The market dock was full of boats yesterday.

Eureka Lodge No. 7, I. O. O. F., meets to-morrow night.

New York futures went off several points yesterday, but the market here held up pretty well.

Mr. Calvin Perry, a prominent farmer residing two miles from the city, died yesterday evening.

We have a "thrilling" account of the accident to the steamer Trent on her last trip to Trenton, which will appear in our next.

Mr. J. C. Whitty pronounces the Fair at Goldsboro a decided success. He was awarded a premium for the best display of agricultural implements.

There are eighteen prisoners in Craven county jail, fifteen of whom are awaiting trial. Judge Gudger can do a good work for us here at this term of the court.

Two cases, one for disturbing the peace, another for shooting firearms in the city, were before Mayor Meadows yesterday. They were found guilty and fined each five dollars and cost.

Superior Court convenes to-morrow. There are one hundred and thirty-one cases on the criminal docket, one hundred and forty-seven on the civil issue and forty-two on the summons docket.

In our notice of Gen. Hancock's work as chairman of the finance committee on the celebration we should have stated that he is efficiently aided by Wm. Colligan, jr. Mr. Colligan pushes to success whatever he takes hold.

Large numbers of transparencies and mottoes are being made preparatory to the coming celebration. We were shown a large and handsome transparency yesterday that had just been completed by Mr. Geo. Ash. On one side is designed the national victory and on the other that of the State.

Our fellow-townsmen, Philemon Holland, jr., attended the great jubilee at Wilmington on Thursday night last, and he pronounces it a grand affair. Now will not Wilmington honor us with the presence of some of her representative men? Major Stedman gave us the go-by during the canvass, why can't he come to see us now?

Craven county brought off quite a number of premiums from the Goldsboro fair. We learn that the model farmer of Craven, Joel Kinsey, Esq., was awarded five on his drove of fine horses, and Harry Spruill, col., was awarded one on his fine saddle nag, and Chief Marshall Wood informs us that Freeman Ernul would have been granted a premium on "Buxton" but he was out of the grounds at the time he was wanted.

Murder in Goldsboro.
About nine o'clock yesterday morning a man by the name of William Pearsall shot and killed Thomas Crow at Goldsboro. Pearsall was arrested, had a preliminary hearing and was lodged in jail.

Personal.
Judge Gudger arrived last night. Anthony Davis, Esq., of Pink Hill, Lenoir county, is in the city. We are glad to see him looking so cheerful under his late defeat.

P. M. Pearsall, Esq., is in the city on his return from the Fair at Goldsboro.

Church Services To-Day.
Christ Church—V. W. Shields, Rector. Sunday next before Advent. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 4 p. m. The public are always invited to attend the services of this Church.

Baptist Church—Rev. C. A. Jenkins, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Banns free and the public cordially invited to attend.

M. E. Church—Services by the pastor Rev. Dr. Burkhead at the theatre at 11 a. m.

A Wrecking Brig at Sea.
The schooner Thos. J. May, Capt. Davis, which arrived at this port on yesterday, from Belfast, Maine, was caught in a hurricane off Bodys Island on the 18th inst. and blown two hundred miles off her course, sustaining trifling damages, however. On the 18th in latitude 35°, 15' and longitude 75°, 30' she sighted a foreign brig of about 100 tons register on fire and abandoned.

Capt. Davis remained by the burning brig for some time but saw no sign of her crew or boats. When reached she was so badly burned that neither her name or nationality could be ascertained.

THE GREAT JUBILEE. THANKSGIVING DAY.

The committee on arrangements for the coming Jubilee on Thanksgiving Day, consisting of Col. John D. Whitford, Mr. A. W. Wood, Gen. R. D. Hancock, Mr. Matt. Manly, Capt. H. B. Lane, Mr. Wm. G. Brinson, Mr. Jas. A. Bryan and Mr. Henry R. Bryan, met night before last and decided upon the general character of the demonstration to be made.

It was decided to have a grand procession something like the Mardi Gras exhibition in New Orleans or the Oriole in Baltimore. A number of flat cars, drawn by locomotives, will be in the procession. The cars will be decorated and have on them representations, political and historical. One car or float, as they are called, will contain the States of the Union, a second the State of North Carolina, a third the City of New Berne, another a Christmas scene and so on.

The procession, consisting of bands of music, horsemen, locomotives, floats, torchlights, transparencies, burlesques, etc., will go down Hancock street to South Front, thence to Craven and back through Craven street to the depot. A temporary track will be laid.

The procession, barring the locomotives and cars, will go through the town on a route not yet defined.

The display of fireworks will be the most extensive seen in New Berne for many years. Every house on the line of march will be illuminated. Lights of various colors will be thrown upon the tableaux by the use of chemicals.

From present indications there will be the largest parade of horsemen ever seen in Craven county.

Thanksgiving Day 1884 will be a grand holiday in New Berne and no doubt one long remembered.

"Let the kettle to the trumpet speak,
The trumpet to the cannoners without,
The cannon to heaven—the heaven to earth."

The Right shall rule again.

A Magnificent Piece of Handiwork.

There is an exhibition at the jewelry store of B. A. Bell, Esq., one of the most beautifully executed pieces of patchwork that we have ever seen. It is what, we believe, is called a crazy quilt, but really we could discover nothing crazy about it, or at least there is such a method in the madness that we could but conclude the name a misnomer. The quilt is of silk and velvet, handsomely wrought into over one hundred and seventy designs, such as calla lilies, rosebuds, pansies, sheafs of wheat, human figures, crosses, crescents, and as the vender notices generally say, "many other things too tedious to mention."

There are over three hundred pieces in the quilt, the whole surrounded with an elaborate border of elegant silk plush and antique lace. The time and labor expended on it must have been immense and the patience exercised in its preparation was only excelled by the skill and taste displayed in the evidently tedious and difficult task. This truly exquisite piece of handiwork was wrought out by Mrs. Wm. A. Hearne and reflects the highest credit upon her energy and determination in bringing it to a perfect and complete whole. It was begun as a pastime but as it grew on her hands it became one of almost intense labor and for a lady of but feeble health it was certainly a marvellous undertaking.

This elegant and desirable piece of work is now on exhibition as indicated above and will be raffled off at two dollars a chance. Some one will be fortunate enough to acquire it at a trifling expense and those who take a chance without success will be no great losers as the amount is small. There are one hundred chances only, and those who wish to take one or more should make the same known to Mr. Bell at an early day.

The opportunity to obtain such a souvenir occurs but once in a life time, and every body should want to embrace this one.

As a work of art it is worthy of a place in any museum, and would bear favorable comparison with anything we have ever seen from China or Japan whence it is generally conceded the most remarkable specimens of workmanship come.

Schooner Arrivals.

The Elia Hill, Capt. Hill, from Charleston with a cargo of phosphates for E. H. Meadows.
The Thos. J. May, Capt. Davis, from Belfast, Maine, with a cargo of ice for Watson & Daniels.
The Phoenix, Capt. Cooper, from Havre de Grace, Md.
The Adelle Henry, Capt. Hill, from Baltimore.

Men-to-Dor.

People try it, and you will never do without it.

Wants to Return a Bible.

The following letter has been received by the P. M. in this city:

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 20, 1884.
P. M., New Berne, N. C.:
Dear Sir:—One of the comrades of Post was in New Berne during the war and came into possession of an old family Bible. The Bible is of no value except to the family who owned it or their relatives.

In the family record appears the name of James M. Davis and a number of births and deaths, etc.

If you can find the family to whom it belonged, or any of their relatives, let them know, and I will forward the book by express at their expense.

I am, P. M. of this city, and also commander of the G. A. R. Post.

President Cleveland.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Will you give me space in your valuable paper to say a word to my race in relation to the election of President Cleveland? For the first time since the war, the Democratic party has succeeded in electing a President of these United States, and knowing that very many of my own race, and perhaps others, feel uneasy and anticipate quite a radical change in the affairs of the government. Just here I would say: that I believe to the contrary, and would advise all to dismiss such doubts and apprehensions at once. For, although Mr. Cleveland is a Democrat, and was elected by the Democratic party, yet I believe that he will be the President of the whole people, regardless of race or color. In the election of Mr. Cleveland, I think I see the beginning of a new era for the South, as well as for the whole country, for the President-elect will, doubtless invite two or more Southern statesmen to seats in his Cabinet, the consummation of which will, I believe, be the ending of the sectional war between the North and South, and hereafter we will hear no more about the solid North or South. In regard to political parties, our race must learn, if they have not already, that the people rule and govern this great country, and that one political party, has as much right as the other to administer its laws and hold the offices. While Mr. Cleveland was not my choice for President, yet I believe that he will give us an honest and conservative administration and respect the rights of all. We have been living under Democratic rule in this State for the past ten years and I must say, that we got along quite well and have no cause to complain, especially under the administration of Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, who has made a name for himself and State to be remembered by all the citizens of this commonwealth when he shall have been called from "labor to reward."

The election is over, and the result is known. It is no use to hope against hope, for the baby is born, and the child is named; therefore let us go to work like good citizens and trust in God, for—

"Blind unbelief is sure to err,
And scan his work in vain;
God is His own interpreter,
And He will make it plain."

Respectfully,
E. E. DUDLEY,
New Berne, N. C., Nov. 22d, 1884.

La Grange Items.

Mrs. Margaret Croom's residence, on Washington street, is nearly completed. A large delegation from this place and vicinity visited the Fair Thursday.

The Primitive Baptist Church building in this place is being pushed to completion.

Mr. William Fields, son of our countryman, John Fields, sr., is very sick at Mayor McIntyre's.

Cotton arriving in good quantity and sold Friday at 9c. for the best. Sales of 233 bales for the week. Corresponding week last year 123 bales.

W. S. Fields, of our town, was married to Miss Sarah Warters, of Woodington township, this county, last Tuesday. They arrived here Tuesday evening.

Capt. Davis and his cadets visited the Fair at Goldsboro Thursday. We are glad to hear that a flag was awarded to the company. Capt. Davis is a live teacher and his school is one of the liveliest institutions of Eastern Carolina.

If people troubled with colds would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or places of entertainment, they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of both speakers and hearers. Public speakers and singers find that the Pectoral wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice.

Jones County Items.

The steamer Trent, on her up trip to Trenton, struck a snag and burst a hole in her bottom just under the machinery, and sunk below Barber's Landing near Trenton.

Our enthusiastic Democratic boys have carried out and painted a rooster, which they are preparing to hoist to the top of our Cleveland and Scales' pole at Trenton.

We expect to be to your celebration of the 27th in force. I understand a large crowd is preparing to go, and as I am chock full of rejoicing I will go too and take a peep at your city's jubilee.

I have been informed that the farmers of Cypress Creek have nearly finished cotton picking, and are now busy gathering corn. Potatoes, Mr. L. A. Haywood informs me, are very fine with a larger amount of acreage this season than usual, while the peanut crop is somewhat a failure. In the Chiquapin section the farmers say their cotton crop is not near as good as last season, but corn and potatoes are a success. The hog cholera has swept through this section and has nearly decimated the whole stock. The Chiquapin and Cypress Creek farmers say they intend to plant a considerable amount of small grain if it rains in time to plough their land, which is so dry and hard that they can't get their plows in the ground.

In my last items I was misinformed as to the arrest of Jas. and Frank Westbrook. They were not arrested by order of the mayor, but by a peace warrant issued by E. R. Page, Esq., from an affidavit sworn to by Benj. Irving. Frank was required to give bond for his good behavior, which he did, and left for his home, while James became very obstreperous and swore he intended to give Irving a canning with a large club, which he displayed in a conspicuous manner. A warrant was issued by the same magistrate for his arrest, and failing to give bond he was sent to jail. On the next day he gave the required bond and departed for his home. No doubt both of these young men now regret their apes, and no doubt would not have acted as they did if they had been sober.

Our good time is just ahead. In a week or two hog killing will be in order, and as the farmers of Trenton township have a goodly number of fat hogs, sausages, spare ribs and pudding will be plenty, and don't you forget it. With a plenty of all these things what are we to do but keep Thanksgiving Day and hurrah for Cleveland, Scales and Pearsall. Our better halves are rejoicing too; eggs have slipped up to 20 cents a dozen with a prospect of going a little better than that. Who is it that would regret to be a farmer, with a plenty of the good things of the farm to eat and to spare, with the blazing old log fire of the country; and when the night time arrives have some good newspapers to read such as the JOURNAL, Messenger and Observer, and listen occasionally to the coon hunters who are out in full force; dogs yelping, some treeing the coons, while others are after the opossums. These are some of the enjoyments and the pleasures of a country life and we all enjoy them. Christmas too will soon be upon us, that good time which makes the country farmer's cup run over with joy. This is the time of roasted turkey, apple, tater and pumpkin pie; a day that everybody is welcome to call in and help us to eat and make merry; old folks gather together and tell how times have changed since they were boys—that egg-nogs are not half as good as they used to be nor near as plentiful. 'Such is life. In a little while we will take their places and be talking about our old times.

Malarial Poison.

Having spent much of my time for the past three years in and near Albany, Ga., I had gradually absorbed malaria into my system, and my general health was completely broken down; this poison culminated last November in a congestive chill, and I was confined to the bed and house for five months; was treated by the best physicians, by all the approved methods, with no benefit; my health was awfully broken down; my skin almost as yellow as a pumpkin; a thick heavy coat on my tongue; no appetite; and in a miserable fix generally. I was induced in April last to take Swift's Specific, and the first few doses convinced me that it was what I needed. I continued until I had taken several bottles, and am a well man, the poison has all been driven out of my system by Swift's Specific, and I have gained thirty pounds in weight.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Our Holy Religion teaches us to look to our Heavenly Father as the author and giver of all good. Our faith in this religion has led to the sacred custom of setting apart days of Thanksgiving and Prayer. In conformity to this custom, sanctioned by law, I, THOMAS J. JARVIS, Governor of North Carolina, do issue this my proclamation, setting apart

Thursday, Nov. 27th Inst.,

As a Day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, and I do invoke all to observe the day as becomes a God-fearing, christian people. Let it be truly a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer. Let all places of secular business and labor be closed, and the places of public worship opened. Let all who can, attend these places of worship and join in songs of praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for the manifold mercies and blessings vouchsafed to us. From every fireside and family altar, from grateful hearts everywhere, let our Prayers go to the Throne of Grace for a continuance of these mercies and blessings. The same Religion which teaches us to give thanks for what we receive, commands us to feed the poor, comfort the widow, and protect the orphan. On this appointed day of Thanksgiving, let us remember with suitable gifts the wants of the poor and needy, the widow and the orphan. And I do make a special appeal to the generosity of our people, in behalf of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. This noble charity, as best it can, fills the place of mother and father to the orphan children of the State. Let our donations to this charity be equal to the needs of the children, and Heaven will bless them and us. Done at our City of Raleigh, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four and in the year of American Independence the one hundred and ninth.

THOMAS J. JARVIS.

By the Governor:
WILLIAM C. BLACKMER,
Private Secretary.
