Neuse Council No. 1, Order of Chosen Friends, meet to-night.

The yacht Americus, of Baltimore, is on Howard's ship railway for repairs.

H. J. Lovick is making a plank walk in front of his store, at the foot of Middle street.

Mrs. Ellis' rice mill is now running on full time. The Superintendent, Mr. Leach, says the stock is in much better condition this year than last.

"Do all defeated candidates look alike?" This question was propounded by an attorney the other evening when a little boy, pointing to Enoch Wadsworth, our late candidate for Register of Deeds, asked: "Pa, is that Mr. Blaine?"

Eqg. Brinson, while trying some parties (colored) for an affray yesterday was moved by evidence brought out in the case to issue his warrant for several parties who have been spending Sundays at a gambling house up town. The keeper of the house was arrested and being unable to give bond for his appearance at the next term of the court was sent to jail.

Removal.

Mr. F. Ulrich, having bought out Mr. T. A. Green's large stock of groceries, is moving into the brick store occupied by Mr. Green on Middle street, where he will continue to wholesale and retail groceries with renewed energy and satisfaction to his customers. Mr. Green's office will remain at the old stand for the present.

Steamer Movements.

The Shenandoah went out yesterday evening with a full cargo of cotton.

The Stout arrived yesterday from Norfolk with a cargo of general merchandise, and took out a full cargo of cotton last night.

The Goldboro arrived from Norfolk last night.

The Elm City arrived from Lake Landing last night.

Personal.

Mrs. Mary D. Morgan, of the firm of Clarke & Morgan, has returned from Raleigh. Mr. Clarke goes to New Orleans with the large collection of native fishes, fowls and animals, exhibited by the firm at the State Exhibition.

F. M. Simmons, Esq., accompanied by the Silver Cornet Band and others, left yesterday for Beaufort to take part in the Democratic jubilee that was held there last night.

M. DeW. Stevenson, Esq., arrived from Pamlico court yesterday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Garner and her daughter, Miss Blackwell, of Baltimore, arrived last night on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. F. Rountree.

Capt. Matt Manly arrived from Goldboro last night and reports the Fair a success.

The Celebration.

The various committees appointed for the purpose of making arrangements for the grand celebration of the Democratic victory on the 4th of November last are at work, and we expect to see a demonstration unsurpassed by any in the State on Thursday night, the 27th.

We think it unfortunate for the clerks in the city that the night of Thanksgiving should have been selected, for it can hardly be expected that the merchants will close their stores when a large crowd is expected from the adjoining counties. Our merchants have generally closed their stores on this day and observed it with the spirit that prompts the executive head of the government to set it aside as a day of thanksgiving and praise, but this year people from all the country around about have been invited to assemble here during that day, and join in a demonstration at night in honor of the first National Democratic victory since the war. Many will come with the expectation of trading more or less, and the merchants will certainly be tempted to give them an opportunity if they come to town.

But the time has been fixed and we hope all Democrats who can will come and make the justification a complete success. If our merchants close their stores on Thursday they will open early Friday morning and visitors, most of whom will probably remain over Thursday night, will be in a better humor for trading.

The Methodist Advance.

This most excellent paper has been burned out. "Loss $3,000, insurance $1,000." Let every person in New Berne who owes the Advance anything come forward and pay up promptly. I will receive the money, receipt for it, and deliver to Bro. W. M. Robey next Monday. Don't keep back from those in distress who are owed them. A. C. HARRIS.

Further Particulars of the Fire at Goldboro.

The News and Observer gives an extended account of the fire at Goldboro on Sunday evening from which we take the following paragraphs:

The accurate list of the burned buildings is as follows: W. F. Kornegay & Co.'s machine shops, Fonville & Sauls, the "Messenger" office, W. W. Crawford, Sol. Einstein & Co., Jones & Yelverton, Miller & Cobb, Borden Bros., S. H. Denmark (mills), W. T. Farmer, E. B. Borden, B. M. Privitt & Co., J. F. Miller, M. E. Castex & Co., Singer sewing machine company, Robinson & Spencer, Judge Faircloth's store, J. D. Winslow, "Methodist Advance" office, "Baptist Review" office, Robert Porter's ale depot.

Another account says the wind at the outbreak of the fire blew very strong. The engines could really do nothing. The wells were nearly dry. When the firemen pulled the engines out into the street, to prevent their being burned, the people seemed to lose self-control and thought the town doomed to certain and sure destruction. The scene beggared description. East and West Centre street (the principal one, running parallel with the railroad) was filled with people, piles of goods, furniture, etc. Women and children were screaming and crying, men shouting, and everybody distracted with fear and worry. At one time it appeared sure that the goods piled, for a space of several blocks, along the street, would take fire and be consumed, despite the efforts of the hundreds of persons watching them. In some instances blazing bales of goods were taken from the street and thrown back into the burning building, in order to save the remainder.

City Council Proceedings.

FRIDAY, 14th 1884.

The meeting of the Board of City Council was held this evening, Mayor Meadows in the chair. All the members present.

Permission was granted to Mr. U. S. Mace to erect an open corrugated iron shed in front of his building on the market wharf; to M. Patterson to move his cart houses and stables to the rear of his lot, and to Maj. Jno. Hughes, representing Mrs. E. McK. Roberts, to build stables in the rear of Mrs. Dave's lot.

The property of the Stanley heirs was ordered to be taken from the delinquent tax list and placed on the regular list.

Mr. E. B. Hackburn, representing the New Bern Engine Company, asked the Board to come under a contract in regard to the new engine similar to the one made with the Atlantic Company. On motion, the matter was referred to the following committee: Councilmen Wood, Gray and Simpson.

On motion, the following committee was appointed to look after a place for the New Bern Engine Company: Gray, Street and Wood, and report at the next meeting of the Board.

On motion of Councilman Street, it was ordered that the Board rent the building now occupied by the New Bern Engine Company from month to month at ten dollars per month.

Malarial Poison.

Having spent much of my time for the past three years in and near Albany, Ga., I had gradually absorbed malaria into my system, and my general health was completely broken down; this poison culminated last November in a congestive chill, and I was confined to the bed and house for five months; was treated by the best physicians by all the approved methods, with no benefit; my health was awfully broken down; my skin almost as yellow as a pumpkin; a thick heavy coat on my tongue; no appetite; and in a miserable fix generally. I was induced in April last to take Swift's Specific, and the first few doses convinced me that it was what I needed. I continued until I had taken several bottles, and am a well man; the poison has all been driven out of my system by Swift's Specific, and I have gained thirty pounds in weight.

(From the Evening Visitor.) BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

FOURTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.
RALEIGH, Nov. 15, 1884.

The convention met at 9:30 o'clock this morning and was called to order by President Scarborough.

Rev. A. D. Cohen, of Hamilton, conducted the religious exercises. The convention sang, "To the Work, To the Work, We are Servants of God."

The proceedings of yesterday and last night were read, corrected and approved.

Rev. J. D. Hufham rose to a question of personal privilege in regard to the proceedings in the News and Observer of this morning, saying that he had been misrepresented.

Mr. E. G. Harrell, the reporter for that paper and also a member of the convention, endeavored to make an explanation, which the convention refused to hear.

Rev. C. Durham, for the committee on place of next meeting of the convention, reported, recommending Reidsville, which was adopted.

Committee recommended that Rev. J. M. McManaway be appointed to preach the introductory sermon at next session of the convention, with Rev. Mr. Eason as alternate. The recommendations were accepted.

Rev. Mr. Overby submitted the report of the committee on Periodicals, which was made the special order for 12:30 o'clock to-day.

The hour having arrived for the special order, viz.: The report of the committee on the Sunday School Board, it was taken up and remarks were made by Dr. J. W. M. Williams, of Baltimore.

After whom J. E. Ray, Corresponding Secretary of the convention spoke, Col. Heck thanked Dr. Williams for his speech and speaks on influence for good there is in Sunday Schools. The report was adopted.

The committee appointed to recommend trustees for Wake Forest College, recommended J. B. Brewer, J. T. Bland, C. S. Wooten, O. F. Gregory, J. B. Holeman, H. A. Brown, Dr. J. D. Roberts.

Rev. Thomas Carrick, by special order, was introduced to the convention and addressed the body for all to complete the memorial church at Greenville. Rev. R. T. Vann also urged a large collection to complete the building at an early day. Dr. Hufham spoke at length to the measure and was followed by Dr. Skinner and others all making pledges for the enterprise.

Resolution was offered by Rev. C. Durham endorsing the measure and requesting Dr. Hufham, assisted by Rev. Thos. Carrick, to raise means for pushing forward the work.

Report on periodicals was next in order, and was discussed by Dr. R. E. Overby, Dr. Hufham, Dr. Bailey and N. Ebow, Esq. Report adopted.

Mr. C. Durham offered a resolution to appoint a committee of nine to take into consideration the expediency of establishing a Baptist Orphan's Home if found practicable, and spoke in favor of the resolution.

Rev. A. G. McManaway spoke in opposition to the measure, and offered an amendment with slight changes to the resolution.

Rev. F. W. Eason followed in opposition to both resolution and amendment.

Rev. W. R. Gwaltney and Dr. R. D. Flemming favored the measure.

Prof. C. E. Taylor offered a substitute to the effect that if a society shall inaugurate measures to provide for orphan's home the convention will endorse and assist with pecuniary aid. The asylum at Oxford also shall receive its re-endorsement.

Dr. Hufham spoke earnestly in favor of the new orphan's home.

W. H. Pace, Esq., opposed the substitute offered by Prof. Taylor.

Pending discussion, the convention adjourned.

Kinston Items.

Kinston College numbers 123.

Some negroes still insist that they will be enslaved again. How foolish!

Dust! dust! We are eating the traditional "peck of dirt" rather rapidly.

Cotton coming in briskly. There has been a revival of trade since Cleveland's election.

Miss Carrie Harding is at home again, after an absence which continued for four months.

Neuse river has become a third-rate creek and the boys and dogs insult it by wading across it.

The county iron bridge near here is nearly finished. Many citizens visit it every Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Sam Chadwick, Western Union telegraph operator at Danville, Va., is at home now on a visit. His health is not good.

Widowers and bachelors of Kinston have concluded to postpone further arrangements till the winter season. Why no one knows.

Mr. Shelburne has returned to Kinston and fitted up an elegant photograph gallery over Mrs. Grainger's store. He is the best artist in Eastern Carolina.

Our Cleveland and Scales flag, that floats from the lofty pole in the centre of Queen street, is now emblematic of the Republican party, split into a dozen pieces.

The ladies' festival, conducted by Mrs. E. F. Cox and Mrs. A. Oettinger, held here on court week, realized $76, which was forwarded to the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

The statement in the Free Press, copied from "Bradstreet," of last week, that Dr. R. Pelletier of Kinston had made an assignment, is entirely false and without foundation. Persons should be very careful in regard to such things.

Mr. Jacob F. Parrott, always alive to the interests of Kinston, has given our town a lot of land just over his new bridge, to be used as a park. What a beautiful spot it will make a beautiful place of resort away from the dust and turmoil of business.

Mr. Elijah Loftin, who lives a few miles from town, presented the Museum of Kinston College, a short time ago, some magnificent specimens of marl and phosphates from his farm. He also presented some very fine specimens with fossil impressions of shell fish; among them, the stone crab and king crab. Major David Davis presented some stone phosphates equally as strong as Mr. Loftin's. Lenoir county will some day make a display of its native fertilizers, and the country will wonder at the vast amount and excellency of them.

La Grange Items.

New York all right. Who doubts that Cleveland is elected now?

Dr. J. S. Bizzell returned from the Baptist State convention Friday.

Cotton 9 5-16; rice 94c.; corn 50 to 60c.; eggs 10 to 12c.; meal 80c., retail.

Rev. Mr. Greenwood, Primitive Baptist of Wilson, preached at the Collegiate Institute building last Saturday and Sunday.

Many of our people will visit the fair at Goldboro this week. We don't suppose that our county will have any exhibit.

A raid, we hear, was made in Moses Joyner's chicken house last Saturday night. How many chickens were stolen we don't know.

Rev. Mr. Carpenter preached here last Sunday and Sunday night—his regular appointment. He filled his appointment at Hickory Grove at 3 1/2 o'clock p. m.

The news of the fire in Goldboro on Sunday reached here Monday morning. We sympathize with the business men and all others in their loss. Goldboro is a thriving city and this makes the loss felt outside its limits.

Gov. T. J. Jarvis, accompanied by Mrs. Jarvis, passed through our village Saturday evening en route to Seven Springs. We learn that Mrs. Jarvis will remain at the Springs for some time. The Governor returned to Raleigh this morning. Let his name be urged for a place in Cleveland's cabinet. All good Democrats will rejoice to see him honored.

Anniston, Ala., the business home of our former townsman, Joseph Kinsey, is a growing place. In 1873 the Woodstock Iron Company erected two furnaces at this place, and it now contains a cotton factory, a car wheel foundry, a car works, a rolling mill, machine shop, ice foundry, three planing mills and one flouring mill. There are between thirty-five and forty business houses, transacting about $1,000,000 worth of business annually. It was organized as a city and the first town lots were sold in June, 1880, and now has a population of near six thousand. The city is supplied with water works, electric lights, schools, churches, hotels, etc. Its growth has been remarkable and with its business facilities Mr. Kinsey is well pleased. We wish him success.

I. T. WATSON, Clerk.

If people troubled with colds would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or places of entertainment, they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of both speakers and hearers. Public speakers and singers find that the Pectoral wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice.
