J. W. WEBB, Observer.

Vendor is dead.

Don't forget the excursion to Harlowe to-morrow—50 miles for 50 cents.

Regular meeting of St. John's Lodge No. 2, A. F. and A. M., to-night. Annual election of officers.

Mr. A. C. Gooding, of Jones county, sent in a fine beef yesterday which weighed 1,170 pounds gross.

The name of Miss Lottie Hubbs was accidentally left off the list of the annual roll of honor in the Graded School report, yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Jenkins, on Sunday Baptized thirty-two persons at the foot of Broad street, the result of the revival meetings recently held in his church.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Northrop delivered two able discourses on Sunday last to full congregations, and at the evening service administered the sacrament of confirmation to seven persons.

The colored Normal School opened here on the 2nd inst. with a good attendance. Prof. Savage has charge and as far as we have learned is making it a success. About forty students are in attendance, and others are continually coming in.

It is desirable to place in the corner stone of the new Academy building a list of the clergy and officers of the various churches in New Berne, also a list of the names of all pupils attending either public or private schools, also a list of the officers of the city and county government; and also of the officers of all the various corporations and associations in the city. Those having seals please attach them.

Lightning's Work.

C. C. Green, Esq., of Trenton, arrived in the city yesterday and tells us that lightning struck the northeast corner of Charles H. Foy's store on Monday and badly shattered it. The clerk, Mr. James Heritage, was struck and several others more or less frightened.

The Break has Begun.

The following card received last night from Smithfield explains itself:

SMITHFIELD, N. C., June 9.
Hon. W. A. Smith, late member of Congress, openly declares himself a Democrat now and henceforth. Says Blaine is too heavy for him to carry. Says he has voted his last Republican ticket. He intends stumping the State for the Democratic nominees, whoever they be. He is very bitter against Republicanism. Respectfully,
B. L. BINGHAM.

The Late R. W. Chadwick.

The Wilmington Star pays the following tribute to the late senior editor of the Beaufort Telephone:

The death of R. W. Chadwick, Esq., editor of the Beaufort Telephone, which occurred in this city on Friday morning, is deeply lamented here by a great many personal friends. He was a man of sincere piety and of sterling worth. As an editor he was conscientious, firm, frank, and intelligent and in his death the press loses a meritorious journalist. As a citizen, and a member of the church militant he was most exemplary. A good and true man has fallen.

Justice's Court.

The following cases were before Justice Watson yesterday:

State vs. John B. Ippock; larceny. W. E. Clarke for the State, Wm. Whitford for defendant. Recognized to appear at next term of the Superior Court.

State and Wm. Colligan, sr., vs. Alfred Richardson; peace warrant. L. J. Moore for the State. Defendant held in bond of $100 to keep the peace.

State vs. Alfred Richardson; A. and B. Guilty. Fined $5.00 and cost.

Personal.

Mrs. Judge Seymour and family left on the Shenandoah yesterday for Clinton, New York, where they are to spend the summer.

Mr. Benj. S. Guion took passage on the schooner Melvin yesterday for New York.

F. M. Simmons, Esq., left for Raleigh yesterday morning to attend the Federal Circuit court now in session.

Mr. James Brinson has returned from Wake Forest College.

Prof. Thomas and Miss Ida Christmas left for Durham yesterday morning.

John S. Long, Esq., leaves this morning for Kings Mountain to deliver the address before the High School at that place.

Sailed for Europe.

Rev. L. C. Vass sailed yesterday on the Shenandoah for Europe via New York. He will leave N. Y. on the 14th on the steamship City of Rome of the Anchor Line.

Mr. Vass goes to Belfast to attend the Presbyterian Council, and thence to Copenhagen to be present at the World's Evangelical Alliance, after which he will visit points of note so far as his time will permit.

We have secured the promise of occasional letters from him during his absence and need not say to our readers that they will find them intensely interesting, as his ability to describe places and things he sees, while traveling, is already known and appreciated by them.

A large number of friends assembled at the boat to give him a cordial shake of the hand and an affectionate good bye, irrespective of creeds or denominational allegiance. During the absence of Mr. Vass his pulpit will be occupied by different ministers whose services have been secured.

A Landmark Gone.

For fifty years or more there has stood at the corner of Craven and Pollock streets a faithful sentinel, guarding the children in their innocent amusements, the wearied laborer, the overworked business man, the matron and the maid from the scorching rays of the summer sun.

Beneath its sheltering boughs the old North Carolina Bank was built, used and torn away; around its rotund body has passed the gay and fashionable of the city in search of the latest styles of dry goods and most attractive ornaments over which it kept silent watch. Across the street it has witnessed the anxious messenger sent for remedies needed to alleviate suffering mortals, and the nervous approach to the postoffice of those who might receive the draped envelope so much dreaded and yet so eagerly sought.

Just beyond, it had been the silent observer of the building of the old church and also seen the devouring flames leap up the spire and the building reduced to a mere wreck. It had been present here at the rebuilding of the edifice, heard again the sound of the bell calling the devout to prayers and sinners to repentance, had seen once more the spire lifted up and pointing heavenward. It had seen the devout pass in at the doors as well as those of other motives and with each returning spring spread out its genial shade to the sporting youth and braced its form to support the ever faithful lounge.

But alas! decay had taken hold on its stalwart form and crept stealthily to its uttermost branches and MAN, thoughtful, grateful, MAN, came in the spirit of mercy and put an end to its vigils, felled it to the ground and conveyed from the sight of mortals forever THE OLD ELM ON THE BANK CORNER.

The corner stone of the new Academy building will be laid with appropriate services on Tuesday, June 17, 1884, at 6 o'clock p. m. The Most Worshipful Grand Master of the State of North Carolina, or some one deputed by him will conduct the masonic services.
WILLIAM H. OLIVER,
Chairman of Committee.

To the Democratic Voters of the 2d District.

GOLDSBORO, June 3d, 1884.

Owing to the great difficulty heretofore experienced in getting enough delegates together to hold a Convention in the Second Congressional District, the State Executive Committee at its last session suggested that the counties, when selecting delegates to the State Convention, might also elect Congressional delegates to meet at Raleigh the 25th of June, for the purpose of completing the organization made necessary by reason of the redistricting of the State. There seems to be some misunderstanding as to the purpose of the Committee; I, therefore, as chairman of the old Second District, request the delegates of the new Second District to meet in convention at Weldon on Wednesday, June 19, 1884.
A. J. GALLOWAY,
Chairman old 2d Dist.

Democrats, Attention!

You will please assemble in your respective townships on Saturday the 7th day of June and elect your Township Executive Committee and Delegates to the County Convention, to be held on Saturday, the 14th day of June, at the court house, at 13 m.

Democrats of the 8th Township will meet at the court house on Saturday, the 7th day of June, at 12 m., and elect their Executive Committee and Delegates to the County Convention.

Democrats of the city of New Berne will meet in their respective wards on the night of the 7th day of June and elect Delegates to the County Convention.

By order Democratic Ex. Committee of Craven county.
E. H. MEADOWS, Chairman.

Ice Cream and Siddy Cakes.

M. Shepard will be at your door this evening with his delicious Ice Cream and Siddy Cakes. Try them and you will be satisfied.

The sure effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

are thorough and permanent. If there is a lurking idea of scrofula about you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will drive it out, and leave you healthy and strong.

Kinston Items.

Turpentine—Hard, 60. Dip, $1.60.

Beeswax, 25c.
Honey, 75c. per gal.
Butter country, 25c.
Hams, country, 13c. per lb.
Lard, country, 13c. per lb.

Peas, field, $1.50 per bushel.
Hides, dry, 8c. per lb.
" green, 4c. per lb.
Tallow, 5c. per lb.
Chickens, 40c. per pair.
Eggs, 12c. per doz.

When two young ladies kiss they fulfil a gospel injunction. They do unto each other what they would men should do unto them.

There were two heavy showers of rain at Kinston last Sunday. They were much needed.

The friends of Kinston College have just subscribed $1,250 for an endowment for the college.

It is said not one woman in ten knows how to wrap a newspaper for mailing or can fill an application for a money order.

Women have too often been compared to flowers; there will always be this difference between them: when the flower is beautiful it knows nothing of it.

If we were the creator of man, we would make a race of people who would understand their own business as well as they do the affairs of their neighbors.

Our cautious mayor advertises that the June days have come and that the dog collars are ready. All dogs "that wish to be saved" are warned that salvation comes only from the mayor's collar.

The nomination of Blaine and Logan is encouraging. A big foreign war is just what the country wants. There are too many who want office and wish to vote. The population needs a little thinning out.

The trustees and patrons of the Kinston graded school will erect a $5,000 brick building on the extension of Queen street towards Washington's hill. They have the lot secured and about $2,000 subscribed for this purpose.

A woman will wear a hat trimmed with birds, a sheaf of wheat, a small alligator and other articles of like description and be perfectly happy. Yet that same woman will complain bitterly if her husband happens to come home with a plain, ordinary, every-day brick in his hat. Such, alas! is the inconsistency of woman.

Our town continues to build and to improve. The brick stores of J. L. Nelson and the machine shops are nearly completed. B. W. Canady, the hardware dealer, is "clearing the deck" for a two-story brick store on the site of his wooden store just removed. Einstein has an order for a large pile of brick with which to erect a fine mansion in the rear of his brick store and also to fill up the space between himself and S. H. Loftin with a brick store. Kinstonians have great faith in bricks, and it will be observed they propose to carry them elsewhere than in their hats.

Jones County Items.

The people in Trenton and the whole vicinity are at this time very healthy; with the exception of a few cases of measles.

The measles has broke out afresh in Trenton, having been two or three new cases recently in the town. I understand that one of Mr. Rand's workmen is very sick with it at this time.

We hope everybody will recollect that the picnic day will soon be upon us—Friday, June 20th. Come all, every one, and don't forget your baskets, that you will all fill with niceness for the occasion.

Thos. Green, sr., a very worthy colored man who resided about two miles above Trenton, died on Wednesday, the 4th of June. Thos. Green was a good farmer and was highly respected for his good qualities by the entire community.

I heard an old darkey lamenting the scarcity of corn and meat; "but," says he, "I shall live until I die, if I perish to death;" but he remarked that huckleberries and briarberries would soon ripen, and then farewell to meat and bread for him while they lasted.

Our farmers are busy attending their crops and only go to Trenton when they have very urgent business. I understand that their crops are in fine order and corn crops are looking well, better than they have for years. Some of them are complaining of bad stands in the bottom lands. Cotton has been set back a little in consequence of the cold nights; chufas, it appears, is a general failure; no stand.

I have been informed by a citizen of Trenton, a very worthy and reliable gentleman, that Mrs. C. C. Green has the finest garden in the county of Jones. Such a fine variety of vegetables and so well arranged, every plant seems as if it was placed in its proper place; and the gentleman also added that Mrs. Green appeared to take such a delight in its cultivation was the secret of her great success.

Corn is particularly scarce with us; it is a little funny to see some of the farmers drive in town with a few bushels of this much-needed article, and let the citizens gather around it just as they would a fish-cart, every one needing it, some to send to the mill, some to feed their pigs with. I heard a gentleman remark the other day that his pigs were so poor that they could not squeal. He also remarked that he frequently heard his neighbors complaining of cholera, and they were purchasing compounds to cure it but his opinion was that instead of cholera being the cause, it was an empty corn crib.

The sure effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are thorough and permanent. If there is a lurking idea of scrofula about you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will drive it out, and leave you healthy and strong.

Duck Creek Items.

Mrs. George W. Carraway has a milk gourd over 40 years old, been in use that long, and is good now. It is almost white.

Rev. Joe Dixon preached at Ward's school house Sunday to a very large and appreciative audience. Mr. Dexter Morton had a good school at that place for ten months.

George Manly has the finest Irish potatoes I ever saw. He dug some this week that yielded 37 potatoes to the hill and very large, none smaller than a small sized egg. Fine crop of corn also.

Mr. Coburn, the telegraph operator at Dr. Ward's, came very near losing his life a few days ago. He started across Brown's Inlet with Mr. A. Redd, his assistant, when the boat sprung a leak, and having nothing to stop the leak, Mr. C. was compelled to use his clothing, which he did, and finally got ashore about midnight.

We are living in a thriving community now. Plenty of vegetables, both tame and wild; huckleberries and briarberries in abundance. Miss Warcy and sister, Annie T. H., went out only a little way from the house and picked about a half bushel huckleberries in a very short time. I reckon they eat some, too, from the way their mouths looked.

Some sickness among us now. Mr. L. Watson is very sick, and Mrs. George Freshwater is not expected to live long. One death in our midst; Mr. W. Aman, son of Rev. D. J. Aman, died of dropsy of the heart last week, aged 18 years. He was a good boy and leaves a great many friends. We heard a good sermon by his father at Ward's Mill Church last Sunday. Text: Mat. 1st and 13th verses. Mr. A. will preach there every first Sunday in the month until further notice.

A severe cold snap after a heavy rain makes things look kinder blue, as the saying is; but in this case cotton, corn and potatoes look like a red headed ugly person—very bad. Some of the farmers have pretty good crops. Dr. Ward is laying by his corn; it looks very well. Mr. E. B. Fonville has the prettiest cotton patch I have seen. R. G. Ward has the largest I have heard of, nearly knee high, and plenty of forms in the field; but says his corn is not good. Don't know the reason, for Dick always has a good corn crop. Esq. Ben Ward is the champion watermelon raiser so far. He has melons half grown, and had young ones two weeks ago. A. J. Hurst has a fine crop of cotton, corn and rice, besides watermelons, potatoes and chufas. Andrew is a model farmer and his wife has one of the finest gardens in this community; he has collards four and a half feet high, grown this year. But Mrs. John Freeman has the largest cabbages in this section; some as large over as the head of a barrel. Cucumbers and beans plentiful.

Mr. John Hill G— found a Lee tree in the woods. He hived the bees and went after them in the night, secured them good with clothes, etc., carried them home very carefully, about four miles, on his shoulder, got home very tired, and placed them on the bench. "Well, John," says his sister, "you have got 'em; how are they, is it a big swarm?" "Yes," says John, puffing and blowing, "I think there is at least a bushel of 'em, from the weight, and I will show you; just bring me a light." John lifted up the corn carefully and looked in when "h—land sc—rs" says John, "if the bees ain't every one gone, and here I've been toting an empty gum for four miles." And so it was bees had left the gum the day before; how people can imagine things. This same John set a steeltrap for a fox; next morning he went along there soon and the first thing John knew he was up to his knees in his own trap, fast. He squaled for help and was soon relieved by his sister who told him she did not know steeltraps and bees went together.

Pink Hill (Lenoir Co.) Items.

E. M. Jarman is sawing the lumber for the court house.

Corn looking small but in good condition and a good stand.

Cotton small and looking badly from the effects of cold weather. W. B. Nunn, it is said, has the largest and nicest cotton in the county.

Wheat is looking well. It is thought that a third more will be made in the township than last year. Oats are over an average and rye is very good.

It looks like we will need a jail as well as a court house. A fight took place on the church yard at Christian Chapel on Sunday, June 1st. Wm. Taylor and his son James were the assaulting party and Frank Caverter was the party attacked. No serious damage. The parties were taken before Justice Turner and tried. James was fined $6.00 and Wm. Taylor $3.00. Caverter was discharged.

The wrapper for Blackwell's Durham Long Cut is unique. The foil, which effectively preserves the freshness and aroma of the tobacco, is stamped into a silken surface. At the top is the triumphant Durham Bull, symmetrical in figure and lordly in proportion. Beneath are the Pyramids, on whose top an ambitious sculptor is carving—not Excelsior, but which is the same thing—Durham. Enjoy the artistic design before passing it over to the children. d

A whisker dye must be convenient to use, easy to apply, impossible to rub off, elegant in appearance, and cheap in price. Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers unites in itself all these merits. Try it.
