Bishop T. H. Lomax, of the A. M. E. Z. Church, will preach at St. Andrews Chapel to-night. The public cordially invited to attend.

Capt. Henry Wabab and Maj. Geo. Gracie arrived from Hyde county last night. The Major has promised us an interview on the crops and political situation.

It is suggested by some of the zealous politicians that a joint canvass of the county be made by the Democratic and Republican candidates for Register of Deeds and for Coroner. Should such a canvass be made we guarantee there will be no mud slinging.

An old colored man entered the new office of our Superior Court Clerk yesterday and enquired if he had any salico for sale, but seeing so many law books lying around, he excused himself by saying out with the remark, "Didn't know 't was a book store."

We give on our editorial page another letter from Mr. Vass. He gives the names of some of the distinguished visitors and delegates attending the Session of the Evangelical Alliance, and we suggest to Prof. Thomas to put on the roll of honor any pupil of the graded school that will pronounce them correctly after a day's study.

A car load of fish scrap from Messrs. Dye Bros. factory, near Beaufort, passed up for Durham on Friday. This is encouraging. There should be a large traffic between the Eastern and Western sections of our State, and we believe there would have been ere this but for the short-sightedness of our legislators in cutting the only line of railroad from East to West in two at Goldsboro. But the connection of the two now makes them almost one and if this arrangement continues great benefits will arise to both sections.

Book of Information.
Ayer's American Newspaper Annual has been received by us. It contains a list of all the newspapers published in the United States and Canada with their circulation, etc. Also the population of every State, territory and county seat, and all cities having a population of 5,000 and upward. Published by N. W. Ayer & Sons, Philadelphia, Pa. Price, $3.00.

When Greek Meets Greek.
Now "H. Bosser" and Typo have got into law. Typo says, however, he cannot for his ink-stained life see the philosophy of spelling that word with two y's nor dropping "n" in column, or snatching the definite article out of nevertheless; but let the worst come and he will spend two fortunes in having the case continued to a period of time somewhere in the future beyond the trial of the libel suit at Indianapolis. Humanity demands that the American Nation shall have a rest between the acts.

Church Services To-Day.
Christ Church—V. W. Shields, Rector. 10th Sunday after Trinity. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 4 p. m. The public are always invited to attend the services of this Church.

Baptist Church—Rev. C. A. Jenkins' pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 4 p. m. Seats free and the public always cordially invited to attend the services of this church.

M. E. Church, South—Rev. Dr. Burkhead will preach to-day at 11 a. m. in the Theatre. Subject: "The Rainbow." Sunday school at 4 p. m.

Bring In the Products.
Our farmers in this and adjoining counties have yet time to bring in something for the Exposition. Mr. Geo. Allen is daily receiving articles which he will forward. We noticed on yesterday two stalks of cotton measuring nine and a half feet in height from Mr. John Pate, of this county, also a very fine stalk, planted on the 16th of June from Mr. O. H. Perry near the city, and a very nice bunch of oats from Mr. O. C. Good near Richlands, Oplow county. Such as these will help to make up a fine exhibit. The people of this section will owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. Allen for the display of maris and farm products that will be made.

Died.
At his father's residence, in this city, on Saturday, September 27th, after a short illness of malarial fever, "Leokie," the only son of Thomas A. and Harriet Green, in the 8th year of his age.

The bereaved parents have the profound sympathy of this community in their afflictions. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the Presbyterian church at 5 o'clock, Dr. Burkhead conducting the services.

OF For The Courts.
Our canvasser, C. C. Taylor, left yesterday for Snow Hill via Kinston to attend the Superior Court, which convenes to-morrow. He has now begun the rounds of the courts in the 3rd district and we send him with a bran new turnout, a horse and harness purchased in Kinston where the JOURNAL has a good advertising patronage and a large circulation, and a buggy just from the shops of Messrs. Gardner & Glenn of this city, who turn out first-class work at reasonable prices.

We have indulged many of our weekly subscribers through this year on account of the short crop last year. We hope now they will show their appreciation of the JOURNAL by meeting Mr. Taylor at the fall courts and settling up back accounts.

An Old Paper.
Through the kindness of Mr. Isaac Patterson we are in possession of a copy of the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, of September 21, 1784. It was a sixteen column paper full of news and advertisements.

By the New York letter we see that three days was about as short a time as the two cities could get a word with each other. And Constantinople intelligence of about five months and Dominican of about two. The North American, which is the successor of the Packet, celebrated the Centennial Anniversary by publishing this fac simile and also a very large edition of the Centennial number, which is well filled with interesting reminiscences of the olden time and how the people lived in those good old days.

Notice to Mariners.

Notice is hereby given that, on and after November 1, 1884, a fixed white light of the 4th order, varied every 30 seconds by three red flashes, (intervals between flashes, 10 seconds), will be shown from the light-house recently erected on Little Cormorant Rock, mouth of Sakonnet River, Rhode Island. The apparatus lights the entire horizon, and the focal plane is 43 feet above the ground.

The light should be seen in clear weather, from the deck of a vessel 15 feet above the sea, 14 nautical miles. The structure is a cast-iron pier, surmounted by a cast-iron tower and lantern. The pier and tower are painted red; lantern, black.

The approximate position of the light-house, as taken from the chart of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, is as follows:
Latitude, 41° 27' (10") North.
Longitude, 71° 13' (09") West.
Magnetic bearings and distances from prominent objects are as follows:
Sachuest Point, N. W. 1/4, 2 1/2 nautical miles.
Schuyler's Lodge Buoy, S. by E, three-fourths nautical mile.
Brenton's Reef Light-Ship, W. 3 nautical miles.

Democrats, Rally!
Maj. John Hughes will address the Cleveland and Seales Club at their room next Friday night, Oct. 3rd. The various Clubs in the county, and all other Democrats are cordially invited to attend.

Vance and York at Lexington.
Over 2,000 people were at Lexington yesterday to hear the discussion between Senator Vance and Dr. York. At Tyrone, ten miles from Lexington, Senator Vance was met by one hundred mounted men and escorted to town. Dr. York arrived on the delayed southern bound train and found Senator Vance in the act of beginning his speech. After a brief conference he continued. York replied, making the worst failure of his entire campaign. The principal part of his harangue consisted in abusing Democratic newspapers, and gave them "down the country." Vance in his reply hardly left a feather in the "game cock's" tail. It was crushing; ridicule, anecdote, satire, wit, all mixed together and heaped on York, whose Seales has worn his anticthrust. It was Vance all over and was simply immense. He was presented with a bushel basket of flowers by the Lexington ladies, and the crowd dispersed, not waiting to hear York's final rejoinder. He was left without an audience. It was a cold day for York.—Patriot.

To the Composer of the Daily Journal:

DEARLY BELOVED:—I lately sent a communication to your excellent paper, the enunciator of news, general intelligence, instruction, amusement and edification, to a large portion of eastern North Carolina. Said communication was entitled "Toxicology," but you changed it to Toxicology. Now, I did not cultivate philosophy, I should be angry at this, whereas, I am only a little riled. It is very unphilosophic to get angry, for, as the poet says, brevis furor est (anger is a brief madness). You need not quote against me the exhortation of Saint Paul: "Be angry and sin not." The holy Apostle did not intend to command or advise, that people should get mad. He meant, if you should get mad, do not sin. And the best way to avoid sinning is not to get mad. Besides, when I get mad, I am like Dr. Abuthnot's lion,

"He roared so loud, and looked so grim,
His very shadow durst not follow him."
But, nevertheless, beloved Typo, I have somewhat against you: I shall set you sins in array before you. I am strongly tempted to haul you up before Judge Mumford upon a bill of indictment in the following words and figures to-wit:
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, ss.
Craven County,
Superior Court, Fall Term, A. D., 1884.
vs.
Typorum Compositor, } Indictment,
} Misdemeanor.
"The jurors for the State upon their oath present, that Typorum Compositor, late of the JOURNAL office, in the county of Craven and State of North Carolina, not having the fear of God before his eyes, but being moved and instigated by the devil, at and in said county and State, on the 25th day of September, A. D., 1884, with force and arms, did maliciously, wilfully and unlawfully, a certain paper writing prepared by H. Bosser, and to H. S. Nunn, editor of the DAILY JOURNAL, exhibited for publication, alter, by changing the caption thereof from Toxicology to Toxicology, with intention to deceive and defraud, to the evil example of all persons similarly offending, to the corruption of the orthography of the English language contrary the statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the State." This is a short form of an indictment for forgery. The law books define forgery to be, "the falsely making or altering any paper writing with intent to injure or defraud another." It is a well-settled principle of law that every man shall be considered as intending the consequences of his acts. Now the consequence of this act is to defraud H. Bosser of his character and reputation as a scholar—"he who steals my purse steals trash," etc., but he who filches from me of my own good name, etc." The injury is to the whole city of New Berne and the citizens thereof; for that whereas, heretofore, said city hath been known, styled, and designated "The Athens of North Carolina," and if our only paper goes forth to all the world, with Toxicology printed for Toxicology, the nations of the earth will think that we don't know any better, and the character of the city for scholarship will suffer and said city will be defrauded of its Athenian sobriquet. Solomon says that a good name is more to be prized than great riches.

Mr. Typo, do you know what they did in England, a hundred years ago, to Dr. Dodd for forgery? No. Then I will tell you. Though he was a D.D. (doctor of divinity) they hanged him. Now, if you don't change your course, we will not hang you, but we will write you down "T. Compositor, d-d printer." But "the head and front of your offending" has another aspect. You have destroyed one of the "ologies"—you have thrown down one of the columns of the Temple of Science. Samson pulled down two pillars of a temple and he was mashed to death. So, beware! The next pillar will pull you down you may expect to have your skull cracked.

Again, in another part of the article referred to, you changed "potion"—a drink, to portion. Were you thinking of "a short?"

Fy on you, Typo! "go purge thy head with hellabore." H. BOSSER.

La Grange Items.

The DAILY JOURNAL of Wednesday did not get to this office till Thursday. We had but few cases of "sunstroke" Thursday. Several were threatened, but we saw only one prostrated.

Ingratitude is the meanest trait in the human character. The ungrateful are sure to find it so sooner or later.

If a man who staggers and falls is drunk, what may be said of one who harnesses his horse with his head to the cart?

Young man, stay at your place of business. If you have nothing to do, it will show that you have a "place of business."

We notice J. F. Mewborne of Kinston in our market buying cotton. The more the merrier, and we hope to see the price go up.

"Prof." W. E. Burnett, tonsorial artist, returned here some days ago, and is again at his "tonsorial palace," practicing his profession.

The law prohibiting the sale of liquors on days of public speaking was observed by nearly all our bar-keepers Thursday, which is probably the first in the State. We commend them for their obedience to the law of the land.

Mr. Neah Rouse gathered from nine hills of peanuts over nine quarts of solid peas. This is said by those acquainted to be a large turnout. We are glad to know that our farmers are meeting with such encouragement in this; to us, new industry.

truth of this, how quiet many of us would be.

Cotton is coming in brisker than last week and sold on Friday at 9.20 for the best. We see no reason why cotton buyers can't pay as much for cotton in this market as in Goldsboro, Kinston or New Berne, less the freight. We advise our buyers to think this matter over and make it worth people's while to bring it here.

Dr. Wills left here Tuesday for his home near Enfield, in charge of his wife and son. It is said that notwithstanding his afflictions he bore up under the trip to Goldsboro remarkably well. His condition was no better when he left, and his many friends here have but little hope of hearing his warnings and admonitions from the pulpit again. He is a faithful servant of the Master, and one whose soul is in the work. May he yet be spared for the good work.

Carteret County Items.

From the Telephone
Mrs. Mary Howland, of Beaufort, was the first person to pay the county tax for the year 1884 and obtain the receipt of the sheriff.

Don't forget to attend the speaking at Smyrna on Friday, Oct. 3rd, at Newport on Saturday the 4th and at Morehead City on the 4th at night. You can hear both sides of the question.

We trust the seeming want of enthusiasm does not portend a light vote in this county this fall. Every Democrat should do his duty and he has not done all until he has deposited his ballot.

Hon. Thos. G. Skinner will come among his constituents in this county next week, with no apologies to make and no fears of a cold reception. His record during his brief term in Congress is one of which he may be proud and the people are of the opinion that he is the man for the place.

Mr. Henry D. Roberson of Martin county, who will be better known to our readers as the husband of the widow of the late Wm. F. Peyer of this place, died week before last. He was a most enterprising man and founded the village of Robersonville. He contributed largely to the prosperity of his section, and had amassed considerable property. He will be greatly missed.

Capt. Sam Howland was badly hurt on Monday last. He was at Capt. Fales' mill at Crab Point for lumber and had his foot run over by a loaded lumber car. Two toes of the right foot were crushed so that he will be disabled for some little time if nothing more serious occurs.

Dr. Jas. L. Manney was called in to dress the wounds after the Captain reached home, but he suffered considerably before reaching the physician.

We are pleased to note that some steps have been taken to send articles from Carteret county to the State Exposition. Mr. Geo. N. Ives, who was appointed by the Craven county association, collector for this section, has this week sent forward a display of salt fish of various kinds, together with several curiosities of the sea, and his exhibit has been supplemented by a box from Mr. Wm. Haisel, containing some specimens of his industry and handiwork.

Three beautiful miniature vessels—a brig, a ship and a steamer, and some handsome specimens of rice compose part of the assortment, and Mr. Charles P. Dey sends samples of menhaden in alcohol, fish oil and scrap. The fish dealers from Morehead City have also contributed many handsome specimens of fish and other water products. Mr. Ives has taken great interest in the exposition and is extremely anxious that Carteret should make the exhibit that he knows she can, and will forward any articles which our citizens will bring or send him.

Sweet Gum and Mullein.

The sweet gum, as gathered from a tree of the same name, growing along the small streams in the Southern States, contains a stimulating expectorant principle that loosens the phlegm producing the early morning cough, and stimulates the child to throw off the false membrane in croup and whooping cough. When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHERRY CURE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN, the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it. Ask your druggist for it. Send two-cent stamp for Taylor's Riddle Book, which is not only for the amusement of the little ones who will gather around your knee to hear the puzzling questions, but containing information for the health and welfare of every home.

No sooner did Blackwell & Co. secure the confidence of all smokers by the purity and excellence of Blackwell's Durham Long Cut, than a swarm of imitators arose to palm off inferior tobacco as Durham. The name is very taking, and its use will deceive novices, unless they make sure that the Durham Bull is on the tobacco they buy.
