; sow now and they will take care of self till harvest and then they can be cared for very cheaply. You get your corn and fodder in the house all at once, and do not have to wait till the fall for feed. Oats require less money to make and harvest than any crop I ever tried. They give a quick return and my experience is they improve land. If cattle and horses are turned on the stubble, do not say that oats ruined your land, for it will be the cattle and horses by skimming it.

Yours respectfully,
A PINEY WOODS FARMER.

An Alabama wedding is thus described: "The bridal march was played by Will Corley on a harmonica. The groom was attired in a hickory-stripe shirt and copper-colored pants, and on his arm was gently suspended his bride, like a clear-rind side of bacon or bushel of meal."

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Durham Recorder: Durham now boasts of five drug stores and eight doctors.—5,000,000 pounds of tobacco was manufactured by the Blackwell Durham Tobacco Co., during the past year.
Greensboro North State: The railroad from Greensboro to Winston transported nearly 28,000,000 pounds of freight during the year 1883, being an increase of 3,000,000 pounds over 1882.—The school fund, as apportioned by the Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday last, amounts to $1.25 per capita for the scholastic year.

Durham Tobacco Plant: On Tuesday the Board of Commissioners for Durham county made an apportionment of the public school money. The sum of $2.50 was apportioned to each child between the age of six and twenty-one. With this fund most of the districts in the county will be able to employ the best teachers and run ten months. The district composed of the town of Durham has 586 white children and gets $1,465. We do not believe there is another county that can make a similar exhibit on the school question. If there is, we would be glad to hear of it.

Albemarle Enquirer: The coldest snap in two years. The bay was partly frozen over.—A crazy inmate set the jail on fire on Sunday night. The flames were discovered and extinguished, however.
—A robber entered the bed room of Capt. F. W. Bond on Monday night last and stole over an hundred dollars out of his pants pocket.—We heard one of our neighbors say this week that a Northern firm had authorized him to put $75,000 in securities in this section. People, enterprise and capital will build up the country, and all are fast coming in spite of the croakers.

Raleigh Farmer and Mechanic: Newspaper man, who are constantly looking over the papers, notice many curious occurrences. We alluded last week to the succession of tragedies in the Watkins connection in Northern Wake.—one young man accidentally killed by his brother; another killed in mistake by a midnight assassin, etc. Now comes the death of Jesse Watkins, aged 50, the Neuse River Hermit. He was indicted at last term of Wake court for the killing of Gray Strickland, in Neuse township, during the war. We are not acquainted with the particulars. It may be remembered, also, that Mr. Peebles, the man who so narrowly escaped the lurking bullet, is a relative of Deputy Sheriff Peebles, for whose murder the negro—was hanged last year.

Clinton Caucasian: The thermometer registered 2 degrees above zero in Clinton last Sunday morning at sunrise.—Large numbers of able-bodied colored men are leaving this section for the turpentine orchards of Georgia.—Booker Underwood, colored, recently killed a horned owl which measured three feet, ten inches from tip to tip of the wings.—Marshall Davis, colored, convicted of larceny at the last term of the Inferior Court of this county, and sentenced to five years imprisonment in the penitentiary, has escaped from that institution.—A contemporary says that one of our J. P.'s recently issued a writ of habeas corpus for a calf. That paper is the boss joker of the North Carolina press. We stick to facts. They are bad enough. One of them did recently issue summary proceedings in ejectment to recover the possession of some empty, turpentine barrels.

Carteret Telephone: The schooner "Guldereleeve" had a narrow escape from destruction on Wednesday. She attempted to beat in the harbor against the wind, and missed stays, going on a leeward shoal where the sea was tremendous, but by skillful management and a good tide, after stopping a few moments, she was forced across the reef and made a safe anchorage.—We are informed by Mr. Marshall P. Green that the N. C. Oil & Guano Company of which he is a member, have caught and manipulated nine million, five hundred thousand menhaden since they established themselves in Carteret county. Their freights northward have amounted to over $1,100, and they have on hand at present about two hundred and fifty tons of scrap. This is the largest catch made by any sailing gear on the Atlantic coast.

Mr. Walter S. Nelson, Monroe, N. C., says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for indigestion and sick stomach. It entirely relieved me."

Kinston Items.

Secular music cannot be played on Sunday on an upright piano.
The weather is moderating a little. It is high time for a little moderation.
There are a few things in this world more rasping than a file of unpaid bills.
College students in Siam are allowed two wives. This is the Siamese method of hazing.
Sheriff Davis, as usual, before court week, is covering the floor of the court house with saw dust. When Judge Shepherd comes along in the spring, he will have to sweep it out and put down matting. Judge Shepherd is not a saw dust judge.
The general dry goods and grocery business of C. Gray will hereafter be conducted, at the old stand, in the name of Cummings and Gray, Jas. B. Cummings having been promoted to the head of the house by his honest and faithful attention to the business interest of his employer. Hub. W. Cummings is engaged with them as salesman, where he will often illustrate that "truth is stronger than fiction."

The Good Book says there is more joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth than over ninety and nine just persons who need no repentance. There is more fuss in this world over one improper and immoral person who does not repent than anxiety to save from destruction hundreds and thousands of good girls who work hard for an honest living. It would be better to expand the charitable feeling and diffuse a little sunshine into the lives of those who toil long hours for low wages, to let them feel that they belong to the human family and are not forgotten by their more fortunate sisters.

The cases of L. A. Roberson and N. P. Roberson, charged with violating the internal revenue laws of the United States, were heard before U. S. Commissioner, Perry, last Thursday. The government was represented by District Attorney, W. S. O'Brien Robinson and the defendants by J. N. F. Wooten, Esq. L. A. Roberson was finally discharged, while his father, N. P. Roberson, was bound over to April term, 1884, of the United States District Court at New Berne. Emanuel Benton, colored, was committed to Wayne county jail, in default of bail of $1,000, for his appearance at same court, charged with false swearing in the above cases.

Why a Mule Watched and Waited.

A mountaineer named Sinclair was arraigned before the mayor yesterday morning on charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He had drawn a pistol on a woman and was arrested by Sergeant Hill, who searched him and found the pistol in his pocket. He was mad at being arrested, and on reaching the guard house, he made a snap at Sergeant Hill's thumb and bit it severely. The mayor put him under a bond of $40 to appear before the Inferior court, and Sinclair asked for the services of a lawyer to fix up a mortgage for his bond. He stated that on Monday night, he left his mule tied to his wagon in a vacant lot at Davidson College and it was in all probability still standing there without water or feed and he was particularly anxious to give bond so as to get away and look after his patient and long suffering mule. He fixed up the mortgage in due form and on being released, made a bee line for Davidson College, hastening to the relief of his mule.—Charlotte Observer.

THE LATEST NEWS.

LONDON, January 11.—The iron masters of Cleveland and Yorkshire, owing to the depression in the pig iron market are making arrangements to extinguish the fires in twenty iron furnaces, in the belief that they will accomplish an advance in prices.

LYNCHBURG, VA., January 11.—Mrs. Carr, wife of a farmer of Boonsborough, Bedford county, suicided to-day by shooting herself through the head in the presence of her two children.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., January 11.—Hon. W. P. Rathburn, president of the First National Bank of this city, died this morning. Mr. Rathburn is well known throughout the country as the leading capitalist in this section.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—James J. Lane, formerly of Newberry, S. C., now residing in this city, has presented to President Dreher, of Roanoke College, Va., one thousand dollars to establish a prize scholarship in English language and literature in that institution.

HONG KONG, January 11.—The authorities have blockaded Canton river between the city of Canton and the Bogue forts, leaving only a navigable passage ninety feet in width. Calls have also been issued for recruits for the Chinese army.

Some say "Consumption can't be cured." Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, as proved by forty years experience, will cure this disease when not already advanced beyond the reach of medical aid. Even then its use affords very great relief, and insures refreshing sleep.

It is not until a man has become the father of triplets that he realizes what a blessing the protective tariff would be if it could be made to apply in all cases.

A Remedy for Lung Diseases.
Dr. Robert Newton, late President of the Eclectic College, of the city of New York, and formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam very extensively in his practice, as many of his patients, now living, and restored to health by the use of this invaluable medicine, can amply testify. He always said that so good a remedy ought to be prescribed freely by every physician as a sovereign remedy in all cases of lung diseases. It cures Consumption, and has no equal for all pectoral complaints.
