POLITICAL CONVENTIONS.

Politics is defined by WEBSTER as being that branch of ethics which has for its subject the proper mode of governing a State...

Political parties necessarily exist in all governments where the people rule, for it is impossible for men to think alike.

Senator Vance. EDITOR JOURNAL:—I see a writer from this city to the News and Observer suggests the name of Hon. Z. B. Vance for the Democratic candidate for Governor in the next campaign.

Everything that is said of him, his strength, and all that is true; but the Democratic party has many strong men, and we want Zebulon for Senator and some one else for Governor.

The suggestion of Maj. Hughes is a good one, and we trust his name will be on the ticket.

BURLINGTON, April 23.—Iowa Democrats will have a rousing convention to-morrow, probably the largest in the history of the party in Iowa.

Zebulon B. Vance for Governor—John Hughes for Lieutenant Governor.

MR. EDITOR:—The following correspondence from the News and Observer so fully agrees with the expressed views and wishes of such a number of the people of this county and of your subscriber, that I would be glad if you would give it a place in your valuable columns.

It is needless to say that the prospects of a Democratic victory in this State are not overbright. Bennett's small majority is no cause for any great confidence in the favorable result of the coming election, but is a truthful indication that a Democratic triumph is to be purchased only at the price of hard work and by the selection of candidates in whom the whole people can repose trust.

Our candidates should be well known, and if possible of great popularity. Can any two men better come up to these confessedly necessary requirements than ZEBULON B. VANCE, of Charlotte, and JOHN HUGHES, of Newbern? Can any man within our borders poll as large a vote for Governor as Vance? Can any man poll as large a vote for Lieutenant Governor as John Hughes?

Were it not that we know that the News and Observer scrutinizes correspondents carefully, we should be tempted to think "an enemy had done this."

The Democratic party is in no straitened condition in North Carolina, and the hope of the Republicans to triumph in the approaching election is based upon false impressions, and if any Democrat has any fear of it, he may bury them all by just resolving to vote himself and see that all his neighbors do the same, and all will be well.

As a superb hair dressing and renovator Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended. It eradicates scurf and dandruff, cures all eruptions and itching of the scalp, promotes the renewed growth of the hair, and surely prevents its falling or turning gray.
