Still Traveling Around in the Old

I get ready. The poet says, "ethereal mildness come!" but it is Carolina for a little pleasure and recreation. After I left Charlotte I traveled over a little railroad that raus, or walks, or pokes along from Charlotte to Statesville. This road is 42 miles short and six hours long, and has been entered and registered as a second class concern in all respects. It has no switches or side tracks and but one locomotive, and always carries its freight before and its passengers behind, and never shows a red flag in front or a lantern in the rear. It shuns Charlotte at 8 p. m. and arrives at other stations according, and it was jerk and bump and jerk nearly and have plenty of room.

A single cattle ranch in Texas, at the head of Red river, is said to contain nearly 25.000 acres more all the time, so that a man couldn't sleep if he wanted to. I wonder Buncombe, the county that long to! Well, after all, I reckon they do the best they can, and it is better than the old way of staging it traveler can go round Salisbury for and he was speaking for Buncombe a dollar more and lose no time and and should continue to speak for unload no guano.
