Two old negroes become acquainted in a way that shames formality. Meeting for the first time, they look at each other. Then one remarks so the other can hear him:

William J. Coughlin of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with Bleeding of Lungs, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and fleeh, and was confined to my bed.
In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital.
The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when, to my surprize. I commenced to get well, and today I feel better than for three years."
