Report of observations taken at New Berne.

J. W. WEBB, Observer.

The schooner Elia Hill is loading lumber at Hollowell, Cawson & Thompson's mill.

The U. S. District Court convenes here on Tuesday next. Judge Seymour will preside.

Shad were more plentiful in the market yesterday than for some time. Roe fifty cents per pair, backs thirty.

We were shown yesterday the finest cabbage of the season so far. It was from the farm of Mr. Wm. Dunn.

The Jones county Republican convention was held yesterday. Abbott went up to look after the Congressional honors.

Judge Shepherd arrived last night, and will go to Beaufort to-morrow to hold court. Solicitor Galloway passed down last night.

Our market is well supplied with sturgeon meat. It is said that the hides of sixty sturgeons will make a barrel of oil, and the bones and offal make excellent manure.

Off for Beaufort.

New Berne furnishes a good sprinkling of attorneys for Carteret court this week. Messrs. Simmons, Holland, Clarke, of this city, and P. H. Pelletier, of Pollockville, went down last night, and Messrs. Stevenson, Manly and Bryan will follow to-morrow.

A Furman Farmer.

J. N. Foscoe, Esq., of Jones, called to see us on Saturday. He has commenced farming on the Furman, intensive system and has promised to give us the result of his experience next fall. He says the farmers are too busy yet awhile to bother with politics, but Gilmer is very popular and Hughes would add strength to the ticket. Mr. Foscoe has planted a good big water-melon patch to campaign in on after the crops are laid by.

The Wizard Oil Company.

This company which has been giving entertainments to our citizens for a number of nights past, yesterday afternoon varied the programme by taking a wagon full of little Misses to ride. The party was a gay one; and happiness seemed to fill the crowd as completely, as the crowd filled the elegant wagon. The company leave to-morrow for Beaufort to entertain the citizens of that place, and we can say to them, and to any others whom they may visit, that the troupe consists of gentlemen whose deportment here fully sustains their claim to that appellation. Their performances will speak for themselves.

Sad Death.

The death of Mrs. W. F. Crockett, nee Alice Richardson, falls with a deepened sadness for the reason of the blighted prospects, disappointed hopes, and joys turned into mourning. Just ten months from the day she was led as a blushing bride to the hymeneal altar, she was summoned to the spirit world. Just ten months from the day she sailed on the steamer from the wharf at New Berne, the centre of a gay and happy circle of friends, she was the centre figure of a house of mourning and grief.

This is the midst of life we are in death, but the friends and relatives may not weep as those who have no hope for the sweet promise is still a comfort left to them. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." "For they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

May a merciful Father extend to the bereaved husband, sorrowing brothers and sisters grace to bear the sad affliction and realize that their loss is her eternal gain.

Mrs. Crockett was the daughter of our late fellow countryman, John H. Richardson, and sister to our present fellow townsman, J. A. Richardson, and wife of Mr. W. F. Crockett, from Virginia, who has made his home among us.

On the 26th of June last they were married and took the steamer for Elizabeth City on a bridal trip to the home of the groom's parents, near Hampton, Virginia. Well do the passengers on that trip remember the sparkling wit, the genial temper and joyous laughter of that party, but to-day the scene is changed and the sad sentence breaks upon the ear "earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust." There to remain until the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall come forth.

Consolidation of Custom Districts.

We regret very much that our eminent contemporary, the Washington Gazette, should have misinterpreted our article on the consolidation of the Custom Districts of North Carolina, which appeared in a recent issue.

We are taken to task because we omitted to mention the port of Washington, N. C. We meant no reflection on our sister town. We were opposing consolidation per se, and if the people of that good town are interested in having a separate district established with the port of entry at Washington, we have no objections to offer, and have not, so far, to the consummation of that scheme. The Gazette, however, we are sorry to see, desires an act of injustice to be perpetrated by putting the merchants and vessels owners of New Berne and other parts of the district, to a greater inconvenience than is now claimed by that class at the port of Washington, in that if they do not have their district erected they desire consolidation to succeed; this to say the least is very ungenerous. As to the business of the district: For the past two years the imports have been larger at Washington than at this port, that is but one item and will not always remain so, and so far as the merchants suffering any inconvenience in connection with that particular matter, we are informed by the Collector of this port that there is a deputy stationed at that point who is clothed with all the official power that a collector could have if it was a separate district, and if there has been any inconvenience or delay, it has never been made the subject of complaint to the collector. There are other matters referred to in the article that we could answer very satisfactorily, but we do not care to provoke a controversy on the subject at this time. If the district of Pamlico (in which Washington is included) is not consolidated with Wilmington, N. C., we hope our friend's scheme may succeed.

As to the marine hospital matter, we have only to say that the district of Edenton is placed in the same way. The Regulations of that service which have all the force of law, will not pay for the treatment of sick seamen outside of a marine hospital. Transportation will be furnished, however, upon the application of a sick seaman, to the nearest point at which there is a hospital, and only one dollar is allowed for the certificate or diagnosis of a physician in such cases. There is none more zealous than the JOURNAL to help build up our State, nor a more willing advocate to secure whatever we deem to be just and right for ourselves and others.

Church Services To-day.

DIED.

The funeral services will be held to-day at Beach Grove Church, by Rev. Burkhead at 4 o'clock p. m. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

Orange Presbytery—Meeting at Durham.

DURHAM, N. C., April 24.—Orange Presbytery opened its 238th session here last night. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. T. J. Allison, of Mebaneville. The sermon is generally pronounced an admirable one and was listened to by a large congregation. The meeting was organized by the election of Rev. J. L. Currie, moderator, and Rev. S. M. Smith and ruling elder J. A. McCallister, temporary clerks.

A very full attendance of ministers is here and an average attendance of ruling elder representatives is also here, and an interesting meeting is contemplated.

A Fair Offer.

The Voltaic Belt Co., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Voltaic Belt and Electric Appliances on trial, for thirty days, to men, old and young, afflicted with nervous debility, joint vitality, and many other diseases. See advertisement in this paper. d3w1w

Newbernians at Wilmington.

I made it my pleasant duty while at Wilmington to visit all the Newbern people who had settled there, and although there was a great deal of sorrow expressed at reciting the many sad changes, and recalling the many, many names of dear friends whom death had claimed, yet the pleasure exhibited by all at meeting an old Newbern friend was indeed a great gratification to me. Among the earliest of those who left Newbern was the family of Mr. Bennett Flanner. I met the widow of Mr. Flanner. She is a venerable old lady. She has suffered much affliction and is seldom able to leave her house. I had not seen her before in near forty years. At her house I also saw Mrs. Nutt, formerly Sarah Green, with whom I went to school to Mr. Alonzo Attmore more than forty years ago. Then the family of Mr. A. H. Van Bokkelen. Mr. Van Bokkelen holds his own remarkably well; Mrs. Van Bokkelen; Mrs. Shackelford, the mother of our dentist, Dr. Shackelford; Mrs. Oakley, who we remember as being one of the most beautiful of women. Mrs. Martin Stevenson surprised me more than any one else, as I expected to have seen her looking twenty years older than she does. Miss Betsy Taylor has still that vivacity in her countenance which was so peculiar to her. Miss Lizzie Stevenson with her gold spectacles, which we all remember, has not greatly changed. William Stevenson I have often met and consequently did not notice much change. Then comes the daughters of Mrs. Stevenson, who have married, viz. Mrs. Mary Willard, Mrs. Martha Mebane, Mrs. Julia Sweet. The husband of Mrs. Sweet is a gentleman from Nova Scotia. Also Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett. Dr. Pritchett does not come in as a Newbernian; Mrs. Pritchett does. Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Perry, although time has caused many a gray hair and many a wrinkle on the faces of some, yet it has dealt gently with Mrs. Perry, as she looks scarcely any changed since she left Newbern.

Bishop and Mrs. Watson, although not Newbernians, yet they lived a long time in Newbern, and I doubt if the love they bear for the people of Newbern could have been intensified if they had lived all their lives in this place. Also Mr. and Mrs. Colonel McRae, they also lived a long while at Newbern, but not Newbernians. Also Dr. William H. Green, Elijah Willis, S. Hunter, J. H. Muse, C. S. Noble, who is principal of the flourishing graded school at Wilmington.

It was certainly a pleasure to meet so many old acquaintances, and to have from them so many inquiries of their many old friends in Newbern and to have so many expressions of love and affection to bear back from them. There was scarcely an old family in Newbern but inquiry was made of in regard to almost every member of it. Such incidents are pleasant.

WILLIAM H. OLIVER.

La Grange Items.

Two days at Lenior Superior Court, and two days in the city of New Berne, must excuse short comings in items.

We are gratified to learn, through our friend A. W. Whitfield, that all differences have been reconciled in regard to the roads, or cartways on the other side of Neuse. Let us rise and sing, standing; "Blest be the tie that binds."

Our town politics are becoming a little stirred up. Heretofore it has been the case that the parties have been divided, and the issue over some local matter or question. We believe that representative men from the party should be selected and elected, whose interest would require them to administer the government of the town fairly and justly and not those who are pledged or wedded to any particular policy.

Go slow, Bro. Coleman, go slow. The first handshaking we had after our arrival in Kinston Monday morning, was with the chairman of our board of commissioners, with whom we had considerable conversation about that road and the exposition. During the day we had the pleasure of meeting the others, all of whom we met with head up. We think our board wrong in their action about the road and exposition, and said so, but this don't mean that there is necessity for giving them a "wide berth" on that account or any other known to us. That we have a board whose wish it is to take care of the county, we have plenty of proof, and we take it that they are too sensible to become offended, or to require a "wide berth," because one differs with them.

From Every Point of the Compass come the orders for Soudont. Never has such a demand arisen for any article of the toilet. Its most constant patrons are among the sex born to be admired. Good looks conciliate, beauty fascinates. White teeth do more to augment personal comeliness than any other facial characteristic. The ladies know this, and either to render the charm lasting, or to secure it when wanting, apply Soudont, the most effective of tooth preparations. Use it systematically.

Kinston Items.

Hon. J. E. O'Hara was in town a few moments last week. He thinks he is safe for a re-nomination and election to Congress.

Col. Nowitzky, the Indian medicine man induced Taylor of the JOURNAL and Johnson of the Messenger to sit with him for a photograph. The photograph represents these representatives of the press as penitent convicts, with Nowitzky, musket in hand, guarding them. The colonel thinks he will send this photograph to the Police News or Rogues' gallery for national safety and protection.

There was a long and tedious case before the Superior court last Thursday. Rosa Smith, a young colored woman, and Aplis Maberry and Ransey Tilegan, two old colored women, were convicted of the larceny $25. Miss Smith was sent to the penitentiary for two years, while judgment was suspended on Maberry and Tilegan on the payment of their costs during the present term of the court.

The King Will case was taken up last Friday, when the Judge ruled on all issues in favor of the propounders of the Will. One of these issues was whether Richard King, the caveator, is an after born child of R. W. King, deceased. From the unfavorable ruling on this point, the caveator appealed to the Supreme court. Thus this celebrated case will go from court to court until the whole estate is consumed.

The finest bread, cakes and candies are sent out daily from the establishment of Henry Archbell, who commenced business here several years ago and has since conducted it with fidelity and to the satisfaction of his numerous patrons. His stock is always complete, with a high standard of excellence. He keeps nicely flavored, ice-cold soda water, with pure fruit syrups and superior ice cream continually on hand. Mineral waters on draught also.

The numerous candidates for sheriff took advantage of Sheriff Davis' personal duties before the court last week, to do all the electioneering. To get even with them and to stop the unfair work, Sheriff Davis managed to get three of his opponents before the grand jury as witnesses, while the fourth, the saw mill man, was stowed away on the petty jury by the indignant sheriff. The saw mill candidate thinks, if that trick is played on him again, he will abandon the field and go to work at his mill.

The Democratic meeting last Thursday night to nominate municipal officers was very decidedly, though not turbulent. Carry the news to Zebulon. The grand old militia hero of Wayne county, Col. Geo. C. Moses, received the almost unanimous nomination for Mayor. Honest, able, courageous, sincere, magnetic, himself a born leader—who can doubt his election. We might say to the State, "Take him for all in all—match him, if you can." Jas. A. Pridgen, J. W. Grainger, A. J. Loftin and Dr. Jno. A. Pollock were selected for town commissioners.

The citizens of Institute township believe in and act on the maxim—"in peace prepare for war." It is said that James M. Hines, Jr., J. M. Patrick, Stephen P. Hardy and many other citizens of that township have made, each for himself, a "hole in the ground" for a retreat on the cyclone's approach. These hiding places are elaborately fixed up for living purposes and will doubtless become a stumbling block for future generations to speculate on their uses. These gentlemen should remember that in the Rockingham county disaster, one poor mortal retreated in a deep well, but a fence rail was driven in upon him by which he was killed. If he "who rides on the lightning and directs the storm" wishes to find you, be ye sure, your ground holes will avail you naught.
