THE NEW OBLEANS EXPOSITION.

Congress has passed a bill loaning one million of dollars to the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition at New Orleans, and the work of building and preparing for the Exposition is posed to excel both the World's Fair of London and the Centennial

The New York Herald of the 18th gives an extended outline of the progress and immensity of the New Orleans Exposition can be re-work, from which we copy a few duced, but it is evident that adparagraphs:

New Orleans is busily engaged preparing for a World's Industrial position, opening December 1. 1884, and continuing for six months, which now promises to surpass the World's Fair of London in size and the Centennial of 1876 in variety of exhibits. A monster building 1,378 feet long by 905 feet in width is being erected in the centre of the upper City Park, and attracts thousands of visitors, who are amazed at the rapidity with which the construction progresses. Nearon the work, and one section of the gwine to jine the citizens' move- ticle that can be sold in every household, roof is now being laid. Hundreds of men are engaged in ditching, draining and embellishing grounds, and a large force is employed in the erection of an enormous conservatory. The buildings will be completed and exhibits received in August. No event in the history of New Orleans has ever excited such universal interest. Citizens of all classes manifest the liveliest desire to make the enterprise a success, and even the labor organizations of the city contribute a portion of eir weekly wages to the stock of the Exposition Association.

A COLOSSAL STRUCTURE. The largest exposition structure a kentry in which all incourage ment am held out fur men to lib sober, honest lives. It's agin law, we have agents now making more than double the amount we guaranteed, and but two saless a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and one mye a music hall in the centre hisself. with a seating capacity of 11,000. duty. The immediate cause of the determination to hold such an exposition was the expression of a general desire among the more progressive agriculturists and industrialists of the cotton States to provide a means whereby the people of all nations could obtain a knowledge of the resources, capacity and products of the Southern States of North America and at the same time enable the people of these States to align themselves with the universal spirit of progress which distinguishes the present era, but the enterprise has grown beyond and numbered about 600 wheelmen. these bounds, and now bids fair to be an exposition of the world's industrial resources, in which cotton will be incidentally represented.

The growth of interest in expositions, their importance to manufacturers in opening new markets for their products, and their value in presenting the natural resources which attract immigration and capital, are forcibly exemplified by the statement that applications for space have been received by the World's Exposition management,

The miscellaneous exhibits at the Philadelphia Centennial covered of 1876 in buildings and variety of about 750,000 feet of space, and the total exhibits required about 1,200,000 of floor space. Many of mittee will decide whether there is the applications for space in the ground to warrant further action ditional buildings will be required to accommodate the demands from all parts of the world.

GENERAL NEWS.

WASHINGTON, May 20.-Six hundred bicycles took part in the annual parade of the League of American Wheelmen this morning. While the procession was forming in the vicinity of the Arlington Hotel the scene was animated. On both sides of the wide stretch of asphalt pavements were stacked the machines, forming glittering masses of metal. The order of march, sounded by the buglers, was not given until after 10 o'clock. The procession was divided into three divisions, As it passed through the White House grounds the President, accompanied by three members of Congress, appeared on the portico and reviewed it, touching his hat to the different clubs as they passed. The twenty-five mile race for the championship League trophy, held in Eagland, was won by Charles Frasier, of Smithville, N. J., beating H. J. Hall, of Brooklyn, by 254 seconds in 98 minutes 421 seconds.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Morgan resolution to investigate Currency, with the request that he appear before the committee one week from to-day, prepared to convey to them such facts relating to the subject as he may have gathered. Upon his showing the comgation at this time might add to the popular distrust engendered by the panie of last week, with possibly serious results.
