Cool nights.

Last Sunday in June.

Cotton blooms coming in.

Regular meeting of Calumet Encampment No. 4, I. O. O. F., to-morrow night.

Rev. J. M. Atkinson, D. D., will preach in the Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m.

The M. E. Church Working Society intend running an excursion to Morehead City next Thursday.

The steamer Goldboro arrived yesterday evening from Baltimore with a cargo of general merchandise.

Mr. H. C. Parrott, of Jones, was in the city yesterday with a flat load of lumber from his mill in Jones county.

Rev. C. A. Jenkins having received an invitation to fill the pulpit of the Eutaw Place Baptist church at Baltimore, took the train for that city on Friday morning. There will, therefore, be no services in the Middle street Baptist Church this morning and evening, but Sabbath School this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad had a very harmonious meeting at Morehead City. The old directors, on the part of the private stockholders, were re-elected, and those on the part of the State were re-appointed. Mr. Arnold Borden was appointed in the place of H. F. Grainger, deceased.

The Graded School class in Astronomy offer an excellent opportunity to all bald-headed men in New Berne, to utilize themselves by attending the daily sessions of the class to be used as artificial plants. The one with the least hair to be selected for the sun around which the lesser satellites may revolve. If the men are handsome it will secure attention to the lessons.

Longevity.

John Holmes, colored, died yesterday, 28th inst., aged over ninety-four years. He was twelve years old when the duel between Stanly and Speight was fought, which was on September 5th, 1802.

First Cotton Blossom

The first cotton blossom of the season come to our office yesterday from the farm of Joel Kinsey, Esq. The weather feels more suitable to the arrival of the first bale than the first blossom, but then it will be warmer soon.

Personal.

Miss Annie A. Berry, daughter of Mr. R. Berry, the Middle street druggist, who has been absent for a year attending school, returned Wednesday night and will spend her vacation with her parents.

Church Services To-day.

Mr. E. Church—Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Burkhead.

Presbyterian Church—Services at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m., by Rev. J. M. Atkinson, D. D.

Christ Church—Third Sunday after Trinity. Service at 11 a. m. There will be no evening service.

It Does Good.

We were gratified to notice yesterday that the communication which appeared in the JOURNAL a few days ago has made an impression on the vendors of chickens on the streets. Several parties were seen taking them around, heads up, with a becoming carelessness. It does good to call public attention to such acts of cruelty, and many times effects a remedy.

Folkville Academy.

On Wednesday Capt. W. T. R. Bell will deliver the address at the closing exercises of the Folkville Academy and it is proposed to run the steamer Trent up that morning to afford an opportunity to persons from this city to be present. The boat will leave at 7:30 o'clock a. m. and return before night. Fare for round trip, twenty-five cents. Capt. Bell's reputation as an educator and speaker is well known in this section and a large crowd may be expected.

Boy Overboard.

Franklin Wood, colored, a boy seven years old, the son of Cicero Wood, while engaged in fishing yesterday on a flat near the market wharf, fell overboard and was apparently drowned, when Capt. Sam'l Howland of the sloop Nellie May, dove down and brought him to the surface.

Mr. Geo. N. Ives and Capt. Howland set to work and by earnest efforts succeeded in resuscitating the lad who was taken in charge by his father with many expressions of gratitude.

A Venerable Horse Dead.

Died, on Thursday last, the horse Henry, well known to our citizens as the old express horse.

The age of Henry is a matter of doubt, but must be in the neighborhood of thirty years. Henry came to this place in the service of the United States Army probably about the time of the capture of New Berne. In 1864 he was condemned and sold, the Adams Express Company becoming the purchaser, and he at once installed in the service of that company, where he continued to do duty with all the regularity of that corporation up to about three years ago, when age and infirmity rendered him unable to do the work and the company passed a second condemnation on him and ordered him sold. Mr. Geo. Henderson, who has been long with the company and attached to Henry, not wishing so faithful a servant as the horse had been should be turned out to starve and die or receive the harsh treatment likely to be meted out by a new master who would have no special interest further than to get the worth of the purchase money out of him, determined to buy him, and see to it that the declining years of the old animal should be such as would be proper that even a faithful brute, worn out in the service of man, should receive. This Mr. Henderson did and refused all offers, preferring to lose the whole amount paid for him, as well as the cost of keeping him rather than to show an unfeeling disposition for the old beast behind whom he and his assistant, B. K. Bryan, had travelled so many stormy nights and sultry days, through heat and cold, wind and weather, to serve the interest of their employers and the public. From the time Henry passed into the hands of Mr. Henderson he has been seen but little on the street and his looks have ceased in a measure to be familiar to us, but upon reflection it is readily recalled as the cream colored or claybank, white mane and tail, gently moving animal, between the shafts of the beautifully painted wagon with Messrs. Henderson and Bryan on the box, making up a picture in the business scenes of New Berne as well remembered as any that has been photographed by the mind of any of our citizens.

At the Seaside. Your reporter has just returned from a very pleasant trip to Morehead City, where a meeting of the stockholders was held Friday. The train carried down, beside the stockholders, a large number of excursionists, which, in connection with the crowd that came down the evening before, swelled the number to vast proportions. Besides at the hotels, there are a good many families stopping at boarding houses and private dwellings for the summer months.

The season has now fairly opened and everything in the way of enjoyment is indulged in. Boating, fishing, bathing, and dancing to the music of Wurm's band—all of whom are excellent musicians—is just too nice to speak of. Here are the old, the middle-aged, the young and on down to the 12 months stripling, who sometimes takes occasion to give a free concert in the way of developing his vocal organs.

We were registered at the New Berne House, under the management of Mr. Fred. Perry. Mr. Perry has everything arranged nicely and spares no pains in adding to the accommodation of his guests. The plank footway leading from this hotel affords a pleasant walk to visit the mammoth Atlantic Hotel and drink in the various pleasures.

While everything was joyous and grand, one of the most striking scenes that befell our eye was the display of some as pretty and fast sail boats as any could wish to see. Just to watch them in their new dress of pure white paint and new sails is grand indeed. With grace and elegance they cut and dash around in majestic style at the will of the skilled and bronze-faced helmsman.

Loco Items.

Health good; no use for doctors just now.

Fruit—apples scarce, some peaches, blackberries of all kinds abundant.

Crops of corn and cotton fair to good; stand of cotton not as good as desired.

Heaviest fall of rain on Friday evening we have had this season. All vegetation revived this morning.

POLITICAL—G. W. S., the explorer and pioneer of the great White Oak process announced himself a candidate for the lower branch of the ensuing General Assembly at a Democratic meeting held at Jacksonville first Monday June, and being called out, responded in a most animating speech of several minutes, completely silencing those who preceded him. He assured his fellow citizens that if they would elect him he would be of more service to his county in the Legislature than the whole Thompson family, were they there, thereby bringing down the applause of the meeting. I heard this morning there were seventeen candidates for the office of Register of Deeds for this county and the vote has grown fat upon the spoils of office which has induced so many of his less friends to desire his situation. Among the aspirants I hear the name of A. B. Carroll, Esq., mentioned. He is a man fully competent to discharge the duties of the office and if elected would make a good officer, possessing as he does all the qualifications requisite.

Stonewall Items.

Hurrah for the Democratic State ticket. Mr. Charles Davenport is and has been very sick for several days.

R. H. Lane, of this place, is having quite an improvement added to his house.

S. H. Fowler, of Bayboro, is having a lot of new tenant houses built in that place. The march of improvement goes steadily on, bugs or no bugs.

Mrs. Bob Lewis died Friday morning at 5 o'clock, of pneumonia. She leaves one child, a husband, father and mother, and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

There is a bully by the name of Ike Ormond who has been employed by Charles H. Fowler for a number of years, who took into his head to horse-whip James M. Lane, he Ormond, armed himself with a horse-whip and a 32 calibre pistol and waylaid Lane on his way from his supper Friday night and commenced to administer a horse-whipping on Lane, but Mack did not stand meekly and receive his castigation but tried a small pistol and it would not work; he pocketed the pistol and went into his would be chastiser, threw him on the ground and mounted him and commenced to use a small dull pocket knife until he had well marked him, in other words as Dr. Ross, his physician, says he (Ormond) is the worst cut man he ever saw. Ormond showed the white feather and cried "take him off." Jim Lincoln pulled Mack off and held him until Ormond got up, got his pistol and then ran and left Mack to be shot by the would-be assassin, which he was, until he fell to the ground seriously and painfully hit in four places, I hope not fatally. Dr. Ross says Ormond is in a critical condition. I guess when he takes it into his head to horse-whip another he will be a little more choice.

A Scriptural Quotation.

Kinston Free Press. Many, many years ago, when earth was young and time was bright, there flourished in the fertile valley of the sacred river Nusa, a beautiful city, called in the Hebrew tongue Kistah. Now the ruler of this city was a good and wise man, learned in the law, called Moses, who taught the people thereof the ordinances and statutes, and showed them the way wherein they must walk, and the work they must do. Moreover Moses chose able men out of Kistah, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness, to be his chief counselors, high priests and scribes, who brought all hard causes to Moses, but of every small matter they judged themselves. From the wise men of the east Moses chose Jesse, of Slabtah, and James, who dwelt in Kistah, and Andrew the Disciple, and John, even John, the Tuckahoitie, and Levi, the chief centurion.

And Moses exhorted the children of Kistah to obedience, saying hearken, O ye children of Kistah, unto the statutes and unto the judgments which I teach you. Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish aught from it, that ye may keep these commandments and go in and enjoy in peace the little real estate which your daddies have given unto you. Keep ye therefore and do them, for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the great nation of Goldaboreh, which shall hear all these statutes and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people, and hath a great and good ruler. And lo! the people found favor in the eyes of Moses and went on multiplying and replenishing the earth.

Now in all the country round about Kistah dwelt a goodly people, the Gentiles, who quietly tended their flocks on the Hill of Pinkat or tilled the soil and garnered grain along the valley of the river Nusa. And it came to pass that in third month of the reign of the good king Moses, that the Davidites, the Gradites, the Fieldites, the Olemantites and the Colittes went up unto Kistah to the annual feast of the Passover, and to pay tribute unto their king the Mottite. And lo! dissensions arose among them and the high priest of Colittes went in under cover to pay tribute unto their king. Then was the chief scribe of the Olemantites exceedingly wroth, and said in a loud voice unto the high priest of the Colittes, "Thou hast transgressed the law, for it is written that Thou shalt not remove the ancient landmarks which thy fathers have set." "Neither shalt thou light a candle and put it under a bushel, yet thou hast done all this."

Then the high priest of Colittes answering said, "O most wicked scribe Thou hast broken the ninth commandment." Then the chief scribe without having the fear of God within his heart smote the high priest on the jaw bone with his sword and slew him. And lo! because of all this fear come upon all the children of Kistah, and there was weeping and gnashing of teeth among them causing them to cry as if with one voice unto their good king Moses saying "Save us or we perish." Then Moses raising his trumpet of ram's horn unto his mouth and looking to the East, and to the West, and to the North and to the South blew a blast that was heard through all Kistah, and when Levi the centurion came before him; Moses commanded him to cast the priest of the Colittes and the chief scribe into prison, and summons to his council chamber, Jesse of Slabtah, and James who dwelt in Kistah, and Andrew the Disciple, and John even John the Tuckahoitie.

STATE NEWS.

Cleaned from our Exchanges.

Elizabeth City Falcon: Several of our citizens are, we understand, preparing to test the virtues of artificial incubators, in the business of raising poultry for market. Capt. Dillon is making extensive preparations to carry on this business at his new place on Road street, just beyond the corporation limits. Mr. Charles C. Price, jr., will also give it a trial.

Elizabeth City Economist: Corn here is scarce and in demand at about 70 cents per bushel.—Our townsman, D. B. Bradford, went to school to J. G. Blaine, in Georgetown, Ky., in the year 1848, but he won't vote for him all the same.—The holy rite of baptism was administered to thirty-seven converts on Sunday morning, in Pasquotank river, by Rev. Geo. Baker, of the Baptist Church.

Clinton Caucasian: We are informed that Mr. Nathan Williams, of Dismal township, found a beehive the other day on the land of Mr. M. O. Jackson, and with Mr. Jackson's permission he cut it down, when to his surprise he found but a wasp nest. We have not heard what luck he had in hiving them.—The crops in this section are looking remarkably fine. The farmers have worked faithfully all the summer and it only requires a continuance of the present favorable seasons to insure the largest crop on record in this county. Six weeks more of good seasons and the farmers will be happy.

Chatham Record: Mrs. Nancy Brown, of Gum Spring, has presented us with a ripe peach grown on a tree that was set out on the 1st of last April.—The largest Irish potato that we have seen this season was raised by Miss Kate Hanks, of this place, and weighed 22 ounces.—We were pleased to meet, a few days ago, one of our Kansas subscribers, Mr. H. C. Stanley, who removed from this county fourteen years ago to that distant State and is now on a short visit to his old friends. He speaks in glowing terms of his adopted State, so much so indeed that we fear he may induce some of our countrymen to return there with him.

Kernersville News: Notwithstanding the fact that the early spring was exceedingly wet, at this time things never were more promising for an abundance of everything. Wheat is already made and those who handle it say they never handled better. Spring oats are generally poor in this country, but the plentiful rain has kept them going till now a good crop is certain. Corn is looking well, though we lack in acreage, not enough planted. Tobacco, well, there never was such a quantity planted, and never did an all-wise Providence grant a more successful time for planting. All of week before last the weather was alternate rain and sunshine; never giving the young plants a chance to wilt.

Charlotte Democrat: The small grain crops in this section are being harvested, and promises a good yield. Growing crops are in a flourishing condition. Cotton and corn never looked better.—Last Sunday, the 22d inst., about 3 o'clock in the afternoon a severe storm of wind, rain and hail passed over portions of Mecklenburg and Cabarrus counties, doing great damage to the crops. In this county, four farms of corn, cotton and oats were utterly destroyed, besides barns and trees blown down. The storm passed over Crab Orchard township, about 12 miles from the city, preceded by a gentle breeze, which suddenly turned into a whirlwind, and from the clouds came hail which was visible on the ground after the storm. The principal sufferers were Messrs. Wearn Harris and A. B. Caldwell. Mr. Caldwell lost a fine field of oats just ready for harvest, which was shattered by the hail, and carried away by the wind. The storm in Cabarrus county was less destructive, but several farmers were more or less injured.

Avoid by all means the use of calomel for bilious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, compounded entirely of vegetable ingredients, have been tested for forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy ever devised for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and all derangements of the digestive apparatus. Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon and through the blood, and is a safe, reliable, and absolute cure for the various diseases, complaints and disorders, due to debility, or to any constitutional taint or infection.
