Democratic State Convention.

Special to the JOURNAL.
RALEIGH, N. C., June 24, 1884.
Cox nominated for Congress in the 4th district on the 11th ballot. The State Convention will be called to order to-morrow at 12 o'clock. C. M. Cooke, of Franklin, will preside temporarily. Friends of Scales and Coke both are claiming the nomination for Governor. Hughes stock is booming for Lieutenant Governor. Scales will probably be presented by H. R. Bryan, Coke by Lieut. Gov. Robinson, and Hughes for Lieut. Governor by Mr. Parker, of Alamance. A large crowd in attendance.

John Dunn advertises ice cream soda. Go and try it.

Canary bird seed can be had at R. N. Duffy's. See adv.

Thanks to the bridal party for a nice set-up of cake and wine last night.

The mail train came in 30 minutes behind time yesterday evening, caused from an accident on the Richmond and Danville Railroad, near Durham.

There seems to be some omission somewhere in the proceedings of the convention at Weldon after all. The proceedings, as published in the Roanoke News, which were copied in Tuesday's JOURNAL, gives no account of any nomination of an elector for this district, unless the Grover Cleveland resolution covered the ground. In that case we shall insist on Capt. Carraway having the Congressional place and join in the canvass. Grover toddlers around with a little over two hundred pounds of humanity, and the two would give great weight to the canvass and insure a heavy vote.

Personal.

Dr. L. S. Burkhead left yesterday morning for Bells Ferry to deliver an address before the Masons at that place.

Mrs. J. F. Ives is at Beaufort for the summer.

Frank Smaw left yesterday for Atlantic City, New Jersey, where he will put in the season if it takes all summer.

Enter to Go Up than to Come Down.

A gentleman of portly proportions yesterday climbed up the side of the Episcopal church by means of a ladder, but on wishing to return it was discovered to be impracticable and the obliging workman hitched on the tackle, which was used for hoisting lumber up, and lowered him down in good plight and safety.

All Doubts Removed.

Public suspense as to whether Mr. Blaine would accept the Chicago nomination or not was relieved when the following intelligence was wired to the world and all the inhabitants thereof. The committee were discreet in the hour of calling. Eleven o'clock is a good time of the day to call on any statesman in Maine—you can't buy a drop.

AUGUSTA, ME., June 21.—The committee appointed by the National Republican Convention at Chicago to notify Mr. Blaine of his nomination arrived here yesterday, and to-day at 11 o'clock they proceeded to the Blaine mansion and made official announcement of their errand. Gen. Henderson read from manuscript his speech. Mr. Blaine's was also read. The latter was brief, merely expressing his gratitude for the honor conferred upon him, and saying that a more formal acknowledgment would be made to the National Committee.

Reinforcements Rushing to the Front.

Yesterday morning a heavy column of reinforcements embarked on the train for the battle field at Raleigh. They were well equipped and will give a good account of themselves in the heavy engagement which is expected there to-day.

The highest officer we saw was that of a Major of Infantry, which was all right to command a battalion. The editor is along to give us the news of the victorious army, and the two doctors will care for the wounded, while the six lawyers can draw up a treaty or formulate terms of capitulation should any one want to surrender. Listen for the guns!

Carteret County Democratic Convention.

We invite attention to the proceedings of the Carteret County Democratic Convention, published in to-day's paper. It is refreshing to see that a desire and determination is evinced to lay down discord and cherish harmony in the ranks of the party in that county. Carteret has always been regarded one of the foremost counties in political reform, and all who remember her glorious record in 1873 will remember how signally she disappointed those who hoped to see her lag on the march and withhold her support from Judge Merrimon.

The key-note is sounded from the sea shore, now let it reverberate from the mountains. Carteret is solid for the Democratic nominees of to-day and July the 8th.

The New Berne JOURNAL does not like the idea of having a railroad from Wilmington to Onslow. It is trying to throw cold water on the project and to discourage and dissuade the good people of Onslow from engaging in railroad building this way. It thinks a road to New Berne would be the very thing provided the people must have one. It says:

"The experience of Craven, Pamlico, Lenoir and Carteret counties should warn our Onslow fellow-citizens against contracting a railroad debt. * * * If Wilmington is really in earnest about this thing why should not the road be brought on to New Berne? This would give the Onslow and Jones people the advantage of both cities, and from a connecting link for another great travelling thoroughfare through the State, something this section needs above all things else just now. What says New Berne? If Wilmington comes to New river, let's meet her."

We hope that the road to Jacksonville will be built, connecting it with Wilmington. It must be built. It is a necessity. We hope that the road will be extended to New Berne. If this is done we shall have a fine trade between Jacksonville and New Berne.—Wilmington Star.

Not exactly throwing cold water, Bro. Star, but trying to caution the people against getting into hot water by making county subscriptions to railroads, as the counties named have done and burdened themselves with a railroad debt which has and will trammel their finances for long years, except Lenoir which has obliterated hers at a heavy cost to the tax payers.

We would be glad to see the road built; and built from New Berne to Wilmington; but would wish individuals to do the subscribing and let the counties save their resources to increase the educational fund for the benefit of the increasing population that would surely follow such an enterprise.

So far as the trade between Jacksonville and New Berne being drawn to Wilmington, we think the Onslow people quite competent to judge of their interest in that matter, and our business men have life enough to look out for that.

Did it ever occur to the Star that Wilmington as an exporting city might, with such a route open to us, at least divide the accumulation of cotton at this point with Norfolk who now about monopolizes the entire business.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Owing to the State convention being held in Raleigh on the 25th inst., it is thought that a quorum will not be had at the stockholders' meeting at Morehead City on Thursday, the 26th inst., and it will be necessary to adjourn the meeting until next day, Friday the 27th, therefore the train for the accommodation of stockholders and their families will be run on Friday, the 27th, as per schedule published in yesterday's paper.

Respectfully yours,
W. DUNN, Supt.

MARRIED.

At St. Paul's Catholic Church, on the 24th inst., by Rev. J. J. Reilly, Mr. Charles E. Nelson to Miss Cora Bailey, all of this city.

The attendants were Mr. L. S. Burkhead and Miss Sallie Paison.

Railway Accident.

The accommodation train going west Tuesday morning on the Richmond & Danville railroad was thrown from the track at a point 300 yards west of the cotton factory switch, one mile east of Durham. Engineer John Whitsett had both hands and one leg badly scalded, and Fireman John Kellum had a leg crushed so badly that it will have to be amputated. His condition is serious. The engine was badly broken up, but the line was cleared so speedily that no trains of consequence will be delayed. The accident was caused by a pile of cross ties maliciously placed on the track by some fiend. Messrs. Whitsett and Kellum are both at Durham, under the care of Drs. Cain and Thomas, and are receiving every attention their condition demands.—News and Observer.

Women Looking Up.

When the Utah bill was under discussion, Wednesday the 18th inst., Senator Hoar moved to strike out the clause which proposes to disfranchise all the women of Utah. The amendment was lost by a vote of 17 to 34. Among those who voted for the amendment were Messrs. Hoar, Sherman, Ransom and Vance.—Woman's Journal (Boston), June 21, 1884.

Carteret County Convention.

The convention to elect delegates for the county of Carteret to the State convention, and the Congressional convention of the First District, at Raleigh, on the 25th inst., and to the Senatorial convention of Carteret, Jones and Onslow counties, met at the court house, in Beaufort, on the 20th inst.

The convention was called to order at 12:30 o'clock p. m. by the chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Carteret county, W. F. Howland, Esq. On motion, J. K. Davis, Esq., was made permanent chairman and Messrs. Anthony Willis and C. R. Thomas, Jr., were made permanent secretaries.

On motion of Ralph Howland, Esq., a committee on resolutions was appointed.

The chair announced the following gentlemen as the committee on resolutions: W. F. Howland, Appleton Oaksmith, Sam'l Thomas, Jas. R. Bell, N. W. Taylor, A. E. Oglesby and Richard Deffers.

On motion of Appleton Oaksmith, Esq., a committee on delegates was appointed.

The chair announced the following gentlemen as the committee on delegates: Appleton Oaksmith, Ralph Howland, H. S. Lee, J. T. Dennis, Jas. S. Smith, M. D. Willis and B. N. Hardisty.

The committee on delegates reported the names of delegates to the several conventions, which report was, on motion, adopted.

The following are the delegates to the State convention: R. H. Jones, J. D. Davis, W. F. Howland, A. H. Gaskill, J. R. Bell, C. R. Thomas, Jr. and Appleton Oaksmith. Alternates, Wm. Sabiston, sr., N. W. Taylor, Dr. C. N. Mason, J. C. Davis, Daniel Bell, E. O. Noe and N. D. Willis.

The committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Whereas, A mass convention of the Democrats of Carteret county was called to meet at the court house in Beaufort day, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State, Congressional and Senatorial conventions, wherefore,

Resolved, That we, Democrats of Carteret county, thus assembled, do hereby renew our pledges to the Democratic party, and promise our undivided support to the nominees thereof, and to exert all honorable means in our power to secure their election.

Resolved, That we invite all fair minded men, regardless of former party affiliations, to unite with us, and enlist in the great battle of reform in which we are now engaged.

Resolved, That as in unity there is strength, and in organization there is success, we most earnestly urge upon all Democrats the importance of party unity and harmony.

Resolved, That the administration of Gov. Jarvis has been conspicuous for wisdom, for thought progress and statesmanship, that his domestic policy has so enlarged and fostered the railroad system of the State as to make it productive of the greatest development. That the material interests of the State have been so rapidly promoted that North Carolina stands in the front rank of States, and that the people of Carteret county, in convention assembled, most heartily endorse the general policy of our eminently practical Governor, and express the profoundest regret that he must soon, under the Constitution, retire from service.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the system of inland coasting navigation, as inaugurated, and that we urge upon our public men the importance of fostering this system and of exerting their efforts in that direction.

Resolved, That the thanks of this convention be tendered its officers.

Resolved, That the Telephone, New Berne JOURNAL and Goldsboro Messenger be requested to publish the proceedings of this convention.

A heavy rainfall last Sunday evening. James Faulkner, son of Simon Faulkner, sr., while bathing in Neuse river near John Tull's last Sunday, was accidentally drowned. He was just about grown.

A fellow may "feel good" all the time and be of very little earthly account. It is the fellow who "does good" that is missed when he drops out of sight.

A western showman is advertising a troupe of educated flies. If he will send one of his educated flies here to teach others how to walk on a bald head without tickling it, he will gain everlasting fame.

The bone hunters are after the scalp of B. F. Nunn, our indefatigable railroad agent, who is now in the mountains taking it cool. It ought to occur to them, however, that Gov. Jarvis always takes care of his friends.

Life is hardly worth living at Kinston just now. If a fellow happens to get a little crooked, he is whisked into the clutches of Buffalo Bill or Sitting Bull, to be hauled up before old Radamanthus and profusely bled in support of that old town mule.

The policeman's club ought to go. A good policeman has no need of it, and a bludgeon like it ought not to be put into the hands of a bad policeman. In nearly every instance a policeman's shield makes more impression upon offenders than either club or pistol.

Our old friend, D. R. Walker, is on the war path. He thinks the so-called Congressional Committee of the Second district, in going to Weldon to hold the convention, took too much roundness on his bay window. It is not so obstructive as the committee would seem to think. He concludes now this is a hollow world and all dolls are filled with sawdust.

Some of the recent investigations as to the effect of alcohol on animal vitality are very interesting. From experiments made in France upon pigs, it would seem that those animals are not injured as are human beings by constant stimulation. It is settled that the larger the brain the greater is the danger from the use of ardent spirits. Pigs, having very small brains, are in no danger of delirium tremens, and possibly some brutal men, with coarse organizations, can drink great quantities of liquor without any immediate bad effects. But the larger the brain and the more delicate the organization, the more serious the injury. It is the highest type of man whom alcohol injures the most.

We are needing rain badly in the vicinity of Trenton. Crops are looking well and in excellent order. Laborers are plentiful and enquiring for work. Hard times with them now; no money and not much to do, as the farmers have nothing to pay them with.

There appears to be a great deal of sickness in our county, particularly around Trenton. Dr. Scarborough has been busy almost night and day for the last two weeks. I suppose that the measles, and not taking the necessary precaution, is the origin of most of the cases.

The political pot is commencing to boil in our parts and if it keeps on until the election it will certainly boil over. An aspirant for office had a colored man backed up in a corner in Trenton the other day. The white man remarked to the colored man that he had not treated him right, that two years ago he caused five ignorant men to vote against him; whereupon, the colored man called him a liar and the white man called him a d—n liar and the controversy ended.

Friday last, 20th of June, was picnic day at Trenton. Early in the day the people came pouring in from every direction, most of whom were young people who brought well filled baskets. The picnic grounds were on the south side of Trenton, just across Capt. Page's mill-run. I arrived on the ground at 10 o'clock and found Mr. Cable seated at a large table upon which was candies, nuts and oranges. He had also prepared to furnish the crowd with shaved ice and lemonade. Just a little further on stood our old friend, Abner Dawson, and he too was prepared to furnish the crowd who might call upon him with ice cold lemonade at 5 cents a glass. Not long after my arrival, Abner became so busy he did not have time to enquire or tell about crops. A colored man had a huge tin waiter covered with glasses of cooling beverage, and while passing he sang out "Here is your ice cool lemonade, sweetened with good grande julated sugar." Some one said to him that they preferred pulverized sugar, and he turned to them and said, "Thank you, boss, I am just learning the programme; will soon learn to suit you all in a short time." Such an array of female beauty and loveliness as was congregated at our picnic is seldom seen. We had them from Kinston, Goldsboro and our own little Jones. Batchelors and widowers were in their glory, but the widowers, always by attention and tact, can distance the batchelors: on this occasion they were using their best tactics to please the ladies, just like widowers know how to do. Precisely at 12 o'clock the signal came for dinner when we all marched up to a plentiful one nicely arranged, and you may rest assured we did ample justice and no mistake. Everything passed off very pleasantly, nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the occasion. After dinner the people repaired to Trenton, and the dancers to the court house, musicians were called in, dancing commenced and kept up until 1 o'clock at night. Thus ended the picnic. The tableaux was a failure and did not come off as advertised.

The student who captures ideas in a smoke wreath; the professional man who soothes his nerves with a pipe after a day's toil; the editor who draws inspiration from his meerschaum; the gentleman of leisure who "drives dull care away" amid fragrant whiffs, these, and all who indulge in the luxury of a smoke, can make their enjoyment complete by capturing the exquisite flavors, the natural aromas of Blackwell's Durham Long Cut.
