H. J. Lovick is building an awning in front of his store.

Regular meeting of St. John's Lodge, No. 3, A. F. & A. M., to-night.

The Shenandoah took out a full cargo of cotton and rice yesterday evening.

Our truck farmers are preparing their compost. Pretty weather for the business.

Mr. E. H. Meadows offers fertilizers and garden peas for sale. Truck farmers should go to see him.

J. W. Moore announces flour, cakes and crackers at wholesale, articles that the country can hardly get along without. Dealers will probably find it to their interest to consult him.

Tickets are out for a German Cotillon at Lowthrop Hall to-night under the auspices of the Clarendon German Club, complimentary to Miss Dowd, of Tarboro, and Miss Holt, of Haw river.

Mr. J. K. Willis, our marble man, was making shipments to Robinsonville and Trenton yesterday. Says he knows advertising pays; and his head is level, but while he claims that his "ad" in the JOURNAL benefits him, we must at the same time acknowledge that the superiority of his work is also a good advertisement—one that cannot mislead.

Arrived.
Among the personals in the Times-Democrat, New Orleans, of the 3d inst. we find the following:
"Mr. T. P. Clarke, the celebrated taxidermist of the North Carolina State exhibit, has arrived in New Orleans and will superintend the feature of the exhibit of his State."

Knows How.
Allie Baker knows how to buy a stock of goods to suit the times and the people; knows how to keep the stock replenished, using the telegraph wires when necessary; knows how to wait on customers and send them away satisfied; and knows how to tell the people what he has for sale. See his mammoth "ad." in this issue. He has employed seven polite and attentive clerks, and they are always busy.

Personal.
Mrs. Mary Bayard Clarke left yesterday morning for a visit to her relatives in her native city, Raleigh. We sincerely hope that she will enjoy her visit and return restored to health and vigor.

When her graceful pen is idle the literature of our State languishes, as her productions are eagerly read by all.

Marshal Parks, Esq., of Norfolk, is in our city in the interests of the New Berne and Beaufort Canal. We learn that he is not peculiarly pleased at the progress made by the government employees.

Began Work.
The canning establishment of Moore & Brady began operations yesterday morning. Crowds of women, children and men flocked around to get a job and the supply of oysters on hand were soon "shucked." Mr. Coakley, the Superintendent, has made additional improvements for handling, and if the oystermen will only keep him supplied with stock, thousands of dollars will be turned loose in the community during this winter, going through the hands of those who need it to purchase the necessities of life, and in this way the canning factory will prove a God send to them.

In this connection we may properly mention the great advantage of Harlowe Creek Canal if it should ever be completed. When this is opened the New river oyster will find access through it to our market and then the packing house here can be enlarged so as to give employment to a still larger number of hands.

"Home Sights in Europe."
The above is the title of a lecture to be delivered to-night by Rev. L. C. Vass at Ebenezer Presbyterian Church, colored, and will doubtless be well worth hearing. Those who read Mr. Vass's letters while on his European trip can probably form some idea of the nature of this lecture. But having conversed with him about incidents of his trip, we confess that, while his letters were very interesting, still, we enjoy hearing him tell it better. And the lecture to-night will probably be in a different line of thought than those which filled his much appreciated letters. The object of the lecture is to aid in building a stepple to Ebenezer church, and ten cents admission will be charged. The lecture will begin at 7 o'clock.

Barn Burned.
The barn of Mr. Wiley A. Ewell, near Vanceboro, was burned one day last week, including his entire crop of corn. The loss is estimated at five hundred dollars. The fire was accidental.

Wants a New County.

Mr. Matthew Harvey, from near Vanceboro, in this county, and formerly of Kinston, called to see us on Tuesday and wishes us to do or say something for his section. When asked how we could serve him he replied that there was a creek in his section which could be made navigable if canaled out, and he thought the State ought to have it done with convicts. In regard to this we can only say that we have found it a hard task to get the State to cut a public road, with convict force, through a large body of lands belonging to the State, and if there are no public lands to be drained by the canal that he proposes, then we know it will be almost out of the question to get State aid.

The next thing he wants us to aid him in is the establishing of a new county of portions of Craven, Pitt and Beaufort with headquarters at Vanceboro. He can put in a good plea for this, because that section embraces a large territory where the people are put to great inconvenience to reach the county seat in order to attend court, and transact other business that calls them. If he will ascertain the wishes of the people concerned in this territory we will take pleasure in giving publicity to their views.

A Bonne Bouche.
Of all languages the French abounds in neat phrases or euphemisms. The title of this paragraph is an example. It, literally, means a good mouth, but, by synecdoche, something good to put in the mouth.

I was forcibly reminded of this, a few evenings since, when I was eating an oyster supper at Mrs. Kimball's restaurant at the foot of Craven street. They were served in a style peculiar to her. Encased in a delicate paste, (not batter) they looked like brown pullet eggs, and suited my taste beyond anything I had eaten for a long time. It occurred to me that Mrs. B. would like some, so I proposed to the attendant to have some prepared in the same style, and put up in paper, that I might carry them home. He said it was frequently done; and in a short time, brought me a paper box, like those used for putting up confectioneries, with crackers, etc. I carried them to the good woman at home, and it did my heart good to see how she enjoyed them.

Now it occurs forcibly to me, that, if I was a young fellow addressing a young lady, I could carry her no more acceptable a present than one of Mrs. Kimball's bonnes bouche boxes. Moreover, as others flying around the fair one, with no serious intentions, might play with bon-bons and candy, he might signify that he meant business by a present so tasty and substantial.

For a lunch on the railroad nothing could be nicer.
I hope Mrs. K., who is a culinary artiste, will be suitably encouraged, and that it will become the ton to present the dulcinea with a box of her bonnes bouche.
H. BOSSER.

Kinston Items.

Not many Christmas goods have arrived yet.

Prof. W. R. Skinner, of Bayboro, was in town on Monday.

Several Kinstonians want to go to Durham, to engage in business.

Our enterprising merchant, Mr. C. W. Burt, proposes moving southward in January.

The welcome sound of a steamer's whistle was once again heard at our wharf on Monday.

Mrs. Dr. Hicks, of Durham, is spending the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. W. N. Hunter.

Mr. Edmunds, of Virginia, has rented the new house of Mr. Temple, near the railroad depot and will at least spend the winter here.

The next regular meeting of the Lenoir County Teachers' Association will be held in the La Grange Collegiate Institute building on Saturday December 13th, inst.

An entertainment for the benefit of the Disciples Church here will be given at the opera house on January 1st, 1885, under the auspices of the younger members of the church. A pleasant evening is promised those who attend.

A Corn-Fed Statesman.

One of the eccentricities of old Senator Tabor, of Colorado, is his passion for parched corn. Whenever he comes to Chicago he is a constant patron of the dago stands on Clark street, where this coarse and cheap but wholesome food is for sale. He buys a ten cent sack of this parched corn and ambles about town munching the stuff and letting particles of the cheap food drop on his shirt front and cling to his fierce-looking mustache; and as the old statesman crunches the corn you can hear the crunching half a block away as distinctly as if he were a horse chewing oats or a steam-crusher at work on silver quartz. Caesar loved grapes, Demosthenes chewed pebbles, Napoleon had a passion for figs and Grant is equally fond of tobacco, but Tabor—the Colorado prodigy, who may be said to combine all the best traits of these four great men—Tabor, we say, is never so happy as when he masticates the succulent parched corn which others but does not imbibe.

La Grange Items.

David Jackson, of Kinston, was here Monday.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Henry Bizzell is improving.

We notice "Johannie" Harvey, commercial traveller, in town Monday.

Rev. Mr. Isler preached here Sunday and Sunday night, his regular appointments.

Miss Lou Daniels is still unable to take charge of her music class at the L. C. I.

The Primitive Baptists had services at the L. C. I. building Sunday; their regular appointment.

Last Saturday was a rainy day. A large crowd was in town, and the "spirits" flowed freely.

William Fields, who has been very sick for two or three weeks at Mayor McIntyre's, is improving.

The bird hunters are having rare sport. They hunt and shoot abundantly—but how about the killing?

Dr. J. W. Jones, of Goldsboro, was in town Monday attending Mrs. Henry Fields, who is quite sick in our town.

Cotton has boomed and is booming. 10¢ could be had here Monday, and many who have been holding for 10 cents don't sell. There is but little cotton for sale, the bulk having been sold.

Our town is composed of as industrious and obliging people as any we know of. A justice's or mayor's court will bring many together, and many of them very kindly aid in the burdensome discharge of the duties.

It strikes us that a much needed improvement could be made in the lights at the M. E. Church, at a small expense. Last Sunday night the text "Give us of your oil, for our lamps are gone out," would have been suited to the surroundings.

There is much complaint among neighbors over stock running at large. A reasonable way to prevent ill feeling is for neighbors to have an agreement not to impound the stock, but shut up, if troublesome, and inform the owner. Much trouble and expense could be avoided in this way, and no one materially damaged.

Rev. Daniel Davis, of the Free Will Baptist Church, preached at Hickory Grove last Sunday. Text: 1st Kings, 10th chapter, 19th verse. "The throne had six steps." We remember hearing Mr. Davis some years ago at Hood Swamp. His effort at Hickory Grove last Sunday, we presume, will not be regarded as a masterly one.

Quaker Bridge Road Items.

Mr. G. W. shot at a fine buck yesterday; he was too far and he had a bad chance, so didn't kill.

Mr. McIver is now in Pender county fixing up quarters for the removal of his men there when this road is completed.

H. R. Bryan, Esq., of New Berne was out to see us last Monday. Mr. Bryan is one of the directors of the penitentiary and we hear makes a good one.

All well and work progressing finely. McIver has just returned from Raleigh with another levy of convicts, ten in number. We have now fifty-one hands at work and will finish in two weeks more if nothing happens.

Jno. C. Parker, Esq., has a good steam saw mill near the camp, and the whistle of the same make news to us in our seclusion. John saws good lumber because we have seen some of it, that is the mill saws it.

The crops around here are pretty good in corn, cotton sorry. Mr. C. M. Pollock, who has a steam gin, says last year he ginned 380 bales; this year has ginned only about 100 bales. Kit has a large plantation, but this year was a failure in farming for him.

The weather is fine at this time, but last Saturday the rain fell heavily at times during the day and night, and it was feared work would have to be suspended on account of water, but the big ditch and canal carried off the water and but little remains on top to-day.

Rev. Mr. Cashwell, pastor at Pollockville church, took unto himself a wife in the person of Miss A. Leary, of Carteret county, a few days ago. We wish Mr. C. and lady all the joys of a happy married life. Mr. Dick Stalling and Miss E. Harrison were united in matrimony not far from here about the same time. We wish them very much joy in their new start in life.

Quite a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen came out to see us last Sunday; among the ladies were Mrs. Dr. C. J. Matlocks, Mrs. B. B. Barry, of Pollockville; Mrs. Emma Bell, a sister of Mrs. Barry, Mrs. D. C. Harget, Mrs. Jas. W. Parker and others, mostly married ladies this time. Only a few little Misses and a few big Misses accompanied the party. Among the gents Mr. Lovick Hancock was the most conspicuous. I think Lovick wants to get married, anyhow; we used to think we did when we acted like Lovick does, and like Barrus says he hitches up himself just after Christmas. Mr. Lee Murrill, from Onslow, was out to the camp also. So was Mr. C. Stephens, on his way from New Berne. All seem to be in good spirits over the new certainty of having the road finished.

Lost.

On the night of the Democratic jubilee in this city, at the corner of Hancock and Pollock streets, a buck horn handle of a walking cane. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same at the JOURNAL office.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—To-day a man named Wilson surrendered himself to a policeman on the street, saying he was a fugitive from justice in Alabama. He married a wife in Virginia, and afterward, going to Birmingham, Ala., married another, for which he was indicted and forfeited his bail. He said he was tired of hiding. He was looked up.

The Latest News.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—George Opdyke, & Co., bankers and brokers, have suspended. This is one of the best known firms in this city. The assignment was made late this afternoon. Opdyke said the necessity of the suspension was a surprise to them. He estimated that the assets would yield ultimately probably fully as much as the liabilities. The failure was caused by customers not paying up margins. The firm has not been prominent since the death of George Opdyke, sr., and the failure of the New York & Oswego Midland railroad, in which they were interested. The firm were also heavy losers in the panic of 1873.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A decision was rendered by the Supreme court of the United States this afternoon in the important California case of Chew Heong, plaintiff in error, against the United States, being a test case involving the construction of the so-called Chinese restriction acts of May 6, 1882, and July 5, 1884. Chew Heong, the plaintiff in error, is a Chinese laborer, and a subject of the emperor of China. He was in the United States on the 17th of November, 1880, the date of the adoption of the last treaty between China and the United States, and he remained therein until June, 1881, when he went to Honolulu, returning therefrom to San Francisco in September last. As the restriction act of 1882 had not become a law when he left the United States, he did not, of course, provide himself with the certificate which is prescribed as a prerequisite to re-entrance, and upon his return to San Francisco in September, 1884, the custom house authorities refused to allow him to land, on the ground that to permit him to do so would be to violate the restriction acts. He thereupon sued out a writ of habeas corpus and brought the case before the U. S. circuit court.

The case was brought to the United States Supreme Court by a writ of error. This court holds that the Chinese restriction act of May 6th, 1882, as amended, requiring a collector's certificate as the only evidence of the right of a Chinese laborer to re-enter the United States, is not applicable to a Chinese laborer who resided in this country at the date of the treaty of 1880, but who left this country before the act of May 6th, 1882, was passed and did not seek to re-enter until after the act of July 5, 1884, was passed.

Senator Morrill today held an informal consultation upon the floor of the Senate with members of the finance committee and it was agreed unanimously to report favorably upon the nomination of Secretary McCulloch. The regular meeting day of the committee is Tuesday, but action was taken at this time in consequence of rumors which have grown out of the delay of the committee in reporting the nomination.

A Well Known Attorney.
BRUNSWICK, GA., June 26, 1884.—Editors Constitution: I desire to make public, through your columns, my experience with a remedy which is made in your city. In the early part of February last, after a three week's visit north in inclement weather, I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism of severe type, my first serious illness (with the exception of yellow fever in 1876) in fourteen years. When taken I was in robust health, weighing 165 pounds, but somewhat worn and weary with overwork. I was treated first with acids, then with alkaline remedies, each furnishing temporary partial relief from pain, which returned with increased severity at the slightest change in the weather, and each new attack was preceded by a chill and followed by a hot fever. In three weeks my weight was reduced to 130 pounds. I had no appetite nor strength, and was growing weaker every day. I continued changing medicines, and was finally advised by physicians, after seven weeks of continued treatment, that my only hope of speedy recovery was to visit the White Sulphur Springs in Florida, a trip which business and other considerations did not permit. In the Savannah News I saw an article from Major Sidney Herbert, stating that he had been relieved of rheumatism by Swift's Specific, and I at once commenced to take it. In three days I began to improve, and in three weeks I was free from disease and attending to business. My appetite returned and I rapidly regained the lost flesh. I have waited this long to be sure that my relief was permanent. Should any of your readers be suffering from like mental and physical prostration, and be induced by my experience to find relief, I should be glad. Yours respectfully, C. P. GOODYEAR.
