Tenth of May.
Memorial day.
Prepare flowers for the Confederate mound this evening.
The Elm City leaves for Hyde via Bayboro this morning.
Mr. J. W. Hill showed us a sprig of bean blossoms on yesterday with a bean about one inch long.

The services this evening will be interesting, notwithstanding the usual oration will be omitted.

Hon. Louis C. Latham arrived last night on his way to Hyde court, and is the guest of Mr. H. W. Wahab.

The M. E. Church Working Society will have a strawberry festival at Mr. Nelson Whitford's on Monday night.

The Shenandoah took out about five hundred boxes of peas, and a good lot of cabbage and turnips yesterday evening.

Mr. H. J. Lovick advertises in this issue "Bohemian beer." Those who have tried it bear testimony of its purity and deliciousness as a healthy beverage.

Capt. A. B. Powell informs us that passengers of the Tarboro branch of the W. & W. Railroad report a good sprinkle of snow on Thursday. It fell so thick and fast that it remained on the ground for some time.

We noticed Mr. Wahab's clerks busily engaged in stamping packages yesterday and most of them were marked for Hyde county. Those attending court there next week need have no fears of a drought.

The steamer Trent left her wharf yesterday evening for Polkville for a large party of excursionists, who will arrive in the city this morning and are expected to be in attendance at the memorial ceremonies this evening.

Mayor Bryan held his first court yesterday. Three cases of disorderly conduct were disposed of by the defendants paying a fine of one penny and cost and making some mighty good promises not to appear before His Honor again under like circumstances.

Mr. R. B. Lehman started out on yesterday evening for a drive, but the horse refused to go. Mr. Lehman used all the gentle persuasion within the power of man; he insisted, but the horse refused; he coaxed, and the horse sat down; in fact, he showed a considerable quantity of muleishness and we were forcibly reminded of the remark, "that's what makes me 'spise a mule."

Among the shipment of vegetables and other products, we noticed yesterday a number of sea turtles of very large size. They were destined for Baltimore, where they will doubtless be used in making soup, which, if the size means anything, it will be no mock turtle. Our friends on the sea side are keeping pace with the trucking interest and find it as profitable to ship all surplus water products as do the tillers of the soil there.

We learn from the News and Observer that one of the last acts of the old Board of Aldermen of the city of Raleigh was to provide a table especially for the use of members of the press. We commend their example to the Board of City Council of New Berne. The people look to the newspapers for the news, but when there is an important meeting being held by the board as was the case last night, a reporter, could not get nearer than ten feet of the door. If he understood, however, that a table had been provided he would not hesitate to crowd through and be prepared to note the proceedings.

Our young friend of the Kinston Free Press undertakes to show, from false premises, that we have a greedy disposition in filling up the slate for the Democratic State ticket. The truth is we have made no slate at all but have suggested to the Democrats the name of Maj. John Hughes as a suitable candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. Now if Bro. Daniels will show us, and he may have the use of our files, where we have ever written a line in favor of putting any other New Berne man on the State ticket we will confess to the charge of having a very greedy disposition. As for filling the slate for the Elm City, we say truthfully that with our shelled streets, fine fish, oysters and fat Hyde county turkeys the legislator would be kept out of the mud and would fare much better on his four dollars per day than he would in Raleigh.

Schooner Arrivals.
The Mary S., Capt. Jim Berry, from Juniper Bay, with corn for J. A. Meadows and W. P. Burrus & Co.
The Theresa, Capt. Williams, from Germantown, with corn and cattle.

Colored Graded School.
Examination begins Monday with North Carolina History and Maurice's Geography. Tuesday, writing, drawing and calligraphy. Wednesday, arithmetic, anatomy and reading. Thursday, giving out of certificates.
Friends and patrons of this school are cordially invited to attend.
On Wednesday and Thursday nights concerts will be given in the New Berne Theatre. Admission 15 cents. A portion of the theatre is reserved for white friends.
The address will be delivered by Hon. John S. Long.

Personal.
Rev. Dr. Robey, of Goldsboro, gave us a pleasant call on yesterday. He was on his way to Smith creek, Pamlico county, where he is to hold quarterly meeting to-day for the Presiding Elder, Mr. Mann, who is unable to attend on account of sickness.
Mr. Dan Jones, of the firm of Howard & Jones, returned from the North yesterday. This firm is selling a shower of ready-made clothing, straw hats and shoes. They can't help selling because they let the people know they have got the goods and then they sell them so low that one is bound to purchase.
Mr. R. B. Raney, of the Atlantic Hotel, was in the city yesterday. He is getting things in readiness for the summer opening and will be prepared to entertain a big crowd in a handsome manner.

Peace Reigneth.
The common council met last night, all the members being present except Councilman Crawford, who is on a visit to New York.
Our reporter being unable to get in, we can give no accurate account of proceedings, but learn that the Republican member, Styron, voted with the majority of the Democratic members, and in that way the previous elections were ratified.
This embroglio is now ended, it is hoped. Such talk as has been heard on the streets for a day or so past is not in any way calculated to advance the interest of the Democratic party, or to strengthen the hands of those of our friends in other parts of the State who are contending for that form of county government which is recognized as of great importance to us.

Memorial Day.
The memorial ceremonies will be conducted on the Academy Green at five o'clock this afternoon.
The order of exercises will be as follows:
Forming Ranks.
Music by the choir: "Guard around the tomb."
Prayer, by Rev. L. S. Burkhead.
Music by the choir: "Voice of Peace."
Benediction.
Music by the choir: "Cover them over with beautiful flowers."
The procession will then move to the Cemetery for the purpose of strewing with flowers the graves of the heroes of the lost cause.
The Silver Cornet Band will be in attendance and aid in furnishing music.
MATT MANLY,
Chief Marshal.

Hon. Truman Smith.
Hon. Truman Smith, of Connecticut, has just died, aged 94. Thirty or forty years ago he was very prominent in the Congress. He served three terms in the House and one term in the Senate. He was a distinguished lawyer and leader from 1839 to 1854, when he resigned his place as Senator. We had lost sight of him for so long a time that we thought he had died years ago.—W. H. Star.

Bill Arp.
Next Monday evening Maj. Charles H. Smith, of Georgia, known to the civilized world as "Bill Arp," will lecture at Tucker hall, in aid of Edenton street Methodist church. Bill Arp has the happy and rare faculty of combining more wit and sound sense than any of the age. He doesn't state the subject on which his lecture will be based, but that makes it all the more interesting. He will attract a large audience, or course. That goes without saying. All who go will be delighted.—News and Observer.

Kentucky Democratic State Convention.
CINCINNATI, May 8.—A Commercial Gazette Frankfort (Kentucky) special says: At half-past 12 o'clock the delegates at large were elected, after several hours of hard work. They are Henry Watterson, Thos. L. Jones, Jas. McKenzie and J. Stoddard Johnson. The anti-delegation are for free trade.

Butter.
20 tubs more of Mountain Butter to arrive at DALY BROS. may 10. Price 30 cents.

Letter from Georgia.
WADLEY, GA., May 7, 1884.

MR. EDITOR:—Thinking that you would like to hear a little from Georgia by one of our old North Carolinians, I will endeavor to give you a few facts concerning farming, saw milling, etc. The farmers, when breaking up land, use a plow something similar to our 55, only that the point and all is casted in one whole piece. After breaking up the lands they run off their rows from 8 to 8 1/2 feet apart, when the corn is up a little they use a little thing to side it about 8 1/2 inches wide, like we used to use for opening the row for cotton seed when sown with hand. All their plows are in the same shape, only larger. Corn now is from 18 to 30 inches tall. Upon an average they make about twelve bushels per acre. It is worth 90 cents cash, $1.25 on time, per bushel. Farmers say that they make a plenty every other year and next year fall. This is a year of plenty, as they failed last year. Don't make any rice. Cotton is planted in our old style. An average crop is two-thirds bale per acre, fertilizer is used extensively. Kainit is but very little known here, and marl, there is none at all. Saw-mills are thicker than churches and school houses all put together. Turpentine stills are about the same. There is but very little whiskey sold here, only about one half of the counties are allowed to sell it, though there is a great deal of it drunk everywhere; it is ordered from Charlotte, N. C., by jugs full. I was at the station last Saturday and counted 17 jugs that were brought from Charlotte. It is ordered only about once a week and then everything gets on a "high."

There is one mill dam about two miles from Mason that is 190 miles long. I noticed a small stream of water a few mornings ago that was running very swift about 3 o'clock, and that eve I passed it again and it was dry. I asked about it and was told that a great many of them done the same way, dry up about 1 o'clock in the eve and commence running again in the night. None.

A gentleman don't want tobacco that will foul the air, bite the tongue, or unnerve the nerves. He wants only nature's exquisite flavors and delicate tonic. These are found nowhere in such perfect combination as in the leaf of the Golden Belt of North Carolina, of which Blackwell's Durham Long Cut, for pipe and cigar smoking, is made.

Jones County Items.
P. M. Pearsal has been elected by the commissioners of Trenton, town treasurer.
The farmers are chopping out their corn crops, which have improved very much in the last few days.
Every one is coughing up here. When you meet one he says he has got the worst cold he ever had. Colds are certainly epidemic with us.
Mr. John B. Turner, an old citizen of Tuckahoe township, aged 80 years, died last week, leaving many relatives and friends to mourn their loss.
Jones county Democracy may be considered solid for our party this year. No coalitionists here; all right side up with care and don't you forget it.

The fishermen around Trenton are having a nice time pulling out the perch. It appears that they are very plentiful or else Trenton fishermen know more about the secret art of pulling them in than we do.
There will be a grand picnic at Trenton on the 22nd of June. Come one, come all, and bring your baskets, and let them be well filled with the good things. There will be also a good time at night, as the young ladies and gentlemen of Trenton and vicinity will give a tableaux entertainment at the court house for the benefit of the church at Trenton.
One of our citizens has been terribly troubled by dogs robbing his hens' nests for several months, during which time his loss in eggs has been severe. Several of his neighbors were sufferers also. So he concluded to try what virtue there was in strichnine by placing a poisoned egg in a nest. The result was one dead dog and the whole neighborhood rid of a pest.

The Democratic county convention for Jones county will be held at Trenton on the first Monday in June. The different townships will please take notice and have delegations there to represent their wishes. It is called by Mr. Smith, the chairman of the Democratic executive committee, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the State and congressional conventions.
The town election at Trenton on Monday last resulted in the choice of E. R. Page for mayor, Joseph A. Smith, T. C. Whitaker and J. H. Scarborough, commissioners, and Benjamin Erwin town constable. Politics was not even thought about in the selection of these gentlemen. I have been informed the issue was the opening up of the streets of Trenton, which have been closed several years. The citizens are a little cramped up and are asking for more room and more streets.

Polkville Items.
The day for the excursion is looked forward to with bright anticipations by many of our young people.
Times are very dull. Your itemizer sold his moustash for fifty cents and there are many more in town who would do likewise, especially J. H. and P. W. Polkville Literary Society gave a public debate at their hall on last Friday night. Subject discussed: Which is the more attractive, the work of nature or that of art. Decision rendered in favor of the negative by a vote of 3 to 2.
Messrs. D. S. Bonner, G. W. White and N. H. Street were elected Town Commissioners on Monday, and Mr. B. Barry was elected Constable. The election passed off very quietly and the Democrats were elected without any opposition.

Capt. W. T. R. Bell, A. M., of King's Mountain, will deliver the Commencement address of Prof. T. P. Wynn's school in July. We congratulate Prof. Wynn in his selection and will promise all who have the opportunity of being present that they will be doubly repaid for all of their trouble in coming to hear Capt. Bell, for he enjoys the already most enviable reputation of being an orator second to none in the Old North State.
