The steamer Stout arrived Saturday night with a full cargo of freights and left last night loaded with cotton.

The steamer Goldboro arrived Sunday morning with a large freight and left yesterday evening with a full cargo of cotton.

The cornices for the new court house are being put up, and are quite handsome. The slating is also being carried to the ground and the prospects are that the roof will soon be completed.

Cotton is up and down. New York futures opened yesterday morning at a sharp advance; at noon it was off, and closed in the evening for December five points lower than Saturday evening.

The November number of The North Carolina Teacher contains a portrait of Maj. S. M. Finger, the new superintendent of public schools. The Teacher is a valuable publication and should be taken by every teacher.

Edward A. Oldham, editor of the Western Sentinel was married on Wednesday morning last to Miss Maggie G. Andrews, an accomplished and attractive young lady of Norfolk. We extend congratulations and best wishes. There are several other handsome young editors in this State that ought to follow Bro. Oldham's example.

Dissolution.
As will be seen in a card published in this issue the law firm of Holland & Guion has dissolved by mutual consent. These gentlemen will continue the practice of their profession individually with the same diligence and perseverance that they did as a firm, and we bespeak for each a liberal share of patronage, knowing that business entrusted to their care will receive prompt attention.

Off for the Penitentiary.
Deputy Sheriff J. L. Hahn and R. B. Blackledge left yesterday morning for the penitentiary with the following prisoners, convicted at the late term of the Superior Court:

John Corbin, col., arson, seven years; Leonard Brimage, col., larceny, six years; Charles Strickland, col., larceny, two years; Charley Williams, col., larceny, one year; Ella Selby, col., larceny, two years; Richard Tucker, col., larceny, one year. Six in all.

Seven remain in jail serving out sentences, and one, Aaron Bell, col., is held for the next term of the Superior Court.

Personal.
W. C. Fields, Esq., of Kinston, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. R. N. Duffy has returned from a visit to New York.

Clement Manly, Esq., is gone to Baltimore.

Philemon Holland, jr., left for Jacksonville yesterday on professional business.

H. R. Bryan, Esq., a member of the Penitentiary Board of Directors, visited the convict force on the Quaker Bridge road yesterday. He reports the work progressing all right and will be completed in two weeks.

Col. Thos. Powers is located for the present at New Orleans.

L. F. Koonce, Esq., of Jones, is in the city.

Wm. Hunter, Esq., of Kinston, a commercial tourist, dropped in to see us last night and gravely proposed to sell us a coffin.

Notice to Mariners.
Notice is hereby given that, on or about December 5, 1884, a lighted gas buoy will be moored in the gap of the jetty, Charleston harbor, South Carolina.

The approximate position, as taken from the charts of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, is as follows:
Latitude, 32° 48' 50" North.
Longitude, 79° 51' 05" West.
Magnetic bearings and distances of prominent objects are as follows:
Bear Beacon, Sullivan's Island Range, N. 4 W., 15 nautical miles.
For marker light-house, N. W. 1/4 N., 15 nautical miles.
Charleston (Main) light-house, S. W. 1/4 S., 15 nautical miles.
By order of the Light-house Board:
FRANCIS C. BROWN,
Superintendent.

Tone up the system by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health and relief from suffering by the use of this great blood purifier. It is the only medicine that cures all other troubles.

A Ride in the Country.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—In company with Dr. H. D. Harper, of Kinston, we took a pleasant ride in the country, Sunday the 7th inst., to Stony Branch Church, where the Doctor preached a very interesting and instructive sermon to a rather small gathering of people from the surrounding neighborhood. The day was bright and beautiful, just warm enough to be pleasant, and you may be assured that it could not be otherwise than enjoyed should it be known that it was my first time outside the busy whirl and stir of the city for four months, and of any distance scarcely save upon the railroad, for about twelve. From the time we left New Berne till we reached our destination it was very noticeable to see and compare signs of the past and preparations made by the farmers toward pitching their next crops. First we pass a farm that gives evidence of a live tenant. The cotton stalks are large and show that they have yielded bountifully, and everything else evinces that of a like nature. But probably the next field we come to the thing has been entirely reversed; instead of the marks of progress it is that of negligence, inattention, and we might even say of indolence. It is so and will show for itself. The fences are rickety and down in many places. The fence-locks and ditch-banks have grown up, extending out and occupying much space that should properly be under cultivation. A few miles further on and the contrast is more striking than ever. Two large fields, one on one side the road and one on the other, only the road, about thirty feet in width, separating them, yet what a vast difference. The soil naturally appears about the same, but labor has wrought this wonderful change. In this field the cotton stalks are well branched and full of burrs, showing that the fruitage must have been heavy. The hedge rows have been cleared off, piled and burned. The rows run out to the fence and close side the ditches, leaving no waste land at all. Now a glance at the other side. The stalks are small and puny, and the production could not have been much. The fence rows and ditch banks are grown up with briars and bushes that cast their shade upon the crop and draw strength from the ground. What has brought about this difference? Simply labor. The one has been highly manured and well cultivated, while the other has been neglected; hence the result.

We have reached the cosy little church, situated upon the roadside in a stretch of oak woods, where the Doctor delivers a sermon of about an hour to his congregation. After church we accepted invitation of Mr. R. J. Brock to take dinner, where we are hospitably entertained by him and his estimable lady. After which, in company with Mr. B. and his wife, we drive over to the plantation of Mr. Ezekiah Davis, upon which stands the dwelling in which your reporter first saw the light of day. From this point we next pass the place of Mr. Cicero Green, whose large yard is famous for its natural and picturesque scenery. I think this place could be made one of the prettiest in Eastern Carolina. It is growing late and we proceed to ward New Berne, feeling considerably refreshed by our drive in the country.

The New Steam Engine.
We mentioned briefly in our last that the old established Howard Relief Fire Company had ordered a new steam engine, and as one or more errors occurred in the paragraph, in consequence of our limited information, we now speak more fully of the new enterprise. The engine ordered will be of the style known as the Button Engine, manufactured at Waterford, New York, and is furnished with a double-pump and crane neck frame. The manufacturers guarantee a capacity of more than five hundred gallons per minute, and to throw a stream in 230, and a distance of two hundred and sixty feet, through a distance of three hundred feet more frequently accomplished. She will be all nickel plated and supplied with the latest improvements known to the present advanced requirements of steam fire engines. The brakes and gong will be controlled by the driver. The weight of the engine, without supplies, will be 3,000 (five thousand) pounds, and the cost will be $4,000. She will be christened "A. Adrian," the same as her predecessor, in honor of the foreman and steadfast friend of the company, Mr. A. Adrian, of the firm of Adrian & Volk, and it is understood that she will be delivered here before the 20th of February, which will be the anniversary of the company.—Wilmington Star.

Dr. Tyre York.
Dr. York arrived here last Saturday evening about sunset, on his way to Washington. He complained of being still sick, his complexion was of a yellow hue, and he appeared quite debilitated. He came here from Trap Hill in a covered wagon, with the curtains drawn down on the sides and ends. He made the most of the trip stretched out in the bottom of this wagon. Dr. York stopped at the Commercial House, and directly after supper retired to his room and went to bed. He left on the midnight train going east. His wife accompanied him to Washington.—Statesville Landmark.

Forty years' experience, in every climate on earth, has proved Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to be the most reliable remedy for coughs, colds, and all lung diseases. Neglected colds often become incurable ailments. Deal with them in time, and prevent their becoming deep-seated in the system.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Smithfield Herald: On yesterday (Wednesday) morning, at the gin of Mr. J. W. Avera, three miles west of town, Ransom Smith, col., while running the cotton gin, had his right leg badly cut; the knee cap was cut in three places, and three gashes from his knee down. Drs. Sasser and Rose were called in to dress the Smith's wounds.

Statesville Landmark: A cotton gin nipped off one of the thumbs of Mr. W. L. Gilbert, of Chambersburg township, last Friday.—Mr. F. K. Bost, of Chambersburg township, upon going to his hog pen a few mornings ago, found two of his hogs dead. He supposed they had died of cholera, but his father, Mr. Paul Bost, cut them open and found their livers congested and other symptoms indicating what he supposed to be a form of pneumonia. Do hogs have pleuro-pneumonia?

Winston Western Sentinel: For-syth jail is empty. Superior Court changed the lath house for sixteen or more lodgers.—Fish traps along the Yadkin are gathering in large quantities of the finy tribe. Mr. John Griffith, near Lewisville, caught 35 bushels in one trap one night last week and Col. Jos. Williams steps to the front and reports a multitude of cat fish, eels, mullets, and suckers captured at intervals within the past few weeks.—We learn that the Lash's Woolen Mills, situated at Bethania, some nine miles north of Winston, will resume operations in a few weeks. The establishment is equipped with good machinery and has every facility for turning out first class work.—The City Fathers are looking up the poor children of the community who are unable to equip themselves with clothing, shoes, etc., and for this reason hesitate from attending the Graded School. This is an excellent work, and one for which many a bright-eyed boy or girl will thank them from the bottom of their hearts.

Clayton Bud: Last Thursday night, November 27th, about 12 o'clock, Mr. George S. Cabel, who has a furniture establishment over the store of Messrs. Barnes & Hinton, and who sleeps up stairs, heard something at the front door. He immediately got up to see what was the cause of the noise. He discovered there was some one in the store carrying off goods. Mr. Cabel not having a revolver, or any kind of firearm convenient, stepped out in the back yard and procured an axe, and went round to the front door and met the burglar and struck him. The blow not being sufficient to bring him down, caused him to take leg bail, Mr. Cabel pursuing the thief. The chase was a short one, when the burglar turned back on Mr. Cabel and attacked him with a razor, or some sharp instrument, and cut Mr. Cabel in several places about his person, while they were wrestling. The thief being satisfied that he had finished his antagonist, broke loose and fled. Mr. Cabel was left alone, and was bleeding so profusely, gave an alarm, and went back to the store. Some parties soon came to his assistance, and a physician sent for and dressed the wounds. The testimony given by Mr. Cabel caused the arrest of Dick Stills, and upon examination there was no evidence sufficient to convict him, and he was discharged. A few days elapsed, and no clue could be obtained to who the burglar was, still suspicion rested on Mr. Dick. He was re-arrested and examined the second time, and the third time. Sufficient evidence was obtained to hold Dick Stills, and he has been committed to jail in Smithfield. He, of course, says he is not the man, but it is thought best to hold him. Other parties, unknown, are implicated, and will be detected.

Cotton Futures.
In the United States Circuit court, before Judge Seymour, there is pending an interesting case, involving the legality of cotton futures. It is the case of Aubrey Bennett & Co., of New York, vs. E. P. Covington, of Wilmington, N. C. It is instituted for the recovery of $5,200, that sum being the amount of Mr. Covington's losses in transactions in cotton futures through the New York firm above named. Covington's defence is that the transaction was gambling. The case is an interesting one. A large amount of evidence has been given, showing the manner of dealing in cotton futures in the New York cotton exchange, and a mass of depositions from such well known men as Mr. Moore, president of the New York cotton exchange, and Messrs. Deagan, McDougall, Fatman & Co., of that exchange; also of the late Col. Murchison. The following counsel appear in the case: John D. Shaw and Fuller & Snow for Covington; John W. Hinesdale and John Devaux, jr., for Mr. Bennett.—New and Observer.

The Latest News.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Times says: "The prospect that America will put a stop to the coinage of silver by repealing the Bland bill has unsettled business in India, and caused Calcutta exchange to decline 1s. 6d."

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—The directors of the American Bell Telephone Company have voted to petition the legislature for authority to increase their capital from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. Street gossip is that in the event of authority being granted new stock will be issued at the rate of $1,000,000 per annum, at par. The company expects to have wires between Boston and New York opened to lease by July, 1885.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The Associated Press has received the following from B. W. Maples, editor of the Norwalk, Connecticut, Hour, which gives the strikers' side of the trouble there, dated Norwalk, Connecticut, Dec. 6: "The sensational articles in the morning papers about the riot and riotous proceedings in South Norwalk are entirely unfounded. The haters are quiet though determined. They say they cannot earn a living at the wages offered by the bosses, and are therefore on strike. Personally and by my reporters I have constantly since the strike commenced investigated every prejudicial report, and have not yet learned of one case of intimidation or violence. The haters coming from other towns are met and expostulated with, and usually return whence they came, sometimes with money furnished them by the haters' committee, but they have not been intimidated or threatened. The matters which I am now having investigated may break this honorable record, though as it now appears the mischief was not done by the haters."

The collections of internal revenue for the first four months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885, were $38,375,678, the collections during the same period of the previous year were $40,999,472. The decrease was $2,623,794. There was an increase of $90,373 in the collections from fermented liquors, and a decrease of $2,581,859 on spirits, $274,912 on tobacco, and $157,399 on miscellaneous items. The aggregate receipts for October last were $1,596,675 less than for the same month of 1884.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The shipbuilders on the Tyne, Wear and Mersey rivers have decided to ask their workmen to submit to a reduction in their wages to the amount of 7 1/2 per cent on the rates now received. This action is accepted as an indication of depression in the shipping trade. This is borne out by the state of affairs at Liverpool. The docks which have been set apart by the harbor board for the use of vessels lying up are already full and the board are unable to meet the demands made upon them to accommodate unemployed vessels without using other docks.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In the case of the application of the Alabama & Chattanooga Railroad company, claiming under grant of June 3d, 1856, certain odd numbered sections of lands in Alabama lying opposite and within the six and fifteen mile limits of that company in Dade county, Ga., the secretary of the interior has rejected the claim of the company, holding that it is inadmissible under the terms of the grant and that the amount of granted lands must be determined by the length of the road in the State of Alabama.

The Southern Telegraph Company.
NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 5.—A bill was filed in the United States district court to-day by Gen. Wm. Mahone, for himself and other bondholders and stockholders of the Southern Telegraph Co., charging fraud, waste, mismanagement and insolvency, and praying an injunction and receiver and winding up of the affairs of the company. The litigation involves bonds amounting to two million five hundred thousand dollars. A temporary restraining order was granted.—Baltimore Sun.

A Well Known Attorney.
BRUNSWICK, GA., June 26, 1884.—Editors Constitution: I desire to make public, through your columns, my experience with a remedy which is made in your city. In the early part of February last, after a three week's visit north in inclement weather, I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism of severe type, my first serious illness (with the exception of yellow fever in 1876) in fourteen years. When taken I was in robust health, weighing 165 pounds, but somewhat worn and weary with overwork. I was treated first with acids, then with alkaline remedies, each furnishing temporary partial relief from pain, which returned with increased severity at the slightest change in the weather, and each new attack was preceded by a chill and followed by a hot fever. In three weeks my weight was reduced to 130 pounds. I had no appetite nor strength, and was growing weaker every day. I continued changing medicines, and was finally advised by physicians, after seven weeks of continued treatment, that my only hope of speedy recovery was to visit the White Sulphur Springs in Florida, a trip which business and other considerations did not permit. In the Savannah News I saw an article from Major Sidney Herbert, stating that he had been relieved of rheumatism by Swift's Specific, and I at once commenced to take it. In three days I began to improve, and in three weeks I was free from disease and attending to business. My appetite returned and I rapidly regained the lost flesh. I have written this long to be sure that my relief was permanent. Should any of your readers be suffering from like mental and physical prostration, and be induced by my experience to find relief, I should be glad. Yours respectfully, C. P. GOODYEAR, Attorney at Law.
