The citizens of Trenton, and in fact all of the citizens who reside on the south side of the Trent have had an unusual amount of severe sickness this season, while the citizens that reside on the north side have been enjoying very good health nearly the whole time. The people with us are more than pleased with our Democratic State ticket. Every Democrat we hear speak of it says, what an able and strong ticket, the very one we needed to sweep the State.

We have been suffering a little for rain around Trenton for sometime, but on Wednesday last we were visited by son on Tuesday, charged with entering one that thoroughly revived the crops the house of Mr. B. In reply to the denial of A. J. Sutton to "erroneous statement" in my items sometime ago, I ask in what particular was the statement incorrect. He had never seen Florida, and knew nothing but what he had heard, and the most of this was certainly "fancy painting." If this did not cause him to go to the "Land of Flowers" then he must have made a leap in the dark, which I hope hand. he will not claim that any sensible man would do. Many young men equally as competent to judge of the goodliness of that "goodlier land" as Mr. Sutton, have been there, some to make it their home, others to satisfy themselves as to these "fancy paintings" and returned some of them almost disgusted with the land and the paintings. But these saw for themselves—using their own glasses. As to making more "on a given amount of capital and labor," is simply a sneeze at some one else's pinch of snuff. But few sensible people believe it. Many of the readers of the JOURNAL know the relationship existing between A. J. Sutton and myself, and I will here say that all the pleasures due to that rela-tionship have been fully enjoyed by us until his recent visit to North Carolina.
