Another way to aid the Exposition is to subscribe to the capital stock of the company. In asking aid in this respect we can only appeal to the patriotism and State pride of those who are able to aid the enterprise. They cannot hope for any direct return for the investment, at the same time they cannot afford to let the Exposition be a failure. The Boston exhibit gave our good old State a boom; let us take the flood at its tide and turn the advantage thus gained to good account. We hope to see the East come up manfally to the sid of the Association and help to make an Exposition that will be creditable to the State in atively small cost. "The captain couldn't see it, the sailors couldn't see it, but they put ashore in a boat. There they landed. Nobody in sight. All imagination on the lady's part, they thought; but walking about a little they came to an almost naked creature, black with the sun, worn to a shadow with starvation, the bit of a torn shirt he had been waving lying beside him; for he was too weak to lift it again.

Jeffrey's treatment made great changes for the better in the treatment of sailors, and checked much illegal pressing, and that he married an English girl, and was for a time a sort of popular hero.

Misfortane, however, still followed him; his schooner was wrecked, he died of a terrible cold campt at the time of his disaster, and his wife and child became the objects of public charity.

His grave is still to be seen in a churchyard near Cornwall. Below his name are these words. "Governor of Sombrero." It is said they were added by his own re-

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold, and neglect it. Abernethy, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you have? The plague?" Beware of "only coughs." The worst case can, however, be cured by Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. In Whooping Cough and Croup it immediately allays irritation, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by druggists.
