The Shenandoah carried out a good shipment of radishes yesterday.

We noticed a large bundle of cotton stalks on the Clyde wharf yesterday marked to a job factory North.

The sloop Nellie May, Capt. Sam Howland, arrived from Beaufort yesterday morning with a cargo of ice for Geo. N. Ives.

The auction sale of Mr. J. A. Snydam's household and kitchen furniture was postponed until to-day at 9 o'clock, when the sale will begin promptly at the corner of Middle and South Front streets.

Yesterday was examination day at the Graded School. We note with pleasure the rapid advancement of the little ones of the advanced first in reading and arithmetic. The second is quite efficient in geography.

The Graded School Library is being filled with excellent books, and Professor Thomas informs us that they are eagerly sought by the children and reading public. A good beginning has been made to supply a great need in this city.

Mr. A. M. Carroll, contractor for the erection of the spire on Christ Church, arrived on the Shenandoah yesterday morning from Baltimore with two assistants, and will begin the work at once. He is stopping at the Gaston House.

We call attention to the advertisement of Parker & Pele in this issue. Mr. Pele is well known in this city, having been several years a clerk in the Internal Revenue office. Goods consigned to this firm will be properly and promptly attended to.

Preparations are being made at the Shenandoah factory to increase the work. New boilers are being put up in order to furnish steam for the steam box, new tracks are laid for the cars, and every thing arranged for handling the stock with greater rapidity.

Mr. W. L. Guillaudou, assistant general freight agent of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, and wife of New York City, came in on the Shenandoah yesterday morning and took a drive through the city and to the truck farms. He was much pleased with the city. They returned on the Shenandoah in the evening.

Schooner Arrivals.

The Ohio, Wahab, from Sladesville with corn and cotton.

The Theresa, Williams, from German town with corn, cotton and sheep.

The Potter, Adams, with cotton, cattle and corn.

The cotton yard yesterday was cleaned of cotton except a solitary bale which stood as a faithful sentinel guarding the sleeping garrison, or as a monument to mark the place of departed worth.

Smoke-House Robbed.

We learn that E. S. Street, Esq., three miles from town, had the misfortune to have his smoke-house robbed on Thursday night, losing his entire year's supply of meats. The loss is a serious one and it is hoped that a guilty villain may be arrested and the property recovered.

Lightness Needed.

The Familio Enterprise adds the following to our item concerning lightness last week:

And the said navigators complain justly. The points mentioned should not longer be neglected. Let our members in Congress read Capt. Lupton's letter from Hog Island and "govern themselves accordingly."

But we think there is need for a light house nearer New Berne. There is a sharp bend at Wilkin's point about 18 miles below New Berne, where the Shenandoah makes a sharp elbow. The reef from this point projects out a quarter of a mile and then drops off suddenly to deep water. The ship channel makes up near the point of reef, and consequently, boats running the channel according to the chart go near the point of reef. If the night be cloudy and dark, or the day very foggy, there is great danger of boats running on this shoal. Because of the Baltimore line, as mentioned in heavy fog, we on this point of shoal and have to be lighted off, or else we are liable to fall into the sea. It is no more than to see large steamships, with their lights and flags, and the brilliant captain of Hyde coasting by.

More Burning in Pitt.

On Tuesday night last the barn and stables of Mr. Amos Cox of Pitt county, living within seven miles of Greenville, were burned with his entire stock of corn, forage and farming utensils. Mr. Cox is the son of the inventor of the "Cox Cotton Planter," and has the privilege of making the same for Pitt county. He had a good number of these planters on hand and saved them all but thirteen. The cause of the fire is unknown. It is the third or fourth instance of barn burning in that section of the county within six months.

Justice's Court.

Before Justice Brinson. Case of J. U. Smith vs. Job. L. Kinsey.

It appeared in evidence that some months ago the plaintiff Smith bought of the defendant Kinsey a number of bales of cotton and through an error in calculation—by the defendant it was claimed—the sum of ten dollars too much was paid.

The action was brought to recover the amount from the defendant, who pleads that in the transaction he acted only as a broker, or agent, of the owners of the cotton, handed the check over to them, to whom it was made payable by the plaintiff, and therefore not responsible.

Several witnesses were introduced to prove the custom prevailing at the Exchange, and from the evidence thus adduced there seems to be no established custom, each one having a custom for himself.

The plaintiff appeared for himself and the defence was conducted by O. H. Guion, Esq., of the firm of Holland & Guion. Decision reserved.

The Jewels in Court.

Friday was a sad day with the Panel. Early on Thursday it was announced that strife, bitter remorseless strife, had entered the peaceful domain of the cluster, and that a law suit was about to spring up from a soil in which it was thought impossible for even the seed to sprout.

Thunderings and mutterings as an approaching tornado, were frequently heard, brilliant flashes of electricity bedazzled the eyes of the members, and admonished them that the elements were marshalling their forces for some fearful shock to the serene body of which the Panel consists.

Hopeful ones were disposed to trust to the calming influence of night, to hush the forebodings of evil, and when the announcement was made that the constable was absent and the papers were not served, a gleam of hope for a peaceful solution of the matter lit up the countenance of the entire cluster and the sunset was radiant with silver lined and gold emblazoned hope.

Friday morning the sun arose on a peaceful populace, the river lay as a sheet of molten glass, the air was balmy and spring-like, provoking the melodies of the feathered choristers; all nature smiled in amiable sweetness, and as the poet says, "Only man was wild."

By nine o'clock the assembly began and members grouped about in pairs, trios, quartets and such like; the thoughtful countenance, suppressed smile and low whispering conversation was convincing to the casual observer that something unusual was coming on.

At last it was spoken in a half whisper, half wail and barded with grief—"at ten o'clock"—and the worst was known, the trial was set and the Jewels were in court.

At ten, by every three dollar nickel-plated chronometer, the Panel was in court, in persona propria. There stood the litigants like two gladiators, with shield and helmet, to enter the arena, not to fight for the hand of fair women, or the chaplet of laurels to be bestowed by the approving royal spectators, but for filthy lucre. Ten dollars, to be awarded by the blind goddess, Justice, whose only smile of approbation is won by the unerring scale scrupulously adjusted with a nicety inconceivable accurate. Old Vets sat with downcast look and graven mean as the Justice took his seat, and the case was opened. The reading circle, the lawn tennis club, the polo, hare and hound chase, yea even the disturbed political pool has been attended by them, but the last place for a Jewel is a court of justice, and why? Because his opinion is not wanted, his argument not sought and his only safety is in silence complete and respectful silence.

Alexander Miller—Councillman.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The time for the annual selection of councillors for the city is fast approaching, and this writer begs leave to say one word in justice to an efficient officer and for the welfare of the city.

Alexander Miller is an honorable and useful citizen. In every walk of life he is the same man of high integrity of character. In private life he is a respected gentleman; in commercial life his financial standing is among the best in this community, and his opinion sought as a man of honest success; in public life he shows the true record of a conscientious public servant.

While on the Board of City Councillmen he was assigned by that active and judicious officer, our present Mayor, to the Cemetery Committee, and as chairman thereof he has acted for several years past.

This writer is no voter in the 8rd ward and writes here for no selfish purpose, and surely attempts, nor intends any exaggeration of Mr. Miller's conduct. Let us look about among our citizens, many loving their native town, and jealous of defending their good name,—I mean no disparagement in saying—I find none to whom our people owe more than to Mr. Miller. I shall not speak of his disinterested work for the Graded School, when he collected by private subscription eight-tenths of the funds for starting that noble institution, but it is to his record as chairman of the Cemetery Committee I wish to call attention.

Scarcely a day passes but Mr. Miller gives his personal attention to the labor going on in the Cemetery—leaving his private business and doing a service in which there is no ostentation or vainglory. By his diligence, he has discovered a fund of near three thousand dollars for the benefit of Cedar Grove Cemetery. It would be invidious to make further mention of any one act, or call special notice to any particular scheme which he has inaugurated for the improvement of this sacred place. His whole labor, faithful, skillful and un-rewarded except by the grateful feelings of those who have shared the loss of our common humanity and mourn some loved one resting in the quiet and peaceful cemetery, evidences and well-earned credit to his generous and unselfish devotion in a cause meriting our universal thanks. There is not in our city a man or woman who, in justice, will not gladly and willingly commend this faithful discharge of duty.

A good man, an honorable citizen, an efficient public servant, voters of the 8rd Ward represents you!

For one, yes, for more than half the citizens of New Berne, irrespective of party, I can say to you, return him to the Board so long as Alexander Miller will continue to serve.

Political Chat.

Chatting with the Republicans we discovered that the drift of sentiment among many of the leaders present yesterday was favorable to the nomination of a Liberal for Governor, and this we take it points to Congressman York. The matter, however, will be definitely settled only when the two conventions meet. These we suppose will amalgamate. We also ascertained that the Republicans from this State would probably support Arthur for President if at the time when the National Convention is held it should seem that he had a reasonable hope of carrying New York and Ohio in the fall. Blaine and Logan, however, both have strong friends.—New and Observer.

The Colored Vote—Letter from a Colored Man.

(Cor. of the News and Observer.)

Allow this brief communication to appear in your next issue. It has been suggested to me by many colored voters of Eastern North Carolina that should Major John Hughes be the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor and Hon. John S. Long for Superintendent of Public Instruction, that the Democratic ticket would receive their hearty and unqualified support. But of course you will consider this communication all gossip. Why? Because you think on the day of election we colored folk will all be solid for the Republican party. Please consider and remember we have got more sense than we used to have. Here, don't you suppose we have got sense enough to know that Major John Hughes is as good a friend to us as Messrs. Price, Johnson, Leach, etc., who used to be outspoken Democrats, abused the colored race on the rostrum, a thing Major Hughes did not do when he ran for Lieutenant-Governor? Again, Mr. Editor, you and other Democrats may think that we colored people have not sense enough to know that a majority of so-called white Republicans are Republican for office, and that it is an easy thing for one to say he is a Republican and then not be one. You forget that we have carefully noticed things and find that a Democratic administration is a better friend to us than the one which preceded it. You fail to think that we colored people are aware of this fact. Suppose we should unite our 98,000 votes with the white Republicans' 11,000, and elect the State ticket, not one man elected would be a representative of the colored race—the 98,000 colored votes. Then it is true, then it is a white man's government; then it is equally true that the colored race should support that part of the government who gives it the greater benefit. We colored people are told that the present system of county government is a nuisance. It may be a nuisance to the white Republicans, but certainly it is far from being one to the colored race, for it benefits the race. Why? Because it gives the colored people more and better schools, &c. Because, under the administration preceding this one, my race was used by another set of white men as drawers of wood and drawers of water, and now they are out and the present set in. And this is why they think the present county system is not so good. Why I am in favor of the present State administration is because it treats my race more like fellow-citizens, and their educational interest is more carefully guarded.

Respectfully,
K.

The Fish Hatcheries.

Mr. S. G. Worth, Fish Commissioner, states that the work of the fish hatcheries will begin April 2nd. Twenty-five assistants will be employed. There will this year be five stations—at Avoca, Raleigh, Weldon, New Berne, and Wilmington. At Edenton Mr. Worth will have his headquarters. The main body of the assistants will be at Avoca as heretofore. At Weldon special observations upon the spawning of the rockfish will be made. From Raleigh rock and shad eggs will be distributed by express to points all over the State. Fish will be hatched at the State fish ponds near that city and placed in the Neuse river.—W. Star.

Death on the Rail.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 20.—Official reports to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company says: The limited express from Chicago for New York was coming down Franklin grade, 3 miles east of Salem, O., at the rate of 40 miles an hour this morning when the engine struck an obstruction of some kind, and jumping the track went over the embankment. The entire train left the rails, but only the baggage and smoking cars were upset. When the engine overturned the boiler exploded. The engineer and fireman were blown several hundred yards distant and instantly killed. The baggage master and brakeman were slightly injured. Six passengers were also painfully hurt, but none of them dangerously. Their names could not be learned. Other passengers were badly shaken up, but were not injured.

The Mississippi Levees in Danger.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—A special to the Times-Democrat, from St. Joseph, La., says: The river here has risen five inches within twenty-four hours and is now within an inch of the high water mark of 1883, and the water is still rising. Kemp's levee is reported to be intact, but in such a dangerous condition that a break is expected at any moment. It is now regarded as only a question of time when they will break, pouring more water into the already submerged country. The backwater is rising at the rate of two inches per day. Live stock is being brought here for shipment to Mississippi.

The Mullein Plant.

Dr. Quillan, a celebrated physician of Dublin, has just written in an English medical journal of his wonderful experimental results with the common mullein plant upon lung and bronchial affections, citing cases where he had given it to consumptives with the most astonishing results, and recommends its use by the profession. Referring to the above, we would state that TAYLOR'S CHESTNUT REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN, made from the formula of the medicine men of the Cherokee Nation, is composed not only of the mullein plant, but has incorporated with it the sweet gum, the finest stimulating expectorant known, presenting an agreeable taste and a certain panacea for Coughs, Whooping Cough, Colds and all Bronchial Affections. For sale by all leading druggists at 25c. and $1.00 per bottle.

A Fair Offer.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., offer to send Dr. Dye's Voltaic Belt and Appliances, on trial, for thirty days, to men, young or old, afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality, and kindred troubles. See advertisement in this paper.

Sir Walter Raleigh introduced smoking tobacco into England from America. The Golden Belt of North Carolina, on which is grown Blackwell's Long Cut, is just beyond the city of Raleigh. What wonder that all Europe took to pipe smoking when the great explorer struck the very leaf which now commands the admiration of the world?
