Entered at the Post Office at New Bern, N. C., as second-class matter.

BELFORD, of Colorado, seems to be the noisy man of the House at Washington. In denouncing the rules of the House, and contending that each member should be allowed a clerk, on Thursday last, his arms became as much like those of a wind mill that Congressman Tilman had to dodge out from under them and seek safety in a seat more remote from the speaker.

SENATOR VANCE is on the Committee to investigate the Danville riot. Our esteemed contemporary, the Norfolk Landmark, has this to say of him:

Governor Vance, of all others, is the man in whose hands we are willing to leave the good name and interests of Virginia. By way of showing what manner of man our accuser is, he can bring the Petersburg scenes before the public; and we hope he will do this at the proper time. By this means he will make a contribution to the biography of General MARBLE, to the history of the times, and explain, in part, the sort of behavior we have had from the leader of the "Coalition."

In the Senate, on Thursday last Mr. BECK introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Civil Service to enquire into the cause of removing John Dudley, col., who had been employed by the Senate. He asked that the resolution lie over until Friday, when he would be able to show that it was a most wanton case of dismissal of a very competent man. It would doubtless surprise many colored people at the South, who may read this item, to know that Senator BECK is one of the leading Democrats of the Senate, yet he is ready to take up the cudgel for a colored man whenever injustice is about to be done. The time is coming, and we think it now is, that Northern Republicans will care but little for negro votes, and when their votes cease to be of vital importance in a national election there will be nothing more about "civil rights."

POLITICAL RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

In discussing the Rules of the House on Thursday last, Mr. WHITE, of Kentucky, offered an amendment to Rule X to create a Committee consisting of eleven members on the "Political Rights of Women." He addressed the House on the subject for seven minutes and was followed by Mr. OUTCHERON for one minute. SAM RANDALL knocked their props from under them by reminding them that the House had already adjudicated the question, having taken a vote on the same on the 20th of December last, which vote showed 85 in favor and 124 against. Mr. WHITE ought to have been present when the Kentucky Legislature elected a State Librarian.

A BAD SHOWING.

Georgia's penitentiary now contains 1,323 prisoners—the largest number ever recorded on the registry at one time. The large percentage of the criminals is made up of young negroes, among whom crime is on the increase.—Charleston News and Courier.

On this the Wilmington Star remarks: "We call attention to the fact that of the 1,323 convicts a large percentage is made up of young negroes," and it is added that among this class "crime is on the increase." So freedom has brought vice and crime to this class. A New York druggist told us recently that he had visited several penitentiaries south of us, and found that a majority of the criminals were young negroes who had been reared under the supposed advantages of freedom and education. He was the son of a noted abolitionist and was a Republican himself, and he was surprised to find that under freedom vice had increased alarmingly among the colored people. There are, we believe, one hundred criminal acts among the negroes now for every one that was committed in time of slavery. Liberty with negroes has meant in thousands of cases license to crime."

Idleness begets crime. We have often called attention to the number of idle boys in this city who are frequently before the Mayor for some petty crime who ought to be at work on a farm or in a shop. Not long since a gentleman from Massachusetts was in our office and asked why so many of these were allowed to remain in idleness, at the same time remarking that it would not be tolerated for a day in his town. But what can we do with them?

A BOOM FOR FLOWERS.

The New York Sun having failed to work up a presidential boom for HOLMAN, is now trying to accomplish a similar feat for Hon. ROSEWELL P. FLOWERS, of that State. Since the election of Mr. CARLISLE, as Speaker of the House, which was accepted as a pronouncement of tariff reform, the Sun has not been very hopeful of Democratic success in the next presidential contest. Before that it's slogan was "Turn the rascals out." "The Republican party is going fast," etc. But now it says, "The Republican party ought to go." But it is to be hoped that the Democrats may yet unite upon a platform that will be as acceptable to the Sun as that of 1876, and select a candidate that will sweep the country as did TILDEN.

The Democratic party cannot afford to go into the canvass without the support of the Sun, indeed it will be necessary to harmonize every element of the party to insure success. They have relied on New York for candidates for the last sixteen years, but have not succeeded yet in getting one into the White House. With the administration of Mr. ARTHUR maybe the luck will change from Ohio to New York and perhaps it would be safer for the Democrats to again risk its chances with a candidate from the Empire State than to undertake to make a break in the Western Republican States. The Sun thinks the FLOWERS boom has taken a long step forward in that he has struck hands with Gov. CLEVELAND and will get the support of the State Administration.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

February 9th, 1884.

The week's record in Congress is easily made up. The Senate talked about the new Congressional library building and the removal of the Naval Monument, near the west entrance of the Capitol grounds; discussed the questions of Mexican land grant titles; Pleuro-Pneumonia among cattle, and copyright. Mr. Morrison's tariff bill reached the House early in the week. That body spent two days in fruitless debate on its new rules and parliamentary procedure; defeated the proposition to exclude lobbying ex-members from the House floor; defeated a scheme for mingling indignation, and pleasure in a proposed excursion to the Arkansas Hot Springs to investigate the wicked contractors and enjoy the baths; and listened to Representative Belford plead ludicrously for clerks to aid poor but honest Congressmen to attend to public business. The Western Press Association memorialized Congress to reduce postage on transient newspapers to one cent for four ounces, and a new bill presented in the House provides for punishing by fine every person in the District of Columbia or in any Territory of the United States, who shall advertise any lottery tickets or share in the sale of lottery tickets. Among bills favorably reported from committees this week, were several in behalf of the working classes; notably one from the Senate committee on Education and Labor, providing that eight hours shall constitute a day's labor for workmen and mechanics in government employ, and that laborers shall be paid per hour, one-eighth of the wages paid per day. The subject of labor reminds me of a large mass meeting of working men which I attended at Lincoln hall the other night. The auditorium was crowded and the platform occupied by representatives of various labor organizations. There were ringing speeches in defense of the rights of labor, and a long list of resolutions were adopted. The first speaker was Mr. Foster, of Boston, the widely known labor advocate. In the course of his remarks, he said that labor saving machinery threw ten thousand American workmen out of employment yearly.

That, though Congress had ignored the workingman legislative bodies would be compelled to answer the demands of labor. He said preparations were now being made to organize an international labor union which would be the most commanding body in the world, and that the bone and muscle of the country would in that way meet the organizations of capitalists. He alleged that all taxes were paid by the working classes, and that even the thirty-six pairs of white kid gloves furnished Senators to attend the funeral of one man were paid for by the horny handed toiler. The next speaker was Mr. Maguire, master workman of the Knights of Labor of New York. He animadverted sarcastically upon politicians, who, he said, claimed that laborers need no intellect, no morality nor heart. He thought Congress ought to be numbered so that it can be known when they are in their seats attending to business.

Dr. Thomas next addressed the meeting saying unless Congress enacted laws to prevent the importation of foreign pauper labor into the United States, a revolutionary war would shake the country. He spoke of the power of the laboring classes in the next political campaign, and advocated the enforcement of the eight hour law. Another speaker followed, and all these remarks were interspersed with applause and music by a band. The first levee of the season was held at the White House Tuesday evening. It was the most notable crush of the season and during the two hours of its continuance nearly three thousand people shook hands with the President, who wore a crimson rose bud boutonniere with his evening suit, and white kid gloves which were well grimed before the hand shaking was half over. A striking feature of the scene was a party of six Flathead Indians in their bright blankets, feathers, spangles and war paint, who presented a vivid picture of barbarism contemplating semi-civilization as they stood in line against the wall of the Blue Room facing the receiving party.

A party of Illinois journalists came and went during the week. In a body they saw the sights of Washington, were banqueted by the Congressional delegation from that State, figured in the President's reception, and visited the tomb of Washington, in a United States war vessel.

THE BEST TONIC MEDICINE—ONE THAT IS NOT COMPOSED MOSTLY OF ALCOHOL OR WHISKEY—IS BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

It is guaranteed to be non-intoxicating and will absolutely kill all desire for whiskey and other intoxicants. It has been thoroughly tested and proven itself in every instance a never-failing cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumptive diseases, liver complaints, kidney troubles, etc.

Our Charming Countrywomen are winning an enviable distinction for their fine teeth. This, they in great measure owe to the beautifying and restorative influence of Soso-dont, the most popular preparation for the teeth on this continent. It removes from the dental surface every impurity, checks decay and enables the teeth to masticate without contaminating the food, thus indirectly contributing to healthful nutrition. It effectually neutralizes an unpleasant odor of the breath.

A Case Not Beyond Hope. Dr. M. H. Hinsdale, Kenavue, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from quick consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one half-dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work."
