New Berne... J. W. WEBB, Observer.

“Trial by Jury” next Tuesday night at the theatre.

Mrs. H. Cohen is erecting a residence on Pollock street.

The cemetery is being put in tip top order for Memorial day.

Regular meeting of New Berne Lodge, No. 443, Knights of Honor, to-night.

The residence of Mr. J. A. Meadows, on South Front street, is receiving a new coat of paint.

Maj. Hughes left this morning for Raleigh to deliver the memorial address at that place. It will be an able one.

Complaints come from the farmers on the north side of Neuse river that the birds are about to destroy all the corn planted this season.

Mr. J. K. Willis erected in Cedar Grove Cemetery yesterday a handsome monument to the memory of the deceased wife of Capt. Dan. L. Roberts.

Mr. E. L. Francks, jr., of Onslow, is in the city. He reports cotton coming up nicely, and that the convicts are again at work on the Quaker Bridge Road.

Several gentlemen from Trenton were in the city yesterday. Among them were Messrs. H. C. Parrott, P. M. Pearson, Esq., John McDaniel and R. W. McGowan.

One of the excursions yesterday purchased a large sturgeon to take home with him, whether as a matter of profit or to ichthidernize, we are not informed.

Kinston College commencement will occur on June 3rd, 4th and 5th at Lotin's opera house. Italian string band will make the music. Public cordially invited.

The Democrats of Onslow assemble in mass meeting on Monday, the 2nd day of June, at Jacksonville, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the State and Congressional conventions.

The 10th of May is a State holiday and the banks usually close, but as it falls on Saturday this year, the National Bank here will be open to-morrow for the accommodation of customers from 10 to 12 o'clock.

At the meeting of the Exposition Committee on Wednesday the following gentlemen were appointed as a committee to solicit contributions for paying the expenses of the exhibit to be made of Craven county: Messrs. T. A. Green, W. P. Burrus, Geo. Allen, K. R. Jones and Alex. Miller.

A burning chimney at the Bateman House caused the fire alarm to be sounded yesterday about 6 o'clock, but the cause of the alarm was discovered in time to keep the Atlantics from getting out. The New Berne, however, was out, and down as far as South Front street, but finding that their services were not needed, returned to their quarters.

Mr. Wm. Colligan, sr., made a trip to Washington a few days ago and complains that he had to pay ferrriage at Swift creek, 25 cents each way, the bridge being up for repairs. He is of the opinion that the county ought to provide a ferryboat while the bridge is being rebuilt, and we believe it is customary for counties to furnish ferrriage in such cases.

We regret to learn that Treasurer Roberts' fine blooded pointer, Hanover, came near seriously injuring Capt. John A. Richardson. He snapped at him with greenish eyes, while he was fondling with him and if he had been bitten there might have been a serious case of hydrophobia. Captain, let alone dogs, we can't give you up yet; play with something else when you feel frolicsome.

Our new Board of Councilmen are not organizing upon a bed of roses. A meeting was called last night for the purpose of completing their organization, but no quorum was present. The old tax collector claims that his successor has not been legally elected and is endeavoring to hold this in vain for the Republicans. If a small office like that of Tax Collector of the City of New Berne will cause a scramble among sensible Democrats, what would become of the party if they should ever be fortunate enough to gain the Presidency?

THE WORK BEGUN.

At 9 o'clock on Thursday morning quite a number of our citizens assembled on the Academy Green to witness the breaking ground for the new school building. The Graded School marched out with banners flying and formed a square around the site for the new building. Mr. Wm. H. Oliver, who had been selected to throw the first shovel of dirt, stepped forward and said:

It affords me pleasure to state to the pupils of the Newbern Academy, and others assembled, that arrangements have been made by the trustees for the erection of a new building. This building will be large and commodious, and provided with all the modern conveniences. It will be an ornament to our city and an honor to the trustees under whom it is erected. Should no unforeseen accident happen the opening of the next session will be within its walls. Although we are not at all dissatisfied with the improvement you are making in your various studies, yet we think in the new building your progress will be more marked. To be transferred from the present unsuitable rooms as now occupied (by many of you) to such ones as we propose, will certainly be pleasant to you, and to accomplish this on the 1st day of next September will be the constant aim of the building committee.

With the blessings of Providence and the pecuniary assistance of our people (whose children are to receive the benefit of it) we can see nothing to prevent our intentions being carried out. Let each of us to-night in our prayers invoke the blessings of Almighty God on the undertaking. It is one we can with confidence ask His support. By the partiality of the Board of Trustees the pleasant lot has fallen to me to commence the work. It is a compliment which I will ever remember with pride and gratitude.

In after years when I see assembled within its walls hundreds of the children of the old town of Newbern, a name so dear to many of us, and see their beaming faces and watch their eager eyes searching for knowledge I will look back with more than ordinary pride and remember this pleasing incident of to-day.

May what we are doing be pleasing in the sight of Almighty God, and may he extend his favors to it. The formal ceremony of starting the work will be commenced by my removing the first shovel-full of earth. I now turn over to the contractors, Messrs. Simpson and Brown, the plan of the building, and by authority of the contract direct them to proceed with all due diligence in the erection of the building.

Three hearty cheers were given the speaker, after which the voices of the school children, led by the teacher of the sixth grade, pealed forth that grand old song:

“Carolina! Carolina!
Heaven's blessings attend her.”

We used to think that the sentiments of this soul-stirring—especially to North Carolinians—song could only be properly appreciated by one who had left the borders of his good old mother State and was longing to return. But we are glad that it is taught, sung and heartily cherished by our school children. It is well to infuse love and pride for our native State into our children. Too many of them have left her and are now doing service in other States, and reflecting honor upon them.

After this song the smaller children struck up, “Ho for Carolina!” and sang it with the “spirit and understanding.” Thus happily and pleasantly begun one of the most important works in New Berne that has been initiated for many, many years. May it be successfully completed in time for the opening of the school next fall.

Memorial Services.

The Memorial Services will be held this year as usual on the tenth of May, which is Saturday. We are requested by Capt. Matt Manly, who undertakes the duties of Chief Marshal, in the absence of Capt. Ed. Dugart (?) who had been selected for that position but who will be kept away by illness in his family, to invite, in the name of the Ladies' Memorial Association, the citizens of Craven county and the counties adjoining to participate in the services commemorative of our Confederate dead. All soldiers and sailors of the Confederate States are especially asked to report themselves on the Academy Green at five o'clock Memorial Day and share in the annual service of our homage to our comrades who sleep in the shade on the other side.

The usual ceremonies will be observed, attended with music.

Removal.

Messrs. Holland & Quin have moved their law office from South Front street to the office on Craven street north of Pollock, formerly occupied by Wm. Whitford, Esq. The office has been thoroughly repaired; the books, the carpet, the desk, the chairs and attorneys all look bright and ready to tackle the knotty questions of law. Even the old chair in the back room that went through the fire puts on an inviting air to clients.

The Excursionist Yesterday.

There was an interesting party of ladies and gentlemen down yesterday from Smithfield and Goldsboro. They arrived about noon on a special train and gave the city a pretty thorough looking through and we are glad to learn were well pleased with their visit, and we hope they and many others will come often.

Kinston Items.

There is but one philosophy, though there are a thousand schools, and its name is fortitude—to bear is to conquer our fate.

The steamer Kinston carried a large crowd picnicing to Biddle's Landing last Wednesday. Everybody went—even the national chief magistrate of Kinston took steamer passage.

It is said that one of our candidates for sheriff is dropping in the church contribution plate holy nickels. The Lord, we are told, loves the cheerful giver, and this contributor, besides what he saves in this world by getting off at par uncurrent money, will probably claim the reversion the Lord has promised the cheerful giver.

Learn a trade, young man. It will give you a solid foundation on which to begin life. You may as well attempt to erect a house on sandy soil without foundations as to build a career without some practical knowledge. It is a fact that there are nearly as many young men in the penitentiaries of this country learning trades as there are outside of them.

The people of this country are on the craze about education. The great English critic, John Ruskin, has made a fierce attack on the proposition to educate everybody. “Children,” he says, “should learn neither reading nor writing, for there are very few people in the world who do any good by either. Whatever foolish people read does them harm, and nothing can prevent this, for a fool attracts folly as decayed meat attracts flies.”

None of the candidates for sheriff exactly suit our “old campaigner,” Lewis Grady. He has just nominated himself for sheriff and will call upon the people of the county like Davy Crockett, with a jug of whiskey on one shoulder and a box of tobacco on the other. With these trappings, if he were not so “damned ugly,” having shaved a la Burnside, he might become a formidable candidate.

The “unfettered Democracy” had a rousing justification last Tuesday night. The Mayor elect, Col. Moses, and the new commissioners jubilated and drank beer like they loved it. This election is considered by our Democratic friends as an event of national importance, believing as they do there are now but three rounds in the Democratic ladder, Moses, Vance and Tilden—a combination indeed that shall “eclipse the gaiety of nations.”

A pair of $15 Maltese cats, all the way from Boston, Massachusetts, passed through Kinston last Tuesday, consigned to Anthony Davis, Esq., Pink Hill, N. C. Pink Hill is becoming famous for its blooded stock—its Angora goats, Plymouth rocks, Arabian steeds, Italian geese and Maltese cats; but it looks like, in the matter of cats, the Pink Hillers are somewhat extravagant, if not cranks. Fifteen dollars for two Boston cats! It is not to be wondered at now that the Massachusetts people earnestly seek to become acquainted with North Carolinians. They are such paying customers.

A gentleman don't want tobacco that will foul the air, bite the tongue, or unstring the nerves. He wants only nature's exquisite flavors and delicate tonic. These are found nowhere in such perfect combination as in the leaf of the Golden Belt of North Carolina, of which Blackwell's Durham Long Cut, for pipe and cigarette smoking, is made.
