New Berne...	59	48	50

J. W. WEBB, Observer.

High tide yesterday.
Capt. S. H. Gray feasted on Irish potatoes last Sunday.

The steamer Defiance arrived from Baltimore yesterday with a cargo of general merchandise.

The steamer Stout sailed yesterday for Baltimore with a cargo of lumber, naval stores, and 2400 cases of oysters.

About 500 boxes of peas were shipped per steamer Shenandoah yesterday. They sold from $3.00 to $4.00 per box on the wharf.

Before attending the 4th Ward Convention on Monday night Moses Bryan had his hair shingled pretty close. After this precaution he was ready to "foul for his man from Genesee to Resurrection."

Conundrum.
In what respect does New Berne now resemble its condition in March, 1862?

False Alarm.
A furious ringing of the fire bell at about midnight on Monday night brought out the fire department in hot haste to find the fire at Stimson's all out and the danger over. Moses Bryan says that when he first heard the bell he thought sure it was some mischievous fellow trying to break up the glorious meeting in the 4th Ward.

Personal.
Mr. Geo. Allen leaves this morning for Durham to attend the meeting of Orange Presbytery.

W. E. Clarke, Esq., is attending Lenoir Superior Court.

J. C. Herring, of the firm of Peacock & Herring, of Smithfield, was in the city yesterday and closed a contract to furnish 300,000 brick for the court house.

Mr. D. F. Jarvis, the clever clerk at Asa Jones's store, leaves to-day for a short visit to Swan Quarter.

Nominating a Constable.
The Republican township convention for the 8th township assembled at the court house yesterday at 12 o'clock for the purpose of nominating a candidate for constable, to be voted for next November.

The contest between Moses Mason, the present incumbent, and about seventeen other aspirants had been pretty warm for the last two weeks; two sets of delegates were reported from the 5th Ward, and it was evident at the outset that there was fun in store. Tucker, the editor of the Banner, learning that A. G. Oden would call the meeting to order, mounted a chair and in a roaring speech foreshadowed what was coming.

Oden called the meeting to order, and Geo. H. White, Esq., explained the plan of organization, showing that it was Oden's duty to call to order. Tucker mounted the table and thundered again. He was willing for a third man to come in as a compromise. Oden smiled and continued in the chair as though everything was perfectly calm and peaceful.

Moses Mason, at this juncture, came forward and spoke for peace and harmony.

Geo. H. White, Esq., announced the delegates reported, and before the chairman could name the committee on credentials, Tucker again mounted the table and moved that Nathan Styron act as chairman. A perfect pandemonium followed, which was repeated several times during the meeting. A fight was reported over in one corner, but the chairman continued selecting his committee. Attempts were made to tote Styron to the chair, but they failed.

Oden stated that he was temporary chairman of the meeting and expected to remain so until a permanent chairman was selected. A motion was put about this time and the house roared with "I" and "No." Tucker, standing on the table, shook his umbrella at the chairman and voted: No! No! No!!!

The committee on credentials finally retired and the speech making began in earnest. Phillip Wiggins and Judge Rodman gave their advice. Most of the speakers made earnest appeals for peace and harmony, and would wind up by saying the way to get that peace was to nominate himself for constable.

After three hours of wrangling Judge D. Stanley was declared the nominee, and we inform our contemporary, the Beaufort, that there was perfect freedom of opinion, or of speech during the meeting, and that there were no hindrances to molest or make them afraid.

More Paint.
"Mace is the only man in town that has paint, is he?" inquired one of a JOURNAL reporter yesterday. "Oh no," replied the reporter, "if you will go up on Metcalf street you will see several houses that look as bright as if they were bran new, but they were only newly painted with paint and brush from Cutler's and he has plenty of it left. If you want to enjoy a good hearty laugh just go round and ask Cutler if he has any more paint like that which is being used on Geo. Henderson's house."

Died.
Will Graham, infant son of Alice and W. F. Crockett, at their residence, near this city, on the 21st of April.

At his home, in Onslow county, on the 8th inst., Elder John C. Hewitt, in his 63rd year.

For 23 years Mr. Hewitt had been a faithful minister of the Primitive Baptist Church, and the church feels it has sustained a great loss in his death. He was a kind husband and father, always in the front rank of neighborhood enterprise, advocating good schools, and was withal a Christian gentleman.

"When a good man dies the people mourn."

Kinston Items.
Turpentine—Hard, 75.

Chickens, 50a60c. per pair.
Eggs, 10c. per doz.
Cotton, 10c.

As usual, our Superior Court brought with it the inevitable rainy Monday.

D. H. Wade, of Kinston, had new Irish potatoes—the first of the season—last Saturday.

W. R. Bond, our butcher, killed last Monday a fine stall-fed beef, which weighed, on the scales, alive, 1,159 pounds.

Your La Grange itemizer, Judge Sutton, was in town last Monday, attending court. We noticed he gave all the county commissioners a wide berth when approaching them.

The Raleigh News and Observer is extensively advertising the forests of North Carolina. It is giving undue importance to all the little sand hill black jacks in the State. If the thing lasts much longer, there will be no use for the State Exposition, so far as its timber is concerned.

H. L. Coward, the best looking of J. W. Grainger's travelling salesmen, was here last Monday. It is no wonder that Grainger is stocking the country with agricultural implements, steam engines and buggies, when he has, in his employment, such good looking salesmen as Frank Sugg and Heber L. Coward. Grainger studies to please.

Lenoir Superior Court began here last Monday. Court opened promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. Judge James E. Shepherd presiding and Solicitor Galloway prosecuting. The grand jury was drawn at once, to whom the criminal law was given in an able and exhaustive charge by His Honor. The visiting attorneys are: Hon. W. T. Dortch, J. W. Bryan and Hon. F. B. Loftin, of Goldsboro, Judge Strong, of Raleigh, W. E. Clarke, of New Berne. The Kinston bar is represented by John F. Wooten, A. J. Loftin, M. A. Gray, Jackson and Perry, Uzzell and Rouse and Ashley T. Hill, Esq. There is quite a large attendance of people at court, before whom the beautiful Edwards posed as Snow and Dennis and gave away a few notions and ladies bonnets. The criminal docket is quite a large one and will probably consume all the week to the exclusion of civil matters.

Letter from Hookerton.
HOOKERTON, N. C., April 20, 1884.
MR. EDITOR:—The steamer Snow Hill carried off from among us a load of omnivorous biped animals, which is the subject mainly of this communication. These animals were unlike most of the freight transported by these aquarian wagons; they were capable by their own service of passing without materially increasing the funds of the company. They were loaded and assigned to duty as follows: Jno. Patrick, gen'l manager; W. T. Hart, ass't steerman; Benj. Sutton, woodsawer; Z. T. Murphy, ass't steward; last and by all means least, W. H. Forest, coxswain carrier, whose duties, by the way, were so onerous, that he deserted the crew near Coward bridge, and sought relief among the picnic crowd collected there. This cargo was consigned to New Berne and if no owner claims it in ten days, we hope the JOURNAL will return it to Hookerton, N. C.

Some of your correspondents have things like the following to communicate: Mr. So and So is happy—it is a girl, or a boy. But as things of like character do not occur here oftener than once a year, we are compelled to seek redress in items of not such youthful origin sometimes, hence our excuse for writing up the boat cargo.
Respectfully,
OLD STICK IN THE MUD.

If smokers were more choice, and took care to leave behind them only the exquisite perfumes of such tobacco as Blackwell's Durham Long Cut, there would be no objection to smoking. Even non-smoking men would take to regard themselves as proxy, and ladies would grow tolerant and appreciative.

La Grange Items.

The wheat crop promises at this time, to be over an average one.

Capt. Carraway, of the News and Observer, spent Friday night in our place visiting his son, a student in Capt. Davis's school.

Rev. Mr. Hievs, the recently chosen Pastor of the Baptist Church in this place, will preach here next Thursday night and Friday night, also Sunday, morning and evening.

D. M. Stanton, now generally conceded to be Haskins' "next sheriff from La Grange," I learn, has expressed a willingness to accept the nomination if tendered. Mr. S. is a citizen of our town and fully qualified to fill any office in the county. Who will be the man this deponent sayeth not.

A gentleman who has traveled extensively through the State and has had an opportunity to know the sentiments of the people, says that Judge Gilmer ranks first for the nomination for Governor. If the Judge is nominated there is no doubt of his election, and it is equally certain that he would make a most excellent Governor.

The Republicans held their township meeting here Saturday. The meeting was called to order by R. W. Moore, who, on motion of John Fields, jr., was made permanent chairman, and D. M. Stanton was elected secretary. The object of the meeting was to elect a township executive committee, and to elect delegates to the county convention. David Best and Richmond Wooten, colored, and E. W. Moore were elected executive committee. The delegates to the county convention are John W. Sutton, Homer Borden and W. J. Solomon; alternates, John Fields, jr., Robt. Jones and West Wooten. There was some feeling of opposition shown by West Wooten, in regard to Solomon's being a delegate. The burden of opposition seemed to be that he was not sufficiently known to be trusted in so important a matter. Solomon's call for a "division" on the election of a part of the executive committee came too late and was not recognized or the matter explained. John Fields, jr., was called on for a speech before the meeting adjourned, but did not respond. Mr. Fields is leaving no stone unturned to secure the nomination of the Republicans for the office of sheriff of this county. But judging of the appearance of things and the expressions of some of the "leaders" his stock is far below par about here. That he has a following there can be no doubt, and there is ample time for a good worker to accomplish much before the nomination of county candidates.

Jones County Items.

We are having fine weather and the farmers are making good use of it hauling and getting out their compost. Every one seems to be busy. Some of the farmers will commence planting cotton this week.

Our friend C. H. Foy had garden peas for dinner on the 9th of April that was raised in his garden in Trenton. Charlie has gone into the bee culture. On Saturday last he despatched a wagon load of improved bee house to his farm on Beaver creek.

The following are the names of the jury which I promised to send in my last: Jesse L. Ballard, Ivy Andrews, Levi J. Rhodes, Sydney Baker, col., John W. Eubanks, J. W. Robinson, Sylvanus Barker, B. F. Banks, Thos. C. Wilcox, R. T. Hewitt, jr., William M. Ballard, H. A. White.

Capt. McIver has been ordered to get ready for the removal of the convict force from the Trenton and Core creek road on Saturday, the 26th of this month. What a pity he can't stay a few weeks longer, so he could have finished our road through the pocosin; then we could use it during the summer by using the old roads through the highlands on the Core creek side, but the authorities have decided against us and we must submit.

Why is it that the county of Jones has no committee of Finance? Is it not the duty of the Magistrates to appoint such a committee? I do not wish it understood that I am casting any reflections on our county officers by requesting the Magistrates, when they meet in June, to take into consideration the propriety of having such a committee. I am confident that our county officers would approve of such a course and heartily endorse it, as it would be a protection to them, and I know that the people all desire it for I have heard a great many of them so express themselves.

There is a sentiment growing among our people towards the re-establishment of the treasurer's office in our county. I have had several conversations with our leading citizens; all of them say they like the good old way of the sheriff collecting and paying over to the treasurer. I hope our magistrates, when they assemble in June, will take it in consideration. One of the arguments which the people advance is that we do not know who will be the next sheriff, and that it is very easy for a sheriff when he holds both offices, to tell the holders that he has no money and can't pay them, but that he has collected but very little. By so doing he can form a kind of ring by which the holders of county paper will be forced to sell at a sacrifice, while on the other hand if we have a treasurer and sheriff both, one is a kind of check to the other, for if you present your paper to the treasurer and he says that he has no money, you can find it out by the sheriff, whether he has settled with him or not.

For DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms; also as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other Intermittent Fevers, the "FERRO-PHOSPHATED ELIXIR OF CALABATA," made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. wv1

Hookerton Items.

We have a flourishing school here, Prof. E. W. Wilcox, Principal.

Mr. W. T. Dixon says he has 105 collards and 5 are headed up like cabbage. Some of our farmers are planting cotton, but don't think there will be as much planted.

Hookerton is booming; Mrs. J. J. Edwards & Co. have the most beautifully painted store in the county.

We received last week the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Susan Patrick. She died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. McF. Cameron, at her advanced age of 83 years. Her remains were interred in the Hookerton cemetery.

Duck Creek Items.

Our farms are looking pretty well, considering the long cold, dry spell of windy weather just over.

E. R. Provov has the largest corn I have seen, nearly knee high, and Mrs. Huldah Gillet and Mrs. Wm. Coville have the finest gardens I have seen.

Mr. E. B. Fonville killed three alligators last Saturday; one very large one. The cold weather has kept the snakes sorter hid, and not many have showed themselves among us yet.

George Winberry and Owen Hill had the best oysters at court that could be found in New river. George and Owen sold over 100 gallons themselves, beside a great many sold by John Erixon and others.

Mrs. Caroline Hughes, wife of Theodore Hughes of Philadelphia, is visiting her relatives and brother, Col. E. W. Fonville, at this time. Mrs. H., we believe, was formerly a native of Duplin county, N. C.

Miss Rena Winberry, daughter of George Winberry, the oyster king, can beat any one man or woman in the county, and we expect, in the State, opening oysters. She has opened at the rate of ten gallons per day for the last five months and can open fifteen gallons in a day from sun to sun and rest two hours. Has opened during this season not less than, we reckon, seven hundred gallons.

Another heavy wind storm visited us last Tuesday, blowing down houses, chimneys and fences, besides thousands of trees. It seemed to be about one-fourth of a mile wide and went from southwest to northeast, and the rain fell in torrents, breaking mills, floating up bridges and making roads impassable for a time. But all is clear now and things look tolerably well, considering the squall.

Judge Shepherd made things lively at our court, in getting over business. Called court, paneled the jury, charged the same, got ready and disposed of about a dozen cases the first day, some were bad ones too. The case of Jim Bell, colored, charged two years ago for burning C. C. Corbin's house; verdict, not guilty. Attorneys for plaintiff, Nixon, Simmons & Manly; for defendant, T. E. Gilman, Holland & Guion, and Frank Thompson, jr.

The steamer Margie left here for Morehead City Friday with a load of turpentine etc. from John Gilman and others. This is the first freight she has carried out of New river. She will go up White Oak river next week to Barker's bridge and further if need be. Talk about a steamer not paying anything in New river! Why, she could make $25.00 a day here during the months of May, June, July and August, carrying passengers to the Banks, if nothing else. She made four excursions last week with over 100 each time; some times 150 and 175 persons.

Some of our friends and neighbors are getting on very well in farming, for instance: Mr. Cullen Robinson, who a few years back had nothing, now has a fine little farm, a good oyster garden, and to cap the climax, has just bought himself a fine little thoroughbred pony and is fast improving everything around him. Good for Cullen. Mrs. Coville is a chicken raiser, too. She sat a hen on 24 eggs and said hen hatched every one and they are now looking well. Mrs. Wm. Owens comes out a little ahead. She sat a hen on 13 eggs and hatched out 15 chickens. Beat that, ye chicken raisers. They are all living, or was Friday.

Gold in our Old Fields.

When we consider health to be better than wealth then must we consider the old field mullein better than gold—at least the medical world so recognize it; and attest its merit over Cod Liver Oil for lung troubles. Made into a tea and combined with Sweet Gum it presents in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein, a pleasant and effective cure for Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds and Consumption. Price 25cts. and $1.00. This with Dr. Biggers' Southern Remedy, an equally efficacious remedy for Cramp-Colic, Diarrhea, Dysentery, and children suffering from the effects of teething, presents a little MEDICINE CHEST no household should be without, for the speedy relief of sudden and dangerous attacks of the lungs and bowels. Ask your druggists for them. Manufactured by WALTER A. TAYLOR, Atlanta, Ga., Proprietor Taylor's Premium Cologne. d&wapr14m
