THE RICE HOBBY.

In discussing the tariff question the Republicans in this section have what they consider a telling argument in favor of protection...

Now we are prepared to show that the present tariff on rice affords only that incidental protection given by a revenue tariff which the Democrats contend for...

As soon as the potatoes are planted five or ten acres in oats. These will come off in July, one-half of which you can sell, and thus get a little more money.

In April plant ten to twenty acres in corn. This is a staple crop and the staff of the farm. It should receive the first and best attention.

In May plant two acres in cotton, two in tobacco, and two in peanuts. These are money crops. Plant small but cultivate big.

You will by this time have about forty acres of land planted, which may be easily increased to fifty or sixty acres, or a full two-horse crop.

In addition, you keep two or three milk cows, make plenty of butter and some to sell. You have fowls, bees, hogs and sheep.

Now the present tariff on rice brings a large revenue to the government, and the Democratic party, in accordance with its well known principles of "tariff for revenue only" will keep it up so long as the government needs the revenue; and as the time will never come when the government will not need revenue, the idea of "free trade" is simply preposterous. The people in this country that prefer direct taxes to a revenue tariff are few and far between.

There is another fraud which the Republicans try to palm off on the people as argument, and that is "a protective tariff protects American labor." Now this can be settled very easily and quickly if the laboring man will just think a little.

Plant now three acres of your best land in wheat. This will yield thirty to forty bushels of grain, enough, perhaps, for your year's supply of flour, and will save you fifty dollars in your annual expenses.

In March next plant one acre in Irish potatoes. Manure with stable or hog or cow pen manure. Half the acre will grow all you will want for home use, and you will have several barrels to sell.

Just here let us remark two things in relation to the potato crop. First, it ought to be much more largely grown by us for home use. It is cheap and profitable.

THIS AND THAT.

No Blaine mass meeting is complete without a bonfire. No more Michigan politicians are writing letters to Henry Ward Beecher.

Mr. Blaine, on arriving at Sisterville, Ohio, was surprised at not seeing Belva Lockwood.

The King of Siam has 263 children. He pretends to be surprised because his neighbors are always having more.

Memorandum for 1884: In October of this year the leaves were not affected by frost. They were burned off.

A love story in the New York Journal says: "Alice was silent for several moments." It is easy to see that this is fiction.

Miss Her King Eng, of China, is attending school in Ohio. What astonishes her is the size of feet worn by the Ohio girls.

Readers of newspapers are surprised to learn that there is a Dr. Dedman in Kentucky. It is usually the patient who is the Dedman.

Dr. Mary Walker's offer to kiss the man who will vote for Belva Lockwood is supposed to be a temptation prepared for Gen. Sherman.

Mr. Alger, of Michigan, is as unlucky as Secretary Chandler in writing political letters. Mr. Alger and Mr. Chandler should take a vacation until after November.

A fortune of $3,500,000 has been left to a San Francisco cigar peddler. Had he been a peddler of good plug tobacco he would probably have come in for $5,000,000.

The Astors paid $425,000 of taxes last week. Whenever a New York paper has a communication signed "Taxpayer," one of the Astors is suspected.

"Strict fathers are at the bottom of these elopements," says a Brooklyn girl. Two to one that girl's fellow knows the size of boot her pa wears on Sunday.

A long line of private carriages followed Mr. Blaine from one village to another in Ohio the other day. Nothing looks more like a funeral than a long line of private carriages.

A Huge chestnut standing near the foot of Mount Etna is believed to be the oldest and largest tree in the world. The Sicilian paragoners go there every year for their chestnuts.

Mr. Blaine has been telling the West Virginians of the Republican financial system that has given them good money. How did the Republicans manage to keep the trade dollar and the nickel half eagle out of West Virginia?

Ray, the arithmetic man, is said to be very poor. The poverty of Mr. Ray (who has always set a good example) must indeed be a sorrowful spectacle.

The sweet gum, as gathered from a tree of the same name, growing along the small streams in the Southern States, contains a stimulating expectorant principle that loosens the phlegm producing the early morning cough, and stimulates the child to throw off the false membrane in croup and whooping cough.

When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHERRY CURE SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN, the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it.
