Rain.
Prepare for the Exposition.
The August showers have begun early.
Another heavy rain yesterday evening.

Peaches, apples, watermelons, cantaloupes in abundance.
Wilmington is to have a grand ratification meeting next Tuesday.

The walls of the new court house are crawling up slowly but surely.
The steamer Nellie B. Dey is on Howard's ship railway for repairs.

The candidates for Governor, General Scales and Dr. York, meet at Newton today.

The Cleveland and Scales Campaign Club of New Berne is increasing in membership.

The steamer Goldsboro was at the railroad wharf yesterday taking in a cargo of watermelons.

The steamer Shenandoah made her regular trip on yesterday, carrying out watermelons and passengers.

The schooner Elta Hill, Capt. Hill, arrived from Philadelphia yesterday morning with a cargo of coal for Geo. Allen & Co.

The campaign scandal mill has been set agoing, and will have three months run much to the annoyance of decent and modest people.

Messrs. T. J. Mitchell and Hill Humphrey are to leave this morning for the "Big August," which begins to-day at South West Church, Onslow county.

The Shenandoah in backing out of her dock yesterday evening was blown against the wharf causing a little damage to her wheel which detained her for three hours.

An old gentleman from the country passing Howard & Jones's store yesterday saw a nice hammock stretched out. After taking a good look at it he remarked, "that is too fine for a horse blanket."

A correspondent in the lower part of Brunswick says: "Times are hard; meat, meal and money scarce; but the people are working very hard and crops are very good. The outlook now is that the people will make a plenty for another year."—W. L. Star.

The Revenue Cutter Stevens, Capt. Russel Glover, steamed down the sound yesterday. The Captain will make a tour of the district and notify all interested in foreign shipping of the late orders issued by the Secretary of the Treasury relative to quarantine regulations.

We call the attention of our farmers and shippers to the card of W. H. Morris & Sons, of Norfolk, Va. They solicit consignments of cotton, grain, peanuts and produce generally, and from our personal acquaintance with the soliciting agent, Mr. J. J. Burgess, we can recommend this house as safe and reliable. Cotton or other produce consigned to them will receive prompt attention.

In our walk through the room in which the Fruit Fair was held at Goldsboro on Wednesday we failed to note anything from Wake county. By a singular co-incidence the reporter of the News and Observer, in a very full account of what was exhibited, failed to find anything from Craven. Doubtless we were both ashamed of the display made by our respective counties when we knew we had the fruit but lacked the enterprise to have it carried to the Fair. We will do better next time.

Presbyterian Church.
Rev. G. W. McMillan will preach in the Presbyterian church on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Arrived.
The schooner Nellie Potter, Capt. Jos. Gaskill, arrived at Washington, N. C., on the 9th ult. from Guadeloupe, W. I., consigned to J. S. Fowle & Son.

Drawings Postponed.
We are requested to say that the Dismal Swamp Lottery Company have postponed all drawings, to await the final action of the Supreme Court of the State and avoid any further litigation.

Personal.
Mrs. Robt. Hancock, jr., left yesterday morning on the Revenue Cutter E. A. Stevens for Portsmouth.

We were pleased to see our old friend, Mr. J. J. Burgess, in the city yesterday enjoying good health. He is traveling solicitor for the house of W. H. Morris & Son, of Norfolk.

Major Meade has returned and resumed command of the city.

Taken North for Treatment.
Mr. James Campbell, whose case of lunacy was noticed some days since, left yesterday on the Shenandoah in care of Father Reilly of St. Paul's Catholic Church here, for the North for treatment. We regret that his condition has not improved in the last few days but seemed to gradually grow worse. It is hoped, however, that by change of scenery, and being in a retreat where diseases of this character are a specialty, that he may recover.

American Legion of Honor.
The Grand Council of the American Legion of Honor will meet in this city on Tuesday, the 5th day of August, Cosmopolitan Council No. 311, will see to the proper entertainment of the members and will receive the kind assistance of the citizens generally in making the stay of the delegates among us as agreeable and pleasant as possible. On Friday the 8th a grand excursion will be given by Cosmopolitan Council to their visiting brethren, on the steamer Shenandoah, to which we acknowledge the receipt of a kind invitation from Wm. B. Boyd, secretary, and shall make it a point to be "all present or accounted for."

A Valuable Plant Growing in New Berne.
Passing around by the depot and down by the Griffin building, we noticed how luxuriantly grew the Chenopodium. There are acres of it. It is one of the few valuable plants that grow and flourish without cultivation.

It produces an enormous crop of seeds. These seeds may be very easily gathered, without much back-breaking effort, as the plant grows tall and the seeds are found about two feet or more above the ground. When the first frost comes, sometimes earlier, the crop is ready to gather.

The oil is easily expressed and finds a ready sale.
Another name for this plant is "Jerusalem oak," alias "Wormseed."

The State Exposition.
Only two months remain before the opening of the Exposition at Raleigh. It should be borne in mind that the counties of Craven, Pamlico, Jones, Onslow and Carteret will be expected to make a joint exhibit, space having been secured for that purpose. From this time on every enterprising farmer in these counties should think of something to carry up in order to make a good exhibit from this section. Do not put it off, but go to work at once and prepare something. New Berne has organized an Association to take charge of all articles sent here from those counties, see that they are properly labeled and placed on exhibition in the space assigned to those counties.

The Premium Lists.
We have received a pamphlet containing plans of buildings, rules and regulations governing exhibitors at the North Carolina State Exposition at Raleigh, October first to twenty-eighth, 1884, and premium lists of the North Carolina Agricultural Society and the North Carolina Industrial Association (colored.)

The work gives the rules of government for exhibiting, and much information of value to both exhibitors and visitors. The managers have taken great pains to protect every one from extortionate charges in matters of handling articles for exhibition and back hire by getting permanent rates agreed upon by persons engaged in these lines of business.

A list of places of interest in and about Raleigh is also given which will greatly facilitate those looking around, outside the Exposition, in visiting places of note.

The managers have evidently given considerable thought to the subject and we think displayed good judgment in the arrangement of the whole Exposition.

Error Somewhere.

In the JOURNAL of the 24th of July there was a local item headed "A Peace Maker," in which an affray was stated to have occurred between two old gray-headed citizens with weapons, which was interrupted and settled by the kind and timely advice of Mr. Thomas Stanly, which we thought at the time had facts to substantiate it from the character of the person who handed the substance of the affair in. But in the New York Sun of the 29th we find the item below which leads us to look upon the whole matter as the offspring of either a diseased mind or willful sensationist:

NEWBERN, N. C., July 28.—Robert Floor and Stiles Sanders, two white-haired farmers, aged respectively 74 and 77, had harsh words a few days ago about their crops. They had been warm friends, and were members of the same church. The two together have thirty-nine descendants. They parted bitter enemies, but their advanced ages and recognized pacific natures led their friends to believe that their ill-feeling would end in words merely. This morning Thoman Stanly, a young man of this place, happening to be up at day-break, was astonished at seeing the two old men armed to the teeth, and standing facing each other ready to begin a deadly duel. At the risk of his life, and as their weapons were raised, he rushed between them. One of them waived him off, but he managed to seize Sanders's pistol. Some passers-by then came to his assistance, and the two old men were disarmed. Had Mr. Stanly been two minutes later the men would have begun firing. They were only eight paces apart. This is the first instance in the history of the code where two such old men have resorted to it to settle their disputes. Fears are entertained that the grandsons of the would-be duellists will take up the dispute and pursue it to a bloody termination.

Now if Robert Floor and Stiles Sanders have lived in Craven county any respectable portion of 74 and 77 years they have been very quiet citizens, as diligent inquiry among our friends fails to furnish any information of them or their whereabouts; nor can we find any church register bearing their names; neither has the tax list ever been ornamented with their "signs manual."

The "young man," Thoman Stanly, is also unknown, albeit there is a Thomas Stanly, a somewhat elderly gentleman, among us, but he is an ex-justice of the peace, rather past the time of life called "young man," and, so far as we know, not given to getting up and out at daybreak nor particularly addicted to rushing between the muzzles of pistols at eight paces, even in the interest of peace. Nor was he while discharging the magisterial duties at all remarkable for taking any pacific methods of settling matters of this kind other than those known to a rigid enforcement of the LAW. Therefore there is an error somewhere, and we do not think anything of the kind has occurred in this city within the recollection of the "oldest inhabitant."

Kinston Items.

It is a mystery how the ladies during this perspiring weather can keep their powder dry.

It is the feeblest moustache, as well as the sickliest child, that gets the most fondling.

Nothing can be more obvious than the relation between education and prosperity; every dollar expended in that cause is a dollar put out at usury.

The prevalence of typhoid malarial fever in this section has aroused in many of our people the good old Bible and human expression of a desire "to fly unto the mountains to pray."

A small boy recently testified before our Mayor that the fight occurred on Sunday. "How do you know it was on Sunday?" "Because that day I had to go to the side door of the saloon to get a drink."

In the matter of political belief, men have been striving to join their fellows where they would fit into each other. Was there ever such a mirage? Was there ever such a fool's vision as that which attempts to make men see things thus alike?

A curious and warped species of logic it is, which lets a man be honest and frank in common speech, but which urges him to be a sort of party demon when he assumes the responsibility of addressing his thousands of readers through the types.

Henry Archbell and Miss Lillie Whitehurst surprised the town last Thursday morning by calling on Rev. A. J. Hiers and getting themselves indissolubly bound up "for better or for worse" for life. They immediately boarded the train for Asheville and elsewhere.

Young Johnnie Harvey hammered young Alfred Isaacs last Thursday, contrary to law, and thereupon "good King Moses" sent them both to our next Superior Court to answer the complaint of the State of assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

Jesse S. Jackson, an exemplary young gentleman of this place, doing business with John Slaughter, jr., and Bro., died last Wednesday night of typhoid malarial fever. Mr. Jackson was the Democratic candidate for the Legislature several years ago and stood well with his fellow men.

Foreign News.

MARSEILLES, July 31.—The lower classes dislike and oppose the physicians because they have got the notion that the physicians have been instructed to help the cholera along in order to get rid of the surplus population. A paper read by a medical man in Berlin, lauding cholera as sweeping off beings unfit for the struggle of existence, has been widely reproduced in France and has helped to prejudice the people against the doctors, and to confirm them in their belief that the government has adopted views similar to those of Berlin. An instance of the popular hostility toward the physicians occurred in this city yesterday. A doctor was going into the slums to attend a patient when he was confronted by a party of the sick man's neighbors armed with knives, who chased him away and prevented his ministering to the sufferer.

LISBON, July 31.—The port of Huelvas in Spain has been declared to be infected with cholera. Ports between Cadix and Agramonte, both inclusive, are also suspected of being infected.

ARLES, July 31.—A sad incident in connection with the cholera panic recently happened near this city. A lad at work on a farm was seized with vomiting. The farmer refused to allow him to enter the house and the poor fellow died in the field without care and alone. When the father of the lad arrived he was not permitted to place his son's body in the stable, but was forced to leave it in the open air while he went to town to procure a coffin. The body was then conveyed on a wheelbarrow to burial. The authorities refused to give him assistance, and the father was finally compelled to bury the body in the cemetery alone.

SHANGHAI, July 31.—It is reported here today that France and China have made a treaty of peace. China is to pay France an indemnity of 5,200,000 taels—about $7,280,000.

LONDON, July 31.—The death of Rev. Mark Pattison, a distinguished essayist and teacher is announced, aged 71.

ROME, July 31.—Six thousand persons are now detained in the various lazarettos on the frontier and along the coast.

The Cattle Plague.

OMAHA, NEB., July 31.—A committee of cattle men, appointed to examine into the Texas fever among the cattle at Western points, went down to Maxwell, accompanied by J. H. Hopkins, Veterinary Surgeon of Wyoming. As the result of their labors the conclusion is, there is no occasion for alarm. The disease is self-limited and dies with the animal, which has been inoculated by grazing on tainted ground. Their fellows in the herd can graze after cattle so diseased and yet be free from infection, the disease exhausting itself in the body of the animal attacked. It will be confined to a few herds in the vicinity of Brady's Island and Maxwell. A correspondent interviewed several prominent stock men, all of whom expressed themselves as satisfied that there is no danger to their herds.

LINCOLN, NEB., July 31.—The Commission sent out to Maxwell, Monday, by Gov. Dava, returned last night. They found 100 cattle in the vicinity of Maxwell and Brady station dead, and as many more sick. The infection is confined to cattle which grazed on a small strip of land over which 2,000 of these cattle were driven. The disease is not contagious. This was ascertained by experiments. The railroads have promised not to bring in any more Texas cattle until after frost, and stockmen in the vicinity, representing 5,000,000 cattle, have combined to prevent their being landed if brought in.

A Sensation in the Southern Section of the City.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning the denizens in the neighborhood of Queen street, between Fourth and Fifth, were aroused by loud cries of murder, etc., from a female voice issuing from a dwelling, rooms in which are occupied by Mrs. Bishop, a widow lady, who is an employee in the cotton mills. The neighbors all sallied forth, one, if not more, armed with a shot gun, ready for any emergency that the exigencies of the situation might develop. Mrs. Bishop explained that she awoke and found somebody in the room, who, when he found that he was discovered, rushed to her bed-side and seized and choked her to prevent further outcry; but that she continued her cries until the man made his way out of the house and escaped. Her person bore evidence of the struggle that had taken place, her neck and throat particularly being quite badly bruised and discolored. There is no clue to the burglar, and Mrs. B. could not even tell whether the intruder was black or white, as it was quite dark in the room.—W. L. Star.

Too Presumptuous.

"Why didn't you return that gentleman's bow?" asked a wife of her husband, as a gentleman passed them on the avenue.

"It never does to be familiar with that fellow or he will presume on it. Give him an inch and he will take an ell. If I give him the slightest encouragement he will dun me for a box of cigars I bet him on the result of the last presidential election. Oh, he is a presuming scoundrel!"—Siftings.

Dr. Hamilton advises a smoke, as a sedative, after a day of toil. But he recommends tobacco in its purity. That is where Blackwell's Durham Long Cut comes in. Connoisseurs know that its flavor and fragrance are of nature and not of art. They may be clumsily imitated, but never reproduced. In pipe or cigarette they always tell for themselves.

"Facts are stubborn things," and sufferers from chills and fever generally find their complaint a very stubborn fact, until they commence the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. That medicine eradicates the noxious poison from the system, and invariably cures even the worst cases.

The Confederate Monument.

The ladies of the New Berne Memoria Association earnestly desire to complete the monument already begun to the memory of our honored Confederate soldiers. They will need for this purpose $450 and they feel assured that it will only be necessary to let that fact be known, to meet with a generous and ready response from every citizen of Craven county whose heart beats in sympathy with theirs in their work. Any contribution, however small, will be thankfully received and properly used. A box will be placed at the store of Mr. Alex. Miller, who is the authorized agent to receive any money for the purpose; or it may be given to any one of the officers of the Association whose names are here subscribed:

Mrs. E. B. DAVES, President.
" L. C. VASS, Vice-President.
" GEORGE ALLEN, Treasurer.
