

AYER'S Ague Cure

contains an antidote for all malarial diseases which, so far as known, is used in no other remedy. It contains no Quinine, nor any material or deleterious substance whatever, and consequently produces no injurious effect upon the constitution, but leaves the system as healthy as it was before the attack.

WE WARRANT AYER'S AGUE CURE to give relief in cases of Fever and Ague, Biliousness, Headache, Chills, Malaria, and all the various forms of Ague, Biliousness, Fever, and Liver Complaint, and is equally effective in cases of Indigestion, and all the various forms of Biliousness. It is the only medicine that has been used for over thirty years, and is the only one that has been found to be so effective in all cases.

THE JOURNAL.

NEW BERNE, N. C. JULY 12, 1884.

Raking the Ashes.

Both carelessness and neatness have their disadvantages, as a Brooklyn family discovered the other day. One night the lady took out her diamond earrings, valued at four hundred dollars, and wrapping them in a piece of paper carelessly left them on the dining-room mantel. A relative, a very neat housekeeper, finding the crumpled bit of paper on the mantel, threw it into the kitchen stove.

The next day the owner of the diamonds asked if any one had seen a bit of paper on the mantel, the careful housekeeper stated what she had done with it, and then the two anxious ladies got the ashes out of the stove and proceeded to pass them through a flour sieve.

When about half the stuff had been emptied on the sieve a small black and yellow chunk rolled over the edge of the coal-scuttle.

It was a very warm piece of gold, and was all that remained of the setting. A little more raking and the two diamonds rolled out of the ashes.

They were a little dusty, but when cool enough to handle they were found to be undiminished in beauty and value. A New York jeweller reset them the same afternoon.

Very Dishonest.

Blinks—"Why, what in the world is the matter, my boy?"

Blinks—"I am ruined, utterly ruined."

"You can't mean it."

"But I do. I put all my money into the hands of Ward, who promised to pay me sixty per cent a month."

"But how was he to do that?"

"He told me he had rich Star route, Indian supply and other government contracts."

"Yes."

"Well, instead of robbing the government, and paying the profit to me like an honest man, he proved a villain."

"Ah!"

"Yes, he let the government go and robbed me."—Phila. Call.

Heard on the Street.

"Papa, what did you mean when you said that a man who tried to borrow money of you had plenty of brass?"

"Well, my son, I meant that he was bold in the sense of having sublimed cheek."

"Is that the reason a policeman wears so many brass buttons?"

"As a grim-looking cop happened to come along just then, papa didn't express his opinion."—N. Y. Journal.

"Were you ever in a squall," asked an old yachtsman of a worthy citizen.

"Well sir, I guess you are unaware that there has been only thirteen babies raised under the same roof with me."
