A heavy shower on yesterday, with thunder and lightning.

Regular meeting of Trent Council No. 411 Royal Arcanum to-night.

We wonder what widower sent the valentine yesterday representing a head lost and a heart won?

Up to time of going to press last night our partner had received about one dozen valentines and several counties to be heard from.

The city government has secured a number of cypress post to be put up at the different crossings in the city to protect the sidewalks and lamp post.

Teacher of Adv. First Grade inquired: "What is an uncle?" Little Miss Morgan quickly replied, "Your grand-mother's son." Is Webster's definition better?

H. R. Bryan, Esq., returned on Wednesday night from a visit to the work on the Western North Carolina Railroad. He says the work is being pushed forward in the direction of Murphy.

Friend Daniels, of the Free Press, announces his purpose to celebrate the birthday of his paper by enlarging and improving. We congratulate him on the success he has achieved in the JOURNAL's native town.

We print elsewhere a card from Mr. B. H. Ippock, which explains itself as well as the fact that he was not watchman on the cotton yard when the recent larcenies were committed. It is to be hoped he will not be "entitled on the street about it," any more.

The police station was crowded with spectators yesterday evening to hear the case of State vs. Thos. Page, for the larceny of cotton. We had no idea there were so many gentlemen of leisure in the city. Maybe, however, a rainy day affords leisure in the city as well as in the country.

Gen. R. D. Hancock has been designated by Adjutant-General Johnstone Jones as one of the five delegates of North Carolina to attend the meeting of the National Guard Association to be held at Cincinnati on the 26th and 27th of March next. We take it a merited compliment and trust the General will be able to attend.

Personal.

H. James Best, the popular commercial tourist of Baltimore, is at the Gaston House.

Col. Pardee is in the city. He reports that everything is promising in the central part of the State for the Exposition.

W. S. O. B. Robinson, Esq., is in the city.

Steamer Arrivals.

The Cutler, from Hookerton, with a cargo of cotton.

The Blanche, from Snow Hill, with a full cargo of cotton.

The Kinston, from Kinston, with cotton, cotton seed, corn, hides, beef cattle and passengers.

The Edin City, from Bayboro, with freight and passengers.

The Head of Navigation Road.

We have a communication concerning the road question at the head of navigation of Little Swift creek the publication of which we do not think will accomplish any good. We can not see why the county commissioners do not settle the question. A discussion through our paper might lead to personalities and make matters worse instead of better.

Fancy Dress Ball.

We acknowledge with thanks an invitation to a fancy dress ball to be given complimentary to the Old Maids' Club by the young bachelors of the city, at Lowthrop Hall, on the 20th inst. The affair promises to be an enjoyable one, and will no doubt be largely attended by those who are fond of tripping the light fantastic. Messrs. O. H. Guion, C. S. Hollister, W. E. Clarke and E. K. Bryan, Jr., are the committee.

Mayor's Court.

The case of Thos. Page, for stealing cotton from the bales on the cotton platform, was called up at 4 o'clock yesterday evening before His Honor Mayor Howard. Mr. Geo. H. White appeared for the defendant and Clement Manly and Wm. Whitford, Esq., for the State. The main evidence against the defendant was given by Briester Pighman, who was committed on the day before for the same offense, and Norris Green, the Juror. After argument by the counsel His Honor held Page in the sum of three hundred dollars, justified, for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court. Failing to give the required bond, he was sent to jail.

Rev. Dr. Milburn.

We give with pleasure the following letter from Dr. Milburn:

RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 12th, 1884.

My DEAR DR. BURKHEAD:—Your kind letter and Mr. T's telegram have just reached me, D. V. You may expect me by the train on Saturday p. m., the 23d inst. I shall be delighted to preach for you on Sunday, the 24th, and to lecture on the three following days. The ladies shall have Stonewall Jackson on Monday. Kinston was anxious for me to preach on Sunday, which is the reason I wrote as I did. I am very well again and my voice quite natural. We had crowded congregations here on Sunday and a capital audience at the first lecture on last night. With best regards for your family and my friends, and heartfelt love for yourself, I am ever, my dear Dr., Sincerely yours,
W. H. MILBURN.

Complaint About Wharf Room.

One of our city wood dealers writes a communication on the improper use, he thinks, of the wharf at the foot of Metcalf street. The grievance seems to be that boats lay there and retail wood and pile it up on the wharf to the exclusion of the tax paying dealer. This is a question that we think has two sides to it, and much might be argued on either. The city certainly should afford facilities to country people to market their products, and if they wish to give the consumer the advantage of buying from first hands, it would also appear to be but right that the consumer should also be accommodated with wharf room to receive the same. The public wharves are for public use and we have frequently heard complaints that dealers trespass sometimes on the convenience of others by using these places for their own purposes to the exclusion of others.

The matter, however, is not a serious one and will be easily settled satisfactorily to all by the Mayor and his officers if brought to their attention.

Goods Afloat.

On yesterday Nixon, Simmons & Manly, attorneys for Northern creditors of the late firm of Wm. Saltan & Co., having discovered that goods were concealed in the roof of the Weinstein building, gave the information to the assignee, Geo. Green, Esq., who immediately took out legal process to obtain possession of the goods. The legal process, however, was unnecessary, as the fact of their concealment was so apparent that they were surrendered without it. The goods, to the amount of about $4,000 were taken out, superintended by Geo. Green, Jr., and Joseph Kinsey, and carried to the store of Messrs. Geo. Allen & Co. for safe keeping.

An honest failure in a town or city is to be regretted. But a deliberate purpose to defraud creditors is not only to be regretted, but it is damaging to the credit of the town and damaging to the honest merchant, being the means of flooding the market with cheap goods. We do not say that such has been the purpose of any one who has been forced to make an assignment of their goods, but the discovery made yesterday certainly looks like crooked proceedings on the part of some one, and we feel that we owe it to the honest business men of this community to publicly condemn and expose it. The assignee of the aforesaid firm is an honorable man and we are informed acted promptly in the matter as soon as the information reached him.

A Winter Health Resort.

A week ago we published the analysis of Professor Kerr of the Alam Spring, in Onslow county. Since then we have obtained from Colonel McGhee, the efficient head of the Board of Agriculture, sundry statistics compiled by Mr. T. C. Harris, of the State Geological Rooms, of the statistics on file there through a series of years. These show that the mean annual temperature of New Berne is 61.98 degrees Fahrenheit, and of Wilmington, 63 degrees Fahrenheit; the mean annual rainfall of this city is 76.5 while that of Wilmington is 62.4. The comparative humidity of the climate of this section as contrasted with other places South is as follows: Wilmington, 57; Charlotte, 65; New Orleans, 66, and St. Louis, 67.

Now examine the following tabulation of annual temperature and rainfall for this highly favored section.

NEWBERN.
(Mean Ann'l Temp. 61.98°) Rainfall, Ann'l, 76.5.
Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter.
Temp. 59 78 65 46
Rain. 17.4 22.3 16.8 20.1

WILMINGTON.
(Mean Ann'l Temp. 63°) Rainfall, Ann'l, 62.4.
Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter.
Temp. 62 79 63 48
Rain. 11.9 19.1 17.5 14.6

Rainfall is expressed in inches and tenths. Temperature—Fahrenheit's thermometer. From the above we see that the country in Onslow, between Catherine Lake and Alam Spring, which is about midway between this city and Wilmington, has a climate and all other conditions suited to the needs of Northern invalids, add to this its attractions, because of boating, driving, fishing and hunting facilities, and we challenge the world to produce its equal as a winter resort for the invalid, the sportsman, or the mere pleasure seeker.

Meeting of the Grand Lodge—The Order in a Flourishing Condition.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias of North Carolina met at 10:30 a. m. in the new castle hall of Center Lodge, No. 3. Grand Chancellor E. G. Harrell presiding, with the following officers: G. P. C., J. L. H. Millisier; G. V. C., W. T. Hollowell; G. P., J. W. Moore; G. M. of E., R. T. Scanlin; G. K. of R. and S., John L. Dudley; G. M. at A., J. C. Brewster; G. I. G., J. F. Cordes, pro tem; G. O. G., E. M. Pavie, pro tem.

The committee on credentials having reported the following P. C's were admitted and duly obligated: A. Broadfoot, Chas. McKimmon, J. M. Sherwood, No. 8; E. B. Hackburn, No. 8; Washington Gill, No. 27.

The G. C. H. D. C. C's, G. K. of R. S. and G. M. of E. were read and referred to a special committee for distribution.

The G. C. introduced in very flattering terms the Supreme Chancellor of Knights of Pythias, and requested him to favor the lodge with his views as to the condition of the order in general. The S. C. replied in a very complimentary and flattering manner as to the condition of the order, including the endowment rank and uniform division, especially the latter, which he says is increasing in all directions at a very rapid rate, giving also the number of members of the order as 140,000. The S. C. was requested to exemplify the unwritten work at the evening session, but owing to the necessity of his leaving earlier than he had anticipated, it was exemplified at the afternoon session. After nominations for the various offices the lodge took a recess until to-day at 10 o'clock. At an informal meeting held at night the representatives of the various lodges gave brief statements as to the working and standing of their respective lodges, and all the reports were very satisfactory. The Grand Lodge is in good financial condition, with a neat sum of money on hand.—News and Observer.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Kinston Free Press: Five new brick stores, are to be built in Kinston this spring, and all five of them are to be two stories high. Kinston boometh.—Messrs. John F. Cox and Buck Patrick, of Onslow, passed through Kinston last week, with Miss Agnes Parker, taking her up to the Insane Asylum, at Raleigh. The young lady is only about twenty years of age has thus been taken to the Asylum, where it is hoped the terrible band of insanity may be removed from her brain.

Elizabeth City Economist: We can name fifty men in this county and more, who are making money and laying up money, every year, by farming, and yet persons say that farming don't pay now. It does pay and it's about the only thing that does pay. Young man stick to the farm.—Rev. G. W. Sanderlin, our progressive farmer, came on the Shenandoah on Saturday, with his principal manager from Wayne county, and eleven picked farm laborers for his farm at California. He means business and means to make farming pay.—There is no better sign of the thrift of a community than fat, sleek, well-kept horses. Tried by that test, our farming community would seem to be thrifty, for they certainly drive fine, fat horses into town.

Sweet Gum.

When we consider the medical authority of the world recognizing our SWEET GUM to be the finest stimulating expectorant known, and that the proprietor of TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLIN has the formula of the Cherokee Nation of incorporating the sweet gum with the tea of the mullen plant of the old fields—which many of our readers will remember our grandmothers making under the direction of the old family physician for croup, whooping cough and colds—it is no wonder that TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLIN is producing such effective cures in Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all Bronchial Affections. For sale by all leading druggists, 25c and $1.00. Manufactured by WALTER A. TAYLOR, Atlanta, Ga., Proprietor Taylor's Premium Cologne. d&wfefdm

GENERAL NEWS.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Feb. 11.—In the second ice yacht race for the Dr. Barron cup this morning, the starters were Aeolus, Icicle, Jack Frost, Jessie B., and Flash. Jack Frost won easily, and having thus won the cup the second time, it will be kept by her owner, Archibald Rogers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A delegation of Apaches from the San Carlos reservation called upon the Commissioner of Indian Affairs today. They expressed themselves as much pleased with their visit to the Carlisle and Hampton Indian schools, and said they intended to devote their attention to agriculture.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The Senate sub-committee, composed of Senators Hoar, Cameron of Wisconsin, Frye, Salisbury, and Jonas, will leave Washington to-morrow for Jackson, Miss. They will thence proceed to Copiah county, and after looking over the ground there will probably return to New Orleans as their headquarters for examination of witnesses. They wish to complete their work and return to Washington before March 1. The sub-committee that will investigate the Danville trouble will begin their work at Washington next Wednesday. They will probably visit Danville before their labors are concluded.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 11.—In the Criminal Court this morning State Attorney Wallace dismissed the case against Frank James and Charles Ford on the charge of participation in the Blue Cut train robbery in 1881. The attorney submitted a statement in which he said that, owing to the refusal of Gov. Crittenden to pardon Dick Liddell, the State was deprived of his testimony and also of valuable corroborative evidence, hence he would be unable to make out a case. He added that the case at Gallatin for the bank robbery against James would be also dismissed, thus vacating all indictments in Missouri. The announcement created quite a ripple of surprise in the court room. James was immediately taken before Judge Krekel of the United States Court, where a hearing is now in progress on the charge of robbing the United States postmaster at Mussel Shoals, Ala.

On the conclusion of the hearing Judge Krekel held James, refusing bail for his appearance for trial. James will probably be taken to Alabama this week. He is now in the custody of a United States Marshal.

THE LATEST NEWS.

THE Western Floods. CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—A dispatch from Lawrenceburg says the wind last night was very destructive. Many houses were upset and great damage was done. Full reports have not yet been received. A special to the Times-Star from Aurora, Indiana, says: Up to 10 o'clock this morning no news had been received here from Lawrenceburg. Many houses were seen floating down the river this morning and the anxiety is great. The water here is now rising an inch an hour and more dwellings are tottering over.

CHATTANOOGA, Feb. 13.—A relief fund for the Ohio flood sufferers was started in this city to-day by the Daily Times, which headed the list with $100.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—At 1:30 p. m. the river marked 69 feet 11 inches. The rise varied during the forenoon from one-quarter to one-half an inch per hour.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 13.—A car-load of clothing and food was shipped to Belaire to-day.

At a citizens' meeting to-day a subscription list was circulated and Senator-elect Payne headed it with $1,000, and in a short time $4,000 was raised.
