1884. Harper's Magazine, ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE begins its sixty-eighth the power of any machine, from a clock to a steamship, without using an ounce more fuel than usual, or driving the motive power any faster than ordinary. The discovery consists in combining the action of the screw, the inclined plane and one other form which, like Mr. Keeley, he refuses to mention.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE begins its slxty-eighth volume with the December Number. It is the most popular illustrated periodical in America and England, always fully abreast of the times in its treatment of subjects of current social and industrial interest, and always advancing its standard of literary, artistic and inechanical excellence. Among its attractions for ISSI are: a new serial novel by William Black, illustrated by Abbey; a new novel by E-P. Roc, illustrated by Gibson and Dielman: descriptive illustrated papers by George H. Broughton, Frank D. Millet, C. H. Farnham, and others; important historical and biographical papers; short stories by W. D. Howells, Charles Reade, etc.

Programme for 1883-'84.

The programme for the fourteenth year of this magazine, and the third under the new name, is if anything more interesting and popular than ever. With every season The Certrary shows a decided gain in circulation. The new volume begins with November, and, when possible, subscriptions should begin with that issue. The following are some of the features of the coming year:

A New Novel, by George W. Cable, anthor of "Old Creele Days," etc., entitled "Dr. Sevier," a story of New Orleans life, the time being the eve of the late Civil War.

"Life in the Thirteen Colonies," by Edward Eggleston, separate illustrated papers on subjects connected with the early history of this country.

Three Stories by Henry James, of varying lengths, to appear through the year.

The New Astronomy, untechnical articles, by Prof, S. P. Langley, describing the most interesting of recent discoveries in the sun and stars.

A Novelette by H. H. Boyesen, author of "Gunnar," etc. A vivid and sparkling story.

The New Era in American Architecture, a series of papers descriptive of the best work of American architects in Public Buildings, tity and Country Houses, etc. To be profusely illustrated.

A Novelette by Rebert Grant, author of "Confessions of a Frivolous Giri," etc., entitled "An Average Man," a story of New York. The Brend-winners, one of the most remarkable novels of the day, to be completed in January.

"Christianity and Wealth," with other essays, by the author of "The Christian League of Connecticut," etc., on the application, of Christian morals to the present phases of modern life.

Coasting About the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a series of entertalning articles, profusely illustrated.
