Steamer Elm City left for Hyde county last night.

Nouse Council No. 1, Order of Chosen Friends, meet to-night.

An interesting letter on our editorial page from Rev. L. C. Vass. Glad to hear from him again.

A new voting precinct has been established by the county commissioners in township No. 3, at Dover station.

The Cleveland and Scales Club will meet to-night at the old JOURNAL office building next door to the Atlantic Fire Company's room.

Politics ran high on the corner of Pollock and Craven streets yesterday evening. Both parties went down, the Democrat being on top.

The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry has celebrated the ninety-first anniversary of its organization. The second oldest military organization in America; with a record as honorable as it is old.

The Democratic convention of the Eleventh Senatorial District, held in Kinston on Saturday last nominated Doctor F. M. Rountree. This completes an exceptionally good ticket for Lenoir and it stands a good chance of being elected.

The big Jones county squash, raised by J. H. Basten, has been sent down to Mr. Geo. Allen. It weighed one hundred and sixteen pounds before it was clipped from the vine, but weighed yesterday just one hundred pounds. It is a whale.

We notice that Mr. R. R. Hammond who was for some time in the employ of Mr. E. H. Meadows, druggist of this city, is about to engage in the drug business in copartnership with M. J. Flannagan in Greenville. Mr. Hammond made many friends while living here, who will be glad to hear of it, and wish him every success in the enterprise.

Schooner Arrivals.

The Henrietta Hill, Capt. Hill, from Baltimore with a cargo of corn and salt for J. A. Meadows.

The William Connelly, Capt. Hopkins, from Baltimore with a cargo of coal for the government.

The John I. Brady, Capt. Huston, from Baltimore, with a cargo of coal for the government.

Beaufort Nominations.

The Democrats of Beaufort county held their convention at Washington last Friday and nominated the following ticket:

For the House of Representatives, W. H. Patrick.

For Sheriff, R. T. Hodges.

For Register of Deeds, Arthur Mayo.

Game North.

The following are the passengers on the steamer Shenandoah:

T. P. Brogden, T. C. Whitaker and G. T. Hill, of Trenton; T. A. Green and lady, Hill Humphrey, Wm. H. Oliver, Mrs. Harriet Foy, Miss Corinne Harrison, Miss Fannie Holland, Miss Galloway, F. Ulrich and lady, Nelson Whitford and lady, Joseph Schwerin, Moses Prag, Mr. L. F. Pelletier, Thomas Duncan, W. H. Franks and Wm. R. Guion.

Personal.

Miss Lizzie Neal goes up this morning to take position as a teacher in the Pollockville, Academy. Miss Neal is the daughter of Rev. Geo. W. Neal who is well known as an instructor in this State.

Mr. A. Nicol and lady, and W. R. Bond, of Kinston, and Mr. Mayo, of the Free Press, are at the Central Hotel.

F. M. Simmons, Esq., left for Warrenton yesterday morning to argue the case before Judge Gudger of John O. Gardner vs. the Board of City Council.

Mr. B. M. Gates and family have returned from a trip West.

Mr. Justin Jones and mother returned last night from a summer trip to the mountains.

Not Satisfied.

A gentleman from Beaufort county hands us the following notice which he says many friends of Dr. Stilly request us to publish. He at the same time stated that they had nothing against Mr. Mayo, that he had made a good officer, but they did not like the manner of his nomination. Party conventions should be conducted fairly and squarely, and when its work is done all members of the party should abide by the result.

Not being satisfied with the proceedings of the Democratic convention of Beaufort county, held at Washington, August 29th, the friends of Dr. Burton Stilly intend to run him for Register of Deeds independent of the nomination said to be made. Dr. S. has done as much for his party as any other man in the county, therefore we think it our duty to give him the chance of this office.

A Call for Harmony.

A portion of the delegates of the late Republican convention of Craven county assembled at the old court house building on Tuesday for the purpose of harmonizing and beginning active campaign work.

The meeting was called to order by I. B. Abbott, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and the Secretary of the late convention, C. E. Palmer, called the roll of delegates. About thirty-one answered to their names, while there were several around on the outskirts of the crowd who would not answer.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting. He said there had been some dissatisfaction at the action of the late convention and he felt it his duty to call them together and try to harmonize all differences, that they might present a united front to the Democracy. He further said that it had been suggested that he resign the chairmanship of the executive committee, but he would assure them that he would hardly do that, as he wanted the place for a good long time, that he had been duly elected to the position and would hardly resign.

Mr. R. Hancock, jr., then took the floor and made an earnest appeal for harmony. Whenever he would point out the necessity of electing Blaine and Logan and Tyre York an old colored man standing on the outside would shout, "Yes, and Daniel Timson!" While Mr. Hancock was speaking, L. H. Smith addressed the chair, but the chair would not recognize him because he failed to answer when his name was called. The secretary again called his name and he answered. He then wished to know if this meeting was called to endorse the Blaine, Logan and Stimson Club, but got no answer. Mr. Hancock proceeded with his speech. When he had concluded, the secretary read a series of resolutions, reaffirming the action of the late convention and declaring that all would work in harmony for the State and National tickets.

When the chairman put the question, "Are you ready for the question?" several responded, "not ready." Geo. H. White, Esq., took the floor and argued that the county convention having adjourned sine die, its delegates no longer constituted a convention of the Republican party of Craven county and they had no right to pass such resolutions as a convention. He also contended that to pass such resolutions would be to acknowledge that there was something wrong done in the other convention. There was a little sparring when he began his speech between him and the chairman, the chairman having called the speaker to order and requested him to confine himself to the question.

Mr. Hancock again took the floor and endeavored to explain the resolutions. He thought Mr. White was mistaken; this meeting was not called as a convention but as a mass meeting. When this announcement was made Tucker, James, Smith and some others regarded it as a free meeting and "waded in." Four or five were bawling "Mr. Chairman" at one time and violently shaking their fists. The chairman, notwithstanding, it had been said that it was not the old convention reassembled, refused to recognize any who had not responded to the roll-call. About this time it really looked like it would be the old convention over again.

Amidst the confusion the chairman put the question on the resolutions and pronounced it carried.

Mr. Hancock then offered a substitute for the resolutions. This was also put while Henry James, Fred Douglas and Ed. Tucker were telling the chairman something he did not want to hear. The substitute was declared adopted also.

A motion to adjourn was put and carried, Tucker shouting at the top of his voice, "We'll beat you at the polls next November."

There was evidently a strong Stimson feeling in the meeting, and the points made by Geo. H. White were very forcibly put.

But we wish to remind the Democrats that these factions are strongly united on their State and National tickets, however much they may be divided locally. We see no other way for the Republicans to settle their local difficulty than to go squarely before the people and let it be decided at the ballot box. They can divide their vote and still beat the Democrats, while such division locally need not necessarily hurt their State and National ticket.

Kinston Items.

Kinston graded school closed last week with 204 scholars on its rolls.

Cotton is a great sufferer from the dry times. The bolls are drying up and getting hard as hickory nuts.

The Democratic 11th senatorial district convention, at Kinston, last Saturday nominated Dr. Frank M. Rountree of Lenoir county for the State Senate. The nomination is considered a very strong one.

D. W. Wood, Esq., of Moseley Hall township, Lenoir county, has a grape vine which bears hickory nuts. The pollen of a hickory tree which grows above the arbor feeds the blossoms of the vine and has produced four perfect nuts.

Since our lord mayor rings the bell and calls in all citizens of Kinston at 10 o'clock at night, it is suggested that he fix the hour and ring the bell when they may come out again. The mayor seems to have the French idea of liberty—the privilege of arresting every citizen but himself.

A. J. Loftin, Esq., Kinston's lieutenant mayor, returned last week from a prolonged visit among the sights of New York City. While there he saw and rubbed with his hand Maud S., the celebrated trotting nag of Robert Bonner. He also got among the Wax Figures in the Museum, where beholding himself in a large unobserved mirror, he mistook himself for a stranger and begged pardon of his own shadow for moving about as he did.

The following is the abstract of tax list returns for Lenoir county for the year 1884:

La Grange Items.

Hy. E. Dillon left for Baltimore last Wednesday.

C. S. Wooten, Esq., made a second trip to Asheville last Friday.

Shade Wooten and K. E. Bizzell returned from Baltimore Saturday.

Peter Bynum, of Green county, was in town Monday. He adds one pupil to the Collegiate Institute.

A light rain Saturday evening. The clouds have blown away, and this (Monday) morning it is cool and fair.

The Primitive Baptists have taken down the old Bear Creek church, and are building a house for worship in this place.

The protracted meeting at the Institute, under the management of the Rev. J. D. Carpenter, continues. No accessions up to Sunday night.

Rigden Walters and Needham Walters, brothers, worked together continuously for thirteen years at the carpenter's business, besides several jobs before and after.

"Billy" Warters, Falling Creek's chief justice, sold the first bale of new cotton, from this county, in Goldsboro on Saturday last for 10 1/2c. Falling Creek takes the lead this year.

It is hard to tell what a base-ball club will do. At first our Central club and the Goldsboro club would play; second, they would not play. But they have played, and the Central was winner by 35 to 13.

A new chill cure has been discovered in Falling Creek section. The curer places his hat on the bed, gathers all the chills off the place and takes them away. Where chills abound the cures are more abundant.

J. C. Carter, the La Grange Republican candidate for the legislature, is having an easy time electioneering. His friends "set 'em up" to him and not he to his friends. Not much "flattering" in that.

The president has called a meeting of the La Grange Cleveland and Scales club next Friday at 3 o'clock, p.m. We hope all the members will be present, and those wishing to join can have their names enrolled by applying to the committee appointed for that purpose.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church here closed last night. The sermons throughout have been very instructive. But little has been accomplished in adding of members to the church, but that good has been done cannot be doubted. We believe the church has been strengthened, and that the work will tell in after years. One addition to the church.

"Billy" Dunn, C. S. C., paid our town a visit Saturday, on other than official business we learn. J. C. Carter, the distributing element in the Republican party just now, was the moving cause, and it is said in this connection the visit was a failure. Mr. Carter claims that he was fairly nominated at the county convention. He has entered the race and has repeatedly expressed his determination to not withdraw, and what right Mr. Dunn or any one else has to ask it, or how Mr. Carter can consistently do so, we are unable to see. That Mr. C. has a strong following up here and in the Institute is beyond doubt, and if he holds out faithfully to the end, and we see no reason why he should not, "a flattening of candidates" will not be confined to La Grange after the election in November.

Jones County Items.

The grape crop is abundant this season and are larger in size than they have been for several years.

Trenton appears to be a good market for beef. Messrs. Sylvanus Barker and Daniel Andrews dispose of one beef apiece every Saturday.

Fodder pulling is now the order of the day with us. Some few of our farmers have finished pulling their crop and have saved all their fodder in excellent condition.

Trent river is getting very low; some work or wharfing which Gen. Ransom had put up at the basin has undermined at its base, caved in the river during the late freshet.

Mr. W. H. Mallard has for the last two weeks been supplying the people at Trenton with some extra fine apples and he has brought in market some very large sweet potatoes.

Farmers are complaining of the army worm; they have on some of the farms, eaten up all the grass and have attacked the late corn, and I hear they are also eating the rice. These worms are not the kind that destroy cotton.

As money has been so very scarce around Trenton the great substitute for it, eggs, have been very plentiful until now they have become very scarce and are quickly taken at 12 cts. per dozen by the merchants.

Trenton has become a quiet and very law abiding place during the reign of our new Mayor. No fighting, no law breaking; but it appears that every one is striving to make Trenton just as it ought to be, a peaceable, quiet village.

We are making preparations to throw to the breeze a Cleveland and Scales flag and I would suggest that we invite some of our ablest speakers on the day that we hoist our flag and have a general good time, a regular rousing time, such an one as has not been in Trenton since the days of olden times.

The convention met to-day and nominated the following: House of Representatives, P. M. Pearsall; Sheriff, J. C. Parker; Register of Deeds, K. F. Foscue; Coroner, J. H. Scarborough; Surveyor, A. F. Becton; appointed 20 delegates to meet at Swansboro the 10th of September. Proceedings harmonious.

The Cleveland and Scales Club meet every Saturday evening and the number increases at every meeting. Mr. P. M. Pearsall gave us an interesting and sensible discourse on Saturday last. They requested the secretary to invite Mr. Cyrus Thompson, of Onslow, to address the Club on Saturday next.

Prof. Perry's school commences at Trenton this morning (Sept. 1). Mr. Perry has secured the services of Miss Mary Betts to assist him as one of the teachers. I understand that his school will open with a prospect of very fair patronage. The citizens of the whole county ought to use their best efforts to build up this school as it offers to the people of the county the advantages of a good school right at their own homes and at much less expense than they could secure it at other schools from home.

Trenton is certainly very dull, as the farmers are too busy to spare time to go there; consequently the merchants are having a hard time of it just now, but cotton has commenced opening pretty briskly in some of the fields around here and the traders have commenced smiling again and are very accommodating and polite to all who may chance to inquire what will be the prices of bagging and ties this season and at the same time assuring all such that they have unusual facilities for furnishing them as cheaply as any one in the market.

During the last summer I heard an old black man lamenting the high price of corn, but, says he, every dark cloud has a bright lining, huckleberries and brierberries will soon be ripe, then farewell to bread. I inquired of him the other day how he was getting along. He answered that he was getting along finely now—had plenty new corn. I inquired how did he manage to dry it so it would grind. He said necessarily "wappertated in a big pot over the fire; no perishing a negro to death in this country; jest on possible if he had the right kind o' head like I have."

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's parents in this city on Tuesday morning, the 2d inst., by the Rev. Father Reilly of St. Paul's Catholic Church, Mr. H. S. Chambers of Orange Lake, Florida, to Miss Mamie Green, daughter of Judge Green.

The ceremony was quiet and impressive and witnessed only by a few friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers, accompanied by Mr. A. L. Smith of New Orleans, a cousin of the groom, immediately took the train for Goldsboro, whence they go to Macon, Georgia, and Southern resorts to spend their honeymoon.

In this city, September 2d, 1884, at the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. Edward Bull, Ambrose E. Parson and Gertrude H. Whaley.

The gloomy fears, the desponding views, the weariness of soul that many complain of, would often disappear were the blood made pure and healthy before reaching the delicate vessels of the brain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies and vitalizes the blood; and thus confers and health of body and sanity of mind.

Ayer's Aque Cure, when used according to directions, is warranted to eradicate from the system all forms of malarial disease, such as Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Intermittent, Remittent and Bilious Fever, and disorders of the liver. Try it. The experiment is a safe one, and will cost you nothing if a cure is not effected.

Stonewall Items.

Mr. Benj. Casey, of Wayne, is on a visit to his mother and other relatives in this county; he reports crops in Wayne ordinary.

I have been credibly informed that some one emptied a load of buck shot into a horse belonging to T. R. Lupton on Jones' bay, a few nights since from the effects of which he died.

There was a row in Bayboro a short time since in which Prof. Skinner and Sam Williams, col., were participants. After several skirmishing movements the row was stopped. No blood shed.

Mills Eure, aged six or seven months, son of F. F. and Willie Cherry, died in this place Saturday night about 12 o'clock. Mr. Dennis Moore and W. J. Parker each lost one of their little ones last week. Alden Banks, aged about fifty years, died on Sunday. Typho-malarial fever seems to be the great trouble.

W. T. Caho, while absent to Washington on political business, had the ill luck to lose a fine cow. He had her blocked out. She became entangled in her trappings and broke her neck. Misfortunes never come singly on the same day by the same cause. Perry Jones, colored, had his ox break his neck.

The Emperor Louis Napoleon smoked only the finest cigars the world could produce. Prof. Horsford says the Emperor's cigars were made specially for him in Havana from leaf tobacco grown in the Golden Belt of North Carolina, this being the finest leaf grown. In order that American smokers may have as good tobacco as the late Emperor, Blackwell's Durham Long Cut is now offered to the public. It is made from the same leaf used in the Emperor's cigars, is absolutely pure and is unquestionably the best tobacco for either pipe or cigarette ever offered.

HANOVER, O., Feb. 13, 1884.
After having lung fever and pneumonia I had a dreadful cough and could not sleep at night. The doctors told me I had consumption and would die. I have taken six bottles of Piso's Cure and my cough is entirely gone, and I am well as ever.
