LOCAL NEWS.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 7.06; Length of day, 11.44; Sun sets, 4.58; 9 hours, 49 minutes. Moon rises at 6.50 a. m.

One week till Christmas.
S. H. Scott is building an awning in front of his store on Middle street.

Obsequies.
The Metropolitan Council, No. 211, American Legion of Honor, meets to-night.

Over one thousand bushels of rice in market yesterday. One lot brought $1.04.

Mr. N. S. Richardson has placed a lamp in front of his residence on Pollock street.

Robert Jones, whose leg was broken several weeks since, is able to be out on crutches.

J. P. C. Davis is opening a grocery in one of the brick buildings on the old market house site.

The finest specimen of Irish potatoes we have seen for a long time are at the store of Geo. Allen & Co.

The canning factory was in full blast yesterday. A large number of hands were employed in shucking.

"Give us a decent market house," says a prominent gentleman, "if you have to issue bonds to get the money."

Auction sale to-day of the hardware stock of C. B. Hart & Co. The ladies are especially invited to attend. See "ad."

The night boys station at Cape Hatteras reports the whole buoy off Hatteras shoals, adrift in latitude 35.5, longitude 75.81.

The festival at Stanley Hall last night was well attended. The good things offered by the pretty ladies were so tempting to the appetite that it must have been a success financially.

Our latest exchange is The New Berne, a holiday messenger sent out by our enterprising confectioner, John Dunn. We welcome him to the editorial fraternity. The New Berne is a spicy sheet and will make its appearance again next December.

Our good neighbor The Free Will Baptist, of the 17th inst., says: "Christmas is too weeks off to-morrow," that is two weeks to-day. Now we think the children who expect Santa Claus will object to the day's being put off until the first day of January.

Personal.
Mr. B. A. Johnson, of Johnson's Mills, called to see us yesterday.

Mr. E. B. Hargett, of Silver Dale, Onelew county, is in the city.

The National Debt.
This debt has been reduced from $3,756,481,571, at the close of the war, to $1,438,522,995. The interest on the debt has been reduced from $151,000,000 per annum, to $51,000 per annum.

The Great Eastern.
We have not for a long time heard anything of this ship, which we believe to be the largest ever built. We find in an exchange the following:
"LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Steamship Great Eastern will sail for New Orleans on the 13th of December. She has been thoroughly surveyed and her hull and machinery found sound."

Fines and Forfeitures.
Section 726, volume I of the Code requires that:
"All fines, penalties, amercements and forfeitures received by any clerk or justice of the peace shall within sixty days thereafter be paid over to the county treasurer, who shall give a receipt to every such clerk or justice for the same; and said county treasurer shall enter in a book, to be kept by him, the exact amount of any fine, penalty or forfeiture so paid over to him, giving the date of payment, the name of the clerk or justice so paying the same, the name of the party from whom such fine, penalty or forfeiture was collected, and in what case."
Section 727 requires the county treasurer to file, on the first days of January, April, July and October in each year, a certified statement, itemized, in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court to be recorded in a book kept for that purpose.
An examination of the treasurer's statement under the above section, embracing a period of one year, from Oct. 1st, 1883, to Sept. 30th, 1884, shows the following amounts received:
E. W. Carpenter, C. S. C., $85.75
W. B. Lane, J. P., 21.50
W. H. Ellinger, " 5.00
S. W. Latham, " 10.00
W. F. Morgan, " 5.00
Total $137.25
This is not a large amount, but is sufficient to keep a school open in a country district for at least four months. Of the justices, W. B. Lane, Esq., seems to be doing more for the public schools than all the rest put together, and S. W. Latham is the next best.

Envelopes and business cards printed in good style and cheap at the JOURNAL.

The City Finances.
The slim vote on the adoption of the committee's report, to the meeting at Stanley Hall on Tuesday night, as noticed by a correspondent in this issue, proves to us that it is not the thing the people want. There are one class of taxpayers in the city that have full confidence in the judgment of the board of council and are willing to submit to whatever they think necessary for the welfare of the city. This class did not bother their minds about the meeting on Tuesday night, or, if present, did not care to give their opinions nor to vote for any particular plan. There is another class who will oppose anything that is offered, no matter in what shape, or by whom, it is offered. They have a right to their opposition, and if exercised at the proper time it does good.

But to the question, what shall be done with the present city debt, and how shall we raise money for putting in more permanent improvements? We agree fully with the remarks made by Judge Clarke and E. R. Dudley in regard to the necessity of doing something to give the city a boom. The cry of "go slow" and "let's wait" has been heard now for ten years, and we are going slow as a city, no mistake about it, when we compare our growth with that of other towns in the state. Our sister city of Wilmington has been growing rapidly while we wait and go slow. It is true she has contracted a large debt for her posterity to pay, but there will be something left to pay it with. She has something to show for the money spent. There is not one prosperous city in a hundred that is not carrying five times the debt of New Berne, in proportion to the taxable property they have. New Berne has a million and a half of taxable property; she has a debt of about ten or twelve thousand dollars. There is a good portion of the taxpayers, both large and small, in favor of paying this debt at once by issuing bonds at six per cent interest to run for twenty or thirty years, and for the further purpose of raising money for other improvements in the city. We believe it the best plan offered. The interest on those bonds could be paid, a sinking fund provided for the principal and the ordinary expenses of the city paid with the levy proposed by the committee's report.

One thing some of our people seem to overlook in their opposition to creating a debt for city improvements. Every dollar that is paid out for this purpose goes directly into the channels of trade. Carpenters and other laborers find employment; the busy hum of the city induces other skilled laborers to come in search of employment and they help to fill up the empty houses. It will simply be making a debt, for a future generation to pay, for the purpose of improving our property. We are now paying a debt made for us thirty years ago, and the only way for the present generation in New Berne to get even with the world is to make a debt for another generation to pay.

North American Review.
The January number of the North American Review is an excellent one. It presents no very famous names among its contributors, but it offers a wide variety of unusually readable articles. We are now so safely over the crisis of the presidential election that men of all parties can consider calmly Bishop Huntington's essay on "Vituperation in Politics," and it is to be hoped that what they learn from it will not be forgotten four years hence. Under the title, "The Reunited Union," Henry Waterson presents with great clearness the Southern and Democratic view of the political situation as it now stands. This also is extremely interesting to every citizen, whether he agrees with Mr. Waterson or not. Another question of universal concern, which some think will soon make itself a national issue, is that of labor and its compensation; and Col. Hinton in "American Labor Organizations," shows with what equipment it will take the field. But the article that the literary reader will first turn to is Frederic Harrison's brilliant and incisive discussion of "Froude's Life of Carlyle;" while the religious or philosophical reader will find in Courtney's "Socrates, Buddha, and Christ," specific statements and quotations of those parallel doctrines that are so often vaguely alluded to. For the scientific reader, Mr. Proctor discusses learnedly "Herschel's Star Surveys," and Prof. La Conte presents and explains some curious facts in relation to "The Evidence of the Senses." Mr. Mulhall's paper on "The Increase of Wealth" is a successful endeavor to render large masses of figures popularly intelligible.

A clear head is indicative of good health and regular habits. When the body feels heavy and languid, and the mind works sluggishly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills will wonderfully assist to a recovery of physical buoyancy and mental vigor. The constipated should use them.

Let It Be Published.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—In yesterday's issue, you publish an account of the citizens' meeting the night before, in which it states, "It is recommended that the Board of Council be requested to memorialize the legislature, etc." Now, as there were present at the meeting about seventy citizens, it strikes me that the vote on the adoption of the above recommendation, did not in any wise represent either the citizens of New-Berne, or those in attendance at the meeting; the vote standing eleven for the recommendation, and seven against it; about fifty refraining from voting. The Mayor, as chairman of the meeting, upon the affirmative vote being called, asked why those present did not vote, and it being suggested that perhaps they were on the negative, proceeded to take that side, with the result as stated above. The fact of there being no larger vote on the question, was undoubtedly due to one cause,—those present had heard considerable of a plan for issuing twenty-five thousand dollars in bonds, and expected that plan to be presented at the meeting, so that it might be ventilated. Instead of such being the case, there was much argument about issuing bonds, etc., without any statement being made as to the amount to be issued, how secured, for what purposes to be used, how redeemed, etc.

I take it that there are numbers of the best citizens in this town, who never give their opinions in public meetings, but, who can pass very intelligently upon measures for the relief of the city. I would therefore suggest that the plan for issuance of bonds, presented by S. H. Gray at the Cotton Exchange rooms last week be published in the JOURNAL. A plan that has been so much discussed about town, without over one in fifty ever having seen, or heard it read, should as an item of news alone be given to the public through their recognized medium, the newspaper.

Kinston Items.
A merry Christmas and happy New Year.

The river is up to a navigable point. We welcome the steamers again.

The exodus of citizens back to the farms has commenced—a good move.

The sickness of the itemizer will account for the fewness of items this week.

We are all selling "for cost" now. What high prices our merchants pay for their goods!

Mrs. Capt. S. B. West, from Asheville, is spending some time with friends and relatives in Kinston.

The Blair bill will make a great change in the educational establishments of North Carolina, if it becomes a law.

The old flag pole, from which waved the Cleveland and Seales flag for so many months, has been cut down and made into fire wood.

Our new chairman of county commissioners is the peer of any of his predecessors, and will see to it that the county receives no detriment.

The legatees of the King estate received that part of their legacies which consisted of money last week. Some hearts are happy to-day.

A young barrister of Greene county, an ex-Kinstonian, it is said, will enter the state of double blessing before the moon changes again. Both of Greene.

Two marriages among Kinstonians this week—one a groom the other a bride. The groom goes westward for his mate. The bride receives her groom from the east.

The Lenoir County Teachers' Association had no quorum at La Grange last Saturday; so an adjournment was made to Kinston at next regular meeting, Saturday, Jan. 10, 1885.

The Disciples' Sunday School will have their Christmas tree on Friday, Jan. 1st. The Baptist Sunday School will have a party on some night during Christmas week.

Kinston will be represented at the New Orleans Exposition by a portly young bachelor. Ramor says that he will escort two young ladies, one of Lenoir and one of Greene.

Dr. Lewis' school and Prof. Goodwin's graded school will take Christmas' holiday next week. The young ladies and young gentlemen of the College will give a party to their young friends on the night of Thursday, the 18th.

The Latest News.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 16.—Hon. James G. Blaine this morning dismissed his libel suit against the Sentinel in the United States court. His principal ground was that he could not get justice in Indiana. It was to be tried on the 23d inst.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The President to-day nominated B. Platt Carpenter, of New York, to be Governor of Montana Territory.

Mr. Cannon, controller of the currency, who is ex-officio commissioner of the Freedmen's savings and trust company, has made his annual report to Congress of the affairs of that company. He shows that the total payments made to the depositors since the failure of that institution amount to $1,715,444, or 63 per cent of the total indebtedness. The controller recommends that Congress make provision for the payment of the 93 per cent balance due depositors, which is estimated at $950,000.

A State Need.
North Carolina needs an agricultural and mechanical college, chartered by the State and under the control and management of the State where practical education could be gotten cheap. Such a school would be second only to the University in usefulness. The demand in the South for practical education, procured at as little expense as possible, is ever increasing.

FARM NOTES.
NUMBER 3.
NUISANCES.
Dogs and loose hogs.—The only reason that this or any other country is overrun by dogs is that every family has its own pet dog or dogs that they just know are all right and too well bred, raised and trained to suck eggs, kill sheep or do any other devilment. It is an old saying that the streets of Jerusalem were kept clean by every one being compelled to keep his own door clean. So if every one would kill their own dog or dogs the dog nuisance would be at an end without the aid or trouble of legislation. However there is an easy way out of the trouble if those interested will have the courage and caution to use it.

I have been and am some times troubled with stray dogs and I have noticed that they always visit the kitchen either before or after making their rounds of the likely places to find eggs. I take a small piece of boiled bacon rind about two or three inches square, put a good dose of strichnine in it, roll it up tight and tie it with a string so that the poison cannot spill out; put this on the door step at night; get up soon in the morning to take it away if the dog should have missed it; put it down or another piece if it is gone the next night. One dose is sure to kill a dog, and in this way if attended to every dog that runs about nights will get killed. Now go to work and do it and stop whining about sheep.

But my trouble is the hogs that are let run at large in the hope that they will fatten in some other man's field. (I believe that is what is usually thought of other people's hogs.)

They are always ready to break into our fields and root up the corn at night faster than it can be planted by day, in fact they are a standing menace to every farmer and why not shut them up and live at peace with one-another. I know there is more ill feeling and harsh words caused by stray hogs in a neighborhood than all other causes combined. I want to hear from the farmers on this matter, as they cannot be stopped in the same way that the dogs can we will have to call the Legislature to our assistance to abate this nuisance.

I know hogs can be raised cheaper in an enclosed pasture than they can in the highway for I have not had one at large in over ten years and mine will compare well with any others.

A satisfactory law can easily be framed if farmers will agree to its passage.

I should not have sent this No. 3 so soon but for the wail of your Stonewall correspondent for the loss of his sheep. I expect he has more than one of those good dogs that will not run anything but a deer or a fox.

No other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best combination of vegetable blood purifiers, with the Iodide of Potassium and Iron, ever offered to the public.

St. Anthony's Fire.
Mr. W. S. Jones, a well-to-do farmer who lives four miles from Elberton, Ga., is highly esteemed by all who know him. He is 73 years old, and is a conservative man—is by no means an enthusiast on any subject, yet he says to a reporter: "I am satisfied that I would not be alive to-day if it had not been for Swift's Specific. About thirty years ago I broke out with what the doctors called St. Anthony's Fire. Under medical treatment I got temporary relief, but soon the same disease or a very similar one broke out in a more aggravated form. The doctors gave it another name and treated me so that the eruption disappeared for a time, but the effects of the medicine were worse than the disease itself (the effect of potash and mercury mixtures is always bad), when shortly afterward a much worse type of the same disease broke out. I became satisfied that the potash mixtures I had taken had merely driven the disease further into my system and blood, making almost a wreck of me. I repeatedly changed medical advisers, all to no purpose. I continued to grow worse and weaker. At regular intervals this dreadful skin disease would break out afresh, each time in a more intensified form. For a year I was bedridden, and had to give up looking after my business entirely. About a year ago I was advised by a friend to take Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). With the first bottle my general health began to improve. The Swift's Specific drove out the poisoned blood which the potash mixtures had driven into my system. I broke out in pimples and blotches when the poison was coming out. These all soon passed away. The medicine at once gave me new hope; my spirits rose, my general health improved in every way. My digestion, which had been so injured by the use of the potash mixtures, was rapidly improved by Swift's Specific, and for the first time in years I enjoyed my food. My appetite increased, and I continued to gain strength and flesh until I weigh more than I have in forty years, and I feel as hale and hearty as I did when I was a boy. The Swift's Specific has benefited me in every way, and I know it has added several years to my life. While I am 73 years old, and therefore living on borrowed time, I feel that a new career is before me. No amount of money could purchase from me the years that have been added to my life by this valuable medicine. I hope you will publish this that others, and particularly old people, may know of the value of this remedy. Dr. M. M. Carr, druggist, and Messrs. Swift Bros., merchants, at Elberton, know me well and are familiar with my sickness and the wonderful relief I have had from the use of Swift's Specific!"
