The National Bank will not open until 12 o'clock to-day.

One hundred and ten names were registered at the Gaston House yesterday.

The Firemen parade this morning at nine o'clock, immediately after which the test will come off at the foot of Craven street.

A curlew bug was captured while crawling across the streets of New Berne yesterday. The question is, how did he get here?

We really do feel at a loss how to express our admiration of the taste and skill displayed by the firemen in the decoration of their buildings, both inside and out.

The committee on proxies of the A. & N. C. Railroad will meet at the office of the Secretary and Treasurer of said Company at 10 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, the 28th inst.

We regret to learn that Capt. C. K. Hancock's little boy, Carlisle, had his arm broken on the Academy Green yesterday afternoon while wrestling or playing with some of his associates.

The many friends of Col. E. D. Hall were gratified to meet him here, and especially to find that time has dealt so gently with him. He looks much as he did in the stormy days of 1861 and '62, when in service here in the old Seventh Regiment.

The second largest source of revenue to the U. S. Government from any one branch of business, is derived from the production and manufacture of tobacco. Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Co., of Durham, N. C., claims to be the largest manufacturer of Smoking Tobacco in the world. The reputation of Blackwell's Genuine Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is too firmly established to need any commendation at our hands.

In another column our readers will notice their new announcement which is of interest to all lovers of the weed. The company are perfectly responsible, and when they announce that they will give away $11,950 in cash, it is an assured fact that they mean just what they say. Smokers will find an opportunity of combining business with pleasure by reading their announcement.

A New Boat.

Mr. C. P. Fulcher, of Holly Hill, came down with a new sharpie, Viola May, on Tuesday, bringing a cargo of shingles. She is 28 ft on the keel and is capable of carrying eighteen thousand shingles. She was built for the trade of Little Swift creek.

Deaths.

D. R. Walker writes as follows: "Col. R. C. D. Beaman, a prominent and useful citizen of Greene county, died suddenly of apoplexy Sunday evening. He was the Democratic candidate for the Senate from Lenoir and Greene counties. We regret, also, to chronicle the death of Mrs. W. A. Darden, of Greene, and of John Gilmer Galloway, youngest child of Captain Swift Galloway, of Goldsboro, which occurred Sunday morning."—News and Observer.

A Generous Gift.

It is with much pleasure that we publish the letter below from our fellow countryman, of Vanceboro, to Mayor Meadows. It is the first donation, we believe, that has been made by any person living outside of the city to our school building, but we sincerely hope that it is not the last:

VANCEBORO, June 17, 1884.
MAYOR E. H. MEADOWS:
My Dear Sir—Please find enclosed check for $25.00 to aid in the building of your new graded school building.
Yours truly,
WILLIAM CLEVE.

Accident at the Laying of the Corner Stone.

During the time the people were assembling for the laying of the corner stone, yesterday afternoon, a number of colored persons perched upon the scaffolding around the walls of the building, although ordered down by policemen, persisted in remaining, and did so until a sufficient number had gathered there to cause the staging to give way, precipitating them to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet or more. Fortunately but little damage was done; only a few persons were injured and it is hoped none seriously.

Ice Cream and Banana Sherbet at Mrs. Dillingham's to-day.

Notice.

NEW BERNE, N. C., June 16, 1884.
As the steamer Edin City will make an excursion to Washington, she will not leave New Berne for Hyde county until Thursday, June 19th, at 9 o'clock, and she will leave Hyde county for New Berne on Friday, June 20th, at 9 o'clock.

THE VISITING FIREMEN.

The freight train arrived yesterday morning at 8:15, on special schedule, bringing Mayor Hall, of the city of Wilmington, the Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1 with officers, E. G. Parmele, Foreman, W. C. Von Glahn, 1st Assistant, Martin Newman, 2nd Assistant, E. W. Manning, Engineer, Louis Wackmuth, Assistant Engineer, and a band of seventeen musicians; the Eclipse Steam Fire Engine Co., of Goldsboro, with officers, J. W. Lamb, Foreman, M. Witherington, 1st Assistant, W. T. Yelverton, 2nd Assistant, J. Strauss, Engineer, J. Parker, Assistant Engineer, and a band of twelve musicians.

They were met at the depot by the Atlantic and New Berne companies and a large number of the citizens of this city. Mayor Meadows escorted Mayor Hall in carriage, and the fire companies were escorted by our firemen to the Gaston House, where the formal reception was tendered by Chief Engineer Moore on the part of the firemen and Mayor Meadows on the part of the citizens.

Mr. Moore said:
Gentlemen of the Wilmington and Goldsboro Steam Fire Engine Companies:

It is more a pleasure than duty, as Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of New Berne, that I welcome you to our City of Elms. The interchange of visits, of which we had the happy occasion to inaugurate between our sister cities, not only conduces to the creation of a commendable spirit of emulation, but also to one of a kindly social feeling which I trust may be ever fostered. As one of the participants of your generous and unbounded hospitality and in behalf of the fire department and citizens of this city, I can have no desire or ambition greater than the hope that we may be able to entertain you as well as you did us while your guest.

Gentlemen, I welcome you and trust that while with us you will feel perfectly at home, I now take pleasure in introducing to you our honored Mayor, E. H. Meadows.

Mayor Meadows said:

Gentlemen of the Wilmington and Goldsboro Fire Departments:
I greet you with my most earnest compliments, and beg to assure you in behalf of this community of its supreme gratification at your accepting the invitation extended by our firemen for a friendly contest of fire apparatus. May the contest be such that the vanquished may feel as proud of their efforts as the victor their laurels.

This city desires to unite with its gallant firemen in their welcome and hospitality to such heroic organizations from the metropolitan and railroad city of North Carolina.
To do honor to firemen is a time-honored custom. It is to them every community appeals for protection when the hand of the fire fiend has escaped the vigilance of the trusty watchman, thus should we be ever mindful of their wishes and anticipate their wants, for in that degree we appreciate their efforts, we advance the interest and dignity of our cities.

The typical fireman of to-day stands in strong contrast with his brother of twenty years ago. Heroism and subordination to discipline is the pride of today of every member of our Departments from driver to chief. The ringing of bells, the conflict of authority and confusion worse confounded, were then dangerous to peace and order, as much to be feared as the devouring elements.

The events and recollections of to-day will cluster around this devoted city, and in later years when we shall have passed away will stimulate our sons to pursue your record and organizations.
I welcome you to the cooling waves of the classic Neuse where they mingle with the waters of the Trent on their way to the sea. I welcome you to our shell roads and elm groves. I welcome you to Elm city where fair woman is always fairest in her beauty and firemen are ever true to duty.

Gentlemen, you require no introduction to our hearthstones, your good name is in advance of you; your passport is Fireman, and the "latch string hangs on the outside."

New Berne Firemen, the honor of entertaining this distinguished guest is upon you; sustain the reputation of your ancient city. Let the spirit of the lamented Radcliff and Ellis be aroused within you, so that when their stay shall have ended they may carry with them the fondest recollections of old Elm City. Without detaining you longer, I tender you the freedom of the city, and above all the cordial hospitality of our homes and hearts.

At the conclusion of Mayor Meadows' address the Wilmington band rendered a piece of excellent music, which was complimented by many. Mayor Hall was loudly called for. He did not expect a call at this stage of the proceedings and was therefore compelled to deliver an impromptu address, which are generally the best, and on this occasion was very appropriate. He spoke in substance as follows:

Mr. Mayor and Firemen of the City of New Berne:

In behalf of the representatives of the city of Wilmington, the firemen, I desire to return our warmest thanks for this magnificent reception. Wilmington and New Berne are since North Carolina was first settled, those two names have been prominent in its history. Their interests are the same; their sentiments, their bliss, were the same. Educated in the same school, taught by the same classic teachers, Gaston, Stanley, Donnels and Manly and others—we by our Dudley, Ashe, Moores and Meares—all animated by State pride, a chivalrous devotion to virtue and duty, how could there be any difference? May it always be so. May our hearts always beat as one for the honor and interest of dear old North Carolina.

My recollections and associations are of a mixed character of pleasure and pain. Twenty-five or more years ago I led a Wilmington Volunteer Company to participate in the celebration of the completion of your railroad. Well do I recollect the delights we had in participating in your magnificent hospitalities.

The second time I visited you, the clouds of war were about bursting over your heads, the step of the invader was at your threshold; men from all points of the State rushed here to offer up their lives, if need be, in your defence. But alas, our efforts were futile. The last time was equally ominous. In 1868, when the dark cloud of reconstruction was engulfing all that we held dear, in its nauseous folds, I was sent here as the standard bearer of the white men in North Carolina to bid you to be of good cheer; then all was not lost as long we were true to ourselves.

Though thirty thousand of our truest citizens were disfranchised, and then I was leading a forlorn hope, yet all was not lost. We must not yield our manhood; we must meet danger square in the face and fight the good fight for the supremacy of the Anglo-Saxon race. How well we fought, how well we endured, is evidenced now in the happy consolidation of our people and the bright prospects of the future. May all prosperity attend your good old town. Now, Mr. Mayor, you sent last year a splendid specimen of your firemen to visit us. Truly and grandly did they do their duty. New Berne should be proud of them. We now return you our compliments. We leave them to speak for themselves, and ladies look on them, don't be afraid of them, they are as brave as lions, but as harmless as a dove. I present them to you; they are the pick of Wilmington. We, at least, are proud of them. Again accept our thanks for this splendid welcome.

At 12 o'clock a bounteous repast was spread at Weinstein Hall, where the visitors were handsomely entertained, impromptu speeches made and the time passed off happily.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE.

At 5 o'clock the visiting firemen and the New Berne companies assembled on Broad street in full uniform and marched to the Academy Green to assist in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new school building.

The W. M. Grand Master of Masons, Robert Bingham, having granted a dispensation to the W. M. of St. John's Lodge No. 3, Mr. A. W. Wood, the Grand Lodge was convened in special session with the following officers: A. W. Wood as Grand Master; T. A. Henry, D. G. M.; C. W. B. Beckwith, S. G. W.; J. H. Hackburn, J. G. W.; T. A. Green, G. T.; E. G. Hill, G. S.; Rev. V. W. Shields, G. C.; W. F. Rountree, S. G. D.; T. F. McCarthy, Jr., J. G. D.; S. R. Street, Jr., G. M.; Thos. Wilson and J. B. Enul, G. S.; W. S. Gaskins, G. T.; J. A. Simpson, G. A.; John Walker, Bearer of Great Lights; Book of Constitutions, J. W. Monroe.

Forming around the northeast corner, acting Grand Master Wood announced that the Grand Lodge of North Carolina had been requested by the board of trustees to lay the corner stone of the school building, and that he had been commissioned by the Grand Master by authority of the Grand Lodge to perform that duty. An ode was sang by the Masons and prayer was offered by the Grand Chaplain.

A box containing the deposits was placed in the corner stone by the Grand Treasurer. The Grand Master then commanded the Deputy Grand Master, the Senior Grand Warden and the Junior Grand Warden severally to apply their respective implements to that portion of the stone that needed to be proved which was done and the Grand Master declared that the stone had been tested by the proper implement of Masonry; that the Craftsmen had skilfully and faithfully performed their duty, and that it was well formed, true, and trusty, and correctly laid according to the rules of the Craft.

The elements of Consecration were then brought forward, the Deputy Grand Master scattering the vessel of corn, the Senior Grand Warden pouring on the wine, the Junior Grand Warden the oil. The Grand Master then made the usual invocation, after which the public grand honors were given, the implements given over to the Architect, and the Grand Master made the usual proclamation.

After these ceremonies and music by the band, Mr. W. H. Oliver arose and introduced the orator of the day, who made a very pointed, argumentative, an earnest appeal in behalf of popular education. Some of his arguments in favor of our public school system were conclusive. He is not a very good orator for a large outdoor audience, but he is so thoroughly wrapped up, heart and soul, in the public school system that when speaking on this subject he speaks with much force and earnestness. He needs only the money to make our public school system a success, but as he says, so long as demagogues of political parties insist on putting a plank in their platforms against increasing taxation, without regard to what the taxes are for, so long will our public schools drag and our children continue to grow up in ignorance. It was a capital address, and one that would read well.

At the close of the address the audience joined in singing New Berne's favorite air, "The Old North State," after which the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Shields.

The crowd present was estimated at three to five thousand. The firemen seemed to enjoy themselves last night by visiting the festival at the McLean building, the elegant quarters of our fire companies and other places of interest in the city.

Kinston Items.

Our market figures remain unchanged. We carried down the Kinston horse for sheriff last Saturday. He is a frode. His hair comes out like he had been fattened on molasses and water.

S. H. Rountree, tax lister for Kinston township, advertises that he will be at the court house in Kinston on the 20th and 21st instants for the purpose of listing taxes.

Last Sunday was unusually cool in this section. The crops and gardens, however, seem to flourish amidst all the changes and vicissitudes of seasons and weather.

The young boys of Kinston are reading the law books to find out if they have any rights which their sister's be bound to respect. It is getting fighting time in Kinston now.

Sylvester Lawhorn, just released from Duplin county jail, for the shooting of Herman Bryan, at Kinston, about two years ago, died in Kinston last Monday morning of disease contracted in jail.

The Republican Executive Committee of Lenoir county, after advising with a Goldsboro lawyer, fixed upon Saturday, August 10th, proximo, to have our county convention to nominate county officers.

N. J. Rouse, Esq., the eloquent and cultivated young attorney of Kinston, will address the Colored Teachers' Association at the court house in Kinston, Saturday, June 21, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

S. M. Harrall, contractor, has commenced work on the brick store of Mrs. H. F. Grainger, corner of North and Queen streets. When this store is finished it will form a solid row of brick stores on that square.

Our old oyster friend, Edwin Taylor, has been along the lightwood trees again and got his nose severely bruised. It begins to look like his is a bad nose and pokes itself into places where it should not be found.

Our late Senator of the 11th district, now a citizen attorney of Goldsboro, was with us last week, boasting the Fields' boom for sheriff and manipulating the Republican county executive committee. The candidate that fishes with foreign bait, if there is any local pride and self-respect amongst our people, must go under, bob and sinker, with such heavy weight.

THE BATTLE OF THE POSTMASTERS.—There was a "short, sharp and decisive" battle between the late postmaster and the present incumbent last Saturday evening, growing out of our local politics. The "Lord Mayor's whistle urged the combatants on to glory and to victory. Modesty forbids that we should name the conqueror, but the cry of "Oh Lordy" was thrice repeated by the vanquished—a cry that never comes from your itemizer except when a doctor's blister plaster is being removed. The belligerents were up before the Mayor last Monday, when each was required to contribute $5 to the payment of the fine mule recently purchased by his Honor for the town. We think we have paid our full share for the mule.

The Confederate Monument.

The ladies of the New Berne Memoria Association earnestly desire to complete the monument already begun to the memory of our honored Confederate soldiers. They will need for this purpose $450 and they feel assured that it will only be necessary to let this fact be known, to meet with a generous and ready response from every citizen of Craven county whose heart beats in sympathy with theirs in their work. Any contribution, however small, will be thankfully received and properly used. A box will be placed at the store of Mr. Alex. Miller, who is the authorized agent to receive any money for the purpose; or it may be given to any one of the officers of the Association whose names are here subscribed:

Mrs. E. B. DAVIS, President.
" L. C. VASS, Vice-President.
" GEORGE ALLEN, Treasurer.
" C. W. McLEAN, Secretary.

If you, who delight in a soothing pipe, ask why Blackwell's Durham Long Cut is the most exquisite smoking tobacco in the world? the reply must be—there is art in preserving what nature bestows. The large capital of Blackwell & Co. privileges them to gather the cream of the leaf grown on the Golden Belt, and their immense storage facilities enables them to carry their choice stock till it becomes as sweet and fragrant as a rose.
