The New Berne engine house is undergoing repairs.

Moses Bryan and "Rad" are even. Now let us have peace.

Corrected figures in the Raleigh News and Observer give Scales' majority for Governor 20,068.

John Dann has received a big lot of fire works. They will be needed at the celebration next Thursday night.

The account of the Tolant fire given in yesterday's issue should have been credited to the News and Observer.

Several thousand bushels of rice in market yesterday. Several good lots brought 93 cents per bushel. The Washington Gazette will please make a note of this.

Good crowd in town from the country yesterday. Several came in on Thursday evening to attend the Democratic jubilee, but they were just a week too soon. Come again.

The Democrats in all the adjoining counties are warmly invited and earnestly urged to join us in the grand celebration on Thursday night. Special trains will be run from Goldsboro and Morehead City at greatly reduced rates.

Dr. C. J. Mattocks called to see us last night. He is looking well after a hard fall's work in his profession. He says the health of his section is improving. He wishes us to urge the claims of Governor Jarvis for a position in Cleveland's Cabinet.

What are the committees doing for the celebration? We know that Gen. Hancock, of the finance committee, is doing his work well, as he always does in whatever position assigned him, but the committee of arrangements, and the committee on invitations, what are they doing? The people want to know how the thing is to be managed and who has been invited to speak. It will not do to have any second-class affair after waiting so long. [Since the above was put in type the committee of arrangements have handed in their report, which we give elsewhere.]

Notice to Family Democrats.
Fowler's Ferry will take the horses of those who wish to attend the Democratic celebration at New Berne on Thursday night, the 27th, across the river and back for seventy-five cents.

The Century.
We are in receipt of the December number of the Century, which has a continuation of an interesting series of articles on the great battles of the wars of the Union written by officers of both Federal and Confederate armies. These articles were begun in the November number with the "Battle of Bull Run," by Gen. G. T. Beauregard, and the December number with the "Capture of Fort Donelson," by Gen. Lew Wallace.

Steamer Movements.
The Shenandoah carried out a full load of cotton yesterday evening.

The Goldsboro arrived yesterday morning with a cargo of freights, and left last night with a full cargo of cotton.

The Trent repaired her damages and arrived from Trenton yesterday evening with a full cargo of cotton.

The Kingston arrived from Polkville yesterday evening with a full cargo of cotton.

Our Rice Market.
We must take our esteemed neighbor, the Washington Gazette, to task about the claims of Washington as a rice market. It says in reference to the rice market in that town:

"We have taken the lead with our sister towns and State markets this season in price and find that it has added very materially to the receipts over last year. And elsewhere it says:

"Our market still takes the lead with an advancement to 90 to 92."

Now we have been quoting rice for the last eight or ten days at 80 to 85, and we never quote it for more than it brings, indeed, while we were quoting it at 80 to 90 there were actual sales at 93 and 94, but some of our buyers insisted that our quotations should remain as they were for the time being. Again since we have been quoting at 80 to 95, we have made local mention of lots bringing 97. Now the editor of the Gazette should not have published the above items without informing himself what his sister towns were paying, especially when he could have obtained this information in regard to New Berne by referring to the market reports in the columns of the Daily Journal.

We are aware of the fact that much rice is grown in the country tributary to both New Berne and Washington, and that farmers will, as they should, sell where they can get the best price. Information of the fact that the Washington leads her sister towns in price may prove of temporary advantage to the place, but what will the readers of the Gazette think when they find that when the editor published that news to their rice was bringing in New Berne five cents more in the bushel than it was in Washington?

The Gazette also misrepresents us in regard to the corn market. It says: "Our sister town of New Berne is the corn metropolis of Eastern Carolina. Why? Because it has splendid facilities for transportation and can afford to pay a better price through the entire season than we can. But for the last season we paid 75 and 80 cents per bushel, they only paying 65 and 70 cents."

Turning to our files we find corn quoted here during the season as high as 85, and a prominent dealer assures us that he paid as high as that, if not higher, by the cargo. Now why the Gazette should after acknowledging the advantages of New Berne, over its own town want to offset it by such a statement, we cannot understand. If the enterprising business men of our sister town can, by their pluck and energy, come even to the very doors of New Berne and pluck from her the trade that, geographically speaking, belongs to her by fair means, let them do it; it would be the fault of our own merchants. But for Heaven's sake let not the newspapers try to fool the farmers into carrying their produce to any particular market by misrepresenting another.

Further Particulars of the Goldsboro Fire.

The Messenger—in Ashes is the title of Bro. Bonitz's issue this week. It is a small sheet but heartily welcomed. It contains an account of the fire, and gives a full list of the losses, which we copy:

H. Weil & Bros' buildings barely escaped fire by most herculean efforts. At one time it seemed as though the building must succumb to the mad-dened flames. The damage to their building is estimated at $3,000. Much of their stock was stolen, and all that was saved more or less damaged, loss estimated at $87,500.

Mr. C. G. Perkins' loss by damage to stock is estimated at $5,000. R. A. Watta, $500; L. D. Gladden, $500; Hood, Britt & Co., $2,500; Farrior Bros., $50; H. Weil & Bros., $1; B. M. Privett & Co., 1.

The total destruction of property will not fall much short of $300,000. The loss is covered by not quite two thirds insurance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The comptroller of the currency to-day authorized the Palatka National bank, of Palatka, Florida, to begin business, with a capital of $50,000. The secretary of the treasury has authorized the Norfolk and Western railroad company to extend their line near Norfolk out to the light-house at Lambert's Point, provided the privilege does not in any way interfere with the light-house service.

Did Not So Instruct.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I noticed in this morning's issue of your paper, in "Core Creek Items," that I am classed with the "rag-tag carpet baggers, scallawag and ragnuffin" politicians who have advised the "darkies" that the success of the Democratic party meant enslavement of the Negro; and your itemizer alleges that an "old darkie" said that I so instructed him. This I emphatically deny, and I feel it my duty to state, in vindication of myself, that no such teaching has ever been heard from my lips at Core Creek or anywhere else; on the contrary, I have, in every instance where I have heard fears expressed by the colored people at the coming of a Democratic administration, endeavored to disabuse their minds of any material change in their condition, or any trouble over which they might be alarmed.

I am a Republican, and during the campaign endeavored to present my side of the question in a manly way, without any such gross mis-statements as those referred to, and I think that fair-minded Democrats who heard me will give me credit for differing with them gently.

As to what your itemizer means by "rag-tag" and "ragnuffin" I am not advised, but suppose it is something that sounds funny to him in his rural retreats. I certainly do not come within the meaning of "carpet-bagger" or "scallawag," for I am a North Carolinian to the marrow born and reared, having never been out of the State six months in my life, except while away attending school. Let the truth prevail and give to error and prejudice a back seat. Yours, etc., GEO. H. WHITE.

New Berne, N. C., Nov. 21, 1884.

Alas Moses, you being an old sly fox, you are good at story telling, too much so for me, but rest assured your tail is now in the trap, and if not cut off and bottled, when those other long tailed foxies are by the Democrats, in 1885, will be singed like old Harry, and perhaps (did you ever play perhaps) as you are a good natured old fellow, you may get off with the hair gone, and the skin left, but it will not look worse than a Chinese que and will be worth 25 cents.

If mine has been cut, it has been so long since, the wound has healed and the natural growth has resumed, and 'tis long and bushy. So keep up a cheerful heart.

Polkville Items.

The steamer Trent had a hole knocked through her bottom up the river. Since the election everybody wishes to know if Cleveland is surely elected. Oh, but the Reds can steal.

Fresh pork 8c. per pound; seed cotton 3 to 3 1/2; eggs 20c. per dozen; corn 60c. per bushel; rice 70 to 80c. per bushel.

Cotton is all picked out, and a very short crop has been realized. Oh what dull times! can be heard by all in one powerful shout.

Horse trading has been the avocation of a few of our merchants, but now it is bragging on their cows. Mr. H. says he has the best cow in all this country, but he will have to get a six and a half horse power engine to milk her. He will be president of the L. Club.

On last Monday night we had a grand time in commemoration of the great Democratic victory. About 500 people assembled at Polkville and were on the wharf when the steamer arrived from New Berne. But what a scared crowd when the canon was made to proclaim in thunder Jones Cleveland's election! Messrs. Simmons, Holland and Foy, of your city, addressed the crowd, also Street and Peltier. All are happy and not with red-eyes, but with good old honest Democracy, and went home, after a grand jollification and fireworks, hallowing and shouting for Cleveland and Soles. Poor York and Strayhorn are mourners. Peace to their ashes.

Malaria Poison.

Having spent much of my time for the past three years in and near Albany, Ga., I had gradually absorbed malaria into my system, and my general health was completely broken down; this poison culminated last November in a congestive chill, and I was confined to the bed and house for five months; was treated by the best physicians, by all the approved methods, with no benefit; my health was awfully broken down; my skin almost as yellow as a pumpkin; a thick heavy coat on my tongue; no appetite; and in a miserable fix generally. I was induced in April last to take Swift's Specific, and the first few doses convinced me that it was what I needed. I continued until I had taken several bottles, and am a well man; the poison has all been driven out of my system by Swift's Specific, and I have gained thirty pounds in weight.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN WILSON.

$25,500 Worth of Property Consumed in Two Hours.

This (Friday) morning at ten minutes to three o'clock the alarm of fire was sounded and our people rushed from their warm beds to the scene of conflagration. The fire originated at Mr. H. T. Coleman's bar and restaurant. Some think it originated from carelessness of lodgers in the second story. This is hardly probable, however. Several persons saw the beginning of the fire and they say it was without a doubt set on fire, because it began to burn in the rear of the building on the outside. At one time Branch & Hadley's and all the stores on Tarboro street were in imminent danger. By hard work, they were saved. Although three stables were burned every horse escaped and there was no suffering by man or beast.

The following is a hurriedly prepared report of the losses: H. T. Coleman, stock, $300, no insurance; W. J. Harris' stables, occupied by Bullock, $2,000, insured for $1,000; T. J. Gardner, store, $3,000; no insurance; Silas Lucas (Dick Allen's buggy house) $700—$500 insurance; house occupied by E. T. Hudson, $800; B. H. Tyson, stables and store, $2,500; insured $2,000; B. Baker & Son, stock $700, $400 insurance; the Commercial Hotel, $5,000, no insurance; warehouse occupied by Branch & Hadley, L. H. Fulcher, and Weaver & Clark, with contents $5,000, with about $2,000 insurance; S. E. Spier, furniture damaged, $500; B. F. Briggs, stables, etc., $400, no insurance; Bennett Nolley, furniture, etc., amount unknown.

These make a total loss of $23,500, with about $6,000 insurance. Heavy losses were sustained in moving by L. H. Fulcher, W. W. Edwards, Alex Green, B. J. Coob, R. L. Wyatt, Garry Fulghum, H. F. Murray and others. These losses will aggregate not less than $1,000.

For the 500th time we say, WILSON MUST HAVE A FIRE COMPANY.—Wilson Advance.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 20.—The private bank of Adams & Leonard closed its doors at noon to-day. It is believed the embarrassment is only temporary. The assets amount to nearly $500,000, invested in Texas bonds. The liabilities are not known. The stockholders were Samuel J. Adams and the estate of Jackson L. Leonard. The bank was largely patronized by the cotton and cattle men of North Texas and has enjoyed unlimited credit for fifteen years. The embarrassment results from the inability of the firm to realize on large loans to cattle men. The suspension created great surprise in the city.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The steamer Gaudaloupe, of the Mallory line, from New York, for Galveston, with 51 passengers, went ashore on Barnegat shoals, near Jersey, at 10 o'clock last night and remains fast. All are safe, and it is thought the steamer will then be got off.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Messrs. Barnum and Smalley, of the Democratic National committee, were together at an up-town hotel today. They were auditing the limited number of bills yet remaining and closing up other matters of business incident to the campaign just closed. The total amount of money received by the Democratic national committee was $333,000, and of this sum $52,000 was received through the popular campaign fund in amounts of less than $500. The national headquarters will be entirely vacated to-morrow.

Vice-President elect Hendricks received a few callers today and then left the Fifth Avenue hotel and busied himself with the preparation of his speech, to be delivered in Brooklyn tonight.

ALCOHOLISM IN CHILDREN.

Mr. Madden surprised the British Medical Association at their last meeting by showing how common among children was the habit of liquor drinking and how many cases of juvenile alcoholism he had been called upon to treat in his own practice. The cases are found chiefly among people who send small children to public saloons for liquor. On their way home they take draughts of the liquor, and thus are sown the seeds which may germinate into an irresistible desire for alcohol. The doctor has lately treated a case of well marked chronic alcoholism in a boy of 8 and one of delirium tremens in a child of the same age.

Sweet Gum and Mullein.

The sweet gum, as gathered from a tree of the same name, growing along the small streams in the Southern States, contains a stimulating expectorant principle that loosens the phlegm producing the early morning cough, and stimulates the child to throw off the false membrane in croup and whooping cough. When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHERRYBERRY REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN, the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it. Ask your druggist for it. Send two-cent stamp for Taylor's Riddle Book, which is not only for the amusement of the little ones who will gather around your knee to hear the puzzling questions, but containing information for the health and welfare of every home.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla works directly and promptly, to purify and enrich the blood, improve the appetite, strengthen the nerves, and brace up the system. It is in the truest sense an alterative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. Our Holy Religion teaches us to look to our Heavenly Father as the author and giver of all good. Our faith in this religion has led to the sacred custom of setting apart days of Thanksgiving and Prayer. In conformity to this custom, sanctioned by law, I, THOMAS J. JARVIS, Governor of North Carolina, do issue this my proclamation, setting apart and I do invoke all to observe the day as becomes a God-fearing, christian people. Let it be truly a day of thanksgiving and prayer. Let all places of secular business and labor be closed, and the places of public worship opened. Let all who can, attend these places of worship and join in songs of praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for the manifold mercies and blessings vouchsafed to us. From every fireside and family altar, from grateful hearts everywhere, let our prayers go to the Throne of Grace for a continuance of these mercies and blessings. The same Religion which teaches us to give thanks for what we receive, commands us to feed the poor, comfort the widow and protect the orphan. On this appointed day of Thanksgiving, let us remember with suitable gifts the wants of the poor and needy, the widow and the orphan. And I do make a special appeal to the generosity of our people, in behalf of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. This noble charity, as best it can, fills the place of mother and father to the orphan children of the State. Let our donations to this charity be equal to the needs of the children, and Heaven will bless them and us. Done at our City of Raleigh, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four and in the year of American Independence the one hundred and ninth.

Thursday, Nov. 27th Inst., As a Day of Thanksgiving and Prayer,

THOMAS J. JARVIS, By the Governor: WILLIAM C. BLACKMER, Private Secretary.
