Vote.

Election day.

Vote the Democratic ticket.

The Cotton Exchange closed to-day.

Hyde Superior Court convenes next week.

Our truck farmers are planting cabbage seed.

The National Bank will close to-day at 12 o'clock.

Election to-day, John Robinson's circus to-morrow.

The steamer Stout left yesterday evening with a full cargo of cotton.

The county commissioners were in session yesterday and adjourned until to-morrow.

We hope to be able to tell our readers to-morrow morning who will be the next President.

From appearances at present writing Turner's almanac is about right about the weather this time.

The schooner Melvin sailed for the West Indies last Friday evening with a cargo of staves and shingles.

Vote early if you can; if you cannot vote early, then vote late, but don't vote both early and late. One time is enough.

The JOURNAL to-morrow will contain the latest election news. Extra copies will be for sale at the office and by boys on the streets.

"Cook has returned," was the remark made by a by-stander as soon as the Silver Cornet Band began playing around the corner last night.

John Suter was receiving a large lot of furniture yesterday. His business has enlarged until he has been compelled to secure additional room.

The Democrats of the 8th township have made no nomination for constable, but Joseph E. Gaskill is a candidate for that position against the Republican nominee.

Mr. John S. Manix, having succeeded in giving a satisfactory bond for his appearance at the next term of the District Court, was released from jail yesterday.

We call attention to the law cards in this issue of Hon. C. R. Thomas, of this city, and C. R. Thomas, Jr., of Beaufort. Both these gentlemen are safe counselors and business entrusted to either of them will receive prompt attention.

We are pleased to note that a number of our colored citizens are becoming able to send their children off to high schools. We think it a good sign to see them becoming interested enough in education to begin to rely on their own efforts. We learn that several left yesterday morning for Scotia Seminary, at Concord. Their names are: Sophronia Palmer, Hannah Murphy, Florence A. Randolph, Georgia Davis and Georgia Pharis.

Personal.

F. M. Simmons returned last night from Onslow, having made speeches at Smith's store and Maysville to large and enthusiastic crowds.

Mr. T. P. Clarke returned from the Exposition last night. He says there was a good crowd up to the very closing. He returns to-morrow morning to get ready for the New Orleans Exposition.

To-day.

Let every man who is entitled to vote go to the poll of his precinct and vote for the man of his choice, go home and await the result with fear and trembling.

TO-MORROW.

Look out for the great circus, but above all things look out for your pocket-books, for be it known that a gang of pickpockets always follow these great shows, and relieve many people of what money, watches and jewelry they may have about them. Look out for breakers!

Magistrate's Court.

The case of State vs. J. T. York, agent of H. J. Lovick, for the embezzlement of funds, was heard before Justice F. W. Hancock yesterday. The defendant denied that he was an agent, but a partner.

W. W. Clark appeared for the State and W. E. Clarke and Geo. H. White appeared for the defendant. The defendant was bound over for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court in a justified bond of four hundred dollars.

Trial proven that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, and a powerful cathartic.

Keep Cool.

The friends of the candidates of both parties have doubtless been pretty thoroughly enthused by this time in this city, but we hope all hands will keep cool to-day. The country will hardly go to ruin immediately, no matter who is elected. So let every man vote to-day as he wishes without disturbance.

The Board of County Canvassers.

It should be borne in mind that the judges of election are required to appoint one of their number to attend the meeting of the board of county canvassers, as a member thereof, and deliver to the board the returns from his precinct. It must also be remembered that the board of county canvassers are to meet on the second day after the election at 12 o'clock, noon, at the court house of the county, and in the presence of the sheriff and such other electors as choose to attend, open and canvass and judiciously determine the returns. Thursday at 12 o'clock is the day for the meeting of the board of canvassers.

"Amusements and the Christian Life."

In the notice we gave, in our last issue, of this book by Rev. L. C. Vass, we were perhaps not sufficiently clear as to its publication. While it was written by Mr. Vass, it is not published by him. The book has been adopted as its own, and is the copyright property of, and is issued by the Board of Publication of the Presbyterian Church. Its full title page reads as follows: "Amusements and the Christian Life, in the Primitive Church and in our Day. By the Rev. L. C. Vass, Philadelphia: Presbyterian Board of Publication, 1334 Chestnut street."

The Closing Scenes.

The Democrats closed the campaign last night at Collins' store, on Pollock street. The Cleveland and Seales Club assembled at their room and marched up, headed by the Silver Cornet Band, and when they arrived at the stand a good crowd had assembled. M. DeW. Stevenson, Esq., opened the speaking and was followed by Phil. Holland, Clement Manly and W. W. Clark. All made short, pointed speeches but had the issues so divided as to cover the whole ground. This was Mr. Clark's first political speech, and he sustained his reputation as a clear, forcible speaker.

The Republicans had their closing rally at McCarthy's store where Hon. O. Hubbs and others made speeches. Now let's have a quiet election, but earnest and determined to see that every man gets to the polls and votes for the men of his choice.

Core Creek Items.

Mr. J. A. Smith, who, by the way, we should call agura, is looking well and says he is sanguine of Democratic success in his county. Joe married a couple, too, the other day and sent them on their way rejoicing.

I am just from the Raleigh Exposition and I pronounce it just splendid. We saw all the wonders of the deep, high and low. We saw Tom Clarke, of Clarke & Morgan's exhibits, and Tom says the Craven people haven't treated him exactly right in helping him out in his efforts to please the people. Sorry for that.

Crops are being taken in out of the wet pretty fast. Corn crops are very good around here. Mr. Thos. Harrison has oceans of corn, some of the finest kind. Lewis King and Dick Morton have some land in corn that they are gathering from 8 to 10 barrels from an acre. Rice and sweet potatoes with field peas constitute the crops around here.

After a long thirty-eight days of dry weather we had a shower of rain yesterday that laid the dust and changed the air somewhat. Glad to see the rain, say the citizens, but Molver, with his convictions, don't want any rains at present; they are at work in a swamp and much rain would stop them in their work at that place. All well in camp at this time and the road is progressing finely. Come out and see us.

Heard from Onslow Friday. A. F. Farnell, sr., has about 8 acres in potatoes, the finest in the country, mostly yams. Will dig over 300 bushels to the acre, some of the largest kind, and ought to have had some of them to the Raleigh Exposition. Never mind Aaron, send or carry some of them to the New Orleans World's Exposition in December. "Bad Cajah F." is getting so supple a running race and jumping fences to show Miss —, the young school teacher, his agility, lately, he fell and liked to hurt himself. Be careful friend C. I will be there soon and help you to hitch up, and you, too, Doc. Don't you forget to let us know in time. Guess Col. T. R. won't make his wife happy by shaming when Cleveland is elected. Maybe he thinks Cleveland won't be elected, but if he does, I think the Colonel is mistaken for once.

There are very few tobaccoists who do not have what they call a "particular trade," i. e., buyers who seek a guarantee of purity and will have no nauseating odors about them. This class of customers never fail to be pleased with Blackwell's Durham Long Cut, and dealers are so well posted in the secret that not one in a thousand fails to promptly honor a request for the celebrated Durham Long Cut. The trade mark is the Durham Bull.

The Close of the Exposition.

Today the State exposition closes. What good has it done? In the first place it has opened the eyes of North Carolinians to the fact that their State really has great actualities as well as great possibilities. It has shown not only the products of North Carolina soil, North Carolina waters, North Carolina mines and North Carolina forests, but of North Carolina talent, taste and skill as well. It has shown that our people need only development to equal any people in the handicrafts and in works of art. It has shown to the world that we make no empty boast when we claim that the agricultural, mineral and forest products of the State are unsurpassed if they are equalled by those of any other State in the Union. It has made plain that North Carolina is a pleasant land in which to dwell, a good land to farm in, to mine in, to fish in, to work in with either hand or brain; that a living may be had here in almost any calling with as great ease as in any land under the sun. It has shown too that the State is almost virgin soil and therefore that the opportunities for making money are numerous and varied. Hence its chief fruit will be the attraction of capital and the good it has thus done towards increasing the general welfare is incalculable. Every honor therefore should be accorded those who have borne the burden of the enterprise. They have labored long and unselfishly and the State should regard them as among those who have done most for her material advancement. They will certainly be placed in such company by impartial history. They have labored, too, successfully, and as might have been expected of such excellent business men, have while doing incalculable good to the State at large managed in the face of adverse circumstances to return with interest the patriotic contributions of those public spirited citizens who supported the undertaking. All praise and honor to the officers of the Exposition company, the railroad authorities, the press of the State (modestly excluding ourselves of course), and the State administration for the great work done for the advancement of North Carolina in the exposition of 1884, which now passes into history!—News Observer, Nov. 1.

John Robinson's Machine Poetry—Ground out for the Occasion.

'Tis nearly six years ago,
'Ere you and I did see a show:
There was a man lived in the west,
That had a farm, 'twas none of the best,
And hired a man to carry it on,
Whose name it was John Robinson.
John Robinson, he soon got tired,
And wished the Lord, he ne'er had hired,
And said to me, the facts I know,
I'll make more money with a show.
Threw up his farm, and started East,
Bought forty cages of wild beasts,
And through and through the country went,
And many and many a dollar spent,
All to perfect his monster show.
To please the boys and girls you know.
And now it is his great delight
To give his show both day and night,
Puts up his tents upon the green,
The biggest yet, that e'er was seen;
Take my advice, young man and go,
With your sweetheart, to old John's show:
For a spangled dress is bound to win,
And your true love will go again.
John Robinson will surely come,
Through all the West with rifle and drum:
He is, you bet, the coming man.
Make way for the Leviathan.
Now young men all, be married in time,
And save your money, every dime,
And from your pockets plunk it down,
When Old John Robinson comes into town.
To buy the tickets for the show.
And when you've seen it home ward go,
Tell everybody that you meet,
That you've enjoyed the biggest treat,
And if John Robinson comes here again:
There's naught can stop me, wind or rain.
From visiting his tents again,
And for one ticket you pass free,
Through circus and menagerie.
The biggest elephants in all the land,
Will gently eat from children's hands,
The camels, too, both black and white,
They are the people's great delight.
The monkeys, they are full of fun,
And to their cages the boys will run,
We've said enough, and we are done.
Now go and see John Robinson
Who will bring his Ten Big Brand New Monster Combined shows to Newbern Nov. 5th.

Malarial Poison.

ROME, GA., May 23, 1883.

In 1880 I came from the North to take charge of the gas works in Rome, as superintendent, and after the overflow, which occurred in the spring following, I was very much exposed to malarial poison, and in 1882 found my blood so contaminated with the poison that I was forced to give up business. I was treated by the Rome physicians without relief, they advising me to go North, which I did. The doctors North told me that my only hope was to return to the milder climate, and accordingly I came back to Rome, completely broken down and nearly a skeleton. My trouble finally determined in an abscess of the liver, and nearly every one (myself included) thought I was doomed to die within a few days. In this condition I was advised by a friend to take Swift's Specific, and I took it just as a drowning man would catch at a straw, but as soon as my system got under the influence of the remedy, the abscess came to a point and burst, passing off without pain. In fifteen days after this I was up at my work, and have since enjoyed excellent health.

GENERAL NEWS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—A dispatch from New Iberia to the Picayune says: At the Kellogg meeting at Laureville to-day, some negroes got into a difficulty. Joe Gilfaux attempted to quiet them. He was fired upon by a negro, the ball penetrating his hat. He returned the fire, but without effect. By this time several resorted to firearms, and a general fusillade commenced. Joe Gilfaux was first to fall, shot dead. He was one of the best citizens and a Democrat. Sheriff Theodore Vitale has been brought in here wounded, but not dangerously. The persons who brought him say that Capt. R. Bell, a Democrat, was also shot dead, and that Abner Boutte, a colored politician, and three other negroes were killed. Large numbers of men are under arms at Laureville, and the excitement is at fever heat. The particulars are difficult to get. The excitement here is very great. Squads of armed men have left for the scene of the conflict. The town is picketed and will be patrolled to-night.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—In a quarrel among a party of Sicilians at the French market last night, Paolo Vittrano was shot in the head and instantly killed. Three persons were arrested as being implicated in the murder.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—It is now stated that Paolo Vittrano, who was killed during a quarrel at the French market last night, was shot by the police. Officers McCarthy and Dacono are under arrest for the killing. The policemen say they were attacked and shot at, when they returned the fire.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—A special to the Chronicle-Telegraph from Mansfield, O., says: Passenger train No. 1 on the B. & O., due here at 6:53 this morning jumped a frog near Alta, O., while going at a rate of forty miles per hour. The first two cars were not damaged but the third car struck a freight engine on the siding and car following were telescoped and totally demolished. No one was killed, but eighteen or twenty were injured, several of them seriously. They were taken to Zanesville.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 1.—The defalcations of president Jackson, of the Enterprise cotton factory, amount as far as discovered, to $128,000 and will probably reach $140,000. The committee is still investigating the books of the company. The misappropriation of funds covers a period of several years.

Rioting in Canada.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 1.—Letters have been received here from a detachment of the Toronto police, which went to Michipicoten. They had no difficulty in landing, but shortly afterwards they were fired on. They charged on the crowd and arrested six of the ringleaders. On that evening shots were fired into their boarding house from a hill top and their cook was wounded. The police pursued the miscreants, all of whom escaped but one, who was afterwards arrested. Seven prisoners were taken before a magistrate and remanded for trial. The police think they will have no trouble in quelling the riot, and expect to remain at Michipicoten only about a fortnight.

Notice to Mariners.

Notice is hereby given that, on and after January 1, 1885, the cage-work daymark and ball will be removed from the main-mast of light-ship No. 44, moored off Five Fathom Bank, north-east end, New Jersey, and thereafter she will display a day-mark and ball at the foremast-head only.

Light-ship No. 40, moored on Five Fathom Bank, will continue to display a day-mark at both mast-heads.

STEPHEN C. ROWAN,
Vice-Admiral U. S. Navy, Chm'n.

NOT NOVEL WITH US.—Some thoughtless people are laughing at Prof. Cope Whitehouse because in his lecture before the Science Association in Philadelphia he insisted that the pyramids were built from the top down. There is certainly nothing remarkable about that. That's just the way we're building the Bartholdi Statue of Liberty.—Brooklyn Eagle.
